One was the application that was sent in over a year ago for the Bruce Stampede Association. There has been a hold up with this grant in Edmonton, and some information is required before the grant will be approved.

Mr. Singbeil requested that he receive a letter from the Board stating that they are making the application on behalf of the Bruce Stampede Association.

It was moved to give Mr. Singbeil a letter stating that the Bruce Stampede application will be applied for by the Regional Recreation Board. Carried.

Mr. Singbeil also mentioned that there has been a hold up with the Lindbrook Community Association application. The Department wants verification of costs for the expenditures there.

He also stated that as of July 16th, 1979 he will no longer be working with the County of Beaver, or in this area. He has been transferred to the Barrhead area.

Mr. Singbeil said that he had enjoyed his work with our Recreation Board, and considered us the best region that he had worked with.

Mr. Marvin Tomashavsky, chairman, thanked Mr. Singbeil for all his help in the past, and wished him success in his new endeavour.

At this point, Mr. Singbeil introduced his replacement, Mr. Ken Kendricks.

The guests were now thanked for taking the time to come out to the meeting.

The minutes of the May 30th, 1979 regular meeting be adopted as presented.

The question was raised about the purchase of the new tractor and mower. Mr. Baker informed the board that it had been purchased for a price of $2,942.13. It has been used at Camp Lake and Dodd's Lake already, and seems to be working well.

It was felt by most members of the Board that the lawn mower should be rented out to groups within the County, provided they comply with the policies set by the Board.

Moved that the tractor be used in Parks first for the work there, and if someone wants to borrow the tractor they should see Mr. Baker about it. Carried.

Moved that the mower be used by authorized personnel only, at a rate of $15.00 per hour, to be done during the operator's regular hours. Carried.

The topic of renting the xerox machine was now brought up. It has been established for the May 30 meeting. It was moved that we use the xerox as we have in the past. This will be reviewed at the end of Dec. before the money is spent on more paper/toner supplies in January of 1980.

The accounts for the month of June were presented in printed form and reviewed by Mr. George Baker.

Discussion was held over a bill entered for $70.95 for repairing the motor of a vacuum cleaner that was used down at the Theatre.

Moved that this bill be tabled until after the board has found out what the cost would be for renting a vacuum cleaner of that type.

It was requested that we look into this, and write to two or three companies and find out what their costs would be. Also the cost involved if the motor was to break down while we were renting the vacuum cleaner.

Moved that the accounts for the month of June, 1979 be accepted and paid, with the exception of the bill for $70.95.

The correspondence for the month of June was presented in printed form and reviewed by Mr. George Baker. It was moved that the correspondence for the month of June, 1979 be accepted and filed. Carried.

Board members' verbal reports were presented.

Kinsella - representative had nothing of importance to report.

Viking - Hired their summer playground staff and are busy organizing tennis lessons, etc., for the summer months. Baseball and softball are going well.

Bruce - Mothers and Tots program is being set up and will be well underway in a short time. A pedal pushers group was to begin. Baseball and softball are coming to an end now. The board has hired 4 S.T.E.P. students for work for the summer. They are also working on a Stampede Draw.

Holden - A grant of $500 has been received from the Provincial Elks, and also a grant of $300 from the local Holden Elks for completing the Creative Playground. These grants are matching dollars for the M.C.R. Grant. Two S.T.E.P. students have been hired for the summer. They will also operate the wading pool. Holden had a very successful Sports Day and Farmers' Day, which was sponsored by the Agricultural Society.

Ryley - The "Home-Coming Committee" is very busy right now working for the big day to be held on July 20 through 22, 1979. Construction will commence shortly for the washrooms at the skating rink and sewer dumping station.

Baseball and softball are pretty well finished up for the season. swimming programs are in progress this year and are being well attended. The Sports Day was very successful. It was held on June 16th. Two S.T.E.P. students have been hired for the summer and they will be involved in the beautification of the Town of Ryley.

The Administrator's report was presented in printed form and read by Mr. Baker. Mr. Baker also included an accounting of the Theatre since it has been in operation with his report. now that the first six months are up.

It was moved that the Theatre Committee assess the first six months of the Government Introduces Two New Acts

The Government of Alberta today introduced two new acts under the provisions of the Policy Governing Future Legislation for the Professions and Occupations. The policy was presented to the Legislature in May, 1978 and has served as a guide in the preparation of the new acts. The two acts, the first since that time, are The Architects Act, 1979, brought forward by Tom Chambers, Minister of Alberta Housing and Public Works, and The Health Occupations Act, introduced by Bob Bogle, Minister of Alberta Social Services and Community Health.

"The discussions with the representatives of the Alberta Association of Architects, Alberta Housing and Public Works, and my department officials were very positive. The consultative process will serve as a general model for other legislation which will be developed over the years," said Jim Horsman, Minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower. His department serves in a coordinating capacity in implementing the policy and, in so doing, works with the responsible department.

"Public interest is best served by an effective balance between self-regulation by professional and occupational groups, and the government's ability to ensure quality standards and appropriate procedures. The Architects were highly cooperative. They realized that it was in their own interest that the public be protected.

"The work with the Association was based on the implementation of the terms of the policy which provides the framework for legislation. Included are provisions for a discipline committee, with full right of appeal by the complainants and practitioners; the designation of a Minister who will receive annual reports containing information on matters of government interest, (such as disciplinary issues, and continuing education programs); and the division between those regulations which government will approve because they affect the public, and those which are established by the association and considered internal."

"Input from the Association brought about valuable additions to the legislation. As an example, they suggested that mediation be added as an informal first step in the complaint and discipline process," Mr. Horsman explained.

"The Health Occupations Act will provide a system for registration of certain individuals currently practising in the medical and dental areas but not regulated by their own legislation or Licensing procedure. A board of qualified individuals will be established to advise government as to which groups should be allowed to practise in the very complex and interrelated medical fields."

The Architects and Health Occupations Acts are being introduced at this time to be held over to the Fall Session.

"This should allow the specific professions and occupations sufficient time to study the regulations," Mr. Horsman said. "As well, other groups can provide input regarding the way in which the policy has been interpreted under the legislation. While the Architects Act is intended to serve as a general model, it should be noted that it contains a number of regulations specific to architects and not applicable to other professions.

"Other statutes, currently in existence, will be reviewed to determine if they should be in force, and what status they should be accorded.

"I would hope that future discussions with the professions and occupations will be carried out in the same atmosphere of cooperation and attention to the public interest," Mr. Horsman concluded.

Grade 5's Enjoy Field Trip

On Thursday June 14th the fifth graders went on a field trip to Edmonton. Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Pobuda had arranged for us to go to Smiths' Ambulance and Fort Edmonton.

First we went to Smiths' Ambulance. They talked to us about careless accidents and how to prevent them and showed us the equipment in an ambulance.

Then we went to Fort Edmonton where we went on a tour of 1885 Street. 1885 Street was an old street with small wooden buildings, dirt streets, sidewalks made of planks and hitching posts in front of the stores.

We visited places like "Lauder's Bakery" where there were biscuits, cookies and bread loaves that made our mouths water and in "Bellevue School" a lady told us that boys sat on the "Dunce" chair and girls on a stool with only one leg if they were bad. In "Dale Drugstore" there were some candy and souvenirs to buy. We also visited the "Blacksmith Shop" and "Jasper House Hotel".

In Fort Edmonton we went to rooms where people would tell us about it and what it was used for. We went to rooms like the "Indian Room" where Indians brought furs to trade and then went into the "Trade Store" to buy things like rifles. In the "Fur Loft" furs were prepared for shipment and in the "Fur Press" the furs were made into bales.

We visited Rowand's House. The Kitchen had a stone fireplace, where they cooked. In the house the men and women dined in two different rooms. The women's dining room was fancier. In their bedrooms the beds had fur quilts like bear skins on them.

We went to the Watch-tower. The watchtower was used to keep an eye on the horses and the Indians coming to trade.

Fort Edmonton showed us how Edmonton started and how the early settlers lived. We really enjoyed it.

We stopped at MacDonalds for supper and then went home.

Recreation Meeting

Theatre operation, and rates and bring their recommendations to the August meeting.

A brief discussion was held over the Interest Survey that the students will be working on. It was moved that the Administrator's report be accepted as presented.

Mrs. Hjordis Armitage presented a small report on what had been discussed at the Governing Authorities meeting that was held in Viking on June the 18th, 1979. Some of the things discussed were as follows:

- discussion circulated around what was the reason for Tofield leaving the Regional Recreation system.
- it was mentioned that possibly rural boundaries could be set around the Town of Tofield.
- one person stated that if people were not getting value out of the regional system it was because they were not participating enough in it.
- the question was asked: What would an alternate proposal be to the Regional Recreation System?
- Preventive Social Services was mentioned as an alternative.
- representatives from Tofield were present at the meeting and they were asked what they were trying to prove by opting out of the system.
- a few people were concerned that if the regional system was dissolved, what would happen to the Parks and Regional Theatre.

Mr. George Baker then presented prices on vacuum cleaners for the Theatre that he had been quoted. It was moved that the board appoint the Theatre Committee to investigate and purchase the vacuum cleaner.

It was moved that the Board Workshop question be tabled until the August meeting. This Board Workshop question has been tabled four times now.

It was moved to send a note to the associations reminding them that the 5 Year Master Plan has to be dealt with immediately. If they need help with anything they may feel free to contact the office.

Irma News and Views

On Thursday, July 5th, Joan Spooner and daughter Doreen Gallagher spent the afternoon with Minnie and Jim Jackson and made a tour of Strawberry Plains district. They were inquiring about all their former neighbors.

On Friday evening, July 6th, Art and Jim Jackson drove to Edmonton International Airport where they met Jim's cousin Arthur Wallace and his wife Pat from Welkom, South Africa. They had been in Albany, New York for their son Brian's wedding. There was some excitement and concern when it was learned that their two large suitcases had not arrived, so they waited at the airport for a later plane from Toronto in hopes that their luggage would arrive. However, it did not. They drove home to Irma and on phoning on Saturday morning found that it had arrived on a later plane, and was forwarded by Greyhound to Irma. On meeting the bus that night it was found that in fact only one trunk had arrived. The other arrived the following day much to the relief of the anxious travellers.

Pat and Arthur plan on spending a week or more in Alberta before they fly to Ireland for a visit with Arthur's relations and many friends which he cultivated during the years he spent in Ireland while attending Kilkenny College.

Work commenced last week on the development of the land purchased by the Village from Ivor Thurston. Two Euclids arrived on Wednesday, July 4th and have been going full tilt removing and piling the top soil from a large area east of 50th Avenue. Surveyors have kept busy readjusting survey stakes, many of which had been knocked down or pulled up and destroyed.

Minnie and Jim Jackson attended the funeral in Hardisty on Tuesday, July 3, of Mrs. Irene Baska. Irene passed away at the Provost Hospital on June 29th. (Not at Killam as reported last week).

Marguerite Tinholm and Dolly Hearn from Hardisty had lunch with Minnie and Jim Jackson on Tuesday July 3rd on their way home from shopping in Wainwright.

Matt and Mrs. Gould from Consort visited with the Jim Jackson household on Friday, July 6th.

The weather in Irma continues to be very warm. So far, moisture is adequate and hail damage was experienced north and west of the Village with some rape fields taking quite a beating.

Harold and Jenny Fuder have Jennie's cousins Dorothy and Sue Rankin from London, England spending a holiday with them. They have come to the conclusion that Alberta is a good place to visit.

Adelaide Dootson, Frank and Irene Crabb visited with Doug and Mrs. Fletcher at Purple Springs, Alberta from Tuesday to Friday of last week. Mrs. Fletcher is a daughter of Ted and Mrs. Urton who was well known in the Irma District at one time.

Mr. and Mrs. Garry Jones and family of the Fox Creek area spent last week with the Ole Nissen family. Ole has also managed to get in a few days fishing at Muriel Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fuder took their cousins from London, England on a trip to the mountains and through the southern part of Alberta. The trip wound up at the Game Farm on Monday. They are also planning a trip to Grand Centre to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fuder and family who moved there recently from Ft. McMurray.

Irma School Fashion Show Held

On Thursday evening, June 14, about one hundred and fifty mothers and friends gathered to watch the Junior High girls model the outfits they had made during the year in their Home Economics class.

The program started out with the grade nine girls modelling their housecoats. They were made of a wide range of materials...quilted, velour, etc., and most of the girls will make good use of their projects.

The grade seven girls were next, modelling their tops of polyester cotton. Most girls made two tops, with one designed for cool evenings and one for the warm summer days.

The grade eight girls all made a shirt blouse out of cotton and coordinated corduroy jeans and vests. Some grade eight girls made a third project in the form of blazers, skirts and vests.

The grade nine girls modelled their dresses and surprises were heard as to the quality of the sewing that the girls had done.

All of the girls are to be commended on the fine job of sewing and the way in which they decorated and set up the displays of stuffed toys, knitted scarves and hats and macrame owls.

The fashion show featured two girls Charlene Landmark and Shaunna Hinton, who sang "You Light Up My Life". The pianist for the evening was Carolyn Erickson and grade ten girls set up the lunch for the evening.

The charge at the door was used to cover expenses for making up the lunch and the extra money was then used to purchase new pots and pans for the Home Ec. room.

Chacutenah Manor News

Mr. J. McCauley passed away in a hospital in Inuvik on June 18, 1979. Although Mr. McCauley's heart and home were in the far north he also had many friends in the Irma District. His sister Mrs. McLean and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Parsons attended the funeral service which was held at Norman Wells. Our sympathy to Mrs. McLean in her loss.

Mrs. Simmermon is a patient in the Viking Hospital. We miss her and hope she will soon be back with us.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Lambert during the week were their daughters, Mrs. Charron of Camrose and Mrs. Banks of Round Hill. Also visiting was their granddaughter, Miss Brenda Ruttle of Hay River.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooper spent a few days in Calgary last week. Their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hooper returned with them for a short visit.

Mr. D. Peverett is holidaying in B.C.

Mr. Michael Gray of Oromocto, New Brunswick, was a recent visitor with his grandmother, Mrs McLean.

Sunday visitors with Mrs. Cockroft were her sister in law, Mrs. Rose Cockroft and her niece and nephew, Emily and J. Davies of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Guy are on a camping trip to Saskatoon.

Mrs. McRoberts has returned from a ten day holiday in Edmonton.

The June birthday party was held in the lounge on the evening of June 27th and was convened by two gentlemen, Mr. R. Hooper and Mr. J. Lambert. A pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all. The program consisted of musical selections on the tape recorder and by the showing of two films - The Alberta Girls Band and the other about the North. Lunch was served and "Happy Birthday" was sung by Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Hooper.

Kinsella News

John Linberg, former section foreman on the C.N.R. for the Kinsella area, spent a few days with Clifford and Frances Overbo renewing old acquaintances.

Pete and Ivy Mollier left to spend some time in Calgary visiting with friends and taking in the 1979 Calgary Stampede.

Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Harker and boys of Didsbury enjoyed spending a few days with his parents, Helga and Allen Barker.

Recent visitors with Jack and Jean McKie were his son and family, Fraser and Margaret and daughters of Sparwood, B.C. Also visiting were brothers-in-law Howard O'Toole of Revelstoke, B.C. and Ken McCallum of Vancouver, B.C.

Fire Up The Coals

Barbeque season has finally arrived!

Beef prices are high and many will shy away from T-bone steaks this year. But don't let this dampen your barbequing spirit.

This summer, why not break from routine, and high prices, and try chicken or turkey on your barbeque?

For grilling, use halves, quarter or small pieces of chicken or turkey broilers. Brush liberally with oil and sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Place skin side down on a greased grill, about 3 inches from coals. Brown each side about 3 minutes. Raise grill another 2 inches and turn the meat often to avoid scorching. Baste lightly with oil after each turning. The meat will be done when it is fork tender and pulls away easily from the bone.

A barbeque sauce can be put on for the last 5 minutes of grilling for extra flavor.

OUTDOOR PICNICS

Although outdoor eating means fun, sun and relaxation, it also means extra caution for food safety.

Bacteria grows in food best between 60F° and 120F°, when preparing and transporting foods to the picnic be sure to keep hot foods hot, (above 140F°) cold foods cold (below 40F°). This rule is most important with meats, fish, hard cooked eggs, dairy products, cooked vegetables and salad dressings.

Meats to be cooked at the site can be packed frozen. Fully cooked meats should be thoroughly chilled before packing in coolers and insulated bags.

When packing coolers large blocks of ice will help to keep it cool longer than crushed ice. Empty milk cartons make handy containers for making a block of ice.

Lastly, foods such as custards, cream desserts and pies, creamy sauces are not good choices for picnics. Because they are very perishable, plan to leave them at home.

If you are taking along a supper meal after an all day outing rely on foods like unopened cans of meat or fish, peanut butter, fresh fruit and vegetables, crackers, and bread.

Food poisoning is an unwelcome guest at anyone's picnic, so take precautions.

Irma Golf Tournament Held

On July 1st, the rain barely stopped in time to allow the annual tournament to get underway. The starting time was delayed for one hour to accomodate the weather. All in all, it turned out to be a perfect day for the 72 golfers to compete on the well groomed course. Included in the competitions were eight juniors and visitors from Edmonton, Hanna, Vermilion, Hardisty, Gwynne, Wainwright, Edgerton Amisk and Hughenden.

Wally Swolin won top honors in the Championship Flight with Jack Weatherky second and Doug Manning placing third.

First Flight - John Gaine, Joe Walentschek, Eddie Deleff.

Second Flight - Don Wilder, Al Nelson, Bob Smallwood.

Third Flight - Keith Coffin Elmer Minke, Ralph Bell.

Fourth Flight - Frank Tipler, Steve Picker, Roger Levesque

Fifth Flight - Mike Ostrow, Hugh Duncan, Len Debord.

Sixth Flight - Jack Crouter, Ted Warawa, Stan Costall.

Seventh Flight - John Dunbar, A Cook, Stan Berg.

Junior Flight - Dean Dunbar, Bradley Hill, Randy Minke.

Many thanks are extended to all who turned out to help clean up the Club House and grounds and trim up the fairways. The entire course was super fine. Special thanks to the ladies for their usual extra good food and service and to the draw and prize committee that steered us through from a late draw to a photo finish.

Report From Your M.L.A. - Tom Lysons

The Spring Sitting of the Legislature is winding down and will likely adjourn next week.

several things happened lately that I would like to get your reactions to.

1. The Minister of Hospitals and Medical Care suggested that in an effort to give more flexibility to hospital boards, some way must be found so that hospitals could raise some funds of their own. This could be by a direct charge to the patient, or by a small assessment in municipal taxpayers. Strong cases could be made for either method, but likely a strong-er case could be made oppos-ing the methods. As the Minister pointed out, he was only floating a balloon in an effort to have some method whereby we could have Al-bertans in general want to cut hospital costs, and give local boards more autonomy in their operation. He wants input from Albertans, so let's give him ideas and suggestions. You can write, phone, or talk to me about this and I'll be happy to pass along any comments, sug-gestions, or criticisms, of which we expect a lot!

2. The Minister of Housing and Public Works laid out the Government's Pioneers' Repair Program. This pro-gram is similar in nature to the previous home repair program, but greatly ex-panded, and with additional benefits.

The Alberta Pioneers' Re-pair Program, commencing July 1, 1979, provides a grant of up to $2,000.00 to senior citizen homeowners to repair and improve their own home as an alternative to seeking publicly operated accommodation.

The grant applies to sen-ior citizen homeowners whose income, when com-bined with that of their spouse, for the calendar year before applying, did not exceed $12,000 after allowable adjustment.

The amount of the grant is determined as follows:

TOTAL INCOME OF APPLICANT AND SPOUSE FOR THE LAST CALENDAR YEAR
$0,000.00 or less or pre-sently receiving the Alberta Assured Income Supple-ment - amount of grant - $2,000.00;
$0,000.01 to $10,500.00 - amount of grant - $1,500.00;
$10,500.01 to $12,000.00 - amount of grant - $1,000.00

When the application for the Alberta Pioneers' Repair grant is approved, credit for up to $2,000 will be estab-lished at your Treasury Branch or participating fin-ancial institution.

You will have five (5) years from the date of your approval in which to spend the grant money.

This program now includ-es such items as appliance repair and security devices, as well as water supply systems for the house, in-cluding connections to a public water system.

Further information can be found at your financial institution or from me.

The Spring Sitting of the Legislature should conclude next week. I can then be reached at home. My home phone is 853-3385, and my Edmonton number is 429-4631. Please feel free to call person to person collect.

Travel Trailers . . .

The travel trailer appears in a variety of sizes and shapes. Travel trailers for years were the most popular recreational vehicle, how-ever, recently the trend has shifted to motor homes. The major advantage of travel trailers is that when you stop, you can unhitch the trailer and have your car to ride around in.

The most common type of travel trailer is fifteen feet or more, ranging up to thirty-five feet in length. The construction of trailers range from light-weight ones made of fiberglass to those construction of alu-minum monocoque shells. Lightweight fiberglass trail-ers can be towed behind small import cars. However, because the manufacturers must concentrate on keeping the weight low, this means the price of such trailers is usually comparable with those of conventional material. The shell of most trailers is wood with pre-finished sheet aluminum added to improve the appearance of the vehicle. Aluminum mo-nocque shells are immensely strong, however, due to the type of construction they are surprisingly lightweight.

Check the interior design. Some travel trailers do not give full headroom, but pro-vide basic accommodation. These are intended mainly, for hunters. Most travel trailers provide adequate accommodations, and equip-ment. Examine the floor plan considering the amount of sleep and storage your family will require. Check to see if the stove and refriger-rator are easy to use, safety positioned, and of good qua-lity. Also, make sure that the general finish indicated a high standard of workman-ship.

In any car, trailer accom-modation, the hitch is vitally important. A conventional hitch is adequate only for trailers weighing up to two thousand pounds. If the total weight exceeds these fig-ures, an equalizer hitch is essential. When you are hauling a small trailer, your own brakes may be ade-quate. However, on large trailers, electric brakes are standard. Detachable rear-view mirrors on both sides of the car, projecting well beyond the sides of the trailer help eliminate blind spots.

The newest type of trailer is the fifth wheeler. The attachment point is on the bed of the truck rather than the rear, therefore a sub-stantial portion of the weight of the trailer is taken by the truck. This type of travel trailer is expensive, and only justified when a family intends to make this vehicle their home for a lengthy time. Trailers offer a good amount of space for the money, and they tend to last longer because there is no engine to wear out. If you enjoy camping in luxury, the travel trailer may be what you are looking for.

RHUBARB

A different method of blanching rhubarb is ment-ioned in my new Canadian Cook Book. First remove leaves and tough stem base from slender ripe rhubarb stalks. Stand the stalks in a container and pour boiling water over them. Discard the water, cut the stalks into short pieces and use in your favourite recipe.

This blanching method re-duces the amount of sugar required.

Here are a few recipes for rhubarb.

RHUBARB CRUMB PIE
1 c. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 c. flour
3 c. rhubarb chunks
1/4 c. water
1/2 c. rolled oats (uncooked)
2 T. shortening
unbaked pastry shell

Combine 2/3 c. sugar, 1¼ tsp. salt and flour. Toss through rhubarb. Put into a pastry lined pan and add water. Combine rolled oats 1/4 tsp. salt and 1/3 c. sugar and sprinkle over rhubarb mixture. Dot with shorten-ing. Bake in preheated oven at 425 degree for 15 min. Turn oven to 375 degree and bake for 35 min or until fruit is cooked and topping is brown.

A great punch on a hot day!

ROSY RHUBARB PUNCH
Makes about 10 cups.
7-8 c. rhubarb (cut up)
3 c. ot. can frozen lemonade
2-6 oz. cans water
1/2 c. sugar
1-26 oz. bottle ginger ale

Add 3 c. water to rhubarb and simmer till tender. Strain and chill the juice (there will be about 4 c. juice) To the chilled juice add frozen lemonade, 2 cans water and sugar. Just be-fore serving add ginger ale.

Stewed rhubarb goes great with gingerbread or cookies, over pudding and ice cream.

Strawberries, raspberries and apples combine nicely with rhubarb either stewed, in pies or crisps.

For added flavor try add-ing ginger root or freshly grated orange peel to cooked rhubarb.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Do you know the bible says that we believers (in Christ) are the temples of the living God, 2 Cor. 6:16. For ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will walk in them, and dwell in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people. End quote. Imagine; a frail human body.

Have you ever thought of baby creatures and how all but human babies are self sustaining in a matter of a few hours to a few weeks; but baby humans are helpless for at least some years, and even then, its only the survival of the fittest. This can be seen in pictures of the destitute of many foreign lands. And yet these fragile bodies are like Jars of Clay.

And the Lord formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. Gen. 2:7.

The song writer put it this way, HOW BIG IS GOD, HOW BIG AND WIDE HIS VAST DOMAIN, TO TRY TO TELL, THESE LIPS CAN ONLY START, HE'S BIG ENOUGH TO RULE HIS MIGHTY UNIVERSE, YET SMALL ENOUGH TO LIVE WITHIN MY HEART.

The Christian is a walking miracle. In many ways he's like other people but yet he is very different. His body is subject to physical frailty and disease, and there are limits to his endurance. You see Christ indwells the believer by His Holy Spirit and so the Saviours life is made manifest in his body (2 Cor. 4:10).this reason this is so astounding is that we have "this Treasure in earthen vessels". 2 Cor. 4:7. God has chosen "Jars of clay" as it were, to be the receptacles of His power and Glory. The Dead Sea Scrolls were preserved for centuries in Clay Jars. God uses weak and frail instruments to accomplish His mighty purposes.dl Moody was no honor student, but in the hands of God he became a Spiritual giant. Today Moody Bible Inst. Moody Inst. of Science, and Moody Press are all continueing ministries of that weak human vessel who was filled and used by the Lord.

As believers we stand amazed that by the grace of God we can become temples of the Holy Spirit. If the Father sees fit to use us in some great work, we must not forget that the all-surpassing power is from God and not from us. We have nothing in ourselves in which to Glory, we are more "Jars of clay" chosen by the Master.

Social Welfare "Colony" In Edmonton

Although The University of Calgary began as a branch of the University of Alberta, that historical relationship has been partly reversed in recent years by the U of C faculty of social welfare.

Since 1974, the faculty has operated a branch on the U of A campus and currently has some 125 students in Edmonton, some of whom may never have visited the Calgary campus.

Professor Gayle James, an associate professor in the Edmonton program, explains that the faculty's two-campus existence is actually an efficient means of meeting Edmonton's need for a social work education program.

To meet this need without the administrative costs of establishing a new faculty, the U of C faculty began an after-degree program on the U of A campus which has since grown to the point where the entire third and fourth years of the BSW can be taken there. After two general undergraduate years at any Alberta university -- or upon transfer from a community college social services program.

To accommodate growing numbers of students, teaching staff has increased from two to five full-time faculty members and a part-time member has also been added.

The curriculum is the same as that offered in Calgary; and the Edmonton staff works closely with the U of C staff, coming to Calgary for faculty meetings. However, since it is a U of C program, the faculty offices in Calgary bear the bulk of the administrative burden.

The special arrangement in Edmonton seems to suit all concerned and there are no immediate plans to alter the situation. Edmonton area students wanting to enter social work have a fully accredited, established faculty in which to study; and the provinces and the students are spared the expense and growing pains of developing a new faculty.

"Establishing a new faculty of social work is a difficult job," explains Professor James. "Each school must be nationally accredited, and this accreditation is recognized internationally. The small class sizes of professional schools also make them expensive to operate."

U of C students also have the option of taking part of their program in Edmonton; and the ready access to provincial government offices and to the Institute of Law Research and Reform is valuable to students specializing in social policy or community organization.

Professor James is currently vice-president for North America of the International Federation of Social Workers and is president of the Alberta Association of Social Workers. She has also served in several other executive positions in various professional associations.

Bruce and District News

The Pratt family, Gladys Dorin and Agnes and Ray Erickson left this week for Calgary. Gladys will visit with her sister Doris McLeod while the others go on to holiday in the mountains.

Myrna Curtis is $1,000.00 richer after last week's Winaday Draw. Congratulations.

The beautiful sunshine the past week and the end of the school term have put everyone in a "holiday mood". On June 29, Paul, Ellen and Marie Chrystian flew to Toronto to visit Paul's brother Metro. They plan to be away ten days.

Mary, Ernie, Annette and Paul Hammermaster enjoyed a holiday at Jasper and Sonja, Norman, Darcy and Norma Babbitz are visiting Norman's sister Audrey and her husband at Yellowknife.

Jean Brochu and Muriel Otto drove out to White Rock, B.C. to spend a few days with Jean's parents.

Marie Beeson journeyed to Montana to visit with her daughter and son-in-law Beatrice and Joe Hallgrimson and attend the wedding of her grandson Mark Hallgrimson. Vivian Beeson also attended the wedding.

Jenny and Mike Cooper of Slave Lake would like their friends to know that on June 17, they became parents of a beautiful baby girl, Lindsay Michelle. Lindsay weighed 7 pounds 1 ounce and is welcomed by grandparents Katie and Stanley Bracha.

Paulette, Merrie, Ian and Trudy Erickson were in Edmonton to visit Paulette's parents, Jo and Paul Osinchuk. Paul was just released from the hospital and his friends in Bruce wish him a speedy recovery.

Verna and Charlie Mallon of Millet were overnight guests at the home of Beauchamp Starky. Charlie lived in this district from 1918 to 1918 and his home was located where the old Woodside School still stands. However, the house that he lived in burned down several years ago.

Elva Austin and her granddaughter Patricia from Vancouver Island visited briefly with Elva's aunt Lula Fredericks and cousins Lillian Tonke, Gladys Dorin, Irven and Grant Fredericks.

Tim Curtis is enjoying the city for a few weeks while he attends N.A.I.T. to take his first year instruction in plumbing. Tim is apprenticing with Paul Makeway.

Remember that Stampede Association members are working at the grounds each Monday evening. If you have some spare time, they will appreciate your help.

4-H Light Horse Club Hold Meeting

On July 5th nineteen 4-H Lightheorse members gathered in the club room for their last meeting.

Eugene Rusicka will be the announcer for Achievement Day instead of Mrs. Sevick.

Everyone is in favour of riding in the fair this year.

The members decided to make two flags to carry in the parade instead of one banner. Shannon, Shelly and Karen volunteered to make the flags.

Marilyn Ash showed the members how to fill out judging cards, and then Bruce explained in more detail.

Gary McClements went through the program for achievement day, with the members.

Benches were discussed and a table for the display of trophies was also talked about.

Linda volunteered to get thank you presents for the ringmaster and announcer.

Gary explained about the tail clubs.

Colleen made a motion to have another meeting after achievement day.

Members were also reminded to wear their white shirt, vest and jeans for Monday.

Meeting adjourned at 9:15 p.m.

Holden and District News

The Holden Community and School Staff will miss several teachers leaving our village.

Miss Debbie Lawson who has been on the teaching staff for several years is taking a year off from teaching to attend the University of Alberta next session. Miss Lawson was active in many school and community functions, such as taking part as piano player for community concert at the Holden Theatre. The community will look forward to Miss Lawson's return.

Mrs. Carmen MacGregor of the School Staff will also be leaving to take a new position possibly in Journalism in Edmonton. Carmen was active with sports in school, and a reporter for the Weekly Review. The Community bid farwell to Carmen and her family Mrs. G. Appleby will be retiring from the school staff but will not leave the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Shevchenk have been as holidays and have spend time in Ponce River, Grande Prairie and Spirit River, while in Spirit River they visited The Howrish families.

Mrs. Sena Fjellstrom is a patient in Tofield hospital. Mrs. Fjellstrom also celebrated her birthday in hospital last week.

Several new homes are being constructed in the Village of Holden. Mr. George Smythe with Custom Real Estate of Edmonton, is building a new home near the sports grounds. This home should be completed in the later part of September. Mr. Smythe has shown interest in planning to develope other lots in Holden if they are available.

In baseball news, the Holden team seemed to be dominated by the Ryley team in the game on Tuesday, July 3. However, Holden recovered very well in the later part of the game making the score Holden 11 and Ryley 10, to win the game.

Open House will be held on Saturday, July 14, for Ludik and Pauline Banach in the Holden Community Hall at 8 p.m. This is a going away party for the family. Ludik was employed with U.G.G. for several years and Pauline was employed at school. The family took an active part in the Village and in the community, as well as in the church. Ludik spent many hours with the hockey teams. The community will miss the entire family and wish them well in their new life in Alaska.

Progressive Farming

James S. MacKay - Dist. Agriculturist

Are you wondering whether you should vaccinate your dog or cat against rabies his summer?

Dr. H.N. Vance, director of Alberta Agriculture's veterinary services division, suggests people who live on acreages and farms and those who plan to take their pets to lake cottages, etc. have them vaccinated against rabies.

"While Alberta's rabies vector control program has been quite successful, we are still finding the occasional rabid skunk in the extreme eastern part of the province," he says. Although no cases of rabies have been diagnosed in Alberta so far this year, four skunks, one cow, and nine bats were recorded in 1977. According to Dr. Vance, bats are not a frequent source of rabies infection for dogs or cats.

Although present regulations do not require pet owners to have their animals vaccinated before taking them into any of the national parks, Dr. Vance thinks it is a good idea to vaccinate them anyway. He strongly recommends that people who plan to take their pets anywhere in Canada that is east of the Alberta border have them vaccinated. British Columbia is free of rabies, but it is still a good idea to vaccinate pets before taking them there.

Anyone planning to take a dog into the United States needs a rabies vaccination certificate signed by a Canadian or American veterinarian, which states that the animal was vaccinated at least 30 days, and not more than 36 months, before entering that country. Although cats do not require a rabies certificate to go into the United States, they must have one to re-enter Canada.

Both dogs and cats that have been domiciled in the United States must have been vaccinated against rabies within 36 months of entering Canada. However, puppies, and kittens under three months of age do not have to have had a rabies vaccination.

HAYING

We will soon be approaching the time of year when most farmers should be thinking about cutting their first hay crop of the season. Cutting the hay at the optimum time is vitally important to obtain the best quality of hay possible.

The time of cutting varies with each crop but is determined by the stage of growth. For example, alfalfa is at its optimum quality when at the 10 per cent bloom stage. At this point in time the most advantageous point of high yield and high protein content is achieved. Even though the overall tonnage may be lower, the quality (total digestible nutrients) will be much higher than at any later date. The grasses are best cut between heading and full bloom since after full bloom is reached much of the leaf protein is transferred to both the roots and seeds thus resulting in less nutritious hay.

Curing and handling of the hay are other key factors in maintaining a high quality hay. Rapid curing is essential and is a speeded up through the use of windrows and hay conditioners, while the handling of the hay is best done while the crop is still tough. Handling dry hay results in shedding and the loss of leaves which in turn depletes the quality of the hay due to the leaves being the most nutritious part of the hay.

WANTED: If anyone has grain which is moldy or has heated and there is a Probability of a loss in quality, I would appreciate receiving a sample of these grains. The soil and feed testing lab in Edmonton is requesting samples in order to gain a better understanding of energy and protein levels of these damaged grains.

Thanks.

Bruce Gulls

The Bruce Gulls wrapped up the season in fine fashion this last week. On Monday, June 25 they travelled to Ryley. The boys played their best game of the season. They ended up in a 9-9 tie with the first place Ryley team. Scoring for Bruce were Ian Erickson 3, Grant Laube 2, Rodney Tkaczyk 2, Donny Laing 1 and Rick Tkaczyk 1.

On Wednesday Holden came to Bruce for their final game. The boys had a fun game. Final score was 12-4 for Bruce. Scoring for Bruce were Rodney Tkaczyk 3, Donny Laing 2, Kevin Dewart 2, Kary Dewart 1, Joseph Wincsura 1, Jimmy Stefanik 1 and Gordon Motkoski 2.

Thanks to Doug Heller for umpiring our Holden game.

Special thanks to the Bruce Stampede Association for donating T-shirt uniforms to the boys. Although they were a little late arriving this year, they will be very nice to start the new season off with next year.

On Wednesday the Bruce Gulls and their families held a weiner roast following their final game. The Bruce Gulls presented coach Jean Tkaczyk with a trophy and a crying towel in recognition of all the work and time she spent with the boys. They also presented Paulette Erickson with a trophy for scorekeeping throughout the season.

Viking 4-H Light Horse Club Hold Trail Ride

The Viking 4-H Lighthorse Club held their first trailride on July 2nd and 3rd. Thirty-two people showed up at the Gymkana grounds with sleeping bags, knapsacks, suitcases and their mounts. Wilf Leidl led the riders on a ten mile detour from the Gymkana Grounds to the Boy Scout Camp. Everything was going smoothly until shelly Wadley and her horse performed for the rest of us, their acrobats. Around 4 o'clock the riders got to the Camp, which started a scramble for tents.

When supper time came around everybody was good and hungry. We all sat down to a wonderful meal which was organized by Carol Taylor.

After supper, Gary McClements gave a demonstration on how to change leads properly, some 4-H members had a game of catch and Mrs. Lutz batted the balls out to them.

Gradually, everyone gathered around the campfire and while Ben Lutz started a sing song, Gary and Pat McClements made popcorn. Everyone sang Happy Anniversary to Mr. and Mrs. McClements, then Happy Birthday to Haren Ruzicka.

Somehow a sing song for the members turned out to be a night for a Soloist to perform.

Bruce Bridgeman was that soloist, and he sang songs that most of the members have never even heard of.

Finally around one o'clock some of the kids were getting a little tired. The older kids went to bed but the younger ones caught their second wind so they started playing Robinhood and who knows when they went to bed. The adults stayed up and Bruce just keep on singing.

Sometime during the early morning three pranksters got up and played a few tricks. John Ruzicka was the first one to notice that his pants, cowboy boots and rope were gone. Gordie Ruzicka was also messing his boots, and a few other tents were too, surprize, surprize, all these boots were strung out on a rope between two posts. John also noticed that his saddle somehow flew up on the smoke house. Then Gordie realized that his rope was also gone. Gordie's rope was hanging in the tree's when he finally noticed it. By this time, there was quit a comotion around the camp. Everyone gradually got out of bed and for the tired out Robinhood gang, they found themselves being dragged out of their tent.

Breakfast was a 6 a.m., and while Carol Taylor was getting washed, her saddle also flew up on the smoke house. When Carol found that was her saddle on the roof, she sure gave those guys heck. Until Archie Nearing said "It was the guys that put your saddle up there Carol".

By that time everyone in the camp knew which girls did all of these tricks. These girls names will not be revealed but they got a trick played on them too. When the girls went to find their horses, they were gone, so they set out for a wild goose chase. Finally after about 1/2 hour looking they found their horses tied up in the bush, safe and sound.

Camp was cleaned up and everyone moved out. We all arrived at the Gymkana Grounds around ten o'clock. Nobody had much sleep that night so we were all pretty tired.

Everyone was joking with Bruce Bridgeman that we were going to send in his taped singing to CFCW for the mystery artist. When you asked John Ruzicka what he thought of the trail ride all he could say was "Hot diggity dog". Robinhood and her gang said that they had lots of fun but were awful tired.

Anyways, we all agreed that the trail ride was a success.

RECREATION INTEREST SURVEY

This survey is being undertaken by the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Department with the assistance of the Alberta Government Summer Temporoary Employment Program for student.

We have hired eight students this year to do this job.

They will be calling on you to get information that will be valuable to the Recreation Department and the Further Educational Council in preparing plans for new programs for you, whatever age you may be.

Please help these students as they travel the rural and urban areas to seek out this information. It is very simple to complete the forms that we are using.

It should only take about fifteen minutes of your time at the most they will assist you in completing these form so that they can take them with them and tabulate the information before the end of August, 1979.

If you have been missed and they did not leave you a survey sheet, phone this Office, 663-3730 extension 24, and ask that a from be sent out to you. It will give us the information to plan for new programs or set up some of the others you may missed out on.

We will also be able to plan to take programs out to the rural community halls now where improvements have been made to heat in the winter time.

One or two of the questions will help in making plans for improvements to facilities or whether we need new ones.

This survey is just as important for the Senior Citizens to complete as anyone else in the County of Beaver. It will give us some ideas as to what kind of trips or special programs you would like to have. If we do not hear from you we cannot help you to plan.

The survey program started on Tuesday, July 3rd and will continue until completed, and that should be August 31st, 1979.

If you have any specific ideas or suggestions to pass on, say them by writing them of the reverse side.

WE THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT

LET WANT ADS WORK FOR YOU

Vialta Lodge News

Our sympathy is extended at this time to the family of Thomas Berg who passed away at the Viking Hospital on July 4th. Everyone at the Lodge enjoyed having Tom live here before moving to Parkland Nursing Home.

We were pleased to have members of the Irma Alliance Church come to Vialta to help celebrate July birthdays. Everyone enjoyed the entertainment, and the delicious lunch and birthday cake. Thank you for spending this time with us. Residents having birthdays in July were Mr. Hoyland, Mrs. Suddaby, Mr. Zeigler and Mr. Nordstrom.

Gloria and Jean Kuzyk of Vegreville called to see Mrs. Austin and took her home with them for a few days.

Mr. Cotter spent a few days in Edmonton with relatives.

Cards of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. Helga Cleves wish to thank all friends and relatives who helped during or recent bereavement. Thanks to Rev. Barr, the organist Ila Sorenson, Earl Kjelland the undertaker, the ladies who provided and served the lunch, and all the pallbears. Thanks for the cards and flowers, and donations for memorials, food and flowers to the house, your thoughtfulness was greatly appreciated.

The Family 22p

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to say "Thank You" in as many ways as possible to all our good friends who truly surprised us out at the Golf Course Thursday evening for our 40th Anniversary. Thank you so much for the beautifully decorated cake, the purse of money, the planning work and thought behind this surprise.

Bless you All

Gladys and Rod 22p

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to say thank you to friends and relatives who sent us congratulations, gifts, cards and flowers on the birth of our daughter, Lisa Dawn. It was greatly appreciated.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, who passed away on July 13, 1977.

Gone dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember.
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed.
How sweet the memory still.
But death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.

Sadly missed by your wife Gail, Children: Don, Dale, Ellen, Joyce and grandchildren. 22p

Picnic Held For Viking Safety Patrollers

On Thursday June 21, Patrols of the Viking school had a picnic.

We met at the school at quarter to five to go to the Viking camp site for our picnic. At about 6:30 we piled into the bus to go to the Ryley Pool for a swim till about 8:00.

At the Ryley Pool we swam and jumped off the diving boards. We had a lot of fun.

On the way back we stopped at a drive-in for a malt ice cream. By the time we got back to Viking it was about twenty to ten.

I'm sure all of us were tired by the time we got back from the pool and all the excitement.

The Patrols would like to thank the Elks for putting it on for us. We would also like to thank Ernie Sevelk for driving us.

Motkoski Family Wins Farm Family Award

Anne and Peter Motkoski are thrilled to have been nominated by the Bruce Agricultural Society to receive the Alberta Farm Family Award. On July 23 they, along with other families in the province, will be the guests of the Edmonton Exhibition Association at a special luncheon. A full day of activities has been planned for them, including a visit to City Hall and an afternoon of fun at Klondyke Days.

Married in Edmonton in 1946, Anne and Peter came immediately to the farm where they now live, approximately four miles south of Bruce. However, the attractive house which now graces the farmstead is a far cry from that first dwelling, a one-room, mud-plastered house where Anne once endured a three-day winter storm alone with her wee son.

Peter worked hard to clear the land and build a five-room house that has since been renovated to accommodate his growing family. The field work was done with horses but gradually Peter, like his neighbors, progressed to larger machinery and more scientific farming methods. The Motkoskis now farm eleven quarters where they grow a variety of grains and raise mainly Aberdeen Angus cattle. They milk cows to supply their own needs, raise their own chickens and turkeys and tend a large garden.

The Motkoskis are a warm friendly family, proud of each other's accomplishments and involved in a variety of activities within the community. They attend Holy Heart of Mary Church in Viking where the youngest son, Gordon, serves as an altar boy. Anne and Peter have been members of farm unions as long as they can remember. Presently they belong to the N.F.U. and Peter also finds time to serve on the Board of the Seed Cleaning Plant and be a member of R.E.A. He was also one of the first debenture holders in the old Bruce Curling Rink where, for several years, he threw some excellent rocks. Anne also curled for a few years until her other interests became so numerous that there just wasn't time.

While most women would consider mothering eight children a full-time job, Anne has found time to pursue her own interests and take an active part in community affairs. She has taught Religious Education for many years, not only in Viking but in Holden as well. She serves on the Bruce Agricultural Society Board where she is in charge of one of the catering groups.

The Women's Institute is also one of Anne's special interests. This year she is serving as Constituency Handicraft Convener. Her creativity is appreciated when the time comes to make the float for the annual stampede Parade and her capable emceeing is much enjoyed at various functions. Anne has just completed a term on the Further Education Council, is secre-

New Agricultural Societies Grant Structure Announced

Agricultural Societies and Fairs in Alberta will benefit from increased programme assistance announced by Agriculture Minister, Dallas Schmidt.

The new programme, which took effect July 1, 1979 represents a commitment by the Government of Alberta of up to $40 million. "These funds", said the Minister, "will contribute significantly to the continued successful operation of major agricultural societies and class "A" fairs throughout Alberta and their varied activities."

The special one-time grants for approved future capital construction for all Class "A" agricultural fairs will be based on $100 per capita for the first 50,000 people, plus $5 per capita to a maximum of 500,000 people. This is also supplemented by provisions for the guarantee by the Province of loans up to 50 percent of the cost of approved construction projects. All other agricultural fairs continue to be eligible for the $75,000 one-time grant.

There will also be an increase in annual operating grants to Class "A" agricultural fairs from $75,000 to $100,000. Maximum annual operating grants to Class "B" agricultural fairs are being increased to $50,000 from $10,000. Existing Class "A" agricultural fairs are Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Red Deer, Medicine Hat, Lloydminster and Camrose. There are currently seven Class "B" agricultural fairs which, with anticipated growth, will eventually attain Class "A" status.

Agricultural societies that provide racing facilities will benefit from the pari-mutuel tax rebate of 25 percent which is administered by the Solicitor General. This rebate will be used for debt retirement.

Mr. Schmidt emphasized the importance of the 217 agricultural societies in Alberta. "These societies promote agriculture, horticulture and homemaking and improve the quality of life in the communities of this Province." He added, "During 1978, some 125 fairs and livestock shows were sponsored by agricultural societies. In addition to promoting agricultural events, these societies are becoming more involved in developing multi-purpose buildings for community use."

Mayors and other elected officials from across Canada attended a conference conducted by Emergency Planning Canada at the Federal Study Centre, Arnprior, Ontario, from July 9-12, 1979. Vandalism, Break-Ins Plague Viking Area

During the past weekend in Viking, the Viking School was vandalized to a total of over $1,600. Vandals managed to break a total of 47 windows in the elementary wing, the Home Economics room and the Industrial Arts shop. The vandals used rocks as their main means of destruction.

Also this past weekend, one business establishment was broken into, although little damage or loss of property was reported.

This active weekend for vandals and thieves in the area is in keeping with local events during the last month or two. At least three Viking businesses and one residence have been broken into, with one of the businesses being "hit" on a number of occasions. In all of the break-ins, only small amounts of money and a few minor items were stolen.

Incidents of willful damage are also on the increase. As well as the School, the Camp Lake facilities have been vandalized on several occasions. Both bathrooms and camp kitchens have had walls and doors kicked in.

As well as these cases, a number of vehicles have been vandalized. Slashed tires, smashed windshields, broken windshield wipers and broken radio antennae have all been reported as cases of vandalism.

The Viking Detachment of the R.C.M.P. is investigating all of these incidents and would appreciate any information which anyone may have concerning any incidents such as those described above.

Here We Go Again

Here we go again! Another round of the continuous cycle of break-ins and vandalism. It seems that as soon as the weather turns nice, some people's attitudes and actions turn nast.

And nasty is a nice word for their actions. The senseless act of vandalism at the Viking School seems almost beyone comment. Now all of us, the taxpayers of Viking and District, including the vandal(s) or the parents of the vandal(s), must pay for this stupid, stupid act. In the other break-ins, all business owners and home owners will be paying for any claims of a substantial nature through insurance premiums.

The fact is that in the long run we all pay. And yet many people in the area are afraid to get involved in stopping these criminal acts. In talking with one member of the local R.C.M.P., he noted that it is very difficult to get any information from anyone about any crime committed in this area. This is sad, very sad! Some people say that they fear retaliation by the criminal element. Yet, the only way we can expect to have our property protected is to help the police to track down those who break the law. By withholding evidence we are, in essence, accomplices to the crime.

All we have to do in our rural communities is keep our eyes and ears open and notify the police of anything which may help them in their investigations. Recently the police have stepped up their patrols of Camp Lake to try to decrease the incidents of vandalism. They have been met by cries of "harrassment" by many young people. Yet all these people have to do is co-operate with the police, give them information on who is causing the destruction, and act as responsible citizens.

Fear of retaliation is a law of the jungle. If we are not prepared to take a stand for what is right, we cannot expect to have a civilized society. The efforts to protect "our" lives and property are done for us. The only way that we can assure the success of these efforts is to give information to the police which will aid them in tracking down the "idiots" in our society who think they gain "status" by stealing from others or by destroying other people's property.

Remember, in the long run we all pay. And in order to maintain a proper level of safety in our society, we must all co-operate. If you know anything about the senseless acts of others, give the local R.C.M.P. a call. They're working for us!

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

In the last several months there has been a growing consciousness of a need for Canadians to open their homes and their hearts to the desperate plight of the Asian refugees.

Since 1947 Canada has welcomed 350,000 refugees from various parts of the world. The details and administrative procedures are handled under the Immigration Act and Regulations enacted in April of 1978.

This Act confirms Canada's obligations to protect refugees under the United Nations Convention. The Federal Government establishes an annual plan outlining the number of refugees Canada will accept each year.

But of course this number is limited for various reasons in the personnel available to handle the displaced people in our country.

Regardless of how many refugees the government can accept, there will always be other people equally in need of our help.

If groups in Canada are willing and able to sponsor refugees, this means that more people can be admitted above and beyond the quota set by the Department of Immigration.

What does sponsoring a family mean or involve?

a) Total financial support for up to a year. For a family of four this means $5,000.

b) It means finding a job for the head of the household so that the family can become self sufficient as soon as possible.

c) It means locating and providing a home.

d) Besides that, it means providing supportive services friendship, moral support and cultural adjustments such as shopping, banking, schooling and to help the family become aware of the services available.

e) It also means that the sponsoring group which can be a church group, an organization or a group of at least 5 individuals, must sign a legal document entering into a binding agreement with the Federal Agreement.

If anyone reading this article would like the privilege of sharing in the sponsoring of a family or families please make your wishes and ideas known to the following people - Earl Kindley at 336-4980 and Father John Adamyk at 336-3382.

The following is what would be required

a) providing for a job, either skilled or unskilled,

b) housing for a family.

c) financial support.

If there is little chance of local direct involvement (for example, work and housing) then the following avenues are open:

a) financial support only for refugees already here in Canada, or

b) financial help for refugees in camps set up in other countries through the U.N.

Further information may be supplied from Edmonton if enough interest is shown. People in Edmonton have already offered to come to Viking and give more information on sponsoring refugee families.

Our hope and prayer is that we, as a community, can do something tangible to help our fellow human beings in Asia to establish a new life.

Father John Adamyk

Dear Sir:

The residential areas of Irma are really a matter for pride, with the carefully manicured lawns, flowering shrubs and colorful flowers and brightly painted houses. It is therefore a shock when a person reaches main street to see the two four (or more) high grass and weeds growing beside the sidewalks.

The lot on the corner south of the Co-op, the Legion lot and the lot to the north of it, could all be greatly improved by having the weeds and grass cut. Come on Irma snap out of it. Cut your weeds and grass. We now have a good street and sidewalk (in spite of all the circlers who try to cost our streets with rubber).

Some of our main street buildings could stand a coat of paint and it is not rationed. We have noticed our four student employees painting the swings on the Railway Park and Picnic grounds and this is good. We have also noticed some small children enjoying the teeter-totter and having fun. We have noticed an increasing number of travellers using the shelter and wash rooms and undoubtedly this trend will continue. Those responsible for this project are to be commended.

Hoping for a brighter and neater main street in Irma before the Irma Fair and Sports Day, I remain

Alberta Agriculture
TODAY & TOMORROW

One of the major commitments I made upon assuming my portfolio last March was to ensure agricultural research in Alberta continue to receive top priority from this government.

Research is currently conducted by a variety of institutions, universities, the federal and provincial governments, and private companies. In particular, private companies tend to direct their research toward practical applications such as soil drainage, cattle feeds, new crop varieties, and in the case of oil and mineral companies — land reclamation and chemical development.

However, primary research is also required. If our industry is to remain both competitive in the world market and the backbone of Alberta's economy, our farmers must continue to receive new and improved technology. Yet, research efforts have suffered from large gaps in recent years. For this reason the "Farming for the Future" program was introduced in October 1977. With an initial commitment of $10 million over five years from The Heritage Savings Trust Fund, the program got underway last fall, and this spring more than 60 projects requiring about $2 million to expand research were approved.

Just after Canada Day the Agricultural Research Council of Alberta, administrator of "Farming for the Future", met still again, and in this column I'd like to announce that another 200,000 research dollars have been allocated to various projects in the prairie provinces.

Since most projects will run more than one year, and some will continue for a further four years, the 10 projects that we approved will receive more than three-quarters of a million dollars during their expected lifetimes.

Of these 10 new projects, half involve research in animal health and nutrition. For instance, two projects being headed by Dr. Chris Bigland, Director of the Veterinary Infectious Disease Organization (VIDO) located in Saskatoon, will receive an annual grant of about $50,000 to find better tools to fight scours in calves and pigs.

Though this money is going to Saskatoon, the findings will be of greatest benefit to Albertans. You may be aware that Alberta was the largest contributor to VIDO's new research facility which opened last fall. Saskatoon was considered the best location because VIDO could share University of Saskatchewan facilities and make use of the personnel located at the Western College of Veterinary Medicine, the only such facility in Western Canada.

Anyway, VIDO will use this money to continue research into the E. coli bacteria which are known to be a major cause of scours. VIDO has made great progress in developing new vaccines to fight scours. These will be welcome as scours cost Canadian cattlemen about $75 million per year. Much of this loss is also caused by viruses, and the second of the VIDO projects will be to test the effectiveness and safety of a new virus vaccine against one that is currently available on the commercial market.

Another animal project is being conducted to discover methods to control ovulation in sheep and cattle. Because "heat" forecasting is only fair at best, ovulation timing will improve the returns and effectiveness of controlled breeding programs. We also hope a control program for Infectious Bovine Rhinotracheitis Virus (IBR) will provide good returns on our investment in finding controls for this costly respiratory infection of feeder cattle.

When "Farming for the Future" began last year the Council invited applications from all research areas. In spite of the hundreds of returns received, gaps remain in the eight prime research areas we noted as being important to our provincial agriculture industry. Our open invitation still exists however, as research needs come into focus, we're beginning to solicit proposals in specific areas so that Alberta farmers will receive the best return for the research dollar.

During the last meeting, several other projects were approved. A one-year grant was made to investigate the economics of overwintering bees. Another project to be co-ordinated by my Department, will involve obtaining basic data to be used in developing provincial guidelines for soil drainage construction. Still another will attempt to screen different varieties of winter wheat for resistance to snow mold.

Our provincial greenhouse industry stands to profit if more nutrineoal diseases can be avoided. A project aimed at improving standards for recognizing and forecasting nutritional problems of greenhouse crops is being funded, as is and a project comparing fertilizer rates to cattle nutrition from forages will be carried out by private industry.

We have also assisted a project which will compare low cost alternatives to present methods of clearing, breaking and seeding grazing lands from brush lands and woodlots. It's estimated that brush encroaching on Alberta grazing land annually costs our farmers about $50 million in lost cattle sales. As well, several million wooded acres in the province are potential grazing lands. The results of this study could have great impact on the fortunes of northern cattlemen.

Holden and District News

The Holden Agribition is one month away, August 13, 1979, but the Holden and District Agricultural Society is looking for many exhibits each year. The Fair Day will be the second Monday in August. Exhibits will be accepted between 6:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. on Sunday, August 12th. Judging will commence at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, August 13.

The Fair opens to the public at noon on Monday and the judges will be available for comments from 12:00 to 12:30. The entry fee required by each adult exhibitor is membership ($1.00) in the Holden and District Agricultural Society. There will be no charge for items exhibited by juniors - 16 years and under. Ribbons for first, second and third will be presented. There will not be any prize money given out.

Although there are many who have not entered exhibits in previous years we are looking forward to a greater number of entries. There is a fine degree of challenge offered in the Agricultural products. Plan ahead...by August 13, you may have something to exhibit.

The following are all members of the Holden and District Agricultural Society and each of them would be glad to answer your questions. President - Don Hultheim (666-2148), Past President Joe Fornal (666-3960), First Vice-President - Kelly Story (666-3981), Second Vice-President - Paul Shtokal (666-2147), Sec.-Treas. - Christine Mackay (666-3812). Directors: Reg Doison, Earl Hardy, Gina Hrabec, Mel Hass, Herb Kirst, Milt Malick, Doris Ogrodnick, Deanna Schuller, Paul Shtokal and Joyce Teed. Fair Directors: Doris Ogrodnick (663-2141), Joyce Teed (666-3960) Herb Kirst (666-2252), Paul Shtokal (666-2147) and Deann Schuller (666-3836).

Information about the Holden Agribition was mailed to many residents, it contains all the rules and regulations. If you have not received a booklet perhaps you could borrow one from your friends or family. Plan now for a bigger and better Holden fair.

Just a reminder to our readers...The Holden Wading Pool opened on July 16. Supervised hours are from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Financial Assistance For Senior Citizens Organization

Senior citizens organizations in Alberta can now apply for direct financial assistance for capital expenditures to upgrade or extend their drop-in centres, announced Mary J. Lemessurier, Minister responsible for Culture.

"This Senior Citizens' Facility Grant Program was initiated in response to the large number of letters, petitions and briefs from senior citizens which have been received by the government during the past year" said the Minister.

Projects that can be funded include new construction, renovations, upgrading and equipping of centres designed to fill the needs of Alberta's senior citizens. These would range from improved insulation and indoor plumbing to kitchen facilities and program equipment which would allow the seniors to become involved in numerous cultural, recreational and social activities.

Community service organizations and municipal authorities will be able to apply on behalf of senior citizen organizations, providing one of their objectives is the provision of social, cultural and recreation services for senior citizens.

Mrs. Lemessurier said that senior citizens' centres play a vital role at the community level by fulfilling the senior citizens' needs for mutual support and in providing a focal point for social, cultural and recreation programs in the community.

Financial assistance will be on a basic non-matching grant of $500, or the amount of the project. On projects that exceed $500, a basic non-matching grant of $500 will be available, plus an additional amount on the balance on a matching basis up to $3,000. Maximum funding in any one year for this senior citizen facility grant program will be $3,500.

Retiring Teacher Honored

On Thursday, June 14, Grace Appleby formally retired from her thirty-year profession of teaching. The ceremonies, attended by her colleagues both past and present, were held in the Holden School Library in the late afternoon.

John Emerson, Master of Ceremonies, opened the program by greeting the guests and introducing the Head Table which consisted of Grace Appleby; her husband, Bert; her daughter, Anne Taylor; and her son and his wife, Douglas and Deb Appleby.

A tone of informality was immediately introduced as two of Mrs. Appleby's fellow teachers, in a humorous vein, made her feel most comfortable by bringing her, from the staff room, her 'favorite' chair. Several of her colleagues then sang a song specially composed for the occasion sung to the tune of "Amazing Grace".

At this point, Doris Ogrodnick gave Mrs. Appleby's history and warmly reminisced about the many varied experiences they had shared in the fifteen years they taught 'across the hall' from each other.

Mr. Emerson then called upon the guests making presentations in honor of Mrs. Appleby's contribution to the teaching profession and to the many, many children of the communities in which she taught. Mr. Reinholt, Superintendent of Schools, on behalf of the County of Beaver Board of Education, presented her with a Certificate of Appreciation and a beautiful pendulum wall clock.

Jim Jepson, President of the Beaver Local of the Alberta Teachers' Association, swarded her a dainty gold watch. Mr. Shykora, Principal of Holden School, on behalf of his staff, gave her a Polaroid Camera.

Mrs. Appleby then made her gracious reply. She remembered fondly the time spent at Camrose Normal School, the colleagues she enjoyed so much over the years, and most of all the students in her care in the thirty years she spent in classrooms which ranged from country schools with grades one to nine to the consolidated schools of the present.

Grace Appleby was especially proud that she had taught a family of the generations, the last of whom graduated from high school this spring. She thanked all those present, those involved in the program and lunch, and those who made the presentations, for their warm words and wishes. After a lunch served in the Library, the guests were invited to the home of her children, Floyd and Anne Taylor, for an evening of further refreshments and reminiscing.

Grace Appleby is the mother of four children - Anne Taylor of Ryley, Bruce Appleby of Fort McMurray, Colleen Bukas of Sudbury, Ontario, and Douglas Appleby of Camrose.

Mrs. Appleby's teaching career included the following schools: Mayflower, Woodham, West Bruce, Grand Forks, Bruce and Holden. She has served on the Beaver Local of the Alberta Teachers' Association as a sub local representative and on the Convention Board.

Seed Cleaning Plant Program Revised

Alberta's Minister of Agriculture, Dallas Schmidt, has announced a change in the upgrading program for municipal co-operative seed cleaning plants.

The change means that eligible seed cleaning plants will continue to receive grants of up to $25,000 to modernize or expand their facilities, despite the termination of funds received from the Federal Department of Regional Economic Expansion. These were terminated when the joint ARDA Agreement came to an end on December 13, 1978. Before the change, the maximum assistance provided under the Provincial part of the program was $15,000.

The upgrading program, operating under the same eligibility guidelines, will continue to be jointly funded with the municipality in which the plant is located and the local seed cleaning association. To qualify for an upgrading grant, a plant must be financially stable and have the support and approval of the local government.

Grants are available for such improvements as additional cleaning and treating equipment, dust collecting systems, water and sewer systems, additional legs and conveyers, additional storage facilities and the reconstruction of the plant to allow for larger trucks and a larger volume of grain.

Sixty-three seed cleaning plants have taken advantage of the upgrading program since it was introduced in 1975, and grants amounting to $755,154 have been approved.

Alberta Agriculture has supported the concept of better seed for the Province's farmers by paying for one-third of the capital cost of 78 seed cleaning plants since 1948. These plants have processed more than 20 million bushels of grain each year during the last five years.

A replacement program was introduced last year to assist in construction of new plants that meet the criteria established under the program.

RECREATION INTEREST SURVEY

This survey is being undertaken by the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Department with the assistance of the Alberta Government Summer Temporary Employment Program for student.

We have hired eight students this year to do this job.

They will be calling on you to get information that will be valuable to the Recreation Department and the Further Educational Council in preparing plans for new programs for you, whatever age you may be.

Please help these students as they travel the rural and urban areas to seek out this information. It is very simple to complete the forms that we are using.

It should only take about fifteen minutes of your time at the most they will assist you in completing these form so that they can take them with them and tabulate the information before the end of August, 1979.

If you have been missed and they did not leave you a survey sheet, phone this Office, 663-3730 extension 24, and ask that a from be sent out to you. It will give us the information to plan for new programs or set up some of the others you may missed out on.

We will also be able to plan to take programs out to the rural community halls now where improvements have been made to heat in the winter time.

One or two of the questions will help in making plans for improvements to facilities or whether we need new ones.

This survey is just as important for the Senior Citizens to complete as anyone else in the County of Beaver. It will give us some ideas as to what kind of trips or special programs you would like to have. If we do not hear from you we cannot help you to plan.

The survey program started on Tuesday, July 3rd and will continue until completed, and that should be August 31st, 1979.

If you have any specific ideas or suggestions to pass on, say them by writing them of the reverse side.

WE THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT

Grain and Oilseed Outlook

Agriculture Canada has released midyear outlooks for grains and oilseeds.

WHEAT

Recent increases in Canadian and American wheat prices are in response to smaller world wheat crop forecasts for 1979-80.

Canadian wheat plantings this year are estimated at about 26 million acres with wheat production forecast at between 18 and 21 million tonnes.

World trade in wheat and flour is expected to total between 71 and 75 million tonnes. Canada's share is forecast at 13.5 to 15 million tonnes.

COARSE GRAINS

World prices are likely to rise as a result of decreased production, due to poorer worldwide growing conditions this year coupled with increased demand.

Canadian coarse grain production is projected to range between 17.2 and 20.7 million tonnes. Domestic use should remain high at near 17.1 million tonnes.

Barley production should decline again this crop year, while corn production is expected to increase.

OILSEEDS

World oilseed supplies are expected to outstrip demand, putting some downward pressure on prices.

Rapeseed production is expected to increase with its price remaining stable. Rapeseed exports have increased significantly, but there is potential for further expansion.

Flaxseed plantings are up because of expectations that prices will remain high in the next nine months, while soybean prices should remain in line with world market levels.

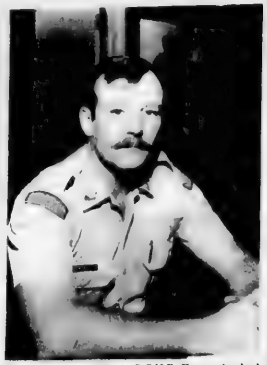
Profile: Corporal Duncan Will



Corporal Duncan Will of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has just recently been posted to the Viking Detachment to replace Corporal Lyle Anderson who was transferred to St. Paul.

Duncan Will was born at Prince Albert, Saskatchewan on September 12, 1943. At a very early age, Duncan and his family, eventually consisting of one brother and two sisters, moved to Pine Falls, Manitoba. Here he lived until he joined the R.C.M.P. in 1964.

Duncan took his basic training at Regina during the early part of 1964. From Regina he was posted to Sarnia, Ontario where he stayed until April of 1966. It was during 1966 that Constable Will was married to Eileen.

From Sarnia, the Will family moved to Toronto where they resided for six years. During his stay in Toronto, Duncan worked on the race track detail and on the immigration and passport detail. Here, as well, the Wills were blessed with a daughter, Diane, now 11 years of age, and a son, David, now 8 years of age.

Duncan was posted to Regina in 1972 where he took part in the training of new recruits to the Force. He was involved in both foot drill and tactical training. Shortly after his arrival in Regina, Constable Will became a Corporal in the R.C.M.P. He was involved in the training program until August of 1975 when he was posted to Wetaskiwin. This detachment was home until his transfer to Viking this month.

During his years in the R.C.M.P., Duncan has taken a large number of police courses, including breathalyzer, radar and a police supervisors course. As well, he has taken instructor's courses in firearms, foot drill and tactical training.

Duncan has one major hobby which he thoroughly enjoys and fits in well with his new posting. This is hunting, both upland and migratory birds. In winter in recent years, Duncan has found himself involved in minor hockey as a coach, a pastime which he may well enjoy in this area also.

Corporal Duncan Will is now in charge of the Viking Detachment of the R.C.M.P.

U.S.D.A. Reports Important To Farmers

The USDA last week released several reports of special interest to Alberta farmers. World wheat and feed grain podution estimates for 1979 were released as were detailed forecasts of various U.S. crops. As well, U.S. supply and demand forecasts for 1979-80 were revised.

WHEAT

U.S. wheat production for 1979 is forecast at 2.101 billion bushels which represents a sharp increase from last years 1.799 billion. A considerable factor in the increase is higher expected yields. U.S. wheat yields are currently forecast to average 33.8 bus./acre compared to last year's 31.6 bus./acre.

World wheat production is forecast to decline considerably from last year's record level of 438 million tonnes to about 406 million tonnes this year. Production of this size would result in some reduction of world wheat stocks and result in higher average world wheat prices in the current year than those of a year ago.

A new Soviet wheat crop estimate was also released. The USDA estimates the Soviet wheat crop at 90 million tonnes compared to 129 million tonnes last year.

Largely because of the reduced U.S.S.R. crop, the USDA now forecasts that U.S. wheat carry-over at the end of the 1979-80 crop year will total 860 million bushels, down from the 922 carried out of 1978-79 and the 1,177 million carried out of 1977-78. in reaching this forecast, the USDA forecasts that 1979-80 U.S. wheat exports will reach 1.3 billion bushels compared to 1.2 billion in 1978-79 and 1.134 billion in 1977-78 for an increase over the two years of 15.7 percent.

FEED GRAINS

Last Thursday's release puts the 1979 U.S. corn crop a 6.662 billion bushels. Such a crop would be well below last year's 7.082 billion bushels but it would still be the second largest crop on record. World coarse grain production is expected to decline by around 5 percent in 1979.

Even with the relatively large corn crop, the USDA expects U.S. corn carryover at the end of 1979-80 to drop sharply to 736 million bushels from around 1,260 million at the end of 1978-79. Part of the reduction in carry-over will result from improved domestic consumption which should reach 4,840 million bushels compared to 4,775 million in 1978-79 and 4,360 million in 1977-78. Also, U.S. exports are expected to increase, reaching 2,100 million in 1979-79 and 1,945 million in 1977-78 for an increase of 23.2 percent over the two year period.

The sharply reduced U.S. corn carry-over, coupled with stock reduction in other parts of the world can be expected to result in considerably higher feed grain export prices in 1979-80 compared to 1978-79.

OILSEEDS

The USDA did not release a forecast of U.S. soybean production, pending further development of the crop. However, they issued a forecast for world sunflower, soybean and rapeseed production. This year's world soybean output is forecast at 89.02 million tonnes, up 11 percent from last year's level. About ⅔ of the soybean output will take place in the U.S. World sunflower production will increase as well, reaching 14.6 million tonnes from the 12.4 million produced last year. About 40 percent will be produced in the U.S.S.R.

World rapeseed production is expected to reach 11.58 million tonnes. Canada is expected to produce 4.46 million tonnes or about 38.5 percent of the world's rapeseed production.

Main Street Viking

Carlos Pisado left for his home in Obregon, Mexico recently. In spite of the early hour there were quite a number of local people at the airport to see him off. Among these were Martin, Lorraine and Reg Stefanishyn, Elaine and Roger Mariner, Ernie, Beth, Wes and Kevin Mertz. Carlos had enjoyed his stay in Viking and has special memories of winter with its hockey playing. Carlos' parents wish to thank all the people in the Viking area who have helped their son to learn the English language.

Leaving on the same flight was Angelica Cisneros, of Mexico City who also attended school in Viking for several months.

Funeral Services Held For Thomas Berg

Thomas Martin Berg was born in Minnesota, U.S.A. on February 23, 1901 and passed away in the Viking Hospital on July 3, 1979 at the age of 78 years.

He leaves to mourn his passing one brother Peter of Vancouver, B.C., five sisters, Sigrid Knutson of Vancouver, B.C. Mabel Wenstob of Viking, Olga Cumming of Viking, Ida Bruce of Coquitlam, B.C. and Esther Holman of Edmonton as well as numerous nieces and nephews. Tom was predeceased by his parents, two brothers and one sister.

Tom came to Canada with his parents at the age of three, where they homesteaded a farm two miles north of Viking. After his father's passing, Tom continued farming until failing health caused him to take up residence in Viaita Lodge and later in Parkland Nursing Home.

Tom was confirmed in the Golden Valley congregation and in his younger years was active in many church groups and served on the Church Board. In addition, Tom was on the Board of Directors of the Viking Creamery for many years. He will always be remembered for his kindness and willingness to lend a helping hand.

Funeral services were held in the Golden Valley Lutheran Church on July 7, 1979 with Pastor Tim Johnson officiating. A former pastor, Rev. Jacob Stolee gave a very comforting message as "A Tribute To Tom".

Mrs. Ila Sorenson presided at the organ, congregational hymns sung were "Abide With Me", and "amazing Grace". Soloist Stan Sorenson sang "How Great Thou Art".

Pallbearers were Messrs. Selmer Hafso, Helmer Hanson, Hagen Hagenson, Carl Sorenson, Nels Nordstrom and Carl Baumgartner. Interment took place in Golden Valley Lutheran Cemetery with Monaghan Funeral Home in charge of all arrangements. Floral tributes were from brother and sisters and nieces and nephews.

Janice Jeffrey daughter of John and Patsy Jeffrey and Barry Knudsiion, son of George and Audrey Knudsiion were united in marriage on July 7, 1979. The wedding was held in Ryley, Alberta.

Peter Kundrata Laid To Rest

Funeral services were held for Peter Kundrata on Monday, July 9, 1979. Peter died suddenly, passing away in his sleep during the night of July 4, 1979.

Peter was born in Hostetin, Czechoslovakia, on October 20, 1904. He was 74 years of age. Peter came to Canada in 1928. After working in the district for a while, he spent 20 years working on a ranch near Dawson Creek, B.C. Peter came to reside at the Manas residence shortly after Joe's death in 1963.

He is survived by one niece, Eda Otta from Toronto, and one sister in Czechoslovakia. Numerous friends came from far and near to pay their last respects. The one person who would have liked to be present was Julia Manas. She is presently undergoing treatment for her arthritis at the Statvi Kupele in Piestany, Czechoslovakia.

Peter never married, but was dearly loved by all who knew him. Funeral prayers for Peter took place on Sunday July 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Prague Church. The funeral mass took place the next day at 10:30 a.m. July 9, 1979 in the Prague Parish Church. Interment followed in the Prague Cemetery. Funeral services were conducted by Father John Adamyk. All those present could testify to the very peaceful and prayerful atmosphere that pervaded the Church.

Pallbearers were: Ernie Sevcik, Frank Voltner, Charlie Bercik, Frank Sevcik, Joe Bercik and Stan Zemanek. Lunch was served by the ladies of the Prague Parish in the Prague Parish Hall.

Alberta Liberal Report

Alberta Liberal Leader, Nick Taylor, in an interview after returning from a one week trip to Colorado and Utah, claimed he is more convinced than ever that the solution for gas surpluses in Alberta is for the Alberta government to start saving Heritage Trust Fund gas, thereby allowing industry to sell its surplus.

Taylor said that talks he has had with U.S. producers, both in the Rocky Mountains and in the older areas of Pennsylvania and New York, indicate they have the same short term surplus of gas and shortages of oil that we have in Alberta.

"The Americans, however, want long term gas contracts with Canada but Alberta does not have this kind of reserve and needs frontier reserved from the Arctic and Eastcoast to back up long term contracts".

The Alberta Liberal Leader called on Premier Lougheed to stop hiding behind Ottawa's skirts on this issue and solve the problem for the next few years until the Canadian frontier reserves are better developed by replacing Heritage Fund gas sales with Alberta industry surpluses.

On Saturday, July 14, Mary and John Newton took Allison (Allie) Bacon to the Royal Alex in Edmonton where she will is scheduled to have some medical tests done.

Among the guests at the home of Ada and Sidney Johnston recently were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wylie and Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Curtis from Winchester, Ontario.

Mrs. D. Johnston and her son Ricky from Cranbrook, B.C. visited with her sister Mrs. P. Andrukow of Viking and parents Mr. and Mrs. Keith Coffin of Irma as well as her brother Doug and family of Irma. Her husband Danny drove down later in the week and took them home.

Ray and Eileen Lewis attended the wedding of Ray's nephew Ivan Lewis to Kim Harter. It was a garden wedding on the Trolopes Farm, 2 miles east of Vegreville. Ivan works in the construction business. Ivan and Kim are making their home in Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kellar and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Kellar from Provost, Alberta visited with Minnie and Jim Jackson on Sunday afternoon. Jerome and Jim became acquainted through the Alberta Farmer's Union but had not seen each other since 1947.

Lorna, Eddie and Howard Jackson returned on Monday, July 9th from a week long vacation in Riding Mountain National Park at Clear Lake. With them for a time were Noreen and friend, Norman Martin and Phyllis and Rick Hammond. They viewed the buffalo which had been raised from 20 head taken from the Wainwright Buffalo Park in 1942.

Arthur Wallace and wife Pat from Welkom, South Africa have thoroughly enjoyed their stay in this area. Arthur Jackson drove his parents and their visitors to Sundre where they visited with Isabel, Chester and families, returning on Friday. The South African couple enjoyed their viewing of the Rockies. The Wallaces left Irma by bus on Saturday morning. In Edmonton they were met by Albert and Bev who gave them a tour of the city. The left Edmonton for Winnipeg on Sunday to visit more relatives, with plans to return to South Africa in early Aug.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Copeland visited Max Walker at Dawson Creek then travelled on to visit with Tom's cousins Roy and Harvey Copeland of Manning.

Royal Irish Rangers Entertain

Quite a number from Irma attended and enjoyed the "Beating of Retreat" at Wainwright Camp parade grounds on the evening of Wednesday, July 11th at 6:30 p.m.

The program was put on by the 2nd Batallion of the Royal Irish Rangers. The program began with a march to the old set of regimental marches, a slow march "Pastorale" and a quick march to the tune of "Jacksta Green" and "Crusaders". Pipes and drums then played "Willy Duncan" "Orange and Blue" "Hungarian Fiddler" "Belfast Hornpipe" and many other well known tunes.

The retreat concluded with "The East Post" and "Regimental March". Spectators were asked to stand for those last two numbers.

This was a most delightful 75 minutes and was enjoyed by a large crowd.

The Rangers put on a musical program in Wallace Park, Wainwright on Sunday afternoon, July 15th and were given a standing ovation by the crowd.

Progressive Farming

James B. MacKay - Dist. Agriculturist

Bill Brass - Ass't Dist. Agriculturist

From enquiries being received, it would seem that 1979 will be another good year for Canada Thistle. This weed is not fussy where it grows, being equally at home on rights of way, overgrazed pastures, cultivated fields, shelterbelts or home grounds.

Canada Thistle is a most persistent weed because of its long creeping roots which will spread for yards under ground, sending up new shoots periodically. The roots lie so deep in the ground that they are always assured of moisture. The barley crop may be drought stricken, but not the Canada Thistle.

Cultivation, as normally carried out, seems to chop up the roots and spread them over a wide area where each piece sends up a new shoot and a new infestation is under way. It is also reported that the seeds are spread far and wide by wind currents, water and in baled hay or straw. The seeds are believed to be quite long lived, surviving up to 25 years in the soil under field conditions.

The increasing popularity of no-till or minimum till seeding will certainly favour the development of large patches of Canada Thistle in cereal grains. The longer these patches are allowed to develop, then the deeper the rootstocks will go and the more difficult control will become. This comment could very well apply to most perennial weeds growing under such conditions.

Control

The secret of adequate control of Canada Thistle, as with any weed, is to find the weakest point in its life cycle and concentrate on that link. Food is produced by the above ground portion of the thistle plant and after this portion of the plant is some 5 to 8 inches tall, excess food is stored in the underground roots. This excess food is utilised to send up new shoots. If the new shoots are allowed to grow so long as they are draining food reserves, there will be a continuous drain on the plant and it starves to death.

In the case of cereals, not undersseded to legumes, an application of 8 to 12 ounces of MCPA will kill thistles back to the underground roots and by the time new shoots have developed, the crop should provide enough competition to prevent a buildup of food reserves in the roots. A fall treatment after harvest will prevent a fall replenishing of food reserves, and will aid in starving the thistle.

Products useful for fall thistle control include 2,4-D or MCPA at 8 to 12 ounces, Amitrole-T at 4 pounds, dicamba (Banvel LH) at 16 ounces, Glyphosate (Roundup) at 18 to 24 ounces when thistles are at least 10 inches in height, and picloram (Tordan) at 12 to 16 ounces, applied as a spot treatment by, or under the direction of, a licensed applicator.

Safety In Towing Your Travel Trailer

The use of travel trailers has grown tremendously over the past few years. This is likely because of the appeal of trailers and other recreational vehicles have in providing freedom for a family to go when and where wants without the hassle of "vacancy" signs, reservations, deadlines and the high cost of other means of vacation travel.

Last year in Alberta there were 184,000 registered trailers, an increase of 8% over 170,700 units from the previous year. Some of these were commercial units, but most were recreational.

Recreational vehicles have a low accident rate because they are usually driven by mature, experienced drivers on main roads during daylight hours, and in the best weather during the summer. Accidents that do occur, usually due to drivers having the necessary knowledge and skill to cope with an emergency when normal driving procedures differ from those required with a recreational vehicle. Other accidents occur because of inadequate equipment or lack of maintance.

The key to safe and happy towing is to have the proper equipment and the knowledge, ability and skill to use it properly. The main problems where problems occur are with the tow vehicle, the hitch and the trailer brakes and tires.

Most normal cars and trucks are not made or designed for towing a trailer, but with adequate job if modified and equipped. The tow unit may have to be heavier than the trailer, ideally 50% or more. The tow unit must have an engine and drive train capable of pulling the trailer at normal highway speeds without overheating or breaking down. If a normal car or truck is to be modified it should be in good mechanical condition. Then the cooling system and suspension must be modified to cope with the extra load. (A transmission cooler is a must).

Heavy springs should replace the normal ones, coupled with extra heavy duty shocks all around. These should be the best quality obtainable. The differential ratio should be checked and if much trailering is to be done, the ratio should be raised. This depends on engine size and torque rating and on the trailer size. If the present ratio is 2:86 or 2:73, this should be changed to 3:25 or even 3:44.

The next point to check is the hitch. Class I trailers without an equalizing hitch must have the coupling and safety chain in perfect condition. The ball latch must be locked down while travelling. The safety chain should be wrapped around the tongue and properly fastened to the tow car frame.

Hitch weight on these trailers is extremely important. Camping and boat trailers are susceptible to great variations in tongue weight because the load affects it. Boats with a heavy outboard on the transom can be enough to reduce the tongue weight even to a minus amount, resulting in a trailer that will not track when pulled - a very dangerous situation.

Owners of all Class I trailers hould weigh their tongue weight when the trailer is loaded and ready to roll. This can be done on a bathroom scale and should be at least 10% of the total weight. The reading should be 150 - 250 lbs. for all but very small tent trailers. The tow car suspension should be strong enough to remain level with the trailer on. Air shocks may be necessary with some tow units.

Class II, III, IV trailers must have a hitch heavy enough to carry their tongue weights. Hitch up procedure must be followed and the hitch lift chains adjusted to bring the tow car back to its normal fore and aft level. Not more than five links may be dropped over to level the unit. If more are required, this indicates the hitch is too light for the tongue weight or the hitch ball carrier head is not set at the correct angle. Anyone with this problem should check back with their dealer or the hitch installer.

Safety chains are very important. They must be strong enough to take the tongue weight if it is dropped on them, and to pull the trailer. Safety chains must be crossed in an "X" configuration. They should cross under the ball carrier and be clear of the torsion bars. They should fasten to the tow unit frame - most hitches provide rings or "D's".

These chains should go through the rings and fasten back to themselves with enough slack to allow the trailer to turn, but not slack enough to drag.

Trailer brakes must be in good shape and properly adjusted. Most Class I units have inertia-type that do not require any connection to the tow car. They should be inspected and adjusted each year. Class II, III, or IV trailers usually have electric or hydraulic electric brakes. Owners should find out what kind they have and must know the method of adjusting and controlling them.

Kelsey-Hayes controllers have a handle sticking out and a resistor in the engine compartment. Stewart Warner and Tekonsha have a control adjusting wheel on the modulator unit. Owners should know what type they have and how to use it. Brakes should be checked and adjusted each year or more often if the unit is used frequently.

Brakes should be tested each time the rig is started, particularly when the tow unit has been reconnected. This is done by applying the trailer brakes manually as the unit starts to roll. Any out-of-the-ordinary effect should be checked out against a trouble-shooting chart.

At every stop, make a walk around check of your rig. When you pull in to a stop, check your trailer wheel temperatures with your hand on the wheel covers. Excess heat may indicate dragging brakes. Check hitch, chains, umbilical cord and connector. Get someone to run a tail, stop and turn light check with you.

Remember, it is better to find out ahead of time than to wait until an accident happens.

Public Hearings

on the Operation of the Workers' Compensation Act

A Select Committee of the Alberta Legislative Assembly requires written submissions from the public concerning the operations of the Workers' Compensation Act from interested associations, agencies and individuals.

This Committee, established to review the Workers' Compensation Act and matters relating to its administration, recommends that written submissions cover the principles and provisions of the Act. It is important to note that the purpose of the Committee is not to review personal grievances arising from specific claims.

Public hearings are scheduled to be held in Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Red Deer, Grande Prairie, Peace River and Fort McMurray beginning in the second week of September, 1979.

If you want to arrange a personal meeting with the Committee, mention this in your submission and indicate which hearings you will be attending.

Please mail or deliver submission no later than August 31, 1979, to:

tary treasurer of the Viking Art Club, treasurer of the C.W.L., and secretary of the Beaver Regional Art Society. Her interest in painting has led her to complete several art courses and she recently became interested in lapidary.

The eight Motkoski children range in age from 21 years to 6 years. The oldest son, Steven, his wife Shirley and children Dana, Craig and Chad, live in Edmonton where Steven is service manager for Inland Crane. Margaret, now married to Ernest Dorosh, is a medical record librarian employed by the Department of Northern Affairs. Nick lives in Edmonton also where he is in his third year of apprenticing in heavy duty mechanics with Percival Machinery.

Dorothy, who has just completed a course in Early Childhood Services at Lakeland College, is spending the summer on the farm. Twins Karen and Ken have been attending the Holden High School. Ken graduated in June and this fall will enter N.A.I.T.'s pre-technology course in drafting engineering while Karen will be completing her grade 12 next term. Karen, actively involved with the Beaverhill Players, is just back from a week of drama school in Drumheller. This summer she and her sister Dorothy will be serving as camp counsellors at Lady of Victory Camp at Gull Lake.

Gordon is the ball player. This year he helped the Bruce Gulls win their share of games. The baby of the family is Roxanne, a demure six year old who has already displayed her artistic talent by winning two art awards, one at kindergarten and one at the County Festival.

Karen, Roxanne and Dorothy Motkoski watch as mom takes a pan of home-baked buns out of the oven. Baking the family's supply of buns and bread is another of Anne's accomplishments.

Ken, Gordon, Roxanne and Peter inspect the tractor in the Motkoski farm yard.

Congratulations to a fine farm family!

Quinte W.I. Meet

A total of ten members and one guest attended the last Quinte W.I. meeting on Thursday, June 28, at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mary Leidl.

The meeting was opened with the W.I. creed, followed by the reading of the minutes from the previous meeting. The treasurer's report was also read.

A discussion was held regarding our annual group trip which is scheduled for July 15. We will be going to the museum in Lloydminster.

New business was then discussed. This included obtaining articles and pictures for the W.I. scrapbook and a wedding to be catered to on August 25.

The previous visiting committee consisting of Mrs. Doris Fee and Mrs. Angela Johnson gave their report. The new visiting committee for the year was appointed. The new committee are Mrs. Mary Leidl and Mrs. Ethel Mazankowski.

Mrs. Doris Fee then gave a very interesting report on the convention which she attended at Olds, Alberta.

For roll call this month we told of how we would like to spend a holiday or where we plan to go for a holiday. The draw for the hostess gift was made with Mrs. Harriette Newby the lucky winner this month.

Mrs. Lillian Evans adjourned the meeting. The evening ended with coffee and lunch.

Kinsella Elks and O.O.R.P. Plan Sports Day

The regular meeting of the Kinsella Elks Lodge was held on July 12 with 12 members present.

Delegates attending the Provincial Convention at Lethbridge on June 8, 9, and 10 were Brothers L. R. White, Kelly Overbo and Cliff Overbo. Lady Frances Overbo went along to keep order. It was reported that the two truck and camper winners were Brother Eric Van Marion of Crossfield and Mrs. Luke Renkema of Fort Assiniboine.

Our delegate to attend the Grand Lodge Convention in Saskatoon on July 22 to 25 will be Bro. Tobe Smith.

Kinsella Elks held a family picnic on the evening of June 25 at Camp Lake. This outing was well attend and well organized, and much enjoyed.

The lucky winner of the $85.00 jackpot bingo on July 6 was Pat Retzloff. The next bingo is to be held in the Kinsella Hall on July 27 with a jackpot of 50 dollars in 50 numbers called. The August jackpot bingos will

This year the Kinsella B.P.O.E. and O.O.R.P. will be serving a pancake breakfast in the Kinsella Hall on July 22 from 8 until 10 a.m. to help get the Sports Day off to a good start. There will be a horseshoe competition, kiddies rides and many fine ball games to watch for all those planning to attend the Sports Day this year.

Bruce and District News

The semi-annual meeting of the Agricultural Society which was held in the Recreation Centre on Tuesday evening, July 10 was VERY poorly attended despite the fact that signs had been posted for several days. Only five Board members out of a possible nine showed up plus two extras.

The Thirsk family are holidaying in the Fort St. John area. The Morris Erickson family are away also. They plan to spend a day or two at the Calgary Stampede and take a trip through the mountains.

There was an excellent turnout at the Stampede grounds on Monday night for the weekly work bee. New bleachers are being constructed which will seat approximately 300 people. A ladies tug-of-war match is being planned this year for Stampede day, that is if enough ladies are interested. It will be held at intermission after the men's contest.

Eva and Frank Maycher were visiting in Bruce this week. The Maychers lived south of Bruce several years ago but have made their home in Edmonton for the past years.

Isabelle and Marvin Lund left on Thursday for Finland where they will visit their son, Dr. Garry Lund. During the month they are away they plan to tour Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

Bea and Robert McMorran were visiting at the Starky home last weekend.

Jill, Brian, Jackson and Ben Starky are here from Keremeos, B.C. to visit various relatives in the area.

Annie and Rudy Koppel accompanied their son and daughter-in-law, Steven and Lucille Koppel, to Bonnyville where they attended the 25th anniversary of Lucille's parents.

Louis Zimnek of Evansburg has been spending his vacation in Bruce where he has been doing some work in his house and yard.

Vialta Lodge News

Mrs. Shirley Cook and Mrs. Adelle Jones of Edmonton visited Mr. Cotter.

Jack and Hazel Shaw of Sedgewick called on Max Hoyland.

Visiting Mr. Elmer Johnson were Vivian Henry and Ken and Eleanor Paulgaard of Provost.

Mrs. Amy Sudaby has returned from a trip to Lethbridge where she visited with her son Harold. She was also one of a hundred people attending a writer's workshop on novels and short stories. The workshop was held at the University of Lethbridge. On her way home, she spent some time with her daughters in Edmonton.

Ed and Robert Overbo of the Northwest Territories visited with Mr. Jos Beechell.

Gwen Hooper of Holden visited her mother, Mrs. Evans.

Calling on Mrs. Roger were her daughters and family - Carol, Wilfred and Donald Helgeland of Camrose.

Doris Likness and Alvina Spring of Irma and Kon and Leann Lymes of Edmonton visited Mrs. Elness.

Friday afternoon we were very pleased to have the play-school children and their leaders call and sing for us. We hope they come again during their holidays.

Thursday afternoon the staff gathered in the Lodge staff room to have tea with Mrs. Lillian Evans and to wish her happiness. Lillian has worked many years at Vialta and will be retiring in August.

Parkland Nursing Home News

Mrs. Gustafson had a nice visit with her daughter Mabel Sarasin of Edmonton.

Terry Lusk visited with Lars Ritland.

Georgina Myggland and Fern Gardiner of Waiwright visited with Gail Gustafson.

Lawrence Ritland and L. B. Borwiek called on Lars Ritland one day last week.

Helen Kawaliiak of Edmonton and Anna Galenza of Camrose visited with Mrs. Pearl Kawaliiak on Sunday.

We now wish to welcome a new resident to the home, Mr. Lawrence Lansing of Creston, B.C.

Recreation Report

Pam Rauser — Program Supervisor

Upon returning from the Playground Leadership Workshop in Lac La Biche, we were one very tired crew. Accompanying me we playground leaders Connie Fountain and Wanda Simmonds for Viking and Carole Crump and Lorraine Gara from Ryley.

The week was scheduled heavily, each day beginning at 7:30 and lasting until 10:00 or 10:30 at night. We stayed at the Alberta Vocational Centre and were taught a variety of sports, games and songs for children of all ages as well as how to handle various playground situations.

As a group, we felt that the workshop was a very valuable experience and it certainly gave each of us more insight into what was expected of our playgrounds this summer.

"Beginnings"

This summer, Alberta Culture is having an exhibition of children's work from birth to 18 years of age. This event is in commemoration of the International Year of the Child and invites children to contribute artwork which is unique and done naturally.

Only flatwork, small to mural size will be accepted. Entries must be in no later that July 30, 1979.

All work will be kept by the Visual Arts Branch as part of a provincial collection of Alberta Art by children.

The exhibition, called "Beginnings", is scheduled for October 24 to November 9, 1979 at the Visual Arts Branch, Beaver House Gallery, 3rd Flour, 10158 - 103 Street, Edmonton. Gallery hours are Noon to 4:00 p.m., Monday to Friday.

For further information and entry forms, please contact Pam at 663-3730.

The baseball school to be held in Provost will begin July 30th through August 1st, 1979. Contact the Regional Recreation Office for application forms.

The 1979 Western Canada Games are scheduled for August 12 to 19 in Saskatoon. The games were created to provide Western Canadian athletes with an opportunity to compete in a sports tournament of the highest possible calibre involving the sports of the Summer Olympics.

Feel free to contact Pam at the Recreation Office, 663-3730, for any further information.

A suggestion has been made by the Ryley Senior Citizens Club to have a one day activity at Elk Island National Park. If any other Senior Citizen Groups are interested in such an outing, please contact us at the Regional Recreation Office and we can hopefully plan the day.

Cards of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

The husband, son, daughters and families of the late Mrs. Iren Baska wish to thank most sincerely all those who sympathised with them in their recent sad bereavement, those who sent mass offerings, cards of sympathy, floral tributes and those who attended the Requiem Mass and funeral in Hardisty. A special thank you to Rev. Father Perron for his kindness and pastoral visits to Mrs. Baska during her lengthy illness. Doctor G. Cahill, nurses and staff of Hardisty General Hospital, Doctor T. Amin, nurses and staff of Killam Auxiliary Hospital, Doctors Hnatuik, Kennedy, Acton, nurses and staff of the Provost Nursing Home. A special thanks to Mrs. Theresa Gregory, Mrs. Elsie Locher, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boser, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holmes for the lovely baking and flower arrangements sent to our home.

Our special thanks to the organist Mrs. Marie Willette, to the choir, Mrs. Elsie Locher, Mrs. Thelma Fishler, also Joan, Stephen and Bill Locher. Our special thanks to the pallbearers: Ernest Locher, Louis Dekock, Joe DeKock, Irving Bell, Jim Voros, and John Paszter. A special thank you to the ladies of the C.W.L. of Hardisty for the lovely lunch served after the funeral. To Gregory's Funeral Home for taking care of all arrangements, for which we are most grateful. Trusting this will be accepted by all in grateful acknowledgement and appreciation.

In Memoriam

We wish to express our sincere thanks to friends and neighbors, all those who came from Irma so quickly, to the man working here, and everyone that tried to help when the tragic accident took the life of my husband, our father and grandfather, on our farm at Irma. Thank you for your prayers, memorial donations, flowers, cards, visits, baking to our home, and a special thanks to Strawberry Plains W.I. members who served lunch after the service and to all for their expressions of sympathy. Our gratitude is extended to Mr. Creech for his assistance, Reverend Gordon Wilson, the choir and organist and also the pallbearers.

May we also thank John Paszter, Vernon King and Merle King who sprayed the crop.

Words cannot express how much we appreciate the kindness shown us. It has all helped to make this sad time more bearable. May God bless you all.

Helen Bell, David and Sandra Lee, Laura and Dennis and family. 23p

I wish to extend a sincere thanks to the doctors, nurses and entire staff of the Viking Hospital for the care given to me while a patient there. Thanks to my family and friends for their visits, gifts and cards. B. Olsen 23p

Lancers Hold Ball Tournament

On Sunday, July 8th, the Irma Lancers held a twelve team tournament. The weather was ideal and a good crowd enjoyed the exciting games.

On the "A" side Edgerton was victorious over Tulisky Lake while the "B" side was captured by Carruthers Trucking of Vermilion. This team won a hard-fought game over Irma Tigers by a score of 8-5.

A lot of hard work had gone into improving the ball diamonds. Shale, hauled from Forestburg, had been worked into the infield and should be a big help in wet weather.

The food concession booth was a very busy place, serving hamburgers, cold plates and pie.

The Lancers wish to thank everyone who helped in any way. Special thanks go to Alma Garbe who helped Mel with the organization as well as working in the booth. Thanks are also extended to all the ladies who made salads or sent pies.

Are You A Safe Camper?

With summer upon us, many families will be planning to take to the woods, or at least a reasonable facsimile, such as a campground, park, or even the backyard.

After a few hours crowded into a car with the kids, the dog, and a mountain of camping gear, you may not be able to agree that "getting there is half the fun". Even if it's not fun, it should still be safe.

Having your car serviced before you start out will help avoid those grim sessions on the side of the road waiting for a tow truck. Ask your mechanic to pay particular attention to possible safety problems.

The car's exhaust system is especially important. Unless it's tightly connected and without cracks or holes, you run the risk of carbon monoxide poisoning. Make sure there is sufficient ventilation while you're in the car to prevent carbon monoxide fumes from accumulating, particularly when sitting for long periods of time with the motor running.

If possible, wait until reaching your destination before purchasing campstove fuel. If you must carry gasoline or other fuel, use a container designed for the purpose. Proper gasoline containers bearing a Canadian Standards Association seal may be purchased at auto supply stores. Fuel containers should be securely lashed to the sides of front bulkhead of the trunk to prevent them from rolling around. Heavy objects such as jacks or tire tools should also be secured to keep them from puncturing gas containers.

Use care when siphoning gas. A mouthful of gas can not only be described as a taste sensation, it can cause nausea and vomiting if swallowed. Even worse, a small amount sucked into the lungs can cause serious damage to lung tissue. An inexpensive mechanical siphon, kept in the trunk for emergencies, will eliminate the hazard.

If your home away from home is a tent, be sure that all fires or heat sources of any kind are kept well away from it. Tent materials can be highly flammable, and even those labelled 'flame retardant' can burn if exposed to an open flame.

Campfires should be thoroughly extinguished when you're finished with them. Charcoal-burning barbecues should never be used inside a tent, not only because of the fire hazard but because charcoal briquets give off toxic fumes which can accumulate in a closed space, with lethal results.

It's a good idea for a tent to have more than one exit. If your's doesn't, keep a sharp knife handy. If fire should obstruct an exit, the knife can be used to cut an escape hole in the walls. A fire extinguisher should be an essential part of your camping equipment; it could be a life-saver in an emergency.

Once you've settled in to your campsite, make sure the children understand that wild plants and berries should not be picked or eaten unless you give permission. Both children and adults should avoid unsupervised swimming or unaccompanied evening rambles through the woods.

Kinsella School Reunion '79 Held

A tremendously successful weekend started Friday (July 20) when former Kinsella students started arriving at the Kinsella school grounds. Gleeful laughter and squeals of surprise could be heard as students recognized long last lost friends that they had not seen for many years. The years covered were 1948-59 so a wide range of people and ages were involved. Many changed students could be recognized by looking at their children. The statement - "He looks just like you used to" - was well used.

A large number of campers filled the school yard. Campers and local students feasted on hot dogs cooked over a roaring bonfire. Reminiscing continued until well after dark.

Saturday morning started with registration and students touring the school. Near 400 students, spouses and children registered. A few more registered later. Engraved souvenir spoons were given to all the students. There are a few left over and are available by calling Diane at 336-2250.

A hearty thank you to George Loades who entertained the children with games and treats in the afternoon.

The Kinsella Senior Citizens kept everyone munching and drinking all afternoon. Thank you for having the booth there.

A beautiful supper was enjoyed by all present. Thank you to the Quinte W.I. for preparing and serving the meal. The Er lino men spent the afternoon pit BBing our meat. It was simply delicious. Thank you to them and also to our meat carvers, Les Presser, Bruce and Yvonne Greenwood, Harian Fulton, Joe Makar and Jack Simmons. The tables were quickly cleaned up and everyone headed to the hall for a good old Kinsella stomp.

Ray Johnson brought back many memories as he recalled the various teachers who had taught at Kinsella over the 10 year period and who had lodged under floor citizens out of a bunch of renegade students, about 8 teachers attended. Ray continued with a humorous number of "remember whens".

Hjordis Armitage brought greetings on behalf of the County Council.

Joe Makar spoke on next year's Kinsella Home Coming.

The old cowboy, Bill Johnson, told some humorous stories.

Chair person, Dawn Hodgins introduced the members of the Kinsella School Reunion committee - Warren Hodgins, Doug Dobry, secretary Dianne Dobry, food expert Doreen Prosser and M.C. Ray Johnson. A standing ovation touched the hearts of many sentimental students.

At 9:00 the bar opened and the students let their hair down and danced up a "storm" to the Strumaicogs.

After the dance many students quickly helped the committee and had the hall

Irma District Wins Safety Award

John Genie (left), chief gas utility man, accepts Irma's 11-year award for no disabling injuries from Eric Elsner, Northwestern's safety supervisor.

Northwestern Utilities Limited has honoured its Irma district for completing 11 consecutive years of operation without disabling injuries.

Irma's safety record is the best among Northwestern's districts.

A plaque was presented at the district's monthly safety meeting in Viking by Safety Supervisor Eric Elsner. During the 11 year period, the district didn't experience any lost-time personal injuries.

Included in Irma district are 23 permanent employees located in Viking, Vermilion, Provost, Oyen, Grande Centre and Irma, and summer seasonal staff of 15 to 20.

Viking Mill Rate Decreases for 1979

At a special meeting of the Viking Town Council on July 11, the 1979 mill rate was set. For both residential and other property, the mill rate declined from the 1978 tax year.

The mill rate for residential property has been set at 64.56 mills while the rate for all other property has been set at 85 mills. This compares to 70.5 mills for residential and 89 mills for other property in 1978.

The decrease in the mill rate was made possible by the Provincial government's Debt Reduction Program which paid off a total of $613,000 of Viking's municipal debt. This led to a decrease of approximately 10 mills in the Town operational portion of the mill rate from 40.45 mills in 1978 to 30.13 mills this year, even though basic operational expenses for the Town have increased.

The portions of the mill rate which are requisitioned by external bodies also increased to keep the over all mill rate from decreasing a similar 10 mills. The Provincial School Foundation requisition rose, requiring an increase from 18.5 mills in 1978 to 20.42 mills this year. The Supplementary School Requisition from the County of Beaver rose approximately 18% which necessitated an increase from 19.5 mills to 22.73 mills.

The requisition by the Beaver Foundation for the operation of senior citizens' lodges increased approximately 72% due to the inclusion of the new Tofield Lodge. Requisitions for the Area Recreation Board, the new hospital, and the Alberta Planning Fund also rose. As well, the ambulance debt of $1,939 from 1978 was included in the 1979 budget. That part of the budget which does not cover the Provincial School Foundation requisition, the Supplementary School requisition or the municipal operational portion totals 11.72 mills for 1979, up from 9.9 mills in 1978.

The mill rate for 1979 can be broken down as follows:

Provincial School Foundation	20.42 mills
Supplementary School Requisition	22.73 mills
Beaver Foundat.	2.41 mills
Area recreation	4.57 mills
Hospital	3.70 mills
Ambulance (1978)	.54 mills
Alta. Plan. Fund	.50 mills
Municipal	30.13 mills
Total	85 mills

The mill rate of 64.56 mills for residential property means that there will be a reduction in taxes for the average homeowner of between $30 and $45. One mill is equal to approximately $2.30.

The business tax for 1979 will be 30 mills, the same as in 1978.

Viking Council Passes P.S.S. Bylaw

At a special meeting of the Viking Town Council held on July 17, By-law #323 which proposed that the Town of Viking enter into an agreement with the Minister of Social Services for the establishment and operation of Preventive Social Services in Viking was given third and final reading.

The agreement, which is between the Province and the Municipality of Viking, falls under the guidelines of the Preventive Social Services Act. The intent of such an agreement is to prevent the development of circumstances resulting in people becoming in need of help under the Province's Social Development Act.

The agreement contains several clauses which outline the responsibilities of both parties. These include the payment of grants by the Province to the agency operating the Programs in Viking, and the administration and operation of the Programs by either the Municipality or some social agency, with the ultimate control lying with the Minister of Social Services and Community Health.

As well, the Municipality agrees to submit to the Province details concerning the Programs when the Minister so desires.

The agreement must now

Mill Rate Set For Irma

At the July 3 meeting of the Village of Irma Council, a prepared statement of revenues and expenditures for 1979 was presented for Council's consideration.

The estimates as presented were reviewed in detail which resulted in the 1979 mill rate being established. The residential mill rate for 1979 has been set at 84 mills, the same rate as in 1978. The Commercial rate has been set at 110 mills, up from 106 mills in 1978.

The financial statement for the month ending June 30, 1979 was also presented. Net balance at the end of May was $2,551.59, with receipts for June totalling $16,394.71 and disbursements for June of $17,296.86 leaving a net balance at the end of June of $1,667.10. This statement was accepted by Council.

Zenith 50000

In response to last week's editorial, a reader phoned in and suggested that many people may be unsure as to how to reach their local R.C.M.P. detachment once they have called the office number and received no answer. In response to what most likely is a problem to some people in the area, we would like to explain how one can reach the R.C.M.P. at any time.

Generally, our local detachments do not have the manpower available to staff the phones on a regular basis. Most of the R.C.M.P. work is done out in the communities, not in the offices, and the funding has not been provided to allow them to employ an individual to answer the phone on a regular basis. However, we CAN reach them nearly any time we may want to talk with them.

The first step to take in attempting to contact your local detachment is to phone the number listed under 'POLICE' in your town's section of the Telephone Directory. If you receive no answer, hang up and dial the operator and ask for Zenith 50000 (that's fifty thousand). At this point, the operator "may" ask if it is an emergency. If it is an emergency situation, something in which time is of the essence, then tell her "yes". This will help to speed up contact with the R.C.M.P.

Zenith 50000 is the number of a phone located at Alberta Division Headquarters in Edmonton. This phone is manned by an R.C.M.P. officer or by a public servant trained in radio operation. At all times there is an R.C.M.P. officer in the office in Edmonton even though the officer may not answer the telephone.

When your call to Zenith 50000 is answered, you should give your name, the town or area from which you are calling, and then the reason for your call. You will hear a 'beeping' noise on the phone line which means that your conversation is being recorded for possible later reference. This is simply for their records. Do not worry about this recording procedure.

Once you have explained your reason for calling, the officer in Edmonton will probably try to get in touch with your local officer by two-way readio while you remain on the telephone. The officer in Edmonton may act as a go-between in a conversation between you and your local R.C.M.P. officer. Another possibility is that he/she will take down your phone number and get back to you as soon as possible. They will do everything possible to see that you are contacted within a short period by your local police officer.

Recently we have had reason to use Zenith 50000 on a number of occasions and we have been very pleased with the type of response which we received from our local R.C.M.P. officers. The use of Zenith 50000 does work. So remember, if you cannot reach the R.C.M.P. at their local number, ask the operator for Zenith 50000 and you will be taken care of, hopefully to your satisfaction.

No matter what the nature of the problem, our local R.C.M.P. are here to serve and help us. By using Zenith 50000, we are better able to help them to serve and help us.

Evening activities during the Kinsella School Reunion held July 20, 21, & 22 centred around a bonfire on Friday evening.

Irma Mill Rate

teash Manor regular monthly Board meeting and minutes from the Wainwright School Division Board were received and filed.

Correspondence dealing with various items was received and filed:
-from Municipal Affairs relating to the Municipal Assistance Grant,
-from Recreation, Parks and Wildlife;
-from the Town of Drayton Valley relating to its Annual Sports Day;
-from Alberta Housing and Public Works relating to the Community Services Program;
-from Alberta Cultural Facilities Development relating to eligible community programs;
-from Alberta Disaster Services;
-from the Wainwright Area Preventive Social Services Program relating to current projects;
-from Bartell Engineering setting out development grades and designs for the Eastview Subdivision;
-from Current Planning setting out requirements for the proposed subdivision of Lot 12, Plan 3618 E.T..

Correspondence was also received from Mr. Rick Lappierre advising that he has transferred his interest in the curling rink site to Bald Hill Holdings Ltd. Council had no objections to the transfer of interest.

A building permit application by Mr. Mel Mikkelsen, "Addition to Residence" was approved subject to the Alberta Uniform Building Standards Act.

Reports received from the Minburn Vermilion Health Unit indicated that the samples taken from the water system are satisfactory.

Correspondence was received from EPEC Consulting Western Ltd. advising Council that Alberta Transportation will consider further development of S.R. #881 through the Village in conjunction with the upgrading of the other streets within the Village.

Further correspondence from EPEC Western Ltd. advised Council that the final inspection has been made of the Sewage Treatment Facility and that the project is now fully completed. Progress payments and holdbacks should be released as set out. Council concurred with this release.

Correspondence was received from Cherwonick Surveys Ltd. setting out particulars for the proposed subdivision Lots 1-A, 2-A, and 3-A, Block 17, Plan 772 0889, for residential purposes. Council had no objections to the proposed subdivision.

Messrs. J.A. McKay and J.C. Barber, representing the Irma Cemetery Committee, were present to present the Committee's concerns, and recommendations, regarding the use of cement grave covers in the Cemetery. It was decided that members of the Committee and Council would meet at the Cemetery at an early date to review the matter.

Council declared Monday, August 6, 1979 to be a Civic Holiday within the Village Limits.

The Municipal Administrator, Don Creasy, advised Council that the Irma Curling Club requires a letter of insolvency from the Village of Irma in order to make application for a grant under the Capital Expenditures portion of the Major Facilities Grant Program, Recreation, Parks and Wildlife.

Council moved that they agree to redeem buildings and properties of the Irma Curling Club in the event the said club disbands or becomes insolvent.

Next, Council passed a motion authorizing that the Municipal Administrator to have weeds cut on Block G, Plan 1560 W.

Following the acceptance of Committee reports, and there being no further business before Council, the meeting was adjourned.

The Food Basket

Meat on the Coals

Take the sizzle out of summer meals and move outdoors to mix fresh air with the good taste of meat cooked over the coals.

Keep the menu simple, with emphasis on the meat. The food consultants at Agriculture Canada offer some meat hints.

Sirloin, wing, T-bone and rib steaks give best results for barbecuing. But if your budget is a little tight, there are other alternatives that are just as tasty and as nutritious.

Inside (top) round steak, for example, is quite satisfactory if cooked rare or medium. You can prepare beef burgers from regular ground beef and serve without any additions or try a creamy pickly or mushroom topping.

Less tender cuts - blade and cross rib steak - can be as flavorful as the more tender cuts from the rib section but they need tenderizing; sometimes marinating can help, usually with a combination of oil, seasonings, vinegar wine or lemon juice. The time required varies from 4 to 12 hours, depending on the cut and the type of meat. Use a glass or a china dish because an acid like vinegar can pit the metal.

Meat is refrigerated during marinating, but give it a few minutes to lose its chill before grilling.

P.S.S. Bylaw

be ratified by the Provincial government. When this agreement is ratified and funds are alotted, a P.S.S. committee will be established by Council and a P.S.S. Director will be hired. Council is hopeful that someone with the ability to assist in the supervision of recreational programs, as part of the responsibilities of handling the P.S.S. programs, will be available for employment.

Mae Pryor Celebrates 100th Year

Mae Pryor celebrated her 100th birthday at the Parkland Nursing Home on July 19th. Many friends and relatives gathered to recognize the Centennial of her life.

Mrs. Pryor is the mother of six children, the grandmother to 27, the great-grandmother of 37, and the great great-grandmother to three youngsters.

The significance of Mae Pryor's 100th birthday can be realized when we review some of the many events which have transpired during her lifetime.

At the time of her first birthday, the Canadian Pacific Railroad was just beginning construction, with its completion, linking Canada from coast to coast, during Mae Pryor's sixth year.

Mrs. Pryor was 12 years old when Canada's first Prime Minister, John A. MacDonald, died and she was 22 years in the year that Queen Victoria died. When World War I began in 1914, Mae Pryor was 35 years of age and when the Stock Market crashed in October of 1929 she was half way to her present age.

Mrs. Pryor celebrated her 60th birthday when World War II started in Europe, and she was 88 years young when Canada celebrated its 100th birthday in 1967.

Mrs. Pryor's 100th birthday comes just 19 days after Canada celebrated its 112th birthday. A long and full life has been enjoyed by this fine Lady during her 100 years, and we wish her many more of the same.

On July 19, 1979, Mrs. Mae Pryor celebrated her 100th birthday at the Vialta Lodge in Viking. Present to help celebrate this memorable occasion with mae were many friends and relatives.

Southern Prairies Need Rain

The chairman of the Federal Task Force on Drought, Vince Coffey, has just released details of a report on moisture conditions on the Prairies. The report was prepared by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration (PFRA), an agency of the Department of Regional Economic Expansion, using material provided by its own field staff and data contributed by various federal and provincial agencies.

Some record high temperatures were recorded in southern Saskatchewan and Manitoba during June, while rainfall ranged from below normal to much below normal in the Lethbridge - Pincher Creek districts of Alberta. In Saskatchewan, the Yorkton - Broadview areas received only half the normal precipitation from April to June and the Rockglen district is reported dry.

Above average moisture was reported in the Slave Lake - Whitecourt area of Alberta, the Saskatoon-Outlook area of Saskatchewan and the Winnipeg-Portage la Prairie-Morden districts of Manitoba.

In the drier areas of Alberta, fall-seeded crops are heading out and require additional rain to fill properly.

In the southernmost regions of Saskatchewan, stubble crops and late crops are showing signs of stress. A general rain is needed for the entire area south of Saskatoon. An average hay crop is expected in northern districts with below average yields elsewhere. Pastures in the south are generally in poor condition due to lack of moisture.

In Manitoba, crop conditions are good in the south and fair in the northwest and interlake regions. Most regions would benefit from rain, but good hay crops are being harvested and pastures are generally satisfactory except in the northwest.

Streamflows range from below normal in most parts of Alberta to generally above average in Manitoba. This should not interfere with the filling of reservoirs and irrigation should be unaffected. Hydroelectric power generation is expected to be normal in all three Prairie provinces, with adequate water for production and cooling purposes.

Farm water supplies in Alberta are good to excellent, due to a good spring runoff. Exceptions are in the southern portion of the Hanna district where, although water tables are near normal, recharge sources for groundwater storage do not exist in many locations. Some fall pumping will be required in this area to recharge dugouts for winter supplies.

Except for a large portion of the Rosetown and some parts of the North Battleford districts, average runoff was sufficient to recharge farm surface water storage in most of Saskatchewan. Pumping is being carried out to fill dugouts in the Rosetown area.

No surface water shortages are reported in Manitoba where supplies are at normal to above normal levels in most areas.

Water supplies for communities with less than 2,000 population are generally good in all three provinces with the exception of a few in the Weyburn, North Battleford and Rosetown districts of Saskatchewan.

Urban water supplies are also satisfactory, except for Lloydminster which has several shortages due to a rapidly expanding population.

White Farm Equipment Name New V.P.

Lyell A. Penner has been appointed Vice-President Marketing for White Farm Equipment, Canada effective immediately. The announcement was made by A. Zaleski, President of White Farm Equipment, Canada.

As Vice-President of Marketing, Mr. Penner will have direct responsibility for Sales Planning and Distribution, Market Research, Service, Parts Distribution, Advertising and Sales Promotion and Canadian Regional Sales operations.

Mr. Penner married a Viking girl (Barb Olsenberg) daughter of Ollie Olsenberg. In his 20 years with White Farm Equipment, Canada, he has held several progressively more responsible sales management positions, and for the past six years was Western Regional Manager located in Regina.

Brantford, Ontario is home for the White Farm Equipment Canadian Sales and Marketing operations, and harvesting equipment manufacturing and harvesting research centre. White Farm Equipment, Canada is a member of the White Farm Equipment Group, a unit of White Motor Corporation, Eastlake, Ohio.

The Group is a world-wide manufacturer and marketer of farm equipment including tractors, tillage tools, harvesting equipment and accessories. The Group has other manufacturing facilities in South Bend, Indiana and Charles City, Iowa. White Farm Equipment headquarters are in Oak Brook, Illinois.

Lyell A. Penner, son-in-law of Ollie Olsenberg of Viking has just been appointed Vice-President of marketing for White Farm Equipment, Canada.

Viking Area . . .
Interested in a profitable business opportunity?
Let's talk.

We're White Farm Equipment, one of North America's leading farm equipment manufacturers, and we're seriously considering opening a new dealership in this area.
Research has shown that there is a considerable market here for our product line. A market that, with the right people can be developed into a highly profitable operation.
What does White have to offer the potential dealer? The company manufactures and marketers a full range of tractors, tillage equipment, combines, swathers and lawn and garden equipment including some of the most advanced and innovative concepts in the industry.
Head office and combine research, development and manufacturing are located in Brantford, Ontario, with regional offices in Regina and Brantford.
To ensure prompt delivery of parts, we have a national network of distribution centres strategically major depots.
The company offers financial planning assistance, a generous floor plan and consumer financing through White Motor Credit.
Sales are backed up by extensive national advertising campaigns and promotions plus a generous shared cost local advertising program.
What type of individual are we looking for? An aggressive, sales-oriented person interested in building a profitable, viable business.
We would prefer someone with a background in farming or some farm-related service. However this is not essential.
Above all, we're looking for a team person with whom the farm and business communities can associate with confidence and trust.

United Church Moves To Sponsor Refugees

The people of Canada in their churches, synagogues and community organizations have surprised the Canadian Government by the number of refugees they are committing themselves to sponsor.

The United Church General Council Office reports that the church's appeal to local congregations (Jan. 31 and May 11) has brought responses and frustrations to congregations which have committed funds accomodation and help in securing employment for refugee families. "The system of processing refugees has not been adequate to meet the needs," said Dr. Clarke MacDonald of the Church's department of Church in Society in Toronto.

"One cause of the slowdown is the Canadian government's requirement that a congregation prove its financial ability to keep its commitment, which could run between $7,000 and $12,000 in a twelve month period," he said.

"To help break this log jam, the Sub-executive of the General Council of the United Church at a special meeting accepted legal and financial responsibility, or back up, for the United Church congregations which sponsor refugees. The United Church is now negotiating an agreement with the Canadian government which covers this guarantee, as one method of speeding up the acceptance and admission of refugees," he said. "Previous experience indicates that congregations honor their commitments to support refugees," he said.

Also to surmount government red tape, the United Church has joined with sister churches of the Canadian Council of Churches in setting up a national clearing house in Toronto to work with governments, the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees and sponsoring groups to facilitate the admission to Canada of refugees from around the world. On July 6th the United Church voted to contribute $20,000, its share of the operational costs of the centre for a year.

"We are working closely with our sister churches to establish joint Church-Government programs in relation to the 'boat people' and other refugees with special needs, physically or economically such as the handicapped," Dr. MacDonald said. "These latter persons may come from Nicaragua, Argentina, Chile and countries in Africa, as well as Southeast Asia," he said.

The United Church continues to press the Canadian government to develop policies which get at the root causes of the escalation of the number of refugees around the world. It began this pressure for new refugee policies in 1974.

The Church is also asking the Canadian government to increase sponsorship of refugees from areas in addition to Southeast Asia, and on the same basis as 'boat people' are sponsored.

The five national Divisions of the United Church have formed a co-ordinating unit to implement this action-wide refugee sponsorship program.

The United Church applauds the announcement by the Minister for External Affairs on July 5th that the government is increasing the number of field officers overseas in order to speed up the acceptance of refugees and their arrival in Canada.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Let thy gods arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble. Jer. 2:28. Who or what are your gods????

Have you ever noticed how people react to tragedy? Even the most non-religious try to get the attention of God, whom they have previously ignored. Read the newspaper accounts of a plane disaster, a flood, a tornado or a hurricane. There are always some who tell how they call upon the LORD for help. They only think of Him when circumstances get too extreme to handle.

We need to be very realistic about this. It would be nice to think that the Heavenly Father is just waiting for times of panic so that He can send all the emergency equipment of Heaven to the rescue. But the Bible indicates otherwise.

In a very real sense, His uses tragedy to expose the emptiness of humanistic values and temporal gods. Through Jeremiah, the Lord asked His people in trouble where their man-made deities were. He challenged them to get help in the hour of death from the idols they had worshipped throughout life. God is mocked when people call upon Him only in extreme situations.

It's the same with us in the 20th century. In an hour of distress we may hear the Lord saying, "Why do you cry for Me now?" Where are the objects of your affections now? Where are your bosom friends? Where are your major league stars, and your beautiful women? Why not seek help from the T.V., appeal to your paycheck, take comfort in your new furniture, or use your credit cards? Let these gods whom you served so faithfully now serve you.

This isn't a very consoling thought. But its the way God would reason with those who harden their hearts to the truth (the Lord Jesus Himself).

If we are repentant, He wants us to ask for forgiveness and help. But He does not want us to think we can willfully live in the flesh and still expect Him to help us from the consequences of our sins.

Though you may seem to prosper, forgetting God today, but tomorrow you may need Him, but know not how to pray.

Sow nothing but weeds, and you will reap a harvest of judgment.

Irma News and Views

Funeral service for Delbert (John) Haun was conducted by Rev. Bert Jackson from Hardisty, in Irma United Church at 11 a.m. on Saturday, July 21st. John was born February 16th, 1913 at Irma and passed away Wednesday July 18th at Edmonton aged 66 years. interment took place in Irma Cemetery.

On Wednesday evening July 18th Irma New Horizons annual picnic supper, which for the past several years was held at the home of Annie and Charlie Milne, on the lawn, was this year held in the Dropin Centre owing to the extreme heat, 47 members and friends signed the guest book. The delicious luncheon was served buffet style and was bountiful and varied, Ice cream and wafers were served for dessert. Kate McLean, our senior member asked the blessing. With the fan operating the building was pleasantly cool, after dishes were washed and put away, some members stayed on and enjoyed games, cards and scrabble. Much credit is due the lunch committee for the arrangements and the lovely meal and pleasant evening, thanks Ladies.

Allie Bacon got home on Friday evening on a weekend pass from the Royal Alex Hospital in Edmonton where she has been taking tests. Her nephew Billy Bacon and wife Gayle brought Allie down and returned to the city the same evening, taking Billie's mother Dorothy with them, to see a Dr. next week. Allie returned by bus on Sunday afternoon.

The heatwave which continued all last week was relieved on Saturday evening when clouds gathered in the west and brought a brief but violent thunder storm followed by a very welcome, refreshing shower.

Minnie and Jim Jackson drove to Daysland on Thursday July 19th to visit their long time friend Alma Harding of Sedgewick, who is hospitalized there.

Audrey and Ole Nissen have their niece and nephew Amy and John Jones from Fox Creek holidaying with them.

Norman Nissen visited his home over the weekend.

Tarry Froland was home for a short visit over the weekend.

Sylvia Strojek visit her Mom and Dad during the weekend.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Asquist on June 24, 1979, a boy Brian Lorne, 8 lbs. 14 oz. A brother for Jason.

The Village of Ryley celebrated it's 70th birthday on July 20, 21 and 22.

All former residents of Ryley were invited to come and enjoy meeting old friends.

Mrs. Ella Skiles and Mrs. Elma Tomlinson spent Saturday, July 21st there meeting relatives and friends.

Sports and concessions in full swing all day with barbecue in the evening. A very enjoyable occasion.

Open House was held in Ryley July 15th to honor Mrs. Martha Hillerud on her 90th birthday. Those attending from Irma were her sisters Ella Skiles and Elma Tomlinson and Alice Willerton, Hugh and Aletha and Linda Tomlinson.

Feedlot bloat can be reduced greatly by processing grain correctly

It is believed that high concentrated diets have often been blamed for causing bloat in feedlot cattle, but this is not necessarily true. All-concentrate diets have been fed free-choice to cattle for 8 to 10 months at Lethbridge and in some commercial feedlots with rare occurances of bloat. This very low incidence of bloat is attributed to tempering the grain with water to maintain coarse particle size rather than to the composition of the feed.

Grains must be processed to improve digestibility. For example, whole barley is 16% less digestible than rolled barley. Kernels need only to be cracked to expose them to rumen microorganisms.

Try to maintain a coarse particle size. A coarsely cracked feed containing some whole kernels is better than a fully cracked feed containing a high proportion of fine particles. Since cattle eat more coarse feed than fine feed, coarse feed produces higher weight gains and feed efficiencies than fine feed. Feeds containing more than 25% fine particles cause digestive disturbances and other metabolic disorders, including a tendency to bloat.

Try "tempering" grain by adding water as the grain is being augured. The amount of water added will depend on the moisture content of the grain. Very dry grain takes about 8% water which is as much as it can hold as it passes through the auger. Under warm conditions, allow the moistened grain to stand for a few hours before processing.

If tempering is impractical, operate the hammers and grinders at slower than normal speed to help keep the kernels from shattering into fine particles. Rolling or hammering grain into fine particles decreases the output of the mill, adds to the cost of processing and increases the incidence of bloat and other physiological disorders.

If the processed feed contains too many fine particles, add 2 to 5% fat or molasses to it to keep the particles from separating from the coarse particles. If cattle must eat feed containing too many fine particles, digestive upsets can be reduced by adding 4% salt to the feed. But such a high level of salt should only be used as a short-term measure as it reduces feed intake.

The performance of cattle on a high salt diet suffers because too much salt reduces feed intake.

Irma Agricultural Fair Day
August 4, 5, & 6

Fair time is drawing close, hope that you have your entry forms all sent in by now. Remeber it takes time to fill out the tags and mail them back so please do them as soon as possible.

There seems to be some concern over the new ruling regarding entry fee. The one dollar entry fee slows you to enter as many exhibits as you like at the school. The only time you would pay another dollar is if you entered either the horse or cattle classes. Also the fourth prize is paid out in Junior Classes only so hope some of you young people will enter some of your school handicrafts as well as baking. If you have any questions or still need a book please let me know.

Word has been received that the Caravan from the Glenbow Institute in Calgary will be here for Monday, August 6. These displays are very worthwhile and will be a great addition to our Sports Day. This travelling museum is currently on a tour in this area so we're very pleased they contacted us.

There will be a beer garden after all, beer is now available from the big retail outfits. Don't forget the Band Aiders are operating the concession. It costs a lot of money to repair and purchase instruments so do your part to help. If you can help and haven't been asked, feel free to contact Margarite Burr or Audrey Nissen. Help is also needed at the school so contact any of the committee members or myself.

See you at the Fair!

Fischer Captures Championship

On Sunday, July 22 about 25 golfers participated in the Men's Club Championship at the Irma Golf Course.

Butch Fischer won the Low Groww with an 18 hole score of 74, while Dick McRoberts and Keith Coffin were a close second and third. Ian Dunbar won the Low Net trophy.

We were pleased to see so many golfers under 18 and hope that they will continue to come out to club events. A pot-luck supper was enjoyed by all after the golf.

Pioneer Building Two New Concept Elevators

As part of its current eight and one half million dollar capital repair program for country elevator facilities, the Pioneer Grain Company Limited has announced the start of construction of its first concrete elevator at Foam Lake, Saskatchewan and a newly designed all-steel elevator at Kyle, Saskatchewan.

According to J.A. Tooth, Vice-President, Country Operations for the Pioneer, each of the facilities incorporates design innovations conceived in response to changing construction economics and tailored to the demands of particular local grain handling situations.

The new 34 bin Foam Lake elevator of slip-formed concrete construction will incorporate gravity flow for optimum grain handling with a minimum of horizontal conveying. This type of construction, plus a 70 foot, 60 tonne scale and the ability to receive and ship simultaneously at the rate of 10,000 bushels per hour, is expected to ensure dependable high-throughput operation in a plant that will operate with minimum maintenance. The facility's 185,000 bushel capacity will supplement an existing 150,000 bushel annex to bring the Pioneer's total Foam Lake capacity to 335,000 bushels.

The all-steel elevator at Kyle has been designed for maximum throughput of grains currently in demand. It will incorporate steel storage tanks, hoppered steel working bins, and a 130 foot steel workhouse employing the unique Panelliner fastening system designed and installed by Grain Tank Installations, Inc. The elevator will feature a modern, 20 foot wide driveway and adjoining office with enclosed scale.

The structure has been designed to permit later conversion to a 2nd driveway, utilizing the office basement for placement of a second pit. Together with existing facilities, this will bring the Pioneer's total capacity at Kyle to over a quarter of a million bushels.

The Pioneer Grain Company, Limited, established in 1913 as the wholly owned subsidiary of James Richardson and Sons Limited, operates 440 licensed elevators at 275 locations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan & Alberta.

In his comments, Mr. Tooth said that the Company would continue to build some wooden elevators in the future, particularly in areas where a large number of bins is required to accommodate greater crop diversity. However, he said that the constant cost escalation in labor intensive wood crib construction had encouraged the Pioneer to look at other construction methods.

It is expected that construction of the facilities at Kyle and Foam Lake will be completed in the fall.

The Homemaker

By Maureen Bauman, Dist. Home Economist

Drying is an ancient method of preserving foods. It depends upon removing 80 per cent or more of the water from the foods so that yeasts, molds and bacteria cannot grow in them.

What Can be Dried?

Fruits, vegetables, herbs and seeds are all easy to dry and make good products.

Little equipment is needed for drying. An oven or dehydrator serves as a drying compartment. You will also need trays on which to dry the food. Flat wicker baskets, wood slats or a stainless steel wire mesh work well.

After drying the food should be stored in a cool dry place, packed in airtight containers.

Apricots, apples, pears and bananas are a few fruits that dry well. They are good served as snacks, stewed or used in baking.

Dried vegetables can be combined to make a soup mix. During the winter months it means just throwing a handful of dried vegetables in a broth and in a few minutes a garden fresh vegetable soup.

At a workshop I attended recently on food preservation we made a snack called Fruit Leather. It is different and delicious so I thought I'd pass on the recipe. It is good made with any seedless fruit or combinations of fruit.

2 c. (500 ml.) cooked fruit
sugar to taste
water if required

Place fruit in blender and blend until smooth and about the consistency of fine applesauce. Sugar can be added to taste. Add water if needed to adjust consistency.

Line a jelly roll pan with plastic wrap, leaving some extra at each end. (Buttering a pan well works too). Pour fruit mixture into pan and spread evenly. Turn oven to lowest temp. possible (150 - 200) and put pan on highest rack, leaving oven door slightly open.

Dry for 5-6 hours until it feels slightly tacky, but not sticky. When done it will peel off the plastic wrap.

Cool, roll up and store in the fridge. To serve, snip or tear off pieces. Fruit will be chewy and very tasty!

For more complete instructions on drying foods contact my office and ask for the pamphlet on Drying, Fruit and Vegetables.

Notes From Agriculture Canada

Hog Outlook

Pork prices are expected to decline in the coming months due to sharply higher levels of hog production across North America.

Agriculture Canada economists predict hog marketings in Canada will be at least 12 per cent higher in the last half of 1979 that last year. Index 100 hogs at Toronto are expected to average about $55 to $60 per hundredweight during the next six months compared with an average of $70.80 in the same period in 1978.

Serving Farm Labor Needs

Canada Farm Labour Pools and Canada Employment Centres places more than 100,000 Canadian workers in agricultural employment last year.

Officials at Canada Employment and Immigration say even greater efforts will be made this year to encourage Canadians to take farm jobs.

If local supplies of workers become depleted the employment offices turn to recruitment in other areas, usually Newfoundland, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Quebec or northern Ontario. As in previous years, some workers from Mexico and the Caribbean will be allowed to enter Canada temporarily to supplement the supply of workers during the peak harvest periods.

New Fertiliser Regulations

Recent amendments to the regulations of the Fertilizers Act require that soil conditioners, plant stimulators, liming materials and similar products be registered with the federal agriculture department for sale.

The change, which came into effect on July 1, will mean that producers of these substances must back up with scientific proof any claims they make on product labels.

Summer Weed Surveys

Major weed surveys are underway in four provinces this summer.

British Columbia, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba and Saskatchewan will all have staff in the field this month to count weeds and assess weed control problems. The surveys are being co-ordinated by Dr. Gordon Thomas, head of the weed ecology section at Agriculture Canada's Regina Research Station.

Provincial staff use the results of the weed surveys to plan extension courses and zero in on weed control methods that should be emphasized in each area. Agriculture Canada's weed research group in Regina uses the weed counts to help set priorities among its research projects.

Land Reclamation Open House To Be Held Near Ryley

Calgary Power and Fording Coal will be discussing the progress of their Camrose-Ryley land reclamation project at an open house on July 26. The open house will be held from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Shaw Community Hall, about six miles south of Ryley.

Representatives from Fording Coal, Calgary Power and the consulting firm, McAllister Environmental Services, will be available to discuss the past, present and future activities at the test sites.

Since 1975, the two companies have made intensive studies at three test sites in the area. Current results give promise that agricultural land there can be successfully reclaimed after surface mining. Fording Coal Limited and Calgary Power Ltd. will continue the project to gain even more comprehensive information on which to base plans for land reclamation.

In case of bad weather on the 29th, the open house will be held on August 11th.

The 1978 findings, along with the project history, are reviewed in a handy, pocket-size pamphlet called Third Annual Report - Land Reclamation Research and Demonstration at Camrose-Ryley. The report is available on request from either Fording Coal or Calgary Power in Calgary.

1914 — 65 ANNUAL BRUCE STAMPEDE — 1979
Sunday, July 29
Parade - 10:00 a.m.
Rodeo - 1:00 p.m.
Saturday, July 28 Rodeo with Parade - 10:30 p.m.
Dance - Saturday night 9:00 Bruce Recreation Centre

65th Bruce Stampede on July 29th

The 1979 Bruce Stampede set for July 29 promises to live up to its reputation for great entertainment. Classified as the highest paid one-day rodeo in North America, it attracts the top cowboys from the rodeo circuit.

This year the action will begin on Saturday, July 28 at 4:30 p.m. when the Salisbury Gymkhana Club sponsors an open competition with trophy horse blankets for the winners. Last year's winner was Teddy Field from Sherwood Park.

Crown Amusements will be on the midway at 4:30 and they will be concession stands open at that time as well. Admission to the gymkhana is $1.00 per person and anyone interested in finding out more about it can contact Mr. Dave Laing at 688-2192.

The Bruce Stampede Association will once again host a banquet for the Stampede Queen candidates and their parents which will be held in the Recreation Centre on Saturday night at 7 p.m. Michele Blais, Rhonda Hassloop, Betty-Lou Laing and Jane Robertson are competing for the title of 1979 Bruce Stampede Queen. Tammy Miciak, the 1978 Queen, will also attend the banquet and be present at midnight to officially crown her successor.

The dance begins at 9 p.m. with western music by The Travellers. Three people will be a little richer after midnight when the draws for $500, $200 and $100 are made. The noisiest event of the evening will be the fireworks display out at the grounds at 10:30 p.m. However, with all the campers out at the grounds, there will likely be fireworks all night.

The parade goes at 11 a.m. on Sunday morning. Entries can be phoned to Harold Hinsett at 688-3931 (daytime) or 688-3892 (evenings). Rodeo events begin at 2 p.m. and include professional saddle, Brahma bull, calf roping, wild horse race, professional bareback, steer wrestling and pony chuckwagon races. There will also be two horse races, the pony race and the free-for-all.

At intermission there will be two tug-of-war competitions, a men's and a ladies'. Bruce men will be out there defending their championship but it will be a first for the ladies. Watch for Janet and her liberated ladies from Holden!

The annual horseshoe tournament begins at 5 p.m. and it's not known whether George Fryian and Peter Wilkinson will be defending their title, but nevertheless the competition promises to be a major attraction. Anyone interested in competing can enter that day by contacting Roy Teske who can always be found around the horseshoe pits.

People won't go hungry at the grounds. There will be the usual hot dogs, hamburgers, ice cream, French fries, you name it, but for those who enjoy more substantial fare there will be a beef barbecue beginning at 4 p.m.

This year more seating space has been provided in the bleachers in order that people may be more comfortable while viewing the events. Programs will be available at the gate and in the bleachers. This year's program is a tribute to Ernie Dorin, Bruce's own veteran rodeo competitor.

All in all it promises to be an action-packed, fun-filled two days. Come and share Bruce's true western hospitality on July 28 and 29!

Town of Viking Council Minutes

A regular meeting of Viking Town Council was held in Viking Council Chambers on the evening of July 4, 1979. All councillors were present for the meeting.

The net balance for the Town account as of May 31, 1979 was $70,062.65. Receipts for the month of June totalled $41,962.70 and disbursements were $54,962.37 giving a net balance of $57,663.98 on June 30, 1979.

F. Morwood read a letter to Council from Marie Rushton, Chairperson for the Viking Community Development Committee. Attached to it was a summary of their endeavours towards establishing a P.S.S. program for the Viking area. Supporting letters from the Viking Hospital Auxiliary, the C.D.C., Viking School, Mrs. Sybil Brower, the Viking General Hospital and the V.H.S. were attached.

By-law #323 was read before Council. It proposes that the Town of Viking enter into an agreement with the Minister of Social Services for the establishment and operation of Preventive Social Service Program. This by-law was given 1st and 2nd readings.

Two water analyses were presented to Council. A sample taken on June 11 at Town Office shows a plate count over 3,000 with the comments, standard plate count is high. A sample taken on June 26 at Town Office shows the plate count as 730 with the comments, standard plate count is a bit high.

R. Evans reported for the General Governament Committee that truck bids have been received from Taylors Garage and Willmark Motors. The committee has perused the bids and have ordered a 1980 half-ton and a 1980 one-ton on a lease purchase basis from Willmark Motors. Council concurred with this action by the Committee.

It was reported to Council that the Viking Co-op. Food Store is still burning all of their garbage in the incinerator out back in the alley. Mr. Morwood noted that he had written a letter to the Co-op informing them that they must stop burning in that incinerator until it is replaced. It was suggested that the Town Administration inform the Provincial Fire Commissioner of the situation but that the Town Fire Chief be conferred with first.

The following building permits were dealt with:
-Viking Hospital Board to construct a new hospital on Part of Block 35 Plan 7073 KS, estimated value of $4,500,000.
-Mr. Bill Sheets to construct a residence on Lot 23 Blk 40 Plan 5218HC.
-Mr. Norman J. Gossman to construct a porch on front of a home on Lot 32 Blk. 40 Plan 6266RS (this permit approved in Jan./79).
-Mrs. Doreen Barber to construct a garage on Lot 6 Blk. 46 Plan 7720614.
-Mr. J. Kerychuk to construct a garage on Lot 12 Blk. 45 Plan 7720614.

By-law #324 regarding the rezoning of Jads Trailer Court, Place Farm Equipment, Viking Cartage and the two new lots belonging to the Town of Viking was read before Council. This by-law was given 1st and 2nd readings.

A letter was received from Alta. Environment enclosing a groundwater study done by themselves for the Viking area. It states that in summary "groundwater is not a viable alternative for the Town of Viking". It also states that there are no areas within 24 kilometres of Viking where groundwater can be located either in surface or bedrock deposits.

Mrs. Caroline Nordstrom presented a brief to Town Council on Behalf of the Viking Playground Committee. (note: see The Weekly Review of July 11)

A 1979 Budget for the Viking Chamber of Commerce was presented to Council for approval. Estimated deficit equals $2621.97. Council noted that summer S.T.E.P. employees hired by the Chamber of Commerce should be hired at the same S.T.E.P. rates as other S.T.E.P. employees hired in Town. Council approved the Chamber's budget.

The proposed paving by-law # 325 was given 1st reading by Council.

F. Morwood reported that Alta. Water Resources has promised to bring out a dual flow 6" pump so that the Town can top up its reservoir with water from the catch basin.

A letter was read to Council from Alta. Environment stating that they have recommended to the Provincial Planning Branch that the Roddick's application for subdivision of E½ 35-17-13-W4 not be approved until a letter of commitment is received from the Town of Viking outlining a time schedule for proceeding with the expansion of the existing water supply and treatment facilities. Council decided to send a copy of the Cicon Engineering study on area water and to send a letter stating that Council is going ahead with the expansion in 1980.

A letter was read to Council from Mr. R. Kripps, the Hospital Administrator, enclosing a copy of his letter dated June 14, 1978 requesting that the Town of Viking pay the ambulance requisition. The Hospital Board of Trustees are requesting funding of $1,939.99. (note: this request concerns the 1977-78 ambulance deficit.

A letter was read to Council from A.G.T. stating that their installation crew has been working in the Central Office upgrading its standard resulting in a poor grade of service for approximately six weeks. They noted that most of the phone problems in the Viking area should be corrected by now.

A letter was read to Council from Alta. Inspection and Advisory Services stating that a mistake was made when the statements of Viking's status regarding the Debt Reduction Program were mailed on April 1, 1979. Viking's population figure has been corrected to 1227 and a new statement will be in the mail shortly.

A letter was read to Council from Alta. Treasury stating that the Province of Alberta is prepared to hold and invest whatever funds are available from the Debt Reduction Program. Mr. Morwood reported that the Province is not paying very good interest rates and that the Town would be better off to put the money into term deposits or some other form of guaranteed investment.

Council informed the Administrator that the budget meeting should be set for about Wednesday, July 11 and the mill rate will be set at that time.

Council noted that the boulevard is to be removed from the I.G.A. west to 51st Street and that the road is consequently to be widened. This includes only the south side of 52nd Ave. and the trees are to be moved from the existing boulevard. It was moved that the Town of Viking replace the sidewalk, curb and gutter on the south side of 52nd Ave. from the alley on the east side of the I.G.A. west to 51st Street.

A letter was read to Council from Century 21 (Mr. H. Rabby of Thor Agencies) stating that the property located at Lot 15 Blk. 14 Plan 1174W is now for sale on the open market. This property and house belongs to Mr. Dave Humphrey.

A letter was read to Council from Mr. Bjarne Pedersen of Alta. Housing Corp. stating that his department has received the Town's application for Senior Citizens Self-Contained Housing. The application is based on the results of the need and demand survey which is currently underway in Viking. Mayor Hafso will look into this and report back to Council.

The first year inspection has been completed by Alta. Roofing Contract Assoc. Ltd. on the roof of the new Town sewage lift station and the roof is in acceptable condition.

A letter from Alta. Disaster Services was read to Council enclosing a news release made by Dr. Hugh M. Horner concerning the return to earth of Skylab.

It was moved that the Town of Viking notify the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board that the Town of Viking is withdrawing from the Regional Recreation and Parks Board effective August 31, 1979.

Energy Costs Hold No Fear For Dave Larsen

The energy crises, energy conservation and rising energy costs that we see headlined almost daily in all our newspapers hold no fear for Dave Larsen, former pastor of Golden Valley Lutheran Church of Viking. The Larsens moved into an attractive new solar heated bi-level home in Bentley, Alta. in January.

Pastor Dave did most of the building himself with help from relatives and friends, thus keeping the cost down to within the reach of an average family income. His house is of the passive type designed by Concept Construction of Saskatoon. To make full use of the heat from the sun's rays depends on good insulation, so the Larsen home is heavily insulated from top to bottom. The ceiling is filled with 2 feet of insulation; the walls are a foot thick with 3 layers of insulation and vapor barriers of 6 mils as compared to two mils common to most homes. Stero foam sheets were placed over gravel in the lower level before the cement floor was poured and around the cement walls. Every seam in the house was caulked to prevent any escape of warm air. The front and back entrances are blocked with a double set of doors similar to the ones you see in public buildings. Fresh air is obtained through a fresh air heat exchanger system installed in the utility room on the lower level, where by the warm air going out warms the cold air coming in. The southern exposure of the house is almost entirely of glass with six by twelve windows on the main floor and four by twelve windows on the lower. A four foot overhang allows the sun to shine in during winter and prevents it from shining in during the heat of the summer when the sun is high.

This house at Bentley, Alberta owned by Rev. David Larsen, formerly of Viking, is dependent on passive solar energy methods for heat. Rev. Larsen constructed much of the house himself and has lived in it since this spring.

To radiate the heat from the sunrays David built what appears to be decorator brick planters inside the large windows on the main floor. For "back up heat" should it ever be necessary he installed a wood burning heatilator in a brick lined alcove in the family room on the lower floor. Long after the fire is out the bricks continue to radiate heat throughout. For futher back up, every room has its own thermostatically controlled electric heating baseboard system. There is no furnace. Still to be installed are Solar Shutters with a two fold purpose; to be closed on cold winter nights to hold in the heat and on hot summer days to keep the heat out.

We were there the day the Larsens moved. It was a chilly day in January, in spite of the constant coming and going the house was comfortably warm without the use of the backup heat. It wasn't even necessary during the prolonged severe cold spell in February. In fact a window had to be opened because the house was too warm.

"You didn't think it would work, did you?" said Pastor Dave triumphantly. We sort of had to admit that for awhile we wondered if he had lost his marbles.

In conclusion, it can be said that Dave is a pioneer in the concept of Soar Heating. The theory has been around for sometime, but he is one of few who dared to step out and put the theory to work in the cold winter climate of Alberta.

Kinsella Elks And O.O.R.P. Sports Day Success

Winners of "B" event at the Kinsella Sports Day Softball Tournament was the 1979 Kinsella Homecoming Team. Most of the members of the team either live at or had attended school at Kinsella.

We had a beautiful day for our Annual Sports Day, Sunday, July 22. And it all started with over 200 people having breakfast served by the Elks and Order of the Royal Purple in the Kinsella Memorial Hall. Thanks to everyone who helped in any way to make the whole day a success.

Battle River Selects won first money on the A side of the draw defeating Irma by a score of 11 to 8.

Familiar players on the "Selects" team were Bert Smith and Eddie Jackson.

On the B side, the "Kinsella Homecomers 1979" defeated the Wainwright Pickups by the score of 6 to 2 to win first money.

There were many familiar names on the line-up for the Homecomers' team.

From all reports it was an enjoyable day. "Kinsella Homecomers 1980" have entered a team for next year's Kinsella Sports Day.

Bruce Stampede Postponed

It has been 19 years since Bruce has had to postpone a Stampede but it happened again on Sunday! After consultation with the cowboys and Volds, who supply the stock, the 65th Rodeo was NOT cancelled but postponed for one week.

The parade took place as scheduled on Sunday morning at 11 a.m., a little damp and bedraggled but everyone managed to smile, that is everyone except the occupants of the Bruce Hardware float which ended up a muddy mess unable to reach the parade route. Lillian and Dan Teske, who will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on August 5, stole the show in their 1929 automobile with Lillian's mother, Mrs. Fredericks, in the rumble seat waving a rolling pin.

Despite the threatening sky, approximately 900 optimistic people paid their admission to the grounds and shortly after noon a few had picked themselves good seats in the bleachers. By 12:30 the rain arrived with a vengeance and at 2:30 the Stampede was postponed officially. Those who had paid admission were given tickets for the performance on August 5th.

A few hardy souls still strolled around the rain-soaked midway, some with garbage bags draped over their shoulders to keep out the rain, but by 7 p.m. the grounds were deserted.

Bruce hospitality continued in spite of the rain as Harold Hisetti and Mark Fredericks had tractors available for those needing a tug or two to get their vehicles out of the soggy sports grounds.

The attendance at the gymkhana held on Saturday night was rather small but the midway did a brisk business and the fireworks at 10:30 were enthusiastically received. Big winners in the gymkhana were Marie Anstrom of Salisbury, Glen Mattson of Mayerthorpe, Tim McKinney and Tracy Hanson, both from New Sarepta. They received saddle blankets for cashing up the most points during the evening.

The Stampede Stomp in the Recreation Centre was attended by more than 600 people who did justice to the western music provided by The Travellers. The 1978 Stampede Queen, Tammy Miciak of Sherwood Park, was on hand at midnight to crown the new queen, Rhonda Haeslop of Ohaton. Jane Robertson of Daysland was the runner-up.

Dave Schults of Tofield was the lucky winner of the $500, while Dwayne Elaschuk of Camrose will receive $200 and Mary Robertson of Daysland $100.

One of the highlights of the Bruce Stampede Parade was the entry by Dan and Lillian Teske of Holden. The couple, who will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on August 5th, were driving a 1929 automobile with Mr. Teske's mother-in-law, Mrs. Fredericks, in the "grumble seat" waving her rolling pin. Ministers Reaffirm Feed Grain Policy

The federal government today reaffirmed its commitment to the basic objectives of the government policy covering the marketing of domestic feed grains.

Don Mazankowski, Minister Responsible for the Canadian Wheat Board, and John Wise, Minister of Agriculture, stressed that "the right of feed grain users across Canada to have ready access to feed grain supplies on a national basis must be respected."

The federal Ministers were commenting on recent developments which have given rise to serious concern on the part of some domestic feed grain users and producers about the effects of quotas on open market feed grains.

Earlier this year, the Canadian Wheat Board, following a review of the quota system by a committee struck by the Producer Advisory Committee to the Canadian Wheat Board, announced changes for the next crop year including the establishment of quotas on the delivery of non-Board feed grains.

"In essence," the Ministers noted, "the concern of feed grain users is that the quota will unduly restrict the free flow of supplies which could cause regional disparity in both supplies and pricing. They reason that because supplies enter local western markets free of quota, prices in those markets may be below the level prevailing in the rest of Canada, while users in other parts of Canada are concerned that they will not have

"Boat People" Committee To Sponsor Family

On Sunday evening, July 29th a meeting was held at the Catholic Church to discover means by which the Viking community could support a refugee family. About fifty people attended.

Mr. Guy Milner from the Canadian Immigration Department was present and gave a presentation on the refugee situation in the world as a whole and on the Vietnamese refugees specifically.

Those present decided to sponsor a refugee family in Viking. The size and ages of such a group were not decided. A committee of five people, one representing each Church in town, was set up to handle the details and paperwork of bringing refugees here. The committee is composed of Earl Kindley, Tom Mattinson, Ernie Merta, Jim Veenstra and Bev Weidman.

Much help is needed in this matter. The people who come will have nothing. Anyone who wishes to give financial assistance may give donations or monthly support through their local congregation or by contacting one of the committee

There is also need for food, clothing, furniture, housing, employment and transportation. Anyone who can help with the above is encouraged to do so. The refugee family also needs friends and moral support and much of our time.

The Immigration Department, Federal government, Provincial government, and Manpower services will provide health care, language and job training where necessary.

The sponsoring group is responsible for all human needs and financial assistance, if necessary, for one year following immigration of the family, after which, if there is need, the Province will step in with social services.

A family could arrive within two months of the proceedings being initiated.

For more information on this subject, contact one of the committee members.

Are We Too Affluent?

Perhaps one sign of the affluence which our Alberta society is experiencing can best be realized when we look at some of the actions and attitudes of some of the members of the younger generation. One problem which has arisen in Viking lately is the difficulty in getting young persons to deliver the major daily paper in the area, the Edmonton Journal. At this time, a number of paper routes are going without delivery and a few young people are doubling or tripling their delivery load to help get the papers out.

The youth who are involved in this job to earn themselves some money are to be commended. It is not a truly rewarding job and it certainly doesn't pay "big" money, but it is a job. These young people show the desire and responsibility to go out and do some work for their money. Many others have it handed to them with little effort.

The "work ethic" is one which all parents should endeavour to instill in their children. Too often today it is much easier to 'dole out the cash' instead of working with our children to help them become better able to face life in the future. The ability to take on a task, do a good job of it, and enjoy the benefits of having done that job are all important virtues upon which our society is built.

Hopefully the lack of "paper boys" is not a sign that we have become too affluent and that we can simply give everything to our children without having them work for what they receive. Hopefully we are fortunate enough to have such a booming economy that there aren't enough young people available to fill all of the jobs which are provided for them.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir,

As everyone well knows, it is hard to appreciate a person or a thing until you have lost it. Viking is just such an area!

I was born and raised in Viking; for the last four years my husband, children and I lived in Germany; as part of the NATO commitment. Lunch was on our side and we travelled a good deal.

Take a minute to look at the sky today. Sunny Alberta has such vibrant colored skies; the ugly pollution hanging there bearing your view. The stars tonight, look at that milky way, our family saw it twice in four years and we never saw a beautiful harvest moon. The peace and quiet of this area is beyond compare. No aircraft drowning our your conversation; no constant din of traffic no matter where you go. The beautiful, beautiful solitude here, the years we were over there, it was next to impossible to get out of sight of people for more than a few minutes.

Yes, you certainly have a clean, wonderful environment here, and you should be proud of it.

Coming from a culture like this is a privilege not to be scorned. Viking has such a mixture of nationalities that can get along and enjoy life. I mean this sincerely; each word or custom we can learn from another people, can only help lead the way to world peace.

I am amazed at the fantastic come back Viking has made in the nine years, since that terrible wipeout storm.

The time has come now to give very serious thought to Canadian unity. God be with us if Quebec separates! They will be a weak country as is Italy and France and in no time at all the communists will have a towhold. From there on, our whole little world will go downhill. Unified we stand, divided we fall.

There is one other matter, Canadians are really apathetic about; and that is their national defence. Canada is seriously in need of more manpower and equipment. Did you know, that the U.S. has more men stationed overseas than we have in our whole Canadian forces. This is a crying shame on us; and it is high time we pulled up our socks and started carrying our own weight. No more of this depending on our southern neighbor to defend us. Think heavily on this matter, because it's serious.

Viking people, we have a terrific heritage, lets take care of it; and it will last.

Have you ever stopped to appreciate "Freedom of Religion"? Well, maybe you don't want to thank God as you should, but the fact remains that you can if you want to. Enjoy this privilege it may not be forever. In Russia, most of the churches were turned into museums; and it was heart breaking.

Last, but not least I want to mention the men that fought for all our freedoms. I visited many grave yards in Europe and there were Canadians in every one of them. Words can not express my heart, when I think of our veterans! Those that went down swinging and those that came back. God bless them all; they were great and they deserve our deepest pride and admiration.

The note I want to end on is how wonderful it is to be back (even if it is just a couple months) in this area. Friends and relatives are more precious than gold and no one is enjoying their's more than I am enjoying mine right now!

My family and I are now going to make our home in Chatham, New Brunswick which will be another brand new ball game. If you are ever in the Maritimes, please come and visit us.!

access to grains at these prices because of quota constraints.

"In addition, there are some grain producers in western Canada who view the establishment of quotas on open market feed grains as an undue restriction on their marketing alternatives. Others consider that unrestricted access to the marketing system can lead to congestion at various country points and place them at a disadvantage in respect to the limited capacity of the grain transportation and handling system."

In reviewing these matters, the Ministers noted that the world grain supply situation has tightened significantly since these issues were studied over the winter months.

Prices have strengthened and the outlook is for a continuation of a firm market.

These developments, and the desire to ensure that the basic objectives of the domestic marketing system are retained, have led to an examination of the impact of recent decisions to place quotas on open market feed grains and to suspend switching privileges in the country.

The Ministers stated that the Wheat Board's intention in establishing quotas was not to disrupt the domestic market but to ensure the efficient use of our limited grain handling and transportation capacity.

"We have reviewed the domestic feed grain policy and are convinced that there is need to maintain a competitive open market for feed grains in Canada," Mr. Wise said.

"I have asked my officials to monitor the situation closely to ensure the maintenance of a competitive open market operation," Mr. Wise said.

Finally, the Ministers recognized that the issues arising over congestion, delivery quotas, switching and access to supplies were directly linked to the limited capacity of the system.

NOTICE

Numerous Town of Viking residents have not been cutting the grass and bushes on their lots. Consequently these neglected areas have become an eyesore. They are fire hazards and are ruining the looks of our Town. Please clean up these areas or the Town will be forced to do it and send the owner the bill.

Viking Town Council Special Meeting

A Special Meeting of Viking Town Council was held on the evening of July 11, 1979 at 7:00 p.m.

The equalized assessment figures have been received for 1979 from the Alta. Equalization Assessment Board, one being for the amount of $2,987,530.00 for the Supplementary School Requisition and the other varied for the Provincial School Foundation Fund in the amount of $966,110.00

By-law No. 325 which proposed be given 1st, 2nd and 3rd reading. Carried.

By-law No. 325 specifies that the mil rate for the Town of Viking be split at 64.58 mil for residential and 85 for the balance. Last years mil rate was split at 70.5 and 89 respectively.

F. Morwood reported to Council that under Sections 208 and 207 of the Municipal Government Act, they are only entitled to grant one half a mill on the net total assessment of the municipality upon which taxes are levied in any one year. However these grants apply to hospitals, charitable organizations, sufferers of calamity, religious and educational organizations and to other organizations which the council considers entitled to such grants. There are few restrictions regarding grants made by council concerning recreation in the municipality.

F. Morwood reported that Alta. Transportation has five sanding trucks and separate sanding equipment for sale. They are all second hand and the 1970 truck with box and sanding equipment appears to be in the best condition.

It was moved that the town purchase the 1970 sanding truck with equipment right away. Carried.

F. Morwood reported to Council that he has spoken with Mr. Laurie Weatherill of the County of Beaver and has been informed that they will not be spraying Viking for mayweed in the future. The spray crews have been cut back because there are not enough operators and the County feels that since Vikings problems is perennial that we should get our own spray equipment and licensed operators. It was reported that Mr. Neil Hoyland has a spray operators license. Council suggest that the Administrator contact Mr. Bill Rozmahel and ask him if he'll spray the towns portion while he is doing his area and the Town will repay him for the material and service.

It was reported that two Councillors had met with the Hospital Board and Bergman Construction over problems with water at the new hospital site. It was noted that a lift station had been suggested to rectify the problem but council made it quite clear that the problem belongs to the hospital board and the construction outfit and not the Town of Viking.

F. Morwood reported that he has an inquiry into the possibility of locating a trailer (mobile home) on land immediately east of Jack Pullens trailer and this land belongs to the Town of Viking. The Administrator was instructed to look into the size of the land available and to check the size of the adjacent lots and report back to Council.

F. Morwood reported that he has a letter from Jack Cruikshank of Reed, Shaw, Stenhouse noting that the old senior citizens hall has an old chimney in very bad condition and that it should be repaired if it is to be used as part of the buildings heating system. Council noted that this is a problem or concern of the Senior Citizens Club and that the letter should be given to them.

It was moved that the meeting adjourn. Carried.

A Special Meeting of Viking Town Council was held on July 17, 1979 at 1:00 p.m.

It was noted that the P.S.S. Director will be chosen by Representative of Council as well as the P.S.S. Board and representatives of the government agency itself. The government would be assisting us only.

By-Law No. 323 which proposed that the Town of Viking enter into an agreement with the Minister of Social Services for the establishment and operation of Preventive Social Service Programs in Viking was given 3rd and final reading. Carried.

By-law No. 326 proposes that the Town of Viking provide grants to the Viking Municipal Library, Viking & District Chamber of Commerce, the Salvation Army and the Carena Board for 1979.

By-law No. 326 was given 1st, 2nd and 3rd reading. Carried.

Echo - Rodino News

Sorry folks about the late news but due to things beyond my control I was unable to get to the news office on time. So here it is for the last two weeks.

The Wes Bauer family and the Robert Greenwood family, along with Lottie Greenwood, have arrived home from their trip to Yellowknife, N.W.T., reporting having a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hollar visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McBeath in Czar, then travelled on to Carstairs to visit with Florence's brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Brent Hollar and family took in a weekend at Hinton and visited Donna's brother.

Mike and Esther Mackowoski drove on Sunday to Bonny Lake to visit Esther's father holidaying there.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Saville of Consule, Sask. spent a few days visiting the Holt residence. Also visiting there was Gladys Holt of Viking.

Harriet Faulkner had her Grandson, Cody Davies, of Wildwood keep her company for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greenwood and Lori travelled to Edson to see the new grandson. Congratulations to the Mizera family on the birth of another boy, a brother for Darwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams and family accompanied by Nerine Hunter travelled to Edmonton to take in a lacrosse game in which Perry Mannington of Calgary was taking part.

Paul Willson and his two sons from Calgary spent an evening visiting the Williams home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hollar took a few days holiday and toured southern Alberta. On returning they noted how dry it was there.

Sharon Bauer had her cousin, Paula Rowland, of Minburn down for a few days stay and then returned home with her to Minburn for a short stay.

After attending the Kinsella School Reunion, Yvonne Greenwood left early Sunday morning for Saskatoon, Sask, where she took in a four day convention for the Elks and O.O.R.P.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Holt took in a wedding at Ponoka, then motored on to Valleyview to visit Josephine's brother, Charlie Saville.

Mike and Esther Mackowoski took in the ball tournament at Two Hills and also visited with Esther's cousin.

Lori Greenwood spent some time visiting at the home of Rose and Garth Ferguson of Gibbons. While there, Lori got to go to Klondike Days in Edmonton. The Fergusons returned Lori Sunday night and had a short visit at the Robert Greene wood home.

A new truck and camper has been seen at the Everett Greenwood home and they are making good use of it by taking a trip to B.C.

Weekend guests at the Mackowoski residence were Dave Atkinson and liene of Fort Sask., Ray and Eilleen Lewis of Irma, Roy and Rose Van Sickle of Looma, Cliff and Evelyn Evenson and family of Cooking Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lewis of Irma, and Bruce and Eldora Patterson of Looma.

Kinsella News

Mrs. Annie Overbo from Burnaby, B.C. spent last week visiting with friends and relatives in the district.

John and Eilleen Callard and Eilleen's mother from Gabriola, B.C. visited at the home of his cousins, Allan and Helga Barker.

We are happy to see Mrs. Kennett and Clarence Kjorlien both home from the hospital.

Transportation Services
for the Town Of Viking, Alberta

Modified transportation services will be introduced to the Town of Viking shortly, on a trial and experimental basis.

The Service is for Senior Citizens, the disabled and the handicapped.

The Provincial Government has made a grant to the Town of Viking to assist in the operation of this service.

The tenative plan is to begin operations on a twice weekly basis, Tuesdays and Saturdays, on August 4, 1979. The passenger panel - van will have a route through the west end and the east end of the town. Pick up of passengers will begin at 2:00 P.M. and deliver them downtown. The return of passengers from downtown will begin at 4:00 P.M.

Arrangements have been made with Mrs. Elsie Simmonson, to supply and drive the van. She will make a nominal charge for her services.

As this is not a public Transit, not everyone is eligible to use the service.

Also as this is on a trial basis, changes as needed and recommended, by the public will be made. This refers to stops, route, days of service and times.

Buying Hay Supplies

When buying hay by the bale, be conscious of the weight. For example, $2.00 per bale for either 60, 60 or 80 lb. bales is $100, $67 and $50 per ton respectively.

Generally, top grade hays are better buys than low quality hays due to increased acceptability and nutritive value. For example, good quality Alfalfa at $80 per ton is a better buy than average Timothy at $70 per ton.

Consider the following check list to evaluate quality:

a) Type of Forage - for example, order of quality best to worst: Alfalfa, Bromegrass, Timothy, Crested Wheat Grass, Oat Hay, Prairie Hay, Slough Hay, Straw.

b) Leaf-Stem Ratio - Although leaves are very nutritious, most stems are low in quality. Also, as hay matures, stems become more abundant and result in low quality hay.

c) Moisture Content - new hay that feels moist or warm when you push your hand into the center of a bale is too wet and should be avoided due to risk of mold or spoilage.

d) Mold, Must or Dust - hay that shows any sign of mold or must when shaken, observed or smelt should not be considered.

e) Color - color gives some indication of how mature hay is and how quickly and well it was processed without weathering. The greener the better.

f) Weeds - weeds are often of poor palatability and contain a low level of nutrition.

The Alberta Grain Commission's Feed and Forage Exchange has many thousands of tons of hay in various parts of the province listed for sale.

Since much of this hay is still standing in the field or is in bale stacks, anybody who is going to require additional hay this winter should contact the exchange immediately. Otherwise much of the hay is likely to deteriorate from overmaturity and weathering.

Following is list of the Feed and Forage Exchange telephone numbers:

TOPS . . . Take Off Pounds Sensibly

A new chapter of TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) weight-control organization has been formed in Viking. The chapter meets each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at board room of the Viking Hospital.

Further information about TOPS and the new chapter may be obtained by calling Sheila Ritchie at 336-3229.

TOPS is an international nonprofit weight-control organization headquartered in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Founded in 1948, it is the first of the major weight-control clubs. TOPS has more than 345,000 members in more than 12,400 chapters throughout the world. In 1976 the documented weight loss of these chapters was 1,211 tons. Its program is based on a combination of group dynamics, competition, recognition and obesity research. TOPS is medically oriented and requires members to get their weight goals from their personal physicians and to use physician-approved diets.

Holden Creamery To Disappear

This will be your last look at the Holden Creamery (NADP) as it is slowly being torn down.

The Creamery was in operation in Holden for many years and was a very prosperous business for the Village and farmers. About two years ago it ceased operation due to many farmers quitting the dairy business on their farms.

At one time the Creamery was owned by the Burns Company. It was bought in November of 1944 by the NADP, a company which has been in business for over 50 years.

The last manager of the Holden NADP Creamery is still working for this company but drives to Vegreville. Mr. Cecil Hooper has over 36 years of service.

The Village was greatly saddened when there was talk that the Creamery would close. The Mayor, the Chamber of Commerce, farmers and many other organizations held a meeting several years ago trying to persuade the NADP to keep the Creamery in operation.

Reported by A. Shavchook

Over the years the Holden Creamery has become a landmark in the Village. Now it is being slowly torn down.

New Business Owners In Holden

The Holden Village and District welcome Ed and Donilda Kresanoski & their two sons ages 6 and 8 years, who purchased Tiedemann's business.

Donilda, experienced in the dress shop business in Wetaskiwin, will operate this dress shop as Helen Tiedemann did for many years.

Ed will later open an office of Farm Accounting and some Income Tax in the adjoining room where Hank Tiedemann operated the barber shop.

The hours of the dress shop will be from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Mrs. Kresanoski buys most of her dresses from Montreal, and also does some purchasing from in Edmonton.

Mrs. Kresanoski said they bought this business because of their interest in living in a small town. Her husband enjoys many sports, ball games, hockey, curling and is presently still playing in ball club at Wetaskiwan.

Donilda enjoys bowling and is interested in many crafts.

The village is delighted to have a young couple buy a business here and wish them happiness and success!

Profile: Bud McNeill

Bud McNeill is the seemingly tough character who owns and operates the Irma Restaurant in Irma.

He was born and raised in Prince Edward Island, 60 years ago. At the age of 16, his family moved to the Stony Plain and Pickerdrill districts. Bud spent the next four years travelling from one part of the country to another.

In August of 1939, Bud joined the army and spent a lot of the next six years as cook. This training also helped him after he left the army while he worked in various eastern and western catering companies. In 1951, he enlisted once again in the army. 1968 saw the end of a total of 23 years of army service & Bud once again working for a catering company on the west coast. He also worked for a time with a construction company in B.C.

Irma became home for Bud and Kitty and their children in 1975. Bud married Kathleen (better known as Kitty) in 1942 and they have three sons and one daughter.

In 1977, with Kitty's support, Bud opened Irma Restaurant, a business that has just recently expanded into larger premises.

Bud is a member of the Royal Canadian Legion and semi-active in the Irma and District Chamber of Commerce. In his younger years he was active in hockey and other minor sports and maintains that interest by sponsoring the Irma Bantam B team through the restaurant.

Beaver Regional Recreation Board Meeting Held

Following are portions of the unapproved minutes of the Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Board meeting held on July 25th.

Mr. Marvin Tomashavsky called the meeting to order at 7:55 p.m.

Moved by Mrs. Hjordis Armitage to deal with the special items, B & and C, along with the guest speakers. If there is time at the end, then look at the Agenda. Carried.

Letter from the Town of Viking informing the Board that they were withdrawing from Regional Recreation as of August 31st was presented to the Board members. They looked over it and discussed the implications of Viking leaving the Regional Recreation System.

Mr. Kent Hendricks, Regional Recreation Consultant, and Mr. Doug McLennan, Consultant for Recreation and Parks, mentioned how the grants would work once these two towns (Tofield and Viking) were no longer in the System.

Discussion was held over the three mil program and how each authority felt the 90 and the 10% figures were arrived at.

Moved by Mr. Vern Hafso that each Governing Authority be asked in a letter for clarification on the three mil program, the 90 and the 10%, and how they relate to the limits that were given to the totals. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Walter Kropielnicki that Mr. Marvin Tomashavsky and Mrs. Hjordis ArmiStage work together to clarify the Budget (the 3 mil program, M.C./R. and Project Co-operation), and have the information by the August meeting. Kent Hendricks will sit in on the meetings to assist. Carried.

Moved by Mrs. Hjordis Armitage that Mr. Larry Andrukow (or Ryley representative), Mr. Vern Hafso, and Mr. Marvin Giebelhaus work together on the clarification of the agreement as it is now, and possible alternatives. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Vern Hafso to send a letter to Tofield and Viking asking reasons why they opted out, so the Board can put something together to meet the needs of the people still in the system, as well as those who have opted out. To inform them what this Board is doing in respect to the budget and agreement. What are their ideas for alternate ways of handling recreation? Carried.

Moved by Mr. Marvin Tomashavsky to adjourn the meeting at 11:30 p.m.

The August Regular Recreation Meeting will be held on September 12th at 8:00 p.m. instead of the regular meeting.

Viking Pioneer Passes

Mrs. Johanna Bertha Mildred Thelma Ryan (Hafso) born February 27, 1923 in Viking, Alberta passed away in Edmonton, Alberta at the Royal Alexandra Hospital Friday, July 13, 1979.

Millie, as she was called by her friends, grew up in the Maple Lodge district near Viking. She moved to Calgary at the age of sixteen, lived there for some time and moved back to Viking where she married Frank Ryan in 1959

Mrs. Ryan leaves to mourn her husband Frank and son Larry of Viking, Mrs. George Loades (Annie) of Calgary, Mrs. Gordon Smith (Nellie) of Kelowna B.C., one stepson Ronald Ryan of Edmonton, four grandchildren, and one brother Norman Hafso of Viking.

She was predeceased by her parents Nels and Gunhild Hafso of Viking.

Funeral services were at the Golden Valley Lutheran Church, Viking, Alberta on Wednesday July 18th 1979 at 2:00 p.m. Pastor Tim Johnson officiated, Interment in The Golden Valley Cemetery. The Pallbearers were John Penner, Henry Hafso, Spike Hafso, Toby Nomeland, Torlief Hafso, and Eric Rattray. Mrs. Ila Sorenson was the organist and Stan Sorenson the soloist.

May She Rest In Peace.

Flower tributes were from The family; Frank and Larry Ryan, George and Annie Loades, Gordon and Nellie Smith, Ronald and Charlotte Ryan, Norman & Dot Hafso, Daryal and Frances Hafso, John and Heather Bird, and Mark Hafso.

Flower tributes from friends were: Mr. and Mrs. Toby Nomeland, Curly and Clara Loades, John and Dorthy Penner, Jim and Marie Speers, Bill and Derthy Baye, Mrs. Ruby McNally, Ken and Sharon Pobuda, Blair Quinton, Ross and Gert Haeberle, Howiet and Lucy Round, Dan and Jenny Ryan, Mimmie Speers, Art Roberts, Tom and Marry Ryan, John and Caroline Zaraki, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Rattray, Greg and Sharon Loades, Mac and Elaine Loades.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Bu.. if we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, AND THE BLOOD OF JESUS CHRIST HIS SON CLEANSETH US FROM ALL SIN, 1 John 1:7. For if the blood of bulls and of goats ...sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh: How much more shall the blood of Christ, Who through the eternal Spirit offered Himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? Heb. 9: 13,14.

Blood has been used in many religions throughout .he world since time began originating when God shed the blood of animal sacrifice to cleanse and clothe Adam and Eve. Animal blood at that time was used as a type of Christ's blood that would be shed at the cross for the sin of the world. ...And without the shedding of blood (there) is no remission. So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many. See Heb. 9: 22-28.

It's Satan's business to get people to imitate or come as close to the real thing as possible without actually doing the real. He knows that the blood of Christ is the real and only blood that can cleanse us from sin (1 John 1: 9) but he being more powerful than we, he deludes so many and influences them.

For instance my niece who was once a devout Mormon said that the Mormons are taught "if they cut themselves so that the blood flows out, their own blood cleanses them from sin". It's a lie of Satan. She has confessed her sin to Christ and He has forgiven her and cleansed her with His blood and she is now a "New creature in Christ". 2 Cor. 5: 17.

Also because the Bible stresses the blood of Christ, they tell their followers they are better to just read the Book of Mormon. How will they see the TRUE LIGHT if they turn from the Bible, God's only Book?

Neither is there Salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved. Acts 4: 12. Jesus said "I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive Me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. John 5: 43.

Friends, study and believe the Bible and by God's grace He will reveal the truths of it to you.

Former Holden Resident Passes

Sena Marie Fjellstrom of Holden passed away on July 27 at the Tofield Municipal Hospital at the age of 82 years.

Mrs. Fjellstrom leaves to mourn her passing four sons, Clarence, Alfred, Gordon and Lorne; one daughter, Harriet Giebelhaus; 11 grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; two brothers in Edmonton and two sisters in Oregon.

Mrs. Fjellstrom was predeceased by her husband, Oscar, in 1966, and by two daughters, one son, one sister and one brother.

Funeral services were held on Monday, July 30 at the Holden Lutheran Church with Reverend Gary Barr officiating. Interment took place in Holden Cemetery.

Treasury Branches grew up with Alberta agriculture. Just like you.

Agriculture in Alberta has become highly complex and commercial. Generally it still remains a family business.

Treasury Branches has kept pace with the growth. But we haven't lost the family touch.

That's why your Treasury Branch manager is a good source of financial planning.

Ask him about our Agri-Plan, a loan service designed for farm and ranch needs - new tractor, improvements, breeding stock.

He can also help you invest your money in one of Treasury Branches' high interest earning programs.

There's bound to be a Treasury Branch conveniently near you, with over 200 branches, sub branches and agencies throughout Alberta.

In memory of My Dear Husband Martin Slywka - who passed away on August 11, 1978
I've lost my soul companion
A life linked with my own,
And day by day I miss you more,
dear.
As I walk through life alone.
So many times I needed you,
So many tears I cried,
If love could have saved you,
You never would have died.
It broke my heart to lose you,
But you did not go alone,
For part of me went with you,
The day God called you Home.
Always remembered and sadly missed by his wife Mary, daughter Ann, granddaughters Lindy, Lori and son-in-law Micheal. 25p

Lynn Jensen . . . All-Around Cowboy At Bruce Stampede

At the annual Bruce Stampede held on Sunday, August 5, Lynn Jensen, the 1978 "all-around cowboy" award winner, once again captured the trophy donated by the Viking Treasury Branch.

Ninety-four of Canada's top cowboys competed for the $7,482.30 offered in prizes before an estimated audience of 4,000.

During the morning the weather was unsettled but by 2:30 Stampede Association members relaxed as the bleachers filled up and the rain apparently went elsewhere.

Donny Smith of Viking was one of the competitors in the bull riding at the 1979 Bruce Stampede.

Ernie Dorin of Bruce picked up top money in the Wild Horse Race while Bob Gottfriedson of Calgary marked an 86 on a horse named Yellow Mountain to take home the prize money in the Saddle Bronc riding. In the same event local cowboy Francis Bourque split fourth with Wilf Hyland from Salmon Arm, B.C. The Bareback event was won by Gene Miller of Busby with a score of 81. An Olds cowboy, Jim Freeman topped the Bull Riding and the Steer Wrestling champ was Lee Phillips who hails from Carseland, B.C. His time was 5.2 seconds. Kent Butterfield tied his calf in 10.0 seconds to beat the other 27 contestants in the Calf Roping. Announcer for the rodeo events was Jack Daines.

The pony race was won by Lynn Sawers while Bonnie Stensrud and Johnson a tough battle in the finals. The C Event was taken by Gordon Meadahl and Ed Kabush. Last year's champions Wilkinson and Fryingpan went down to defeat against Stensrud in the A Event.

Following is a complete list of winners in the rodeo events:

Viking Group To Aid Vietnamese

At a meeting Friday, August 3, the name of Viking Refugee Aid Comittee was chosen for the committee planning to sponsor a Vietnamese family in Viking. Officers are chairman - Tom Mattinson, secretary - Earl Kindley, and treasurer Ernie Merta.

The main item of business at the meeting was the filling out of the sponsorship form. The form has been sent in.

Reports on progress regarding employment and housing were given. The committee has received one offer of a job for a woman, but is still seeking a job for a man. Anyone who can assist the committee is asked to contact one of the above. Housing is also a problem. Anyone knowing of, or able to rent housing to a refugee family is asked to contact the committee.

It was decided to receive only pledges of financial support for the present. Pledges can be given to the committee or the treasurers of the local churches. The committee will contact those with pledges when the sponsorship application has been approved. Individuals can then fulfill their pledges either by giving money to the Viking Refugee Aid Committee treasurer, Ernie Merta, who will receipt the money, or, in order to receive receipts for income tax purposes, by giving a marked envelope to the church treasurer of their choice, who will hand the monies over to the committee.

Those wishing to donate later, without pledging, are most welcome to do so.

The size of the family to be sponsored was also discussed at this meeting, with the majority in favour of a family of four to five members.

Blood Donors Needed!

The Canadian Red Cross Society will hold a blood donors clinic in the Catholic Church basement on August 22 from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Contrary to reports received last year, to the effect that the clinic would be discountinued in Viking because of the time factor involved in the new component processing of whole blood, it was decided to hold it at least for one more year.

It bears repeating -- whole blood through a new process, is now broken down into four components to benefit four people instead of the usual one as formerly. For instance, a Hemophiliac can have a tooth pulled -- but only if there is enough Factor VIII, the clotting factor. Factor VIII is a component of blood plasma and this comes from blood donated at Red Cross donors clinics across Canada.

It is imperative that donors attend between the specified hours because the blood collected must be rushed to Edmonton within a six hour deadline for processing.

Last year, of the 92 units of blood collected here, 43 were driven to the Edmonton Center for immediate component production. The remainder was used as whole blood -- however the demand for this is very small now.

Won't you join us at the Blood Donor's Clinic on August 22nd and bring a friend? The life you save may be your own and three others!

Weekend At Irma Attended By Many

Irma had a busy weekend which began on Saturday evening with a beer garden and dance in the arena. This opening event was well attended. A capacity crowd filled the dance floor, with folks from near and far enjoying themselves.

On Sunday there were ball games all day, even the occasional shower didn't intefere with the action. However, the weather was not that unpleasant and inspite of all the other semi-local happenings, a good crowd was on hand.

Ball games got underway again about 9 a.m. on Monday with the Irma Lancers meeting a team from Edmonton. The Irma team brought the visitors to defeat, a meet following the final game which was played between the two Irma teams. The Tigers defeated the Lancers in the closing game.

A total of twelve mens and eight ladies teams were entered in the ball tournaments and provided good entertainment for all in attendance.

In addition to ball games the ladies in charge of the Exhibits were kept busy on Sunday. From 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. they accepted exhibits and placed them for judging which took place in the afternoon.

Many people enjoyed an early view of the exhibits. The exhibit area was also open for viewing on Monday from 2 until 5 p.m. Although there were not as many entries as last year, there were still quite a number and all of high quality. The vegetables were not quite up to those shown last year, due to the late cold spring.

One of the entrys in the antique auto class of the Irma parade was Ross McFarland's 1934 Ree. The car was purchased new by Ross's father and has been in the family ever since.

The Tug-Of-War staged during intermission proved most entertaining. Vermilion and Viking pulled first with Viking emerging victorious. Then the Ryley team was easily defeated by the Cowboys. The Cowboys and Viking met next but Viking proved no match for the bronc busters. Last year's champs from Bruce put up a good struggle but the Cowboys took home the trophy. This year, for the first time, there was also a ladies' competition. The Bawl ladies were no match for the powerful Bruce gals which means the trophy remains at home.

In the Horseshoe Tournament Cecil Stensrud and Ray Johnson of Ryley were the big winners. They took home the Art Erickson memorial trophy and the Stampede Association plaque in the A Event. Winners of the B Event were John Stokowski and Elmer Thibodeau of Holden who gave Stensrud and Johnson a tough battle in the finals. The C Event was taken by Gordon Meadahl and Ed Kabush. Last year's champions Wilkinson and Fryingpan went down to defeat against Stensrud in the A Event.

Help Can Bear Fruit!

During the past week, the R.C.M.P. managed to gain some concrete evidence in their investigations of the numerous break-ins which have occurred in Viking lately. This evidence has led them to laying a number of charges against several juveniles in the community.

The interesting aspect of this is that they received a break when someone contacted them about some activities which didn't seem too extraordinary, but which led them to the suspects involved in these acts. The information provided by this local resident is not concrete evidence for the case, but it did lead the police to further evidence which has allowed them to at least lay charges in a number of cases.

Now it will be up to the case presented and the courts to determine the guilt or innocence of the suspects. As juveniles, if found guilty, they will most likely be released on probation for a specified period. This is Alberta law. But the parents of these young offenders must take some positive action towards deterring acts of this nature by their off-spring. The damage done in the curling rink is deplorable. Perhaps the courts could require restitution, hopefully from the pockets of the parents.

The actions of the responsible resident which aided the police in this matter are commendable. We can all learn a lesson from such actions.

Head Office To Remain In Ottawa

Agriculture Minister John Wise today announced that the head office of the Farm Credit Corporation (FCC) will remain in Ottawa.

The previous government had announced plans to move the FCC headquarters to Camrose, Alta., by 1981.

"Following a cost-benefit study, we concluded that the move would be too costly and would not result in improved service to the FCC's farmer clients," Mr. Wise said.

"The Farm Credit Corporation is already one of the most decentralized federal agencies. It has 108 field offices across Canada where local credit advisors work directly with farmers.

"The government is committed to cutting out unnecessary spending. The proposed move of FCC headquarters would have no benefits for Canadian taxpayers and would cost over $2 million.

The Farm Credit Corporation employs about 675 people - 140 of them in the head office. The agency has been in operation since 1929 and last year lent more than $500 million to Canadian farmers.

Agreement Signed For Prince Rupert Terminal

The government of Canada, represented by the Ministers of Transport and Agriculture, and the Grain Consortium today signed a memorandum of understanding which will provide for construction of a new grain terminal at Prince Rupert and transfer of the existing elevator to the Consortium. The agreement includes provision for an additional 5000 grain hopper cars by the Canadian government with at least 2500 within 2 years.

A site evaluation team will examine and report on potential sites on Ridley Island and Kaien Island. The Minister of Transport will decide on one of these sites before December 31, 1979. The agreement provides for a 20-year lease of site to the Consortium by the National Harbours Board, with renewal privileges. Canada's cost for the site preparation and infrastructure will not be recovered through rentals of the property.

A terminal of at least 8 million bushels storage capacity is provided for with construction to begin within 24 months of transfer of the existing elevator. The existing elevator, valued at $10 million, will accrue to the Consortium for one dollar, with provision for expenditure by the Consortium of at least $2.5 million for renovation and upgrading.

The contract is dependent on funding by one or more provinces, satisfactory to the Consortium and funding by the government of Canada. Both parties agree to seek such funds immediately.

Canada is to provide the rail embankment, all utility services and proper road access to the new terminal site. Canada and the Consortium will share equally the cost of site preparation and the support structure between the elevator and the marine dock.

Talent Auditions Open To Canadians

Amateur and professional Canadian performing artists, 18 years of age and over, are invited to apply for an audition in the 1979 "du Maurier Search for Stars". The nationwide competition is open to both popular and classical performers in the fields of music, dance, theatre, and variety entertainment.

Live auditions will take place this fall in nine Canadian cities from coast-to-coast, at the conclusion of which 18 semi-finalists will be selected and awarded $2,000 du Maurier Council bursaries. Each of the 18 will also be featured in one of three hour-long CBC Network Television Specials to be aired during the Spring of 1980. Six winners will be chosen from among the semi-finalists, to receive further bursaries of $5,000 each, and an additional appearance on the fourth "Search for Stars" prime-time TV special.

Interested performing artists must apply for an audition by not later than September 15th, 1979.

Application forms can be obtained by writing to:-

Palliser Happy With Switching

The recently announced reinstatement of switching of domestic feed grains from country to country elevator is a move welcomed by Palliser Wheat Growers and certainly by the producers in Western Canada. Garry Nolan, chairman of Palliser's Marketing Committee added that he hoped the reinstatement of switching was the first step in the removal of quotas on non-board feed grains.

"Farmers in the west are faced with serious transportation difficulties, a shortfall of 2 million tonnes in exports from last year and very low quotas. Any move which will get grain moving and put a little cash into farmers' pockets is encouraging," commented Nolan.

However, the $3.00 per tonne switching fee which the Canadian Wheat Board is charging is unnecessary and excessive. "What this fee really amounts to is a double administration charge on non-Board feed grain. The money will of course come out of the farmer's pocket, no one else's," Nolan said.

Nolan went on to comment that this switching fee burts the farmer in two ways. One, it reduces the competitiveness of non-Board feed grain with Board grain and second, farmers who need the cash and therefore wish to trade on the non-Board market at slightly lower levels than the Board market will have that margin increased even more.

"It appears that the Canadian Wheat Board is attempting to make the non-Board market unattractive. If the CWB would just eliminate this charge and allow the non-Board market to operate freely, producers could obtain a reasonable return for their product and at the same time be competitive enough to expand the domestic feed market in Western Canada," concluded Mr. Nolan.

$2.3 Million For Special Program

The Government of Alberta has approved up to $2.3 million for a special program to assist in the settlement of Indo-Chinese refugees in this province during the next two years. This special program is in support of the federal government's decision to increase the number of Indo-Chinese refugees relocating in various parts of Canada.

"The program will supplement those services already in existence and is designed to aid the famil'es in becoming integrated into communities as quickly as possible," says Jim Horsman, minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower. "Funding will be increased to private immigrant settlement agencies and organizations. It is anticipated that full and part-time English as a Second Language programs will have to be doubled. Privately sponsored refugees will be given special consideration in the health services area. As well, a comprehensive information system and consultative service is being developed."

The estimated cost of the program for the current fiscal year is $1,028,880. An additional $1,351,870 will be needed for 1980/81. Final costs cannot be determined until the actual number of refugees coming to Alberta is known.

A special brochure will be prepared for prospective sponsors of refugees. It will outline specific provincial programs and services, federal services and sponsors' responsibilities.

To meet the large volume of requests for information from the public regarding the Indo-Chinese refugee program, a special telephone line will be opened. The toll free Zenith number, to be announced later, will be staffed from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., seven days per week.

A special reception centre will be set up at the Griesbach Barracks staging area, in conjunction with the federal operation, to welcome incoming refugees and provide information as well as general counselling services.

Consultative support staff will assist groups of people wishing to provide settlement services to refugees coming to their communities. They will be involved in organization, program development, access to services and assessment of grant requests.

Vegetable Gardening

There are many tips and hints floating around as to how to improve the quality and quantity of ones garden vegetables. And this week, we would like to pass on a few of these tips that may aid in improving your vegetable garden.

1. When growing cabbages often a major problem is cracking of the heads just before harvesting. Cracking of the heads is caused by the cabbage obtaining too much water when the head is near to market size. To prevent or reduce cracking of the cabbage heads, give the heads a twist, once they are quite well developed, to break off the small, fibrous roots, close to the surface. This was the water supply to the cabbage will be reduced and prevent the heads from cracking.
2. In order to obtain white cauliflower heads, tie all the other leaves together at the top as soon as the heads begin to develop.
3. When growing corn there are two main things to remember:

a) When the corn is at silking time, or the period of pollination just before the development of the cobs, it is important that the corn has abundant moisture at this time. This will result in larger and higher quality cobs.

b) When harvesting the corn cobs be sure to cool them off to approximately 40 degree F in order to ensure that the corn will remain sweet in flavor. The best procedure would be to harvest the corn in the early morning while it is still cool and then to refridgerate the corn cobs.

4. The use of mulches between the rows in a vegetable garden serves several important functions. For example they are an aid in: a) keeping the weeds down between the rows. This will reduce the amount of labor required to keep the garden weed-free. b) Reducing variations in soil temperature and this allows for better growth of many sensitive vegetables. c) Reducing the amount of moisture lost from the soil by evaporation. This aids in keeping the soil from dying out which allows for more infrequent watering of the garden. d) Preventing the soil surface from crusting.

There are two types of mulches - organic and inorganic. Organic mulches tend to be cheaper and work just as well as an inorganic mulch. Organic mulches include peat moss, leaves, grass clippings, straw and compost heap material.

When they decompose they add valuable humus to the soil. Black plastic sheeting is an example of an inorganic mulch.

Mulching involves spreading the organic or inorganic material around the base of the plants. The depth of mulch depends upon the type of material used. Grass clippings, for example, may be an inch or more thick, while black plastic sheeting may be 4 to 6 mils thick.

Black plastic stretched over the soil between rows of plants hastens plant maturity and holds in the soil moisture, but it should be removed at the end of the growing season.

If you have any questions on this or any other topic, please contact the District Agriculturist's office at Ryley, phone 663-3555, for further information. We would be more than glad to help you.

Transportation Services
for the Town Of Viking, Alberta

Modified transportation services have been introduced to the Town of Viking on a trial and experimental basis as of August 4, 1979.

The Service is for Senior Citizens, the disabled and the handicapped.

The Provincial Government has made a grant to the Town of Viking to assist in the operation of this service.

The tentative plan is to operate on a twice weekly basis, on Tuesdays and Saturdays. The passenger panel - van will have a route through the west end and the east end of the town. Pick up of passengers will begin at 2:00 P.M. and deliver them downtown. The return of passengers from downtown will begin at 4:00 P.M.

Arrangements have been made with Mrs. Elsie Simmonson, to supply and drive the van. She will make a nominal charge for her services.

As this is not a public Transit, not everyone is eligible to use the service.

Also as this is on a trial basis. Changes as needed and recommended, by the public will be made. This refers to stops, route, days of service and times.

Profile: Ernie Dorin

Cowboy Of The Year 1976

This was the 65th stampede to be held in Bruce and it is likely that veteran rodeo competitor Ernie Dorin who celebrated his 56th birthday on July 25 has been present at 56 of them.

One of 12 children, Ernie was born and raised on a farm just west of Bruce, a portion of which he still farms. His father kept a great many horses; thus he was initiated to riding at a tender age. He was probably a mischievous toddler at his first stampede in 1924 but in 1936 at the age of fifteen, he launched his rodeo career by winning the bareback bronc riding championship at Vegreville.

Naturally Ernie has participated in the Bruce stampede each year. In 1952 he delighted hometown fans by placing in four events. He captured top honors in the saddle bronc riding, split 3rd and 4th in the bareback riding and picked up 2nds in both wild cow milking and steer decorating. In his 41 years of competition he has won in every event except the chuckwagon racing. When he isn't competing he can be found opening the chute gates, untying calves or judging the various events.

In the past ten years Ernie has been the Canadian wild horse racing champion nine times; furthermore he also established a new earnings record in that event in 1976. Four times, in 1946, 1956, 1961 and 1979, he was Central Circuit steer wrestling champion and in 1969 also captured first spot in the Saskatchewan Circuit steer wrestling.

Ernie joined the C.P.A. (now known as C.R.C.A.) in 1946. His greatest moment came in 1976 when he was named Cowboy of the Year at the annual C.R.C.A. awards banquet in Edmonton. He was the recipient of the C.N. Woodward award, sculptured by Corne Martens of Coaldale plus a $1,000 cheque. This award goes annually to the cowboy judged best in ability, sportsmanship, appearance and personality.

Unusual experiences are common on the rodeo circuit. Ernie recalls being invited to a rodeo in White court in 1941 which was organized by novices. He won $42 in the bronc riding even though he bucked off - the rationale being that he was the only cowboy who used spurs.

Another time he was pushed into an out-house behind the chutes by a run-away horse. Luckily he escaped without injury but he took a lot of ribbing from fellow cowboys.

Ernie, who still participates in wild cow milking, wild horse racing and steer wrestling, is best known for his eternal cigarette and his "old faithful" truck which always seems to get him to the rodeo on time. When he's at home he is often observed riding horseback with his granddaughter Lynette.

Congratulations Ernie Dorin on a great career!

The Homemaker

By Maureen Bauman, Dist. Home Economist

When planning to remodel or renovate your home be sure to include a thorough investigation of the contractor you have chosen.

Edmonton City Police estimate they get 100 complaints every year about fraudulent contractors. Actual figures would be much higher, but very few of those ripped-off report the crime. Police are unable to act on many cases because people sign incomplete contracts. No criminal action can be taken if an incomplete contract is signed.

How do you identify a con artist?

First, he may come to your door offering to renovate for a low price. He often has a contract right there for you to sign. Pre-payment in part of full is often a part of their scheme.

Here are a few things to check out before signing on the dotted line. It is the consumers responsibility to make sure he is dealing with an honest contractor.

- get at least four estimates for the job.
- check the quality of work of each company and investigate their guarantee.
- check out the firm with the Better Business Bureau or the Provincial Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs.
- ask to see samples of their work and take time to talk to other customers.

Once hiring the contractor you will need some type of contract. Make sure the contract is clear and specific. It should include total cost (not cost plus expenses), a description of materials required, complete description of job and method and amounts of each payment.

If sub-contractors are involved, make it clear in the contract that he is still responsible for the end product.

Finally, never sign a contract until a lawyer has seen it. It's well worth the extra money.

MICROWAVE CANNING

Canning in a microwave oven is not recommended, because temperatures are not high enough to kill all potentially harmful bacteria. This oven can be used to speed up some parts of the canning process though. For example, when canning fruit, use the microwave oven to prepare the sugar syrup.

Viking Hockey Players Attend Summer Camps

Several young hockey enthusiasts from Viking and area spent last week at the Sylvan Lake Summer Hockey School. Under the instruction of Brian Sutter and his assistants, each boy worked at the improvement of hockey skills and techniques.

The daily sessions included physical education, supervised activities such as swimming and football and two seperate on ice instruction periods. The on ice drills were designed to build speed, strength, balance and accuracy in handling the puck while travelling down the ice and when passing the puck to other players. Also an important part of the ice time practices were a series of power skating drills.

Attending from Viking were Dean and Darin Aston, Kenny Zemanek, Doug Taylor, Darren Josephison and Shaun, Cory and Jason Clouston. Hockey games were played on Saturday, following the completion of the week's instruction.

The boys returned home on Saturday afternoon with sweaters, autographs, photographs and an abundance of enthusiasm for the up coming season.

The Ross Perkins Hockey School held in the Vermilion arena was also attended by a group of boys from Viking.

Those participating included Richard and Patrick Voltaer, Darren Winzura, Bradley Majeski, Eugene Miskew and Corey Sierma cheeky.

The Kamphuis family travelled west for holidays where Robert attended a session at the Penticton Summer Hockey School.

Kinsella News

A recent announcement by transportation minister Henry Kroeger advised that the deck on the CPR overpass on Highway 14, two km west of Kinsella, will be restricted to one-lane traffic. Traffic lights have been installed at the site to minimize delays and traffic congestion until the scheduled completion date of September 15, 1979. The deck of the overpass requires resurfacing due to the action of road salts.

The Minburn Vermilion Health Unit #12 advises that the Well Baby and Adult Immunization Clinics scheduled for August 15, 1979 has been cancelled for the month of August.

Amendments to Alberta Property Tax Reduction Act 1979

At the recent Legislative session, the Alberta Property Tax Reduction Act was amended and now contains several new benefits. The highlights of these amendments, which are effective in 1979, are as follows:

- A person whose principal residence is taxed and who also owns farmland, will qualify for tax reduction benefits on both the farmland and the home.
- A senior citizen who owns and occupies a mobile home, and who rents space on which the mobile home is parked, may be eligible for additional benefits.
- Senior citizens who rent their accomodation are entitled to an annual renters' assistance grant of $500.00.

For further information on any of these amendments please contact your local municipal office, or the Department of Municipal Affairs, Room #410, 9925 - 107 Street, Edmonton, Phone 427-4873.

Severe Crop Loss Due To Canada Thistle

Western farmers are facing a tough battle when they take on Canada thistle in their fields. But in the end, farmers find the effort is worth the trouble.....in dollars and cents.

Canada thistles resistance to common herbicides, its hardiness and competitive ability under adverse growing conditions all make this weed one of the toughest to control. Changing farm practices have also helped make Canada thistle control more difficult, says Aaron Mitchell, Product Development Representative and weed control specialist for Monsanto.

"Canada thistle infestations are becoming more of a problem because fewer farmers are summerfallowing where the perennial weeds are traditionally controlled. The farm trend toward continuous cropping allows perennial weeds to establish," says Mr. Mitchell. The popularity of rapeseed has lead to more acres infested with Canada thistle because there is no good way to control the weed in that crop "and not too many people are interested in keeping their land out of production a year to control weeds".

Canada thistle is a costly weed because it cuts heavily into a farmer's yields. Research in Western Canada has shown that Canada thistle is one of the most competitive of all perennial weeds. In wheat, 20 Canada thistle shoots per square yard can slash yields by 60 per cent. Yields losses can reach 75 to 80 per cent when barley is infested with 70 weed shoots per square yard.

The Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta provincial departments of agriculture estimate that 22 million acres of cultivated land on the prairies is infested with Canada thistle.

The weed's fast-spreading root system makes it tough to control. Under favourable conditions, a quarter inch long root can produce a new shoot. These seedling roots can reach four feet the first year and 16 feet the second year. Such vigorous root growth robs the soil of nutrients and soil water necessary for good crop growth, says Mr. Mitchell. The heavy crop losses from Canada thistle infestations make weed control profitable for prairie growers.

The best way to control Canada thistle is in summerfallow, with either intensive tillage or herbicides. The principle of cultural control is to starve the roots by continuously cutting off the top growth. Tillage is very time and energy consuming, says Mr. Mitchell. The Manitoba Department of Agriculture has estimated that intensive summerfallow will use as much fuel as the average farm operation uses annually. But the deep root system means that tillage has little effect in eradicating Canada thistle and is in fact a 'hit and miss' approach to control. At least two years of intensive tillage are required to eradicate the weed by starving the roots.

Canada thistle is best controlled in summerfallow with a herbicide such as Roundup by Monsanto. This herbicide has provided effective control and has helped increase crop yields, because it translocates through an actively growing plant to kill all the roots.

The herbicide should be applied to Canada thistle in the bud to bloom stage for best results. But it may also be applied in late summer or in the fall after harvest to the Canada thistle regrowth. It may be applied before planting corn, wheat, oats or barley or be used to spot treat in labelled crops for weed control.

LIGHTEN THE LOAD on Alberta's energy future.

Reduce your company's overhead now and help keep electrical costs in line tomorrow.

Energy Management matters for you and for Alberta.

Alberta's electrical utilities have completed a computer study. It shows that a combination of load and energy management by industry, businesses, farms and homes – can trim future power generation costs.

By controlling demand and energy use, you can reduce the additional generating facilities that will be needed. Because the cost of adding these facilities is continually escalating, this control can help keep future power cost increases to manageable levels.

Of more immediate interest to your business is that energy and load management can reduce your operating overhead. Depending on your particular needs, energy-saving goals can be achieved in numerous ways. Check the lighting levels. Reducing the levels in halls and non-work areas may seem like a small step, but one company reported a kilowatt-hour saving of 15%.

Energy management is easier than you may think. Find out for yourself. Send for your Energy Management Action Kit.

Conserve. It's worth the energy!

Irma News and Views

Hannah Holcroft from Edmonton is visiting with her daughter Ester and son-in-law, Gordon Heaton and boys in Wainwright. She spent an evening with Minnie and Jim Jackson who drove her to Sedgewick to see her former neighbors, Alma Harding and Madge Jenvey who she had not seen for over 40 years.

Bill Case from Winnipeg Beach has been visiting in the neighborhood, in the company of Marg and Bert Armitage. He visited Minnie and Jim Jackson on Friday evening.

Francis Withall, the owner of Ad Art Signs Studio in Edmonton made a sign for the Irma New Horizons Club which he delivered and helped install on Saturday. Assisting in the placing of the bright new sign were Ron Dempsey, Ludwig Satre and Jim Jackson. Satre and Jackson also applied some paint which had a brightening effect on the building.

Congratulations to Dolly Hearn of Hardisty, formerly of Strawberry Plains, who celebrated her 84th birthday on Monday, August 5th.

Mrs. Bill Moffat (nee Colleen Archibald) is visiting with her mother, sisters, brothers and other relatives and friends in the district. While here she had the good luck of winning the wool-filled quilt raffled by the Arts and Crafts Club.

It is a matter of great satisfaction to see the camping ground south of the highway being used to the extent to which it was over the weekend. It was also grand to see the children enjoying the gadgets provided for them. Many of them will no doubt use these facilities again.

Stanley Bacon, his wife Lynn and their two boys, after spending a few days with his mother in Irma, left for a weeks holiday in the mountains. They plan to return to Irma for a visit on their way back to their home at Nipawin, Saskatchewan.

Jack Peterson from Creston, B.C. visited with his sister Grace Archibald and other relatives and friends during the week. He left for his home on Sunday.

Born to Margaret and Doug Cuttler, a baby girl, born in the Wainwright Hospital. Jennifer Lynn, weighed 6 pounds, 8 ounces and arrived on July 9th, 1978. A baby sister for Kirk.

Pat Spooner from Edmonton is visiting at the Long Ranch.

Bev and Albert Jackson from Edmonton are visiting with Albert's parents and others in the district.

Marilyn, Arthur Jackson, Barb and Lorraine drove to Sundre on Friday evening and visited with the Bartholow families, returning on Monday evening.

Ralph Mark wins first place in the 2 year old class at the "Irma Days" horse show.

Grains And Oilseeds Review

With all the excitement of recent weeks about Russian crop prospects and the large exports likely to go to the Soviet Union, there has been a tendancy to forget the Chinese. China of course helped North American grain prices by making large purchases last year.

Chinese officials said recently that good winter wheat harvests had been reported from most producing areas. They say that output in the major producing provinces of Jiangsu, Henan, Shaanxi and Shandong is higher than that of last year although no actual figures were given.

Even with a relatively good harvest it seems likely that China will remain a significant importer of grain in the future. The USDA estimates that their imports in the 1979-80 year which began July 1 will be somewhere in the 10.5 to 16 mil. tonne range. Imports during 1978-79 are estimated at 11.9 mil. tonnes.

The Australian Bureau of Agricultural Economics made a first forecast of 13.5 mil. tonnes for the 1979-80 wheat crop down from the 18.4 mil. tonnes harvest in 1978-79. Area planted is estimated to be a record 11 mil hectares (27.2 mil. acres) compared to the 10.1 mil. acres sown last year.

FEED GRAINS:

The USDA released a new forecast of world coarse grain production this week. They expect 1979-80 output to equal 701.9 mil. tonnes for a sharp reduction from last year's 741 mil. tonnes. U.S. production of coarse grains is expected to fall to 262.7 mil. tonnes from the 1978 level of 218 mil. tonnes. Canada is expected to grow 18.7 mil. tonnes compared to our 1978 output of 20.2 mil. tonnes. Other significant production reversals are expected in Australia, Argentina, Western Europe and of course the U.S.S.R. which is expected to drop from 105 mil. tonnes last year to 85 mil. this year.

Consumption is expected to remain basically unchanged from last year at 728.4 mil. tonnes. World stocks at the end of 1979-80 however, will decline to 69.5 mil. tonnes compared with last year's 96 mil. according to the USDA.

The U.S. corn crop continues to make progress. Most major corn growing states report the crop as being in good condition. Kansas however is rated as below average as is Indiana, Illinois is reported to be in good shape although the crop is a little late.

OILSEEDS:

Market moving news was scarce this week. Russia bought 16,000 tons of U.S. soybean meal for prompt shipment from the Gulf of Mexico. It is reported to have been purchased to replace Brazilian meal which had been rejected by the Soviets. There are also rumors that they may have bought another cargo for shipment from the Atlantic coast. Exporters report that this is the first time in memory that the Soviets have purchased U.S. soymeal. Although they are known to have purchased 43.3 mil. bus. of U.S. soybeans for 1978-79 shipment.

We would not be at all surprized to see large Soviet purchases of oilseeds in coming months.

This week Brazil is reported to have purchased 92,000 tonnes of Canadian rapeseed for shipment through Thunder Bay this fall and early winter.

Palliser Pleased With Recommendations

Producers should be pleased with the progressive recommendations presented in the recently released Booz Allen and Hamilton Grain Transportation and Handling in Western Canada Report.

"We are delighted that many of the Booz Allen recommendations for improving grain movement are in line with those suggested by Palliser in the past", commented Clarence Taylor, chairman of Palliser's Transportation Committee.

Some of the key recommendations are: increased inland cleaning, immediate resolution of the Crow Rate issue, expansion of Prince Rupert, provision for protein identification, introduction of variable rates at primary elevators and continued rationalization of the grain handling and transportation system.

"Mazankowski's Grain Movement Task Force now has the information in front of them. Farmers in western Canada are now ready for some decisive action", Taylor concluded.

Echo - Rodino News

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hollar and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pusher and family of Edmonton visited relations in the neighborhood.

Lake Thomas was the scene of a family gathering for Wes and Christina Bauer and family. In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Miakew, Mr. and Mrs. Erroyl Beckett and family of Wetaskiwin, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Rowland and family of Minburn and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marten of Calgary.

Doreen Prosser spent the week attending a booth at the Vegreville and Vermilion fairs.

Donna Hollar visited her sister Gloria Zarski in the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton. Gloria is recovering from a recent back operation. Everyone here wishes her a speedy and easy recovery.

Dropping in for a visit at the Mackowski residence this week were: Mr. and Mrs. George Forester, Willy and Verna Seigal, and Laurie and Pat Siebe all of Loomis.

Barry and Debbie Stewart and son of Edmonton dropped in for a visit at the Tom Greenwood residence. Also calling in on Tom and Maxine were Glenn and Trudy McAllister and their daughter Tanya of Lloydminster.

Clarence Hunter and Kathy Heggie of Edmonton were weekend guests at the Williams home.

It is traditional for former residents to "come home" for the annual stampede. This year the postponement of the event may have made it impossible for some, however, I spotted several enjoying the rodeo and visiting, with friends.

Those home included Shirley, Don, Gordon and Brian McFadyen from Rimbey, Dot and Don Stambaugh, Helen, John and Marcia Kuiba, Ethel and Walter Dorin, and Fernie Sagert, all of Edmonton, Reuben Minchau and Kathy and Reg Minchau from Millet, Lillian and Bill Dorin of Westlock, and Evelyn Nolan and grandsons from Tofield.

Lillian Siegel is home again after spending several days as a patient in the Daysland Hospital.

On Tuesday, July 30 some friends of Geniene Laing gathered at the Recreation Centre for a baby shower. Baby Tara Grace slept peacefully throughout the evening and was duly admired by all those present, including the two grandmothers. Geniene received many useful gifts. Paulette Erickson acted as hostess during the evening.

Holden and district welcome Jim and Judy Paul and their young son Lance (9 month old). Jim Paul is the new U.G.G. grain buyers here, replacing Lud Banack. The Paul family come from Wainwright.

Shop in Holden! For Sale: a Water Tower.

Many people here feel that residents of Holden and District do not always patronize the Village but shop at larger centers. Now we have one of the most unusual items for sale - a water tower. Perhaps some out-of-towners will shop here. They may have a difficult time finding a water tower elsewhere.

Prospective buyers may wonder what they could use the water tower for if they bought it. Perhaps it can make an excellent watch tower for the R.C.M.P., a look-out tower for Forest Rangers, hunters or farmers. One could remodel the interior for a personal residence, remove the roof of the tower for a swimming pool. It could also be a tourist attraction (climb to the top), or a storage bin for water or grain.

Lastly, one could dismantle the tower and use it for lumber.

Prospective buyers have a lot of time to view this "For Sale" item as it will be sold this fall after a new water reservoir is in operation. Holden Council has decided to advertise that the water tower is for sale by tender.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death. Prov. 14:12

People can be sincerely wrong. It is easy to be completely sincere and yet be badly mistaken. Tom Olson told about a physician who was administering a controlled mixture of oxygen and anesthetic gas to a patient in a New York hospital.

When one of the tanks was empty the doctor used a new one marked oxygen. Almost immediately the patient died. The coroners autopsy revealed carbon dioxide poisoning. Upon investigation, the second tank was found to contain pure CO/2 and had been mislabeled.

The manufacturer denied any wrong doing. No one knew how it could have gotten by the inspectors. The doctor had no doubt that he was using oxygen when he administered the lethal gas.

No one wanted the tragedy to happen, yet they were, all sincerely wrong.

This incident demonstrates that good intentions are not enough. Likewise, in the matter of salvation, many people are saying, as long as I am sincere, I'll come out alright in the end. But they are sadly mistaken. One must be absolutely certain about eternal matters. Many things called "salvation, forgiveness and life" are mislabeled.

A lot of people are convinced that good works will assure them of Heaven. But, the Bible says that there is no other way to obtain eternal life than to receive the Lord Jesus Christ as Savior. All other substitutes for His saving grace "are the ways of death"....no matter how right they may seem.

You will not avoid eternal punishment just by being sincere. Remember, Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by Me. John 14:6

The world has many religions but there is only one gospel. Whosoever cometh need not delay. Now the door is open....enter while you may. Jesus is the True, the only living way. Whosoever will, may come.

Are You A Safe Camper?

Judging by the traffic jams on our highways Friday afternoons - I'd say its safe to assume that our camping season is now in full swing.

Every year, the arrival of summer holidays and adventures in the wild produce tragic accidents that could have been prevented. Care and caution is all thats needed to ensure that you and your family have a happy and safe summer.

If your family members are avid campers - take heed - particularly if you are camping out in a tent. Tents are for the most part exceedingly flammable. An open flame in or near most tents, can and does create a serious fire hazard. In fact a cotton tent that has not been treated with a flame retardant finish can burn to the ground in as little as 45 seconds. Don't be fooled into false security with nylon tents either they may not ignite as readily or burn as quickly - but they WILL burn.

Even after tents are treated with a flame retardant finish at the factory, neither cotton or nylon are then FIREPROOF. The retardant finish only makes the tent more resistant to ignition and ensures that it won't burn as quickly. So campers take care.

Be sure and build campfires downwind from your tent - and be sure they are extinguished before you retire at night.

Of course, it goes without saying that you should keep all flammable liquids - gasoline, kerosene etc. in tightly capped safety cans - and away from the tent.

It is also a good idea to include a portable fire extinguisher in amongst your regular camping gear.

And finally - do keep a knife handy while in your tent. This will ensure you and your family will be able to cut your way to safety should your tent catch fire. Use common sense - and happy camping.

Palliser Wheat Growers Report

The agreement reached by the Government and the consortium of grain companies to proceed with terminal construction at Prince Rupert is long overdue.

"We are pleased that both the government and the grain companies recognized the crisis situation facing the grain industry and proceeded without delay", stated Jim Wright, Palliser President.

"With grain exports 2 million tonnes behind last year and farmers facing a lack of cash flow (due to lost sales) the proposed action can only be progressive".

In a further report Palliser advises a telex has been forwarded to the Honourable John Wise, Palliser Wheat Growers Association asked that the Minister not approve the notice of intent by the Canadian Grain Commission for an increase in maximum tariffs at Primary and Terminal elevators.

Palliser does not feel that there has been a demonstrated need for the increase of actual tariffs (by the grain companies) because we doubt that the increase in maximum tariffs will improve grain movement to export position.

The grain companies should be prepared to publicise their actual costs and implement a variable tariffs policy if they wish to increase tariff charges. Also, these maximum allowable tariffs should be used for positive improvements in the handling system before they are justified.

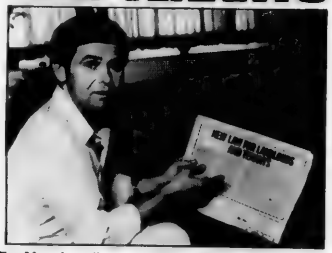
LANDLORDS AND TENANTS



The New Landlord and Tenant Act will affect you.

The new Landlord and Tenant Act came into effect July 1st, 1979. And there are a number of important changes you should be aware of.

- If the tenant wishes to vacate, or the landlord wishes the tenant to vacate NOTICE MUST BE IN WRITING
- For tenants who rent by the month, the landlord must give THREE full tenancy months' notice. Tenants must give ONE month's notice.
- Security deposits are now set at a MAXIMUM OF ONE MONTH'S RENT.
- The tenant may not change locks without the consent of the landlord. Locks may be changed by the landlord without consent provided that a key is given to the tenant immediately.

Two other important items

- Landlords and tenants may BE FINED for certain contraventions of the Act.
- Some breaches of responsibility by tenants may result in the landlord having the right to give the tenant FOURTEEN DAYS' NOTICE to vacate.

Successful Agricultural Fair Held At Viking

Viking Fair Day, Thursday, August 9th, blossomed forth from dull morning showers to a day of sunshine and activity. It had raised most of the day prior and had fair directors very worried as they worked in mud and heavy showers to complete final preparations.

But the rain, that meant a standstill to haying and rope swathing, also resulted in record attendance at the fair as local farmers had time to take part in the fair day celebrations.

The delicious pancake breakfast, organized by Myrtle Monaghan and her helpers, started everyone off in good spirits.

Cattle directors - Norman Withers, Morris Erickson and Gordon Rattray had the cattle show underway in the arena in the early forenoon. Although entries in this category were down in number, the condition of exhibits and the showmanship were of high quality.

Fortunately, the "horse-ring" had dried up quite well so the horse classes went as scheduled. Director Kevin Leidl, assisted by Muriel Hill, saw that the 150 entries in this action went through their paces. A welcome addition to the heavy horse classes were the handsome Belgium horses of John Armitage of Sedgewick.

Big haunted and sleigh-eight house exhibits were attractively displayed in the Viking School gymnasium. All entries in the grains section were very well put together and although crops are late in this area, there were some very nice samples shown.

The flower and vegetable displays showed that an abundant garden harvest is at hand.

The handicraft classes were filled with beautiful exhibits - especially nice were the crocheting, quilting, needle-point and woodwork exhibits.

The paintings in the art classes showed very well, the tremendous talents of our local artists.

The tasty baked goods and preserves proved the ability and skill of our local homemakers.

The parade was extremely colorful and exceptionally lively as the Viking Stage Band and Dayland Pipers provided a musical treat for the audience lining the parade rout.

Many "cowboys" and "cowgirls" showed off their equestrian talents as they rode their prancing steeds. Several nicely decorated floats, horse-drawn vehicles and bicycles made up a very interesting parade.

Director Marion Cottrell had organized the annual pet show. Fifteen charming children showed off their pets much to the enjoyment of the large crowd of spectators.

A really interesting caravan was parked on the school grounds. These displays were sponsored by the Devonian Group of Charitable Foundations from Calgary. One section was devoted to the history of the R.C.M.P. and included events from the Yukon Gold Rush and the days of "Sitting Bull". Another section was based on our Environment and featured several displays with one extremely interesting one about the extinct birds and mammals of the Canadian prairies.

The third section included some of the folk-lore and artifacts of various tribes of New Guinea and Africa.

Viking Fair's salute to "International Year of the Child" was a real success as children and adults participated in the decorating of display booths in the hall. Thirteen of the eighteen youth groups invited to participate, set up their colorful and informative displays. It was a difficult job for the judges to choose three winners - in fact so difficult that a tie for second place resulted in four winners. The final results were: 1st. - Lutheran Church Sunday School. 2nd. - Viking School Wildlife Club 2nd. - Roman Catholic Youth Education and 3rd. - Viking Figure Skating Club.

Judges were Home Economist - Maureen Bauman of Ryley; Olga Manderson - Woman at Dunbow Museum - Stampeder, Ropin and Sherry Christian of Holden who has done much work with youth education in his own community and with the school for retarded children in Vegreville. Judging was done on a point system with 1-10 points given each display in categories such as originality, neatness, composition, relationship to IYC theme etc.

A new addition to our fair this year was the "snack shack" which the Fair Committee had had built to provide a centrally located

One of the major attractions of the Viking Fair was the horse-pulling competition. Shown above is the winning team in action during one of their final pulls.

Special Language Program Aids Indo-Chinese Refugee

Alberta Education will fund up to 50 additional special education teaching positions to help school boards provide English as a Second Language Programs for the children of Indo-Chinese refugee families relocating in Alberta.

"The purpose of the program is to help these children derive the greatest benefit from our educational system as quickly as possible," said Acting Minister of Education Julian Koziak.

The teaching positions fall into the category of Language Deficit. They are temporary positions for the school year 1979-80 and terminate when the need for them no longer exists.

The grant to school boards per position is $10,875.

Details of the program will be released to school boards in the near future.

Irma Folk Attend Lougheed Fair

Quite a number of people from the Irma area attended the 56th Annual Lougheed Agricultural Fair, which was held on the sports grandeon Saturday, August 11th amidst ideal weather conditions.

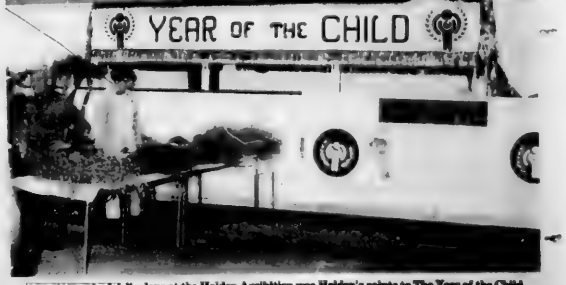
Attendance was at a peak, with the day beginning with a pancake and sausage breakfast. The parade was very interesting. In the annual senior citizen draw for "King and Queen" for a day, Hunter White of Lougheed and Minnie Jackson of Irma were crowned.

The horse entries were numerous and mostly of high quality in both saddle horse and heavy horse classes. Judging got underway at 11 a.m. and continued all day. The four ball diamonds were kept busy from 11 a.m. Cattle entries were usual in number and there were no entries in the dairy class.

Exhibits in the area were numerous and of high quality. Winners from Irma included Margaret Smith, Georgina Enger, Mary Dempsey, Minnie Jackson and Francis Penner.

The barbeque in the evening was enjoyed by many.

Holden Agribition Salutes "The Year Of The Child"



One of the colorful displays at the Holden Agribition was Holden's salute to The Year of the Child.

Say Thank You!

Once again we are into the fair and rodeo season in the area. The operation of these events are important to the life of our rural communities. They provide an opportunity for people to display their crafts, their products, their skills and abilities and their pride in their communities. Without them the basis fabric of our rural way of life would be without strength, as they all feature the events and efforts undertaken throughout our communities.

The planning, organization and operation of these events is enormous. A large number of people volunteer their time and efforts to ensure that these events do take place every year. Many, if not most, of these hard-working individuals get little, if any, thanks from others. Through their efforts much money is often raised to maintain and operate facilities throughout the year. Without their contributions we might not have many of the facilities in our communities.

Besides this, they provide us with a time when we can appreciate the works of others and when we can be entertained for a time. They provide a unifying factor in our communities, a focus for the lifestyle which we are able to enjoy!

These volunteers are to be heartily thanked and loudly applauded. Without them our communities would lose a very special event. If you pass them in your community, say "Thank You".

Viking Town Council Meeting

A Regular Meeting of Viking Town Council was held in Viking Council Chambers on the evening of August 1, 1979.

Present were: Mayor S.A. Hafso, Deputy-Mayor R. Midbo, Councillors Wm. R. Taylor, M. Stephenson, R. Evans and Administrator F. Morwood.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Hafso.

F. Morwood reported that there is a correction to be made in the minutes of the special meeting of July 11, 1979. All references to Bylaw No. 325 in those minutes are to be changed from Bylaw No. 325 to Bylaw No. 327.

It was moved that the minutes of the Special Meeting of July to be filed. Carried.

Mr. E. Kindley to construct a garage 20' x 24' on Lot 11 Blk 12 Plan 5440HW.

A letter was read to Council from Mr. Dan Wiggins of Royal Trust informing them that ownership of the SE 1/4 of 36-47-13-W4th has now been formally transferred to Dorothy and Jack Loughlin from the estate of the late Clement Joseph Loughlin.

A letter was read to Council from Calgary Power indicating that they propose to construct one 175 Watt Mercury Vapour street light in front of Lots A and B in Plan 7073KS.

A letter was read to Council from M.T. Gerard, Assistant Director of Roadside development for Alta. Transportation. His department strongly recommend that "bulking" be included with the service road where it accesses onto Highway 36 from the proposed Roddick Industrial Subdivision. Furthermore they recommend that the service road be increased to 100 foot width. This letter was addressed to Mr. Peddigrew of Current Planning and the Town copy is only a copy of the original.

A letter was read to Council from J.N. Brodie, the Administrator for the Town of Vilna enclosing a copy of the minutes of County Fire Meeting held on May 16, 1979. Six recommendations were listed and submitted to the involved councils for approval. Councillor Wm. R. Taylor noted that he felt urban fire engines should not be used at rural fires. This was the first topic of discussion. The general feeling of council was that the ther five issues were satisfactory though no actual motion was made. Mr. Taylor noted that for insurance as well as safety purposes one fire engine should remain in town at all times.

Town Council noted that there have been a number of complaints again about the Klontz's dogs howling at night and keeping neigbours awake. Council has talked with the R.C.M.P. and the Town needs a "noise" bylaw. The Town should be able to restrict the number of dogs to a home. Mayor Hafso instructed the Administrator to contact the A.U.M.A. and get sample bylaws concerning noise, nuisance and dog restrictions.

F. Morwood reported to Council that the County of Beaver have said that they do not intend to continue spraying for mayweed in the Town of Viking. Mr. Laurie Weatherill who does the spraying for the County says that Viking will have to get its own spray unit and applicator, as the problem has become perennial and is no longer the responsibility of the County of Beaver. He also noted that he is understaffed this year because he can't get qualified applicators. The Town Administrator noted that he has received a quote on spray equipment and the Town directed him to get more quotes.

A letter was read to Council from Mr. B.L. Mackenzie of the Glenbow Museum stating that the Glenbow Museum Caravan will be participating in the Viking Fair this year. They will be set up in the School grounds.

A letter was received by Council from the Alta. Home Mortgage Corp. announcing that a land servicing fund has been set up to assist municipalities in financing major underground water and sewer services.

A letter was read to Council from the Alta. Public Service Pension Administration announcing a one day Local Authorities Pension Workshop Program to be held in Edmonton in the fall.

It was moved that the Administrator or his secretary attend one session of the Local Authorities Workshop in the fall of 1979. Carried.

It was moved that all the accounts be paid with the exception of Alta. Traffic Supply. Carried.

It was moved that the Town of Viking approve the budget with the stipulation that we will pay on our portion only until the end of August. Carried.

The July 10, 1979 drinking water sample taken at the Town Office shows the standard plate count to be 140. Remarks: Satisfactory at time and point of sampling. The July 11, 1979 sample taken at the Town Office shows the plate count to be over 3,000. Remarks: Standard Plate Count is high. F. Morwood reported that he has spoken with the Town Engineers and a larger replacement for the existing chlorine regulator has been ordered.

A letter was read to Council from G. Baker, Administrator of the Beaver Regional Rec. and Parks Dept. noting that the auditors for his department will be re-doing the 1978 year end audit at no additional cost.

A letter was read to Council from the Administrator of the Beaver Regional Rec. & Parks Dept. requesting each of the governing authorities to clarify on the three mil program, the 90 per cent west to governing authorities based on 90 per cent of the total figure over the 10 year period not on a yearly basis.

A letter was read to Council from the Beaver Reg. Rec. & Parks Brd. asking that a number of questions concerning the regional agreement be answered by Council. Mayor Hafso appointed Councillors Evans, Midbo and the Town Administrator to answer the questions.

Boyd Oberhoffner of Alta. Municipal Planning talked on the municipal plan for the Town of Viking. He noted that the Town should develop a nuisance bylaw. He noted that he will submit a land use bylaw in two weeks and the administrator must draft and submit a copy at the next council meeting on September 5, 1979 for 1st reading. He further noted that a bylaw for the town adopting the General Municipal Plan must be drafted for the next meeting of Council. The Town agreed to go for colored maps for the municipal plan.

It was moved that the Town of Viking sell Lot 33 Block 6 Plan 1174W to Taylors Garage Carried. It may be noted that Councillor Wm. R. Taylor abstained from voting.

It was moved that the minutes of the last regular meeting of July 4, 1979 be accepted as corrected. Carried.

It was moved that the minutes of the special meeting of July 17, 1979 be accepted as read. Carried.

F. Morwood reported that the Net Balance on June 30, 1979 was $57633.98. Receipts for July were . . $59464.60 and disbursements were $49841.24 leaving a Net Balance of . . $76257.34.

It was moved that the Financial Statement be accepted. Carried.

Viking Youth Club Displays Salute "Year Of The Child"

The Viking Lutheran Sunday School Exhibit won first prize in the International Year of the Child displays set up in the Viking Community Hall for the enjoyment of the spectators.

presented the cash prizes to the winners of the youth group displays.

Other awards presented included the Viking Elks Award by Jack Mattinson for Junior Activities high point exhibitor to Marion Zelinski.

Viking Fair Committee plaque was presented by Ellen Lovesuth to Cheryl Hafso of Sunny Days Creative Corner for winning the "Promote Viking Fair Contest".

Director Eugene Ruzicka presented all the parade plaques donated by the Viking Chamber of Commerce to the winners of the various parade categories.

Lucky winner of the wooden salad bowl set donated by Simpsons Sears Ltd., was Mrs. Rioma of Viking.

A large crowd attended the dance in the evening. The lively music of the Ericksons from Bruce kept everyone entertained and enjoying themselves as another Viking Fair Day came "to the end of a perfect day".

Total fair exhibits was 986, much the same as 1977 and just slightly below those entered in 1978. Winner of the Family Award for top points won by a family was the John and Sylvia Piwowar family. Congratulations to each of them. The runners up were all individual exhibitors: R.A. Meeks with 155 points, Nellie Taylor with 144 points and Margaret Smith with a total of 118 points.

Watch your paper for a list of winners which will follow in the next issues.

Alberta Agriculture
TODAY & TOMORROW

BEAVERLODGE, ALTA. — From time to time in this column, I've mentioned the importance of research to Alberta's agriculture industry. Just over a month ago, I also announced that 10 new research projects had been selected to join our $10-million Farming for the Future program, which is supported by the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund.

However, throughout this program I've had one major concern. It's this — that the administrators of Farming for the Future, the Agricultural Research Council of Alberta (of which I am chairman), does not often get the chance to actually meet the researchers applying for funds, nor the opportunity to see first-hand those projects it's funded. Usually, we base our decisions on written information, and the system works well. Unfortunately, it's also true that a well or poorly written report can sometimes give us a totally different impression than one we would have received from a first-hand meeting with the researcher or viewing of his project.

In early August, we set out to correct, at least part-way, that deficiency. Eight members of the Council travelled to Beaverlodge, Alberta to obtain personal reports on Farming for the Future projects which have been undertaken by scientists at that federal government research station.

Now, I can see one question being asked. Why have we funded federal government research scientists? The answer is we want the best possible people to do the research — no matter where they're located and no matter by whom they're employed.

In this case, funding the dozen or so projects being handled at Beaverlodge makes good sense. First, the money stays in Alberta. Second, Beaverlodge scientists are already working on northern agricultural research, and they form the largest and most capable institution of its type in North America. Third, it's a federal government station, and that means the scientists are already working for Albertans. Fourth, most of these work is applicable only to Alberta which has the largest northern farming sector in Canada.

One more point — Farming for the Future funding has really given the Beaverlodge station a shot in the arm. Research funding has not kept pace with our needs in recent years. And we recognized that, in turn, Alberta producers would be hurt because new plant varieties which we require would not be introduced and because basic research related to northern farming was not being undertaken. To fill as such research gaps and to assure a continuing push toward improved technology were the reasons behind introducing the Farming for the Future program.

Anyway, at Beaverlodge the Council was able to see some of the research it's funded. Such projects as improving nitrogen fixation by alfalfa, solving the riddle of stem eyespot disease in creeping red fescue, developing new white wheat varieties and improving rapeseed meals in the Peace River Region have already shown good results. Most important, this progress might lead to new breakthroughs that will make new plant varieties and disease control methods available to Alberta producers within a few short years.

Of course, when we talk research we're talking time. In the past developing a new variety, from start to finish, often took 15 or more years. Now, scientists can produce a new variety with luck, in just six or seven years. That's a remarkable improvement, but it still takes time.

Meanwhile, Farming for the Future has also kept an eye out for projects which might produce immediate gains. Such gains might be present in one Beaverlodge program which is studying alfalfa hardiness in northern Alberta. Research into second cuts of alfalfa has shown that such cuts can critically affect stand strength in subsequent years. At the same time, new alfalfa strains have been found which do not appear to be hurt by cutting that would weaken existing strains.

Overall, the Beaverlodge tour showed the Council that its money was being well spent. New improvements that could return our investments many thousand times over are sure to be developed. Again, it will take time. However, that will surely mean good news for the future of Alberta's agriculture industry.

Don't Let The Name Scare You!

Regularly in this column, consumers are urged to read the label on goods they buy - so they know what they are buying. Canadian law dictates that contents of food items must be listed in descending order of content. So - a Consumer who reads the labels on cereal products for example will easily be able to choose between one that contains a large percentage of sugar (listed first in ingredients) and one that is strictly a wholesome grain product.

Many ingredients on Canadian food packages are listed by their chemical or scientific name. As a result - many consumers find it difficult to understand what they're reading even though they have taken the time to check.

Following is a helpful guide describing chemical substances commonly found in food.

SODIUM CASEINATE. Casein is the protein in milk that helps provide its high food value. Sodium caseinate is formed from casein and sodium, an essential mineral nutrient. When combined with vegetable fats or oils, sodium caseinate can be whipped like whipped cream.

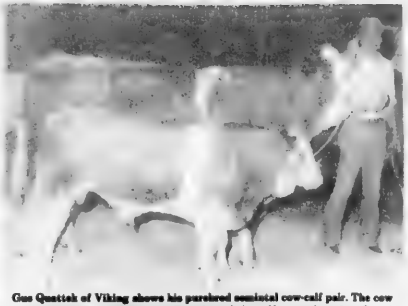
TRICALCIUM PHOSPHATE is a combination of two minerals, calcium and phosphorous, with oxygen. Calcium and phosphorous are essential nutrients, which help in building and maintaining bones and teeth. This compound is used in small amounts to keep dry solid foods from caking.

LACTOSE is a form of sugar that is found in the milk of all mammals. It is much less sweet than table sugar and can be used in foods where this is an advantage.

HYDROXYLATED LECITHIN.
Lecithin is found in each body cell. It is a fatty substance that is present in egg yolk, soya beans and other common foods. One of its uses is to get food oils and water to mix. Hydroxylation is a process that adds oxygen and hydrogen to the lecithin. This helps it to do a better mixing job in some special cases.

ADIPIC ACID is found in almost every cell of the body. It is vital for turning food materials into useful energy. The synthetic Adipic Acid that is used in food products performs the same function. It also provides sharp acid flavours, desirable textures and extends the shelf life of foods.
BHA IS BUTLYATED HYDROXY ANISOLE. is a "man-made" material that is used in tiny amounts to keep foods fresh. Oxygen in the air can turn food fats and oils rancid or give them a stale flavour. BHA prevents this.

Quattek Cattle Capture Honors At Viking Fair



Gus Quattek of Viking shows his purebred seminetal cow-calf pair. The cow was declared Grand Champion Female and the calf was selected as Grand Champion Male. At the end of judging the pair also won Supreme Champion of the 1979 Viking Fair.

The Food Basket

Dental decease is unnecessarily high in Canada, so says the latest Nutrition Canada Survey.

Although this may come as a surprise to many of us, the relationship between sugar and tooth decay is one of the oldest and most solid observations in dental medicine. In the fourth century B.C. Aristotle asked why do figs which are soft and sweet damage the teeth? They didn't know it, but figs are one of the few fruits high in sucrose. And all modern studies have confirmed the existence of this link.

Much of the solution to combating tooth decay in children lies in education. Even an eight-year-old can be taught about harmful effects of sugar on the teeth. Use logical explanations and make wise choices at home.

Sticky forms of sugar, such as soft candy and chewing gum, appear to be the worst offenders. They cling to the teeth and provide a breeding ground for acid-forming bacteria which cause tooth decay.

Think twice when serving refreshments this summer. Unsweetened fruit juices rank high both dentally and nutritionally. Apple, orange, grape and grapefruit juices, for example, can be frozen into icicles for summertime quenching. A glass of cool white milk can do the trick too.

Thirst quenchers such as milkshakes, chocolate milk and chocolate drink, ice cream and ice cream sodas, sherbet, and sweetened fruit juices are nutritious but at the same time they are high in sugar. They are less harmful to the teeth if eaten with meals than as between-meals snacks. Saliva flows more during a main meal and this helps to neutralize the harmful acids formed. Between meals, the flow of saliva is much decreased, so the teeth aren't protected.

Other foods are relatively harmless to the teeth because of their low sugar content, but they contribute very little toward fulfilling a child's nutrient needs. Sugar-free soft drinks, for example, have practically no nutritive value of any kind. Are they really worth the cost?

Embryonic Travellers

Jetting pedigree cattle around the world is expensive, so cattle breeders now are looking at international embryo transfers as an alternative.

Hundreds of embryos could potentially be moved in one suitcase at very little cost. While such long-distance embryo transfers are still in the experimental stage, the needed technology is improving and cutting costs.

The federal government has also cleared the way to such exports by amending the federal animal disease regulations.

Embryo transfer clinics now are inspected to make sure they meet internationally-agreed standards for hygiene and disease control.

Placing first in the Commercial Float category of the Viking Parade was the entry of Country Way Hairstyling a newly established business in Viking.

Third Sutter Drafted By National Hockey League

Duane Sutter, son of Louis and Grace Sutter of Viking has been drafted by the New York Islanders of the National Hockey League. Although only 19 years old with one year of eligibility left in the Western Hockey League, Duane was the first pick of the Islanders in the 1st round and the 17th pick overall. Quite an achievement! The drafting of the 19 year old player was made possible through a new ruling introduced into the N.H.L. this summer, brought about through the drafting of 18 year old underage players by the now defunct W.H.A. in previous years.

Duane launched his hockey career through the levels of Minor Hockey in Viking. He went on to play Junior B hockey with the Wainwright Bisons for the 1975 76 season and then went to Red Deer for the next two years (76-77 and 77-78) and starred with the Junior A Rustlers. His next step was a move to the Lethbridge Broncos for the 78-79 season. His one season with the Broncos is what led to his being drafted so high in the N.H.L. draft and has a record showing the following: team awards for Rookie of the Year honors; top scoreing honors and 3 star award honors.

During a season which was totally dominated by the Brandon Wheat Kings Duane was runner up for League Rookie of the Year and was fourth in league scoring notching 50 goals, 75 assists for a total of 125 points.

Duane who will be leaving Viking around the middle of September will not be the only Sutter embarking on this trip. His older brother Brian, having had a very successful year with the St. Louis Blues will once again be with the team. Darryl Sutter will be on his way to the Chicago Black Hawk training camp. Darryl was drafted last year by the Black Hawks of the N.H.L. but opted to play one year of hockey in Japan, where he starred last year. This summer he signed with the Black Hawks and this fall when the N.H.L. season gets underway it is possible that we may be seeing a three brother act in the National Hockey League.

"Conflicts In Land Use"

The University of Alberta Agriculture Club will be hosting the eighth annual International Agricultural Students Association of the Americas (IASAA) Conference this August from the twelfth to the seventeenth. The theme for this six day conference will be "Conflicts in Land Use". Topics of discussion will include conflicts between urban and industrial development, recreation, resource development and agriculture. Guest speakers include authorities from business, government and universities, such as Cy McAndrews, Assistant Deputy Minister of Development; Dr. Rainer Schickele of Berkeley, California; and Dr. Kare Heilum of the University of Alberta.

Also included in the agenda are tours to various sites around Edmonton which will give the delegates an insight into the agricultural practices employed in Alberta. Many of the delegates will be from parts of Canada and the U.S. where our type of agriculture is unknown.

I.A.S.A.A. is an international students organization set up to promote knowledge and understanding of agriculture throughout North America. Its member schools are from all over the continent, but delegates to previous conferences have come from as far away as Tanzania.

The Agriculture Club at the U. of A. is proud to be a member of this association and is doubly proud to be hosting this year's conference. The dates of the conference are August 12 to August 17. It will be held at the University in the Lister Hall complex.

Palliser Wheat Growers Report

In a telex to the Honourable John Wise, Palliser Wheat Growers Association asked that the Minister not approve the notice of intent by the Canadian Grain Commission for an increase in maximum tariffs at Primary and Terminal elevators.

Palliser does not feel that there has been a demonstrated need for the increase of actual tariffs (by the grain companies) because we doubt that the increase in maximum tariffs will improve grain movement to export position.

The grain companies should be prepared to publicize their actual costs and implement a variable tariffs policy if they wish to increase tariff charges. Also, these maximum allowable tariffs should be used for positive improvements in the handling system before they are justified.

Jams & jellies can quickly and easily be prepared in the microwave oven. This year, take a rest from the usual stove top procedure. By following a basic jam method these hints, your family will be sure to enjoy these treats all winter.

- select fully ripe fruit
- pack fruit solidly into measuring cup
- use high or full power on microwave oven
- stir the mixture 2 or 3 times during heating in order to dissolve sugar.
- cook mixture in a glass casserole untill it comes to a full boil, as recipe directs
- skim off foam. Stir 5 to 7 minutes to cool jam and prevent floating fruit
- ladle into hot sterilized jars and seal with paraffin
- paraffin should be melted in a double boiler on conventional range
- store in a cool, dry place.

SUMMER FUN

Hot days bring children out of doors by the dozens. Many times they will make up their own games and keep busy for hours.

All too often though, wining becomes the most important part of the game. A new concept in games, called Co-operative games, teaches people to center on the joy of playing, co-operating and trusting. Following are a few examples of Co-operative games:

TOESIES: Partners lie stretched out on the floor feet to feet or big toe to big toe. Then try to roll across the floor with their toes touching all the time.

CATCH THE DRAGON'S TAIL: About 8-10 people line up one behind the other, putting their arms around the waist of the person in front of them. The last person in line tucks a handkerchief in the back of his belt.

At the signal, the dragon begins chasing its own tail. The objective, is for the person at the head of the line to snatch the handkerchief.

The tricky part of the game is that the people at the front and back are in clear competition, but those in the middle aren't sure which way to go. When the head finally captures the tail, the head ten becomes the tail. The person second from the front now becomes the head.

More For Your Money

All steers are not born equal - - some are more efficient than others at converting feed to beef and reaching market weight faster.

But studies at Agriculture Canada's research station at Melfort, Sask., show that slow-gaining steers can become faster weight-gainers by using double the normal amount of growth hormone usually used in feedlot steers.

The double - implanted steers gained more weight than did single implanted steers during the test period. They also graded better, providing the producer with better returns.

Progressive Farming

Bill Grose
Dist. Agriculturist

Every year a growing number of farmers are swathing crops earlier than it used to be the general practice.

Among the advantages of earlier swathing is the fact that it catches weed seeds before they shell out on the ground; it shortens the time that crops are exposed to the elements and natural shattering; it results in swaths that are more securely anchored in the stubble (unless the stubble is very light). Most important, it hastens the time that the crop can be combined and safely stored in the bin.

RAPESEED

A rapeseed crop is ready for swathing when it is a light gold with a slight greenish tinge and the green seeds are firm when rolled between the finger and thumb. Research shows that swathing rapeseed at 35 per cent moisture has no adverse effect on the yield, color, oil or protein content of the seed. However, swathing at 45 per cent moisture or above causes a 300 to 400 pound per acre drop in seed yield, increased dockage and results in a one per cent drop swathing until the seed moisture content drops to 20 per cent or less results in a fluffy swath which is susceptable to blowing, and increased losses from shattering and post damage.

WHEAT

- Swath when the moisture content drops to 35 per cent (the kernels are in the firm dough stage and starting to turn yellow).

Wheat intended for seed can be swathed at a moisture content of 25 per cent and left to dry until the moisture drops to at least 20 per cent. If combined above 16 per cent, the grain should be artificially dried. To avoid germination damage, the drying temperature should not be allowed to go above 43 degrees C.

BARLEY

Feed barley can also be swathed at the 35 per cent moisture level (when a kernel can be cut with the thumb nail without showing any water on the kernel) but malting and seed barley should be better left until the moisture content is down to at least 20 per cent (kernels are changing to a straw color, are firm when pressed between the finger and thumb and no moisture appears). With malting barley, the whole field should be ripe, but not over ripe because of shattering and kernel damage during combining.

OATS

Oats can be swathed at a moisture content of 40 per cent (Early Dough) without any danger of shrinkage.

FALL RYE

Fall Rye should be swathed when the moisture content is 45 per cent (milk stage) or it will shatter during swathing and combining.

FEED ANALYSIS:

It is strongly recommended that farmers submit feed and forage samples to be tested for nutritional value early this year. Each year farmers tend to leave this to the last minute before they start their winter feeding program. This creates a "bottleneck" at the labratory and as a result, samples take longer to be processed rather than the usual time of three weeks.

The cost of the analysis is $2.00 per sample and can be submitted at our office (a good representative sample should be taken). If required the nutritionist at the lab can also formulate a ration using the available feed on hand providing you submit all the types of feed you intend to use in your feeding program. Time taken now will avoid frustration later; so get those samples in.

Jams And Jellies In Your Microwave Oven

The microwave oven is just as useful in the canning and freezing procedure as it is for preparing meals. Here is how.

Jams and jellies can be easily and quickly prepared in the microwave. The Certo method gives reliable results. Follow directions on the Certo box or bottle, cooking the mixture in a glass casserole until the mixture bubble-boils, as directed.

Blanching is a necessary step before freezing vegetables. Enzymes, that would otherwise cause undesireable changes in color, flavor, and texture, are inactivated. Blanching is also important for vitamin retention.

Successful blanching in the microwave depends on the freshness of vegetables. They should be freshly picked and immediately blanched.

If blanching in the microwave is new to you, try blanching a few batches of each vegetable as an experimental project. This will allow for a comparison of microwave and conventionally blanched products as they come from your freezer.

These steps should be followed when blanching in the microwave.

- Wash, peel, slice or dice your vegetables.
- Blanch only 1 quart or 1 pound of vegetables per batch.
- Add water. Do not add salt.
- Cover casserole. Set power for high or cook setting.
- Stir vegetables frequently during blanching time to ensure even heat distribution. Blanched vegetables should have a bright color evenly throughout.
- Plunge into ice water immediately to prevent further cooking. The cooling time required is as long as the blanching time. Do not allow vegetables to stay in the cooling water longer than necessary. Remove excess moisture from vegetables.
- Package in freezer containers, labelling amounts and date.

For further information on amount of water to use and blanching times, just phone the office at 663-3555.

Canning in a microwave oven is NOT recommended. Temperatures reached in the oven would not be high enough to kill all potentially harmful bacteria. The microwave can be used to speed up some parts of the canning process though. For example, when canning fruit use the microwave oven to prepare the sugar syrup.

Transportation System Suffers From Lack Of Incentive

The most significant detriment to the viability of Canada's grain handling and transportation system is the lack of incentive to perform efficiently according to Unifarm president Howard Falkenberg.

The head of Alberta's general farm organization told the Parliamentary Task Force on Grain Handling and Transportation that not only should adequate compensation be provided for services, but that efficient performance should be rewarded and poor performance penalized.

Mr. Falkenberg argued that appointment of a co-ordinator to oversee all operations within the system, as proposed by the federal government, should not be regarded as the complete solution to grain transportation problems.

He said that unless massive capital investment is provided by the federal government or encouraged by higher rates of compensation for the movement of grain over the railroads, the co-ordinator could do little more than shuffle existing inadequacies in the hope that a small measure of improvement would result.

Unifarm acknowledges the federal committment to providing additional hopper cars and its encouragement of a grain company consortium to expand facilities at Prince Rupert. However, Mr. Falkenberg said, more attention has to be paid to the system as a whole and a comprehensive plan of action must be undertaken as soon as possible. Failure to do so will compound the losses of millions of dollars being suffered, not only by grain producers, but by the nation as a whole, he said.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our appreciation to our children, Sharon, Keith, Murray, Kevin and Glen for the lovely afternoon they arranged for our 25th anniversary, August 5, at the Viking Gas Camp.

Many thanks to the relatives and friends who helped with the preparations or brought food. Special thanks to Mother McGinitie for decorating the cake so beautifully and helping in so many ways.

To all the people who brought such a variety of beautiful gifts and cards, we say thank you very much.

We thoroughly enjoyed having visitors from Viking and other areas of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia. All of you made it a very "special" day to remember. Many thanks and may God bless you all!
Harvey & Pauline McGinitie

Kinsella and District News

Deepest sympathy is extended to the family of Edwin Overbo on the sudden passing of a loved one. Edwin Overbo passed away August 4, 1979.

Norma Razon from Guadalajara, Mexico enjoyed 3 weeks holiday with Faye Oakes. Norma spent the school year of 1977-78 as an exchange student in the Oakes home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Massie from Calgary visited a few days with her mother, Mrs. T. Kosterva.

Calling in at the Oakes residence on Sunday were Tommie's niece and her husband and family from Chetwynd, B.C.

The Kinsella Culture and Recreation is launching a raffle for a monthly draw of $150.00 and a final prize draw for $500.00. A total of only 200 tickets will be sold at $25 each. Anyone interested in purchasing a ticket can contact any member of the board.

The Kinsella B.P.O. Elks Degree Team had an entry in the Viking Fair Day parade.

Bros. Bert Smith, Jerry Mark, Kelly Overbo, Cliff Overbo, Joe Makar, Ed Bobyak, John Bobyak and Pete Mollier, with the help of our young people, won the first annual Elks Slow Pitch Tournament for District #14 at Wainwright last Sunday.

Teams from Chauvin, Edgerton, Wainwright and Kinsella took part in the tournament. Bros. Cliff Overbo of Kinsella and Geo. Fenton from Chauvin were the successful team in the horse shoe tournament. A vote of thanks is extended to the Wainwright Elks for organizing this most enjoyable event.

Wheat Board Announces Opening Quotas

The Canadian Wheat Board has announced opening quotas for Hard Red Spring wheat, Durum wheat, and non-Board grains. The quotas will take effect at the beginning of the 1979-80 crop year on August 1. Opening quotas have already been announced for barley, domestic feed grains, and non-Board grains for delivery to crushers and distillers. General opening quotas have not been announced for Red Winter wheat, Utility wheat or oats for delivery to the Wheat Board. There will be quotas for car-lots of selected oats and Soft White Spring wheat.

There will be an "A" quota of 140 kilograms (5.1 bushels) per quota acre for No. 1 C.W. and Extra No. 1 C.W. shipping barley to Churchill. The quota will include No. 2 C.W. and Extra No. 2 C.W. in West Coast shipping blocks. Churchill shipping blocks have received an additional 110 kilogram (5 bushel) quota for barley and elevator space is needed for this grain. The "A" quota for wheat will be extended to these blocks after the Churchill season ends.

An opening quota of 90 kilograms (2.9 bushels) per quota acre for Durum wheat will also apply in all blocks except those shipping to Churchill.

Quotas for delivery of non-Board grains for delivery to elevators will be 90 kilograms (3.1 bushels) per acre for rye, 80 kilograms (3.1 bushels) per quota acre for flaxseed, and 70 kilograms (3.1 bushels) per quota acre for rapeseed.

Producers will be able to deliver two cariots of either 6-Row or 2-Row selected barley, one cariot of selected Soft White Spring wheat, and unlimited cariots of selected oats if they have assigned acres to these grains.

In announcing opening quotas, Chief Commissioner Esmond Jarvis noted that they do not apply to No. 3 C.W. Red Spring wheat. "The Board's obligations to service traditional customers and to deliver barley and other grains deferred last summer and fall have left little room for new sales of No. 3 C.W. from the St. Lawrence. This has been complicated by the overall railcar shortage which has limited our ability to make sales from the St. Lawrence. The result has been that we were unable to equalize the quota on No. 3 C.W. wheat in Thunder Bay shipping blocks over the past year. We have squeezed in some sales of No. 3 C.W. for this fall and expect additional sales for this winter. These sales will reduce the heavy supplies now in the system and we will open a quota for No. 3 C.W. in Thunder Bay shipping blocks by November 1," Mr. Jarvis said.

Energy Efficient Operation

Owners of freezers will be putting a lot of time and good food into them throughout the next few weeks. It's that time of year again when a wide variety of fruits and vegetables are becoming available and this makes it possible for families to enjoy an economical supply of their favorite produce all year round - thanks to that freezer.

In order to ensure maximum economy and enjoyment from home grown produce, care must be taken in following a few simple guidelines for home freezer use:

Freezers should be located in a cool, dry and well ventilated room - where there is little temperature variation. Apartment dwellers should take particular note - keeping freezers on outdoor balconies will damage the unit severely due to the strain on coolant mechanisms.

For efficiency of operation and maximum storage life, freezers should maintain a temperature of 0 C or lower. In the event of a power failure or freezer breakdown, opening the freezer should be avoided. The cause of the problem should be investigated and resolved as soon as possible. If it's something over which there is no control, freezer owners should be aware of how long their freezer will remain inoperable. A full freezer can normally keep its contents frozen for up to two days. One that is half full may be alright for up to a day. After that, dry ice at 2 and a half lbs. per cubic feet of freezer space, can be used to deep it frozen another few days.

For optimum freezer use - foods should be properly packaged, using a moisture proof and vapor proof packaging material. Food that shows signs of freezer burn is unfit to eat. It is also a waste of valuable preparation time and effort - and a waste of valuable freezer space.

An inventory of items in the freezer should be kept up to date at all times. This increases efficiency of the freezer use by allowing one to know at a glance what's on hand. Also items may then be easily rotated so that all is used up during the recommended storage life.

For more information about the energy efficient operation of your freezer, contact your local power company Consumer Information Department - they have loads of invaluable information and it's free for the asking.

Deep Plowing Of Solonetzic Soils

In Alberta, solonetzic soils (sometimes called gumbo, burnout or 'blowout soils) comprise ove 12 million acres of arable land. They extend in a belt approximately 80 kilometers wide from Vegreville to Brooks as well as a large part of the Peace River region.

Solonetzic soils are characterized by a shallow surface layer of soil (horizon) and beneath it, a very hard impermeable horizon which contains a high sodium content. Underlying this layer, there is a third horizon which contains calcium-carbonate salts.

The problems encountered in growing crops on solonetzic soils arise mainly from the hard, impermeable subsurface horizon. Roots and water cannot penetrate this layer, therefore yields vary directly with the depth of topsoil and distribution of rainfall throughout the year. The surface horizon of solonetzic soils also tends to be acidic in nature. This poses problems growing acid sensitive crops, for example, alfalfa.

Deep plowing is a method of improving solonetzic soils for crop production. Deep plowing involved physically breaking up the hard sodium-containing horizon and mixing it with the calcium containing layer of soil - usually to a depth of 40 to 60 cm. When water passes through the mixed soil, calcium can displace the sodium. In areas with sufficiently high rainfall, the sodium can be leached out of the root zone. As a result of deep plowing the ph (acid alkaline balance) of the soil will improve to near neutral.

One of the plows developed operates by slicing the soil at three different depths (each at a different horizon) - mixing the calcium-containing soil and the calcium-containing soil while leaving the topsoil at the top.

By breaking up the hard subsurface horizon, water and root penetration is facilitated and yields increase. There may be some difficulty in preparing a seed bed immediately after plowing, however, this will improve with time.

Deep plowing will improve the productivity of some solonetzic soils; however, it is expensive, requires time to do properly and is not a substitute for good management. Whether it is economic depends upon the amount of yield increases generated and whether the increased yields can be sustained over the long run.

In many cases, deep plowing has proves to be economic; after many years of experimentation, there is not an evidence to suggest solonetzic soils that have been deep plowed are reverting to their original less productive condition.

Opening Barley Quotas

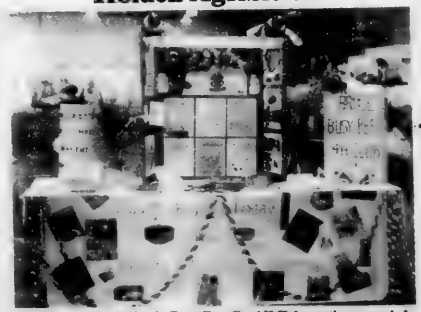
The Canadian Wheat Board announced two general barley quotas for the start of the 1979-80 crop year. Opening quotas for other grains will be announced at a later date.

An "A" quota of 110 kilograms (4 bushels) per quota acre in all shipping blocks.

A "B" quota of 110 kilograms (5 bushels) per quota acre in seven shipping blocks.

The seven blocks with the "B" quota are located close to the Port of Churchill. This was done to shorten the hauling distance and improve turnaround times of the limited number of boxcars available for this movement. The additional deliveries which will be made under the "B" quota are needed to support this year's heavy export program through Churchill.

4-H Club Participates In Holden Agribition



The elaborate display by the Bruce Busy Bee 4-H Club won the approval of the judges and one of the fair directors, Doris Ogrodnick stated that they hope to establish a separate category for 4-H entries in the future and encourage the participation of other community 4-H clubs in the Agribition.

Soccer Anybody?

Soccer School Plans for a Soccer School to be held August 20th to 24th are underway. The Alberta Soccer Association will be supplying the instructor and we are making arrangements to have the school either at Bruce or Holden since they are both fairly central locations in the County.

The cost for the program is set tentatively at $40.00 per person. This includes 25 hours of instruction, one soccer ball, one T-shirt, six skill crests and a ticket to a Drillers home game in the future.

This is not a residential camp and the hours of operation are from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Application forms and further information regarding the school are available at the Regional Rec. Office at 663-3730.

Irma News and Views

Approximately 80 toddlers, students and adults of Irma and district have enrolled in swimming lessons at the Les Prosser pool. The very capable instructor, Mrs. Margaret Woloszak with the help of Miss Lori Prior will be kept busy for the next two weeks.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cook (nee Sylvia Rae) who were married in Edmonton on Saturday, August 11.

Friday visitors with the Tom Copeland family were Mr. and Mrs. Larter to watch the Lougheed fair parade where Tom received honorable mention with the Century 21 playhouse float.

Mrs. Ella Skiles, Mrs. Elma Tomlinson and Hugh Tomlinson were in Ryley on August 8 for the funeral of Roy Davies. They are aunts and cousin of the deceased.

The Irma Home and School would like to thank all teachers and parents who contributed to the bakeless bake sale. Your support is very much appreciated.

Bob and Mrs. Lukens returned home last week after spending two weeks vacationing in Waterton Park and other points in the south.

Mrs. Stan Pierce is home from hospital where she had surgery on her broken ankle and had a pin inserted.

Charlie Jackson was home for the weekend from the Lloydminster area where he is working on a crew that is taking up an abandoned railroad track.

Isabel and Eldon Fenton travelled to Fort McMurray where they attended the wedding of granddaughter, Cassie Stephenson, on Sat. They expect to return home on Monday evening.

Mrs. McCracken and Mrs. Art Gollan of Sedgewick visited with Minnie and Jim Jackson on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Currie of Trail, B.C. is visiting with her niece Mrs. Joe Burton and nephew Jimmie Craig and other friends in the Irma area.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dudlyke from Winfield, B.C. are visiting with John and Mary Lambert. They came to the Drop-In Centre and renewed several acquaintances.

Frank and Irene Drewicki and Rene and husband Louis from Spruce Grove visited with Meg Dunbar on Friday.

A family get together was held by the Jacksons on Sunday, August 12. Having dinner with Minnie and Jim were Eddie, Lorna and Howard; Charlie and Caroline of Czar; Arthur, Marilynn, Barbara, Lorne and Lorraine and Joyce Barthlow; and Neil Jackson from Edmonton. Most of them went to Clear Lake afterwards for a barbeque supper.

Swathers have been busy during the past week and much fall rye and rape have been swathed. In addition, a few fields of barley are now swathed. On Sunday night, or perhaps it was Monday morning, a few people noted white frost on the shingles. We sincerely hope the frost stays away for a few more weeks.

C.S.A. Warns About Coffee Makers

The Canadian Standards Association (CSA) and the manufacturer are warning owners of Proctor-Silex Automatic Drip Coffee Makers to be aware of a possible fire hazard.

During the past several months, a number of coffee makers reportedly caught fire. These coffee makers were manufactured in Canada by Proctor-Silex and were sold exclusively in Canada bearing the Proctor-Silex label and the CSA mark.

Investigations by the manufacturer have indicated that in most cases the fires have been caused by improper servicing or tampering with the electrical system. All of the fires occured with coffee makers made before December of 1976.

If your coffee maker has been serviced, repaired or the bottom plate removed for any reason by anyone at any time, use of your coffee maker should be discontinued immediately and it should be returned to Proctor-Silex Re-inspection Centre, P.O. Box 2100, Picton, Ontario K0K 2T0 for free re-inspection and/or repair. Please return only your base unit. Do not forward the accessories or glass carafe.

In addition, although the investigation to date has not revealed a defect in design which may result in a hazardous condition, if there is a malfunction or concern of any kind with respect to your coffee maker, to aid in a continuing monitoring of these coffee makers, you are urged to return your coffee maker for a free safety inspection.

Chacutenah Manor News

The two lovely floral arrangements in the lounge were given to us by Mrs. McBurney and family. We thank you and sympathize in the passing of your loved one.

Mrs. H. Cockroft enjoyed a weekend in Edmonton when she attended a combined anniversary celebration and house warming held at the home of her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. K. Burke.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert have returned from a holiday in Camrose and Round Hill with their family.

Mrs. K. Coffin and two friends from Edmonton - Miss Lou Knight and Miss Alice Simmonsen visited the Manor on Sunday.

Bob Burke of Edmonton spent several days with his grandmother, Mrs. Cockroft this week.

Mrs. Stevens of Reno, Nevada, a sister of Mrs. J. Gulbrea, and her niece Mrs. C. Gulbrea, visited with Manor friends on Tuesday evening.

Sports Day weekend visitors with Mrs. McRoberts were Mrs. Wilma Robertson and Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore of Tofield and Miss Marjorie Moore of Sylvan Lake, Mr. and Mrs. S. Taylor of Edmonton spent the following Saturday with her.

Mrs. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. McRoberts and several other Irma residents left on August 16th on a ten day tour of northern Alberta.

Visiting with Mrs. McLean during the past week were Miss Jeanette Besler of Vermilion, Mr. and Mrs. G. Cline and small son of Edmonton, Mrs. C. McCleary of Camrose, Mrs. B. Masson of Hampton, Ontario and Mr. and Mrs. Jose and daughter of Saskatoon.

Lunch guests with Mr. and Mrs. Lambert on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Dydluke of Winfield, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Copeland and boys of Lethbridge and her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. Guy spent the weekend fishing at Moose Lake.

Echo - Rodino News

Donna Hollar visited her sister Gloria in the Edmonton hospital and reports her doing well.

David Goertzen motored down from Fox Creek on his motorbike to spend some time with the Williams family. Dave returned home on Sunday while Goldie and the children stayed on for an extended visit.

Josephine Holt spent a few days in the Viking Hospital but is now home and feeling better.

Gerald Hunter and Charlene Meinik both of Calgary popped in for a quick visit with Nerine Hunter and the Williams family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Veter of southern Alberta called in at the Robert Hollar home to take a day or two of berry picking in.

Marvin and Joe Holt travelled with the Irma Lancer ball team to Consort for a tournament.

The Prosser family are having the pleasure of a visit from Leslie's niece Debbie Swarts of Toronto. On Sunday they toured to Coronation to take in a rodeo.

Victor Carter has spent the last while going from fair to fair throughout the country running his chariot team and reports are that he has been doing too bad. Good luck Vic.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mackowski took in a couple of days of ball tournaments at Loomis.

Kelly Smith has had her friend Jocelyne Hudson spending some time with her.

Laun Bell

Thor Agencies is pleased to introduce Laun Bell as general branch manager of their insurance offices in Tofield, Holden, Viking and Wainwright.

Laun was born in Wainwright and moved to Viking at an early age. Here he completed his grade 12 and then began work with Treasury Branches of Alberta. From Treasury Branch Laun went to Bank of Montreal for two years and after that spent three years with Laurentide Finance, the last year and a half of which he was a branch manager in Calgary. Laun is married, with one child, and the Bells are presently residing on an acreage south-west of Viking.

A National Pest

Slugs are found in most parts of Canada and can cause serious losses on farms, in home gardens and greenhouses.

Slugs damage plants by eating leaves and tender shoots of almost all field and garden crops, including grains, clovers, corn young vegetables, ornamental and small fruits.

Sanitation is the first step to controlling slugs. But if they are found, other means of control are available, ranging from traps and screens to commercial baits, dusts and sprays.

Holden Playground Improved

The Holden Recreation Board is pleased to advise area citizens that the recent undertaking to improve the facilities at the Holden playground have now been completed.

Two students under the Student Temporary Employment Program, Linda Mackey and Diane Pasnak, with the assistance of community volunteers have set up a swing-slide set, animal rides, tetherball, several tire amusements, repaired the merry-go-round and built a fence.

The completion of this playground improvement was also due to the generous donation of an $800 cheque from the Elks Foundation, designated for this purpose. It is hoped that neighborhood children will find many hours of enjoyment at our Holden Playground.

4-H County Picnic Held At Holden

On Tuesday, August 7, a County 4-H picnic was held at the Holden campsite. Over 100 people attended the picnic to entertain the 15 Ontario 4-H members who have been spending some time at various homes in the County, following our members stay in Ontario this summer.

The picnic was enjoyed by all. A softball game was held with a wind-up weiner roast being enjoyed.

Holden Agribition Well Attended

The Holden and District Agribition was a great success this year. Many exhibits were entered. The large crowd enjoyed the exhibits, the showing of dogs, farm pets and horses. The Agribition concluded with a supper at the Comunes.

A very shy but proud little 12 year old, Stacy McKibbon of Holden took second prize for her pony "Honey" in the 14 and over category. This was Stacys first horse show. Her pony was very well groomed and all mannered. Stacy was very pleased to receive a second prize - a blue ribbon to match the blue halter for "Honey" her pony.

An open miscellaneous shower will be held for Debbie Zowtuk on Sunday, August 19, at 2 o'clock in the Holden Greek Catholic Church basement. Everyone is welcome to attend.

By Anna Shavchook

The Holden Agribition was well attended by members of the surrounding communities who come annually to view the extensive displays.

excellent horse show was part of the Holden ribition. Pictured is Stacy McKibbon coning in the stock horse class in which she placed ond with her entry.

For The Used Car Buyer!

It has often been said that the used car buyer is a much abused consumer. Well-true or not-the consumer who shops around and knows what to look for will certainly get the best buy in a used car.

There are a number of things the used car buyer should do before making a deal. Generally-most conscientious consumers will be on the look out for a car that is safe, is not overpriced, and will not cost an arm and a leg in repairs.

So-to get a good buy-the first consideration should be where to buy. The best buys are generally found by purchasing a car from a relative, a close friend, or a new car dealership, and in most cases in that order.

There are a number of reasons why a new car dealer may be able to offer a better buy than one that deals strictly in used cars. New car dealers generally sell their better used models to consumers and the poorer ones to used car lots. Also, most new car dealers have maintenance shops where they repair all the cars they sell-new or used.

The second consideration will be which car to buy. To increase the chances of finding a good used car there are a number of tests you can put the car through, both on the lot and on a test drive. A list of these tests and how to perform them is available from:

Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada
10225-100 Ave.
Edmonton, Alberta T5J 0A1

As with most consumer goods there are good buys-but you have to know how to shop and compare.

Quinte W.I. Report

On hand for the last Quinte W.I. meeting were six members and one guest. The meeting was held on Thursday, July 26th at the home of Mrs. Ethel Mazankowski.

The meeting was opened with the W.I. Creed, followed by the reading of the secretary and treasurer reports.

A discussion was held concerning two items of old business, these being further preparations for the wedding which the group will cater to on August 6th and a report on the trip to the Lloydminster Museum.

Correspondence was then dealt with which included the reading of two thank you notes - one from Viola Lodge for our donation to them and the other from the Shady Cove W.I. in appreciation for the gift on their 25th anniversary.

The current visiting committee of Mrs. Mary Loidl and Mrs. Ethel Mazankowski gave their report which was followed by the appointing of a new visiting committee, Mrs. Harriette Newby and Mrs. Lillian Arnett will now share the duties of this committee.

Roll call brought about some interesting tales as we each had to tell of an "embarrasing moment" as our names were called.

The birthday gift was then drawn for with Mrs. Doris Fox the winner this month.

Betty Deasett then adjourned the business meeting and the group enjoyed coffee and lunch.

Crop Report

Despite the fact that meaningful rain showers occurred only north of Red Deer during the week ending July 13, crop conditions throughout Alberta remain optimistic.

Only the Cardston-Claresholm district, located in southwestern Alberta, registers crop condition figures lower than 80 per cent for all crops.

Crops now have adequate moisture to fill at all points north of Ponoka. Almost all stations south of a line from Schuler to Bowden reported dry conditions, drought or deterioration. An exception was Enchant where timely showers were welcomed.

Crops within the threatened area are not deteriorating as quickly as expected and wheat in the Lethbridge -Brooks area is still at 84 per cent of normal. Wheat condition in the Medicine Hat-Foremost area stands at 85 per cent. The situation at Hanna-Empress is promising; the wheat condition there is 90 per cent.

While it is early to speculate on yield and quality, crop and weather conditions in the traditionally high protein areas of Alberta are encouraging for wheat producers.

On a provincial basis, 73 per cent of the wheat is in the short blade stage; 71 per cent of the rapeseed is forming seed pods and 57 per cent of the barley is in the short blade stage. Southern areas see barley heads emerging.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Gen. 2:2, John 19:30, Rev. 21:6. Jesus the creator, the Redeemer, and the final Judge. He is Alpha, the beginning, Omega - the end. After His creative work of all things the scripture says, He ended His work. Then at Calvary He said, IT IS FINISHED. And at the end of Revelation after telling John what was coming on this earth in the end time He said, IT IS DONE. He created for His own pleasure but sin entered, thus a new creative act had to be brought about by His death on the cross. The first creative act was complete and he saw that it was good. The second creative act was complete also and He gave up the Ghost thus accomplishing salvation by Himself. He said "It is Finished." What was finished, you might ask. The remedy for sin was finished. Man could be cleansed from his sin if he accepted Jesus as his sacrifice and sin bearer. This offer is still available to all who want eternal life with God. At last when He says, It is Done, and time shall be no more, then is when those who have accepted Him in this life will be forever with Him to enjoy His presence forever. In love He created, in love He sustains and keeps those He has redeemed but in wrath He will sentence to everlasting punishment ALL who reject His offer. Jesus said, I AM THE DOOR, by ME if any man enter in he shall be saved. As Good Friday approaches "REMEMBER" it was your very own sin and mine that nailed Him on the cross.

MTN To Boost Canadian Agricultural Trade

Canadian agricultural exports are approaching the $5 billion per year mark. That's nearly 40 per cent of farmers' cash receipts and represents an important source of foreign exchange for our country.

The recently-completed Multilateral Trade Negotiations (MTN) may have a large impact on this important agricultural trade.

Nearly 100 countries took part in the MTN. The result is revised tariff schedules within the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Many of the tariffs facing our exports have been reduced.

The tariff cuts will mostly be implemented in eight annual stages starting January 1, 1980.

Tariff reductions, along with the lower value of the Canadian dollar and a strong world demand for many food items, have created a great opportunity to increase Canada's agricultural exports.

Canadian agricultural exports valued at more than $1 billion in 1978 are affected by concessions negotiated at the MTN. Of that amount, about $500 million involves exports to the U.S.; $400 million, exports to Japan; and $140 million, exports to the European Economic Community (EEC).

The U.S. concessions are the most important for Canadian agriculture because these tariff cuts are deep and wide-ranging. Tariffs have been eliminated on $230 million worth of previously-dutiable exports, and have been greatly reduced on the remaining $270 million. About 80 per cent of the dutiable agricultural items Canada exports to the U.S. will benefit from the concessions.

The Canadian and U.S. tariffs on many products traded both ways across the border will be matched at lower levels.

In the livestock and meat sectors, a key U.S. concession was obtained on live cattle and portion-controlled beef cuts. For cattle, U.S. tariffs will be reduced and matched with Canadian tariffs at one cent per pound.

Canadian pork exporters should benefit from the removal of the U.S. tariffs on fresh and frozen pork and live hogs; Canadian tariffs on these items will also be eliminated.

In the grains and oilseeds sector, the U.S. will reduce its corn tariff from 25 to five cents per bushel. The current Canadian tariff of eight cents will be reduced to the same level.

U.S. tariffs on oats, rye and certified seed corn will be eliminated. the tariff on barley for malting will be matched with the Canadian rate at five cents per bushel.

The bakery industry will benefit from cuts in U.S. tariffs on biscuits, cakes, macaroni and pasta products.

Japan agreed to bind duty-free entry for rapeseed, soybeans, mustard-seed and rapeseed oilcake and to reduce the tariff on rapeseed oil.

In the fruit and vegetable sector, a key concession was the U.S. agreement to reduce and match its tariff on seed and table potatoes with the new Canadian rate of 35 cents per hundred-weight.

The Canadian dairy industry won improved terms of access to the EEC for aged cheddar cheese, but in turn Canada agreed to maintain its global cheese import quota at the present level of 45 million pounds.

Finally, Canada's substantial exports of tobacco to the EEC will enter that market with a new lower tariff.

Federal government officials now are working to assist the food and agriculture industry to take advantage of export market opportunities resulting from the MTN.

Irma Resident Passes

Residents of Irma and District were shocked this week at the news of the sudden passing of Mr. Cecil McBurney of Irma while on holidays in southern Saskatchewan at the age of 55 years.

Cec leaves to mourn his passing his loving wife Vera; a son Bill and family of Wainwright; and a daughter Karen Crossen and family of Spruce Grove; six brothers, Elmer, Allan, and Milton of Coronach, Saskatchewan; Lawrence of Portage La-Prairie, Manitoba; Kemp of Vancouver; and Ayton of Port Alberni, B.C.; two sisters Gladys Goodwin of Carberry, Manitoba and Hazel Hickson of Kelowna, B.C. as well as numerous nieces and nephews.

Cec McBurney was predeceased by his mother and father and three brothers.

Memorial services were held in Macleod's Funeral Home, Friday, August 10, 1979. Reverand Gordon Wilson officiating.

New Approach . . . New Potential

Sex attractants called pheromones may offer agriculture a hazard-free way of monitoring and perhaps controlling some farm pests.

The attractants, each of which is specific to one pest species, are placed in special traps in crop areas. They duplicate the natural scent emitted by female moths in their quest for a mate. Male moths simply enter the trap and are caught.

While the benefits of using sex attractants are clear in monitoring pest populations, scientists working with the compounds face a major problem - - only a few of the attractants are available from commercial sources. And to date, no Canadian company has tapped the potential for commercial pheromone production.

Teskes Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Dan & Lillian Teske

Lillian and Dan Teske celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, August 12. More than 200 relatives and friends gathered at the Bruce Community Centre to share this special day with them and wish them continued happiness and good health. Garnett Burnstad acted as master of ceremonies.

Seated at the head table, which was centered by a wedding cake flanked by bouquets of roses, were the bride and groom of 50 years, Edith Lentz, a witness at the original wedding ceremony, the couples sons, Gordon and Roy, Lillian's mother Lula Fredericks and Mrs. Frederick's twin sister Luvia Gray. The bride wore an attractive blue gown with a corsage of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

After the introduction of the head table, Jean Johnson, a long-time friend of the couple who came from Vancouver for the occasion, spoke briefly about her association with Lillian and Dan and then offered a toast to the couple. Mr. Burnstad then called on Evelyn Hiseett to say grace after which the ladies from the Bruce Agricultural Society served a buffet luncheon. After the coffee had been served, Bonnie Burnstad, the Teske's oldest grandchild, presented Grandma and Grandpa Teske with family rings, a gift from the five grandchildren.

Bea Fredericks then gave a short history of Lillian and Dan's 50 years entitled "A Teske Tale" after which Lillian's brother Ben Fredericks presented a gift from the family.

An old friend of Roy's, Walter Nolan of Calgary, spoke briefly to congratulate Lillian and Dan and comment on their hospitality to him while he lived in Bruce.

Letters of congratulation were received from Premier Lougheed and Minister of Transport, Don Mazankowski. When the speeches were over, Roy Teske led a sing-song. With Roy playing his banjo accompanied by Neil Kroeening on the piano, the good old songs sounded even better. There was also a great deal of reminiscing as old friends met and "remembered when".

Lillian and Dan Teske were married on August 2, 1929 and have lived in their present home for the entire time. Lillian Fredericks was born and raised in the Bruce district but Dan who migrated from Russia in 1911 at the age of fifteen, didn't arrive in this area until 1918.

For the first few years Dan farmed but in 1935 he attended barber school and for the next 45 years he operated a barber shop and pool room in Bruce until poor health made it necessary for him to retire.

Lillian began work in Bob Farlinger's store in 1947 but in 1952 she became the postmistress, a position she held for 22 years. In 1974 Lillian retired to live the good life and she and Dan now spend a good part of the summer fishing at the northern lakes and looking after their yard and garden. Winter finds them involved in Senior Citizen and Church activities as well as various other community projects.

Dan and Lillian also spend a great deal of time with their sons. Gordon and his wife Audrey farm in the Ryley district. They have three children; Bonnie, married to Brian Burnstad, Ronnie who works in Edmonton and Colleen still at home. The younger son Roy and his wife Gladys live in Sherwood Park with daughters Kerry and Susan. Roy is employed by Imperial Oil

Out of town guests at the anniversary celebrations were from Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Rocky Mountain House, Kitscoty, Sherwood Park, Tofield, Ryley, Holden and Camrose.

Viking Tire Playground Progresses

The Viking Playground Committee, a sub-group of the Viking Kindergarten Parents' Association, have made final decisions on the tire playground design. Our consultant, Mr. Gary Debney of Perc Play Pieces of Calgary is in the process of drawing our final plans.

We have made additions of three structures that are specifically designed for toddlers and an exciting 14 ft. tube slide. These important additions will make our playground a much more universal play area because of its ability to accomodate a wider age group. Even a child in his first year can have a swing in safety on our toddler swing.

As well as the play structures, we have had our consultant show park benches, picnic tables, a parent watch center, placement of trees on the east side and also a man made hill. We are going to need additional funds for these items. We want to do as much toward finishing off these additional projects as possible.

It is true these are extras – but, when you stop to consider the finished product and the functional beauty of being able to sit and watch your children play or eat a lunch in the shade of a lovely tree, it makes the extra cost worth while. The east side will be very park like upon completion with a fun hill with a tube slide in it, and picnic tables to sit at under shady trees.

As you know we have been looking at a cost figure between $4,000 - $5,000 for our playground structure. The additions have increased our financial needs by $700.00 A tenative cost break-down follows: Pure Play Pieces - design fee $2,100; Hardware - $1,000; Expenses - $600; Additional play equipment (14 ft. tube slide and swing hardware) - $700 which totals $4,400 as well as 160 ft. of 3/8 in. galvanized chain and proof coil galvanized chain at a cost of $2.00 per ft. - $320 and 180 ft. of 1/4 in. galvanized chain at $1.00 per ft.

An excellent job of officiating was done by M.C. Joe Farnel at the Holden School Reunion held in the Holden Hall on August 18, 1979. The reunion honored the classes of 1928, 1938, 1953 and 1978.

Rattray Shorthorns Win Shows

Shorthorns from the Raydur Stock Farm of Viking have once again been selected from among the best of the breed in both Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The Rattrays have recently travelled to Vegreville on the 31st of July; then on to Regina for the 4th of August show and back to the four day Camrose Fair on the 6th of August; to enter their stock in the shorthorn classes.

Approximately 85 animals were viewed by the judges at the Regina show with Muridale Burnham, a 2 year old shorthorn from the Rattray farm receiving the highest award offered in this class - Senior Champion Bull.

Muridale Burnham went on to claim the same title in the Camrose Fair where the judges made their selection from a showing of approximately sixty animals. In addition, the Raydur Farms 2 year old, was chosen as Supreme Champion Shorthorn Bull.

Raydur Cheeky 313, a 2 year old female shorthorn, born and raised on the Raydur Farm northeast of Viking also made an impressive showing. Following a successful show in the showring last year the 2 year old female was selected as the Grand Champion Female in both the Camrose and Regina stock shows.

Reserve Junior Champion Bull was also awarded to Raydur Farms. This award going to Prairie Lane Diamond 4-K, born in January of 1978.

I.G.A. To Open New Modernized Shopping Facility

Following the destructive fire of March 19, 1979, which completely gutted the Viking I.G.A., a decision was reached to rebuild as soon as possible.

Construction of the new facility began on May 7th and progressed rapidly. Fortunately, there were no major hold-ups. Another three week period is now necessary to install equipment and stock the new store upon arrival of the equipment.

The new I.G.A. will provide approximately 7,000 sq. ft. of modernized shopping - nearly twice that available in the former building. A paved parking area with a 50 vehicle capacity has been provided. The store is equipped with three check-outs, 50 brand new shopping carts and automatic doors to assure fast, friendly and efficient service. A large store office is situated in the front section of the building with a "customer service wicket" for added convenience.

Ample refrigeration has been incorporated into the design with a 24 ft. double-decker refrigerated produce case, assuring the consumer a complete line of fresh fruit and vegetables. In addition the store features a 24 ft. 5-deck dairy case to provide an excellent selection and variety of cheddar cheeses, fancy cheeses, margarines, etc.

An extensive, up-dated meat service area consists of an 8 ft. section for deli-meat, fancy sausages, party sticks, pre-pack meats, etc.; 32 ft. of fresh meat counter allowing for a complete line of chicken, hamburger, steaks, roasts, cutlets, spareribs, liver, fish, shortribs, etc.; a 12 ft. frozen meat case for a variety of poultry, frozen burgers and frozen fish products as well as a 48 ft. "stand-up" frozen food case to provide the shopper with a variety of frozen grocery products.

I.G.A. has utilized the benefits of modern equipment. A computerized ordering system hooked direct to their warehouse computer in Edmonton will ensure faster and more efficient delivery of products to Viking. In addition, an electric fork-lift has been added to Viking warehouse area to speed up operations.

Peter and Ron are looking forward to opening the new I.G.A. soon. They will be offering door prizes, free coffee and donuts, balloons for the youngsters and one big Grand Opening Prize.

Watch The Weekly Review for more details each week regarding the date of the Grand Opening and the announcement of in-store specials and door prizes.

Break-In At Holden

Tofield R.C.M.P. were called on Monday to investigate a break and enter report at the King George Hotel in Holden. Entry into the tavern section of the building was gained through the front door with the incident taking place sometime during the night hours of Sunday, August 19, 1979.

R.C.M.P. have stated that a moderate amount of cash was taken but are not able to disclose the exact figures at this time as the investigation is still in progress.

If there is anyone who has seen, or knows any information which may assist the police in their investigation, they are asked to call either the Tofield or Viking R.C.M.P. detachments at 662-3352 or 336-3434.

Senior Facility Grants Available

Senior Citizen organizations in Alberta can now apply for financial assistance for capital expenditures to upgrade or extend their drop in centres.

Financial assistance will be on a basic non-matching grant of five hundred dollars ($500.00), or the amount of the projects that exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00), a basic non-matching grant will be available, plus an additional amount on the balance on a matching basis up to three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) Maximum funding in any one year for this Senior Facility Grant Program will be Three Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($3,500.00).

For further information and grant forms contact the Regional Recreation Office at 583-2720.

All structural work to the new Viking I.G.A. Store is now complete and plans are for interior work, shelving and stocking to be completed during the first part of September.

We Can't Go To The Dogs!

Some dog owners in Viking are at it again! They seem to show little concern for the people in their neighborhood. The situation has arisen again where a very small number of dog owners are allowing their dogs to create an unwarranted disturbance in their neighborhood.

The keeping of dogs within a town's limits carries some definite responsibilities. Allowing these pets to run loose or create excessive noise or terrify people who come within close proximity of the owner's property or cause a foul smell due to lack of proper cleaning, displays a lack of regard for one's neighbors. Situations like these call for action by the municipal government to deal with such owners if they can't handle the situation themselves. And this is just what the Viking Town Council is considering.

At the August Council meeting, suggestions were made to formulate a by-law which would control the number of dogs which an owner can keep within the Town limits. A figure of two dogs per household was discussed in keeping with just such limits in some other municipalities in Alberta. As well, a general nuisance and noise by-law was also discussed and is a definite possibility.

We heartily support such a move by Council. The only sad part is that Council is being forced into taking this action by a small minority of irresponsible, unconcerned dog owners.

Yet the nature of law is that laws are established to protect the majority from the abuses by the minority. It seems that this is a situation that supports this basic tenet of the establishment of laws by our governments.

Viking Tire Playground

The free-hand sketch above of the proposed Viking Tire Playground, shows the design and positions of structures, trees, benches etc. of the completed project.

$180 which brings our total expenditures to date to $4,900

The above does not cover several of our other necessary items that are required to complete the playground. Items such as:
2 - 16 ft. x 2 1/2 in O.D. galvanized water pipe with end caps - fireman poles for one structure.
6 - bags of pre-mix concrete to hold the fireman poles in place.
100 ft. - 1 1/2 in or 2 in. O.D. manila rope for mountain.
24 - 12 inch spikes for a ship around one monkey swing.
9 - 6 in. x 1 1/2 in. pieces fully threaded rod - for the toddler climber.
Tires - 10.00-20, 10.00-22, 9.00-20, 11.00-22
Black dirt to cover the hill.
Trees for the east side.

The above items could be possible donations from individuals or from groups or organizations. All donations whether monetary or material will be listed after completion of the playground.

We have donations of all the fill required for our hill, milk for our volunteers on construction day, the required sand for the play area and also donations of construction day workers with their employers paying them their day's wages. How about that for community spirit.

Construction day for the Playground is October 20, 1979 and we will need approximately 75 to 100 volunteers and the use of tools on this day. The following is a list of tools we still require. We need help to fill it!

NAME	SPECIFICATIONS	QUANTITY
Impact wrench	½" drive, electric air or compressor	4
Ratchet	½" drive	6
Extension bar	½" drive, 10" or 12" long	4
Extension bar	½" drive, 3" long	6
Socket	½" drive, ¾" long	10
Box wrench	¾" size	10
Extension cords	Heavy Duty with ground
Chain saw	Heavy Duty, larger than 14"	5
Pick		5
Shovel & Rake	every volunteer to bring if possible!

As mentioned the above are items we do not have the use of for construction day. Let's show everyone that the residents of Viking and surrounding district have the kind of spirit that makes for a close knit and progressive community. Remember for this to be a real success for our children we all must pitch in and give financial and or material support. It will all be appreciated for many years to come.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I am writing to ask for help with a historical research project I am doing - a complete history of all of the old river crossing ferries of Alberta.

During the past year I have received a great deal of information about some ferries, but I need a lot more on the rest of the ferries (approximately 150) which operated throughout the provinces.

If any of your readers can supply any ferry information such as names of ferrymen during the period 1905 to 1923 (the official files for this period have been lost) photographs (which I have copied and return originals to the owners) information regarding accidents on ferries, winter crossings on "ice roads", humorous incidents, in fact any kind of "ferry-tales" at all, however small or seemingly insignificant, perhaps they could send them to me c/o the Glenbow Museum, 9th Ave and 1st. Street, S.E., Calgary, Alberta. T2G 0P3.

I hope that the result of my research will be some kind of publication to inform the present, and future generations of the very important and necessary role played by the ferries and the ferrymen of Alberta in the early settlement of the Canadian West.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Elizabeth Haeslie

Accident!

Lack of judgement and consideration on the part of the driver of an on-coming car forced a tractor trailer unit to close to the shoulder of the road and this was the end result. The accident happened on Hwy No. 14 between Bruce and Holden on Saturday morning.

Dist. Agriculturist — Bill Braas

Can grass and legume crops be planted between now and freeze-up?

Alberta Agriculture's forage crops specialist, Larry Gareau, says grasses can be planted anytime after mid-August until freeze-up because they do not require a large build-up of food reserves to survive the winter. However, there must be enough moisture in the soil for them to germinate.

Legumes, on the other hand, should not be seeded until just before freeze-up to ensure that they do not germinate until next spring. Unlike grasses, legumes require a considerable food reserve to survive Alberta's cold winters, and there would not be enough time for these reserves to accumulate before freeze-up. Mr. Gareau says the main risk of seeding legumes in the fall is the danger of a late frost the following spring.

He also points out that forage crops that are sown deeper than one inch do not usually emerge well. Their small seeds do not contain enough food to sustain them during a long growing period under ground.

A fine tilth makes the best seedbed for forage seedlings. However, because it can cause erosion and crusting problems in susceptible soils, it is a good idea to leave lumps on the field of a bout a half inch in diameter

In view of the cost involved in preparing a seedbed for forage crops and the price of seed, Mr. Gareau strongly recommends soil testing to find out what fertilizer is needed. He says the fertilizer should be incorporated into the soil before the crop is seeded, rather than with the seed, because forage seeds are considerably more prone to injury than the large seed of other crops. An even more important reason is that the fertilizer will kill the inoculant on the seed.

Companion crops are not recommended for grasses that are seeded in the late summer or in the fall. The reason is that competition from the companion crop would hinder the growth of the grasses which need as close to ideal conditions as possible to become well established before winter sets in.

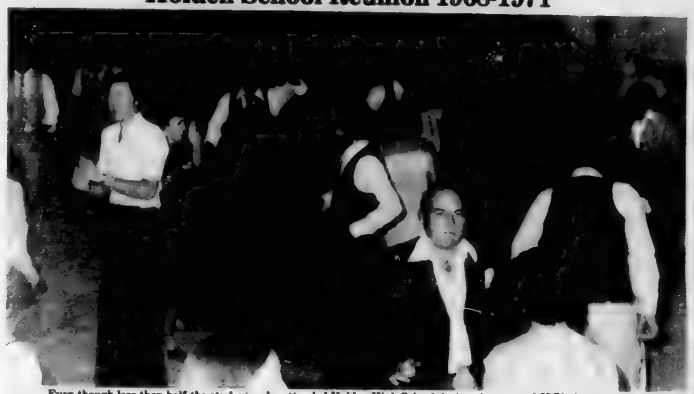
Holden School Reunion 1968-1971



Even though less than half the students who attended Holden High School during the years of 68-71 showed up at the school reunion held last Saturday in the hall, it was a complete success. Those who did attend enjoyed an excellent meal, hours of dancing to music provided by Ron's Stereo of Edmonton and many fond memories as the reminisced about their high school days. The organizers of the reunion deserve a great deal of credit for the many many hours of time and effort put into making this get together possible.

Holden Agribition Bigger And Better

Pride in workmanship and interest in community endeavors are the two main factors that brought success to Holden's Fifth Annual Agribition.

Judging from the large number and variety of exhibits the past year has been a busy and bountiful one. A great number of spectators as well as proud exhibitors turned out to partake in this annual event. Adults and youngsters alike enjoyed the pet and livestock show.

A record crowd stayed on to satisfy their appetites at the baked ham supper. When the final tally had been made late that evening the following exhibitors were recipients of the awards presented by the Holden and District Agricultural Society. Individual Aggregate - Doris Ogrodnick of Holden; Family Aggregate - The Piwowar Family of Viking.

Stewart Dobson who has been the assistant manager at the Alberta Wheat Pool Elevator in Holden for the past seven months has accepted the position of Manager at McLennan Alberta Wheat Pool. The family will be leaving the community of Holden shortly.

Kelly McKibbon won the "freckle contest" in the category of 12 years and under at the Holden Agribition.

Ladies of the Holden United Church W.A. are planning on holding a garage sale on August 25th commencing at 9:30 a.m. in the Schaning garage. They would appreciate receiving any contributions you may wish to provide. The more items on hand - the more successful the sale will be.

Mediation Scheduled County Of Vermilion River Teacher Strike

Department of Labour mediators will meet with negotiators for the Alberta Teachers' Association and the County of Vermilion River school board on Friday, August 24, in an effort to resolve the collective bargaining dispute that closed the county's schools on June 5, 1979.

Two previous attempts at mediation failed to produce a settlement on the issue of preparation time for teachers. As a result of the breakdown in negotiations, the county schools were strike-bound for 19 teaching days in June.

Teacher negotiators hope that the August 24th meeting comes to grips with the issue so that schools can reopen in September.

"Strike action was initiated because the school board threatened to reduce and possibly eliminate preparation time for teachers," says Dr. Charles Hyman, representative of the bargaining agent (ATA). "We see the mediation effort as an attempt to prevent that happening and to achieve an acceptable level of preparation time for all teachers in the county."

Kinsella News

Visiting with Bruce and Barbara Davis last week were Barbara's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Donnachie from Scotland as well as another sister and her husband from Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pickell. They left on Friday for Vancouver where they will spend some time with their brother Alex Brown and family.

The Kinsella Rose Senior Citizen Club celebrated their first anniversary on Wednesday, August 15th. A pot-luck supper and social evening was held and turned out most successful - twenty-three members and six visitors were on hand to share the occasion.

Mrs. Olga Overbo has returned from a very enjoyable trip across Canada with her son Tom. Niagara Falls, Kingston, points in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island were some of the stops they made to enjoy the scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Greenwood from Ontario are visiting with friends and relatives in this area.

"Vertec, the Time Machine, makes harvest earlier and shorter

Wind, rain, frost, early snow. Sometimes there just doesn't seem to be a right time for harvest!

And time was, you couldn't do a thing about it.

But times change. Now you have the advantage of the Time Machine: the VERTEC GRAIN DRIER.

You can beat nature's clock by getting into the fields earlier in the fall and by putting more hours into your harvesting day. And you don't have to watch time and the elements rob your crop of quality and grade.

If you take the time to buy a Vertec now, you'll make time this fall.

New Court House For Vermilion

A 4,365 million dollar contract for the construction of a two-storey (6093 square metres) Provincial Building and Courthouse in Vermilion was awarded to Binder Construction, Edmonton.

The Building Construction will be a combination of steel frame with an external load bearing masonry wall and external red/brown brick.

The lighting and air conditioning systems have been designed in compliance with the Provincial Government's Energy Conservation policy. There will be vestibules to all external doorws and the mechanical installation will contain heat recovery systems.

Special design features have been included to accomodate our handicapped people. A special feature of the building will be a partially glazed atrium through which visitors will gain access to the various departments.

Alberta government departments which will occupy space include: apprenticeship branch of advanced education and manpower; district and regional offices of Alberta agriculture; environment; labour; district offices of fish and wildlife; mental health and regional offices of social services and community health; probation, driver examiner and highway patrol offices of solicitor general; district and area offices of transportation; government services; attorney general and health unit.

The building is being developed by the project management division of Alberta Housing and Public Works. Architectural and Engineering Design was prepared by the department's professional services division.

NOTICE

Exhibit Increases At Irma Fair

Once again Irma held a very successful fair on the holiday weekend. Sunday saw a very nice entry of exhibits at the school. Contrary to what was previously reported entries were up in the flower and vegetable sections with a slight drop in the handicraft and 4-H sections as well as the junior handicraft.

It seems a great shame with all the work our young people do in school and in the 4-H clubs, that they don't take time to display it. Overall, the entries numbered over 1,000.

This year we were able to use the whole gym floor so the exhibits were better spaced and thus better displayed. We heard many times "my cucumbers are bigger than those" or "my sweet peas were better than those" but how do we know if you don't bring them in. It is a great opportunity for the whole family to participate. Let's hope more will be motivated to enter in next year's fair.

Horse entries were up substantially this year with a very good quality of horse flesh being on display. Judge for the day was Bruce Wade of North Cooking Lake and our capable fling man was Eddie Jackson.

Judging the Horticulture section was Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Berding of Vermilion. Handicraft was done by Sharon Strednick. Baking by Barbara Grannigan and helping both these ladies was Marilyn Kirk.

May we extend a very sincere thank you to our many exhibitors both local and out of town. Thanks to our many faithful helpers who turned out to set up, take exhibits and clean up afterwards. A very special thank you is extended to the New Horizons Club who supervised the school for us on Sunday evening and on Monday.

The fair prize list is complete and it will be printed in The Weekly Review as space permits and I do hope you'll let me know if mistakes are made when your prize money is paid out - hopefully within the next month. I hope you will be patient, as you well know, we all have work to do at home.

It was a good fair with many people viewing the exhibits and going through the caravans as well as watching the horses and ball games. We hope you all will be back next year. Have a good harvest.

Profile: Irma Guy

The guests at Chacutenah Manor in Irma know Mrs. Irma Guy as a woman who gives freely of her time and energies. A lady with a warm heart, who always has time to make their days more meaningful.

As her name implies, she was named after the village she was born in. The name being chosen by her grandfather and, except for a few years, she has always lived in Irma.

Her schooling for the most part was obtained in Irma. At the completion of grade ten, Irma started work in Wainwright and later moved to Edmonton, where she worked at Eaton's for a time.

Put it was not long before Irma lured her back. In 1949 she married William (Bill) Guy and began raising a family. The couple have five daughters and eight (almost nine) grandchildren.

Irma is presently associate Royal Lady of the local Royal Purple and just recently received her fifteen year pin from the Wainwright Chapter.

When her daughters were the appropriate ages for guides and brownies, Irma was active in the local association and held the position of President for a year.

But now, a large part of her time is spent across the street at the Chacutenah Manor, where she helps her husband look after the guests and the cleaning. If she is going uptown, she gives anyone else wanting to go, a ride. If she is available when guests take holidays, she will water their plants, etc. She also helps them with their monthly birthday parties, plays the piano occasionally for their social evenings, finds the time for a game of crib with any of them and delivers the newspapers if she is coming from uptown.

Irma still finds time to enjoy fishing with her husband. She has also taking up sewing and has been mastering the art of making quilts.

People speak well of her in Irma and comment that she is a "happy-go-lucky" lady. If you should have the chance to meet Irma Guy, I'm sure you'll agree.

Irma News and Views

Visiting in Irma over the holiday weekend were several 4-H visitors from Simcoe County, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Corrigan, chaperones for the group were guests of Richard and Stella Glasgow. Also staying at the Glasgows home were Marianne Reynolds and Karen Bretchet guests of Leila and Leighs.

Staying with Sherry Littlewood and later with the Smiths was Bob Link while his sister Lori was visiting with Dianne Smith.

At the Curries, Paul Reynolds spent the week with Ian while the Newtons hosted Robert McArthur. The week before Karen had a Californian 4-H guest - Kandy Heller of Merced, California. The California group had travelled by bus camping out or staying in hotels and had the misfortune to run out of gas in Washington State, causing a three hour delay. Kandy had brought fresh tomatoes, canteloupe and other fruit for the host families.

Other recent visitors at the Newtons were John's brother, Pat Wall and friend and this week his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. P. Geiger of Moose Jaw.

As a concerned citizen may I request that the individuals who distribute garbage on the road on their way to the dump at least have the courtesy to pick it up upon return.

Visiting with friends and relatives during the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fuder and family of Grand Centre, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fuder and family of Victoria, B.C. and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bacon and Jenifer of Edmonton. On Sunday, 22 members of the family met at the Steak House in Wainwright for a Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnston of the Strawberry-Plains district on the sudden passing of their daughter, Mrs. Jo Anne Wills in Lahr, Germany.

Isabel and Chester Bartholow of Sundre recently visited with Marion and Pat Muldoon at Prince Albert. They called in at Irma on their way home to help Isabel's dad celebrate his 81st birthday on Saturday, August 18.

Brian Burr and Jim Jackson both celebrated a birthday on August 17th. Brian was 18, while Jim reversed the figures to 81.

Allison Bacon is taking tests in the University Hospital in Edmonton.

The Holt Hutterite Colony have begun harvest operations and began combining rape on Friday, August 17. They report a heavy crop.

A welcome to Irma is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Doug Kumick (nee Marlene Ramsey) and their three children. Doug is a member of the armed forces and is stationed at Wainwright. They will be living in the house last inhabited by Orville and Shirley Levig and are busy making major repairs.

Irving and Doreen Bell attended the wedding of a nephew, at Fort St. John, B.C. recently.

Congratulations to Arnis Gulbras and his bride. They were united in marriage at Sharon Lutheran Church on Saturday, August 18.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Fred Hill who is a patient in the Wainwright hospital.

Marney Barss and her mother Mrs. Jim Kennedy have just returned from a trip to Disneyland and other points of interest in sunny California.

Although a somewhat severe storm hit the Irma area and suspicious clouds hung over the southeast area, no reports of hail were heard on the radio.

Irma U.C.W. Report

The regular meeting of the Irma U.C.W. was held on Wednesday, June 27th at 8 p.m. in the church parlor with Mrs. E. Wilson presiding.

Mrs. Louisa Prosser led in devotions, her theme being "creative help for daily living". The scripture reading was Psalm 1 telling about the Bible which is the most exciting book of all. We sang Hymn No. 437.

The program was given by Mrs. Georgina Eager from Women of the Bible. It was on the five daughters of Zelophehad. It was short but very interesting. A letter on Amnesty International was read and a discussion followed. It was moved that the letter be put on file.

Mrs. Wilson gave a report on the rally at Vermilion held on June 14th. Elsie Pond moved the meeting adjourn. We closed with our theme prayer. We were served a delicious lunch by Mrs. E. Wilson.

The next meeting is to be held on Tuesday, August 28th at 8 p.m. with Mrs. M. Fischer in charge of devotions, Mrs. M. Dempsey in charge of the program and lunch will be handled by Mrs. J. Burton and Mrs. E. Wilson.

75th Anniversary Commission Alberta Culture

The 75th Anniversary Commission is presently seeking individuals who wish to take an active role in co-ordinating the activities of Alberta's 75th Anniversary. Albertans with proven leadership capabilities and who have considerable experience in the specific position assignment would be interested in these challenging positions. These temporary position assignments, with a proposed expiry date of March 31, 1981, are senior management in scope and responsibility and include the following areas: administration; publicity and communications; program operations and program services.

Manager of Administration

This professional manager will be responsible for establishing, co-ordinating and directing the services of a central administrative unit. This unit consists of finance and personnel; computer operations and funding; and office services. The Manager will establish and administer internal departmental administrative policies and procedures as well as provide a liaison role with other Alberta Government Departments to arrange for manpower, equipment, space and material requirements. Salary in the range of $30,000. Competition AC-75-ADM-1.

Manager of Publicity and Communication

This manager will be responsible for the total information and marketing activity for the 75th Anniversary Celebrations. This involves directing a group of professionals who will ensure that Albertans, former Albertans, prospective Albertans and the people of Canada are made aware of the 75th Anniversary Celebrations. This means arranging for information through advertising and publicity in all media; developing, implementing and assessing proposed marketing and information plans, ensuring appropriate schedules for announcements, functions, activities and projects; co-ordinating arrangements for speaking engagements, recognition activities and visiting dignitaries. Salary in the range of $35,000. Competition AC-75-COMM-2.

Manager, Program Operations and Services

A professional with the ability to co-ordinate overall field services, celebration activities and specific event projects is required. The Director will ensure suitable activities are conducted throughout the Province and that there is a continuous assessment of proposed projects for maximum public awareness and participation. This manager will work with participating branches of royal Government Departments, professional groups and associations, municipal governments and community representatives, and the public in celebrating Alberta's 75th Anniversary. Salary in the range of $35,000. Competition AC-75-PROG-4.

Assistant Manager, Program Operations

The Assistant Manager will be responsible for directing a program requiring co-ordination of numerous celebration activities and specific events in the field of amateur sport and cultural activities, including book publications and dedications, allocation of awards, commemorative functions, exhibitions, festivals, performing arts productions, films and commissions for works of art. This manager will assess all proposed projects to ensure adequate and equitable distribution of support, funding, time and the favorable acceptance and participation by the public. Salary in the range of $32,000. Competition AC-75-PROG-5.

Assistant Manager, Program Services

This manager will ensure that the 75th Anniversary Celebrations are shared equitably throughout the Province, and will manage program activities including arranging for suitable activities in all parts of the Province; conferring with other Commission Managers to ensure that activities in all areas are suitably timed; assessing the impact of program and public information activities in the various communities. The objective is to ensure that a maximum number of Albertans participate in the 75th Anniversary Celebrations. Salary in the range of $32,000. Competition AC-75-PROG-3.

Salary and Appointments

Starting salaries will be commensurate with a candidate's qualifications.

Appointments will be made through project positions, contract or secondment arrangements.

Applications, stating competition number, should be submitted by September 4, 1979, to:

Alberta Government Employment Office,
5th Floor Petten Building
10310 Jasper Avenue,
Edmonton, Alberta T5J 2W4

For further information concerning these positions, please contact: 75th Anniversary Commission

The Homemaker

By Maureen Bauman, Dist. Home Economist

Homemade jams have been around for years and so have the problems in making them set. The Food Advisory Division of Agriculture Canada reminds us that the sugar, pectin, acid and water have to be in a definite proportion for jam to set.

You cannot simply reduce the amount of sugar called for in a recipe and expect success. Don't tamper!

Some fruits contain pectin naturally and other fruits require added pectin to set. Most currants, blackberries, gooseberries and grapes do not need added pctin. These jams do need a longer cooking time to reach the gel stage than those made with added pectin.

The freshness of the pectin will keep unopened for two years. To tell if liquid is still useable, pour it into a bowl and look for clots. If there are clots, throw it out.

Unless specific instructions are given, don't interchange powdered and liquid pectin. Liquid pectin is added to cooked fruit and sugar after it has boiled for one minute. Powdered pectin is added to the unheated, crushed fruit before adding sugar.

For those interested in making jam with less sugar, or no sugar at all, there is a new product on the market. It is a gel agent called "slim set" and it sets the jam with very little sugar. For example, to three cups of fruit I would use 3/4 cup sugar or 1/2 cup of honey or a sugar substitute. The result is a jam that is well set and much lower in sugar. Look for this product on store shelves and try some this year.

If you have questions about making jams and jellies feel free to give me a call, at 663-3555.

A NEW PRODUCT

Watch for an Alberta product on the store shelves. This new product is packaged sour cabbage and it will soon be in the produce section of supermarkets. I tried the sour cabbage at the Edmonton Exhibition and found it very tasty. Look for it soon. Maureen Bauman

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Luke 24:6 - Remember how he spoke unto you.

Jesus told His disciples many things that were going to take place, but the present affairs seemed to occupy their minds and they didn't take seriously the things which would take place later until after He was crucified. Then, they were reminded and found how true His exortations had been. Is this not true of mankind today?

Saved and unsaved are both guilty of the same thing. Jesus speaks and sometimes very loudly and although we hear we say, well...I'll heed that later, or we say that is for so and so..it sure fits them.

A lapse of memory is a very bad thing always. It may be the cause of great perplexity and sorrow, especially when connected with divine things. Such was the case in this instance.

Jesus had taken particular pains to tell his disciples well in advance that he was to suffer and die and rise again the third day. But in their shock and grief they forgot everthing except that he had been crucified and buried.

A complete lapse of memory....how tragic. But was it any more tragic than those in our day who hear but do not heed? Will they wait until they are reminded at the Judgement bar of God?

Christ will be our Savior now if we heed His voice but if we don't He will be our Judge. As we hear of souls passing out into eternity and sometimes it is our own loved ones, we wonder did they heed His voice or will they be reminded when it is too late.

Isa. 55:6 - Seek ye the Lord while He may be found, call ye upon Him while He is near.

Former Rodino Resident Passes

A long time resident of the Rodino district - Mrs. Eve McRae - Johnson, passed away in the Edson Hospital on July 23, 1979, at the age or 90 years.

Eve was predeceased by her husband, Joseph McRae Johnson in 1955 and by two sisters - Miss Maud Thompson and Mrs. H.B. (Muriel) Watkins.

She leaves to mourn her loss one daughter Mrs. Ralph (Jiggs) Patterson of Wainwright; three grandchildren and four great grandchildren; two brothers, John Thompson of Mannville and George McRae - Thompson of Victoria, B.C.; two sisters, Mrs. A.T. (Cora) Christenson and Mrs. Jen (Tibby) Scott of Edson, Alberta; as well as many nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held in St. Catherine's Anglican Church, Edson, Alberta with Rev. J. Shoel officiating. Interment followed in the family plot in Viking.

Irma Resident Laid To Rest

Delbert (John) Haun of Irma, Alberta passed away on July 15, 1979 in the Alberta Hospital.

Delbert was born at Irma on February 16, 1913. He was raised on his father's farm northeast of Irma and farmed with his brother Edward. Delbert received his schooling at the Avondale school.

He leaves to mourn his passing four nephews: Donald Haun of Fabyan, and Richard, Harvey and Vernon Haun all of Irma; one niece Charlotte Smith of Camrose, a sister-in-law, Marjorie Mills of Wainwright and numerous great nephews and nieces.

Delbert was predeceased by both his mother and father, two brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services were held from the Irma United Church with Reverend Bert Jackson officiating. Interment took place in the Irma Cemetery.

Hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "How Great Thou Art". Pallbearers included Edward Ford, Norman Cooper, Melvin Hill, Robert Ford, Robin Prosser and Bruce Willerton. Acting as honorary pallbearers were Billy Whitley, Killian Goodwin, Howard Johnson, lawrence Savage, Willis Brink Senior, and George Ford.

Numerous floral tributes were received from family and friends in memory of Delbert Haun.

Long Time Resident Celebrates 100th Birthday

Monday, August 27, 1979 marked the 100th birthday of Mr. Bill Kelly, a long time resident of the Viking area.

A gathering of approximately 45 friends and relatives met at Parkland Nursing Home to celebrate the happy occasion, and wish him all the best. Mr. John Heslop acting as Master of Ceremonies read birthday greetings from Mr. Tom Lysons - M.L.A., Mr. Don Mazankowski - M.P., Lt. Gov. Steinhauer and a telegram from the Queen.

After the greetings were read lunch was served. The lovely birthday cake was baked by Alma Kelly and decorated by Elsie Hummel.

Bill Kelly arrived in the west in the early 1900's. Having left the family farm in Ontario and working out for a time, he then saw the need to secure land of his own as the family farm was not adequate to support the needs of everyone. Following his arrival in Viking, he worked at various jobs and later acquired a homestead north of Viking in the Moorsville District. In 1906 his father and twin brother also came west and two years later began the local hardware. Bill married, raised two sons and worked his homestead for many years before retiring and moving into Viking.

The Viking Community, the staff and residents of Parkland and his many friends join in wishing him continued health and happiness.

On Monday August 27th, 1979 Mr. Bill Kelly of Viking celebrated his 100th birthday with friends and relatives dropping in to extend their congratulations. Bill is a longtime resident of the Viking district and originally hails from Lucan Ontario. At 100 years young, Bill Kelly is a grand fellow who displays a slight impatience with pettiness in others, coupled with a saving sense of humor.

Alberta Culture Sponsors Regional Drama Workshop

Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks Department, with assistance from Alberta Culture, is sponsoring a Regional Drama Workshop in Holden, Alberta on September 21, 22, 23, 1979.

Two separate programs are available for students 13 years or older and adults.

The Performance Program offers participants four 3 hour sessions in Acting, Make-up, Movement and Directing. These courses will be held in the Holden School.

The faculty is:
Acting - Bill Chinn, Drama Instructor
Make-up - Stuart Carson, Make-up Expert
Movement - Darold Roles, Drama Instructor, Tofield School
Directing - Stephen Heatley, Department of Drama, University of Alberta.

The Technical Theatre Program offers participants a 12 hour course in basic elements of stage design and management. This course will include information on sets, lights and sound.

John Madill, of the Technical Theatre Program at Grant MacEwan Community College will conduct this course. It will take place at the Regional Theatre.

The Workshop schedule is as follows:

Classes begin at 7:00 p.m. on Friday evening. On Saturday sessions are from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday evening there will be a party for all participants. The Sunday morning session runs from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

There is a non-refundable registration fee of $10.00.

The fee covers the cost of materials used and includes coffee and lunch on the Saturday. Participants are responsible for their own accommodation although information on accommodation is available from George Baker at 663-3730 Ext. 24.

Rural Communities To Benefit From Federal Provincial Grants

Locally, the communities of Ryley, Holden, Viking and Irma are to receive substantial grant funds through a newly established 6 million dollar Federal-Provincial program. A total of $569,500.00 in grants have been approved for distribution to these four communities.

The grants became available through the Neighborhood improvement component of the Community Services Program. This joint Federal Provincial funding was aimed at providing financial assistance to communities with a populace of 6 thousand or less.

The Community Improvement Funds are being made available to a wide variety of projects aimed at upgrading facilities and services in neighborhoods and small communities. Included in the list of projects are funds for rehabilitating older neighborhoods, providing open space and recreational facilities and the construction of community centres and municipal buildings.

Grants were established on a $2.00 per capita maximum basis with the Neighborhood Improvement Program providing up to 75% of the estimated cost and the community responsible for the remaining 25%.

The Village of Ryley is to receive a total of $304,000.00 through this program. Of this $171,000.00 is to go towards the construction of a new curling rink and facilities. An additional $38 thousand has been designated for library use.

Viking's application for grant funds to assist in a street up-grading program has also received approval. $80,800 has been allocated to Viking for this purpose with completion of this project slated for 1981.

The Village of Irma has also received approval of their application for grant funds and will receive a total of $225,750 to be applied against the costs of constructing a new multi-purpose recreation complex.

Holden will receive a grant totalling $58,950 which has been approved for the purpose of assisting with the Village's paving, curb and gutter program.

Under this program a total of 46 Alberta centres will receive grant money totalling 4 million dollars in Federal funds and 2 million dollars in Provincial funds, towards 82 specific projects in 1979.

An additional 8.65 million in Federal funds will be allotted to Municipal water and sewer projects and will be announced at a later date.

Motkoski Family Honored At Klondike Days Exposition

The Peter Motkoski Family of Bruce, Alberta were guests of Edmonton Northlands as an Alberta Farm Family Award winner during the 1979 Klondike Days Exposition on July 23rd.

The day started out with all 28 families gathering at the Northlands Coliseum. They then boarded the LRT to go downtown where they met with Mayor Cec Purves at City Hall, then toured the Legislative Grounds and the Muttart Conservatory.

After a noon banquet at Edmonton Northlands, with such dignitaries as the Lieutenant Governor of Alberta - Ralph Steinhauer, Minister of Utilities and Telephones - Larry Shaven, Alderman Ken Newman, and Edmonton Northlands officials, they had their pictures taken with the dignitaries in the infield of the Northlands Race Track.

After pictures were taken, they were free to partake in all of the activities on the grounds, including Northlands Showcase 100 and the Century of Agriculture.

The Alberta Farm Family Award Day is an annual event sponsored by Edmonton Northlands in recognition of the value of agriculture to the City of Edmonton and Northern Alberta.

Viking Blood Donor Clinic A Success

Ninety-nine people registered at the Blood Donor's Clinic held in the basement of the Catholic Church in Viking from 6 to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, August 22.

People began arriving before 6 and for the next two hours the crew and volunteers were kept busy with very little break at any time.

The response to the Red Cross appeal for blood was gratifying in view of the fact that it came during the busy harvest season which we felt had some bearing on a lower attendance of the farm population.

The local committee was complimented on the preparation and efficiency of a well organized clinic. Much of the credit goes to the Knights of Columbus and their helpers for their speed in unloading and loading equipment, the co-operation of all local volunteers, including the hostess, registrars, rest bed helpers, recorder and kitchen staff. A thank you to all who donated home made cookies for the refreshment table.

It is interesting to note that one donor gave his 36th pint of blood. Others are well past their 20th, including many of our Hutterite neighbors. A lady from Sedgewick who had just received her ten year pin remarked "I wear my pins proudly".

Special mention must be made of the increased attendance of teenagers who donated for the first time; an indication of their awareness of the great need for life saving blood.

Because it is necessary to process whole blood into four components within a four hour period of donating, the first truck left for Edmonton within one hour of starting time. Of the 99 people volunteering, 94 were accepted. Multiply 94 by 4 and Viking and District will have donated enough blood to help 376 people this year.

If Viking is allowed to have a clinic again next year, we hope to break our record with an even greater number of volunteer donors. Wouldn't a nice round number of say 130 be great?

Poultry Marketing

Agriculture Canada's Poultry Market Review for 1978 shows that Canadian poultry producers marketed more than one billion pounds of chicken and turkey during the past year.

This was about five percent more than the volume sold to processing plants in the previous year. The increase was due to strong consumer demand. On average, each Canadian consumed about thirty-eight pounds of chicken and turkey last year, two pounds more than in the year 1977.

Imports of poultry meat from the United States also increased last year, reaching 66 million pounds. Canadian exports of poultry meat amounted to about 3.5 million pounds.

"Vertec, the Time Machine, makes harvest earlier and shorter

Wind, rain, frost, early snow. Sometimes there just doesn't seem to be a right time for harvest.

And time was, you couldn't do a thing about it.

But times change. Now you have the advantage of the Time Machine, the VERTEC GRAIN DRIER.

You can beat nature's clock by getting into the fields earlier in the fall and by putting more hours into your harvesting day. And you don't have to watch time and the elements rob your crop of quality and grade.

If you take the time to buy a Vertec now, you'll make time this fall.

75th Anniversary Commission Alberta Culture

The 75th Anniversary Commission a presently seeking individuals who wish to take an active role in co-ordinating the activities of Alberta's 75th Anniversary. Albertans with proven leadership capabilities and who have considerable experience in the specific position assignment would be interested in these challenging positions. These temporary position assignments, with a proposed expiry date of March 31, 1981, are senior management in scope and responsibility and include the following areas: administration; publicity and communications; program operations and program services.

Manager of Administration

This professional manager will be responsible for establishing, co-ordinating and directing the services of a central administrative unit. This unit consists of finance and personnel, computer operations and funding; and office services. The Manager will establish and administer internal departmental administrative policies and procedures as well as provide a liaison role with other Alberta Government Departments to arrange for manpower, equipment, space and material requirements. Salary in the range of $30,000. Competition AC-75-ADM-1.

Manager of Publicity and Communication

This manager will be responsible for the total information and marketing activity for the 75th Anniversary Celebrations. This involves directing a group of professionals who will ensure that Albertans, former Albertans, prospective Albertans and the people of Canada are made aware of the 75th Anniversary Celebrations. This means arranging for information through advertising and publicity in all media; developing, implementing and assessing proposed marketing and information plans; ensuring appropriate schedules for announcements, functions, activities and projects; co-ordinating arrangements for speaking engagements, recognition activities and visiting dignitaries. Salary in the range of $35,000. Competition AC-75-COMM-2.

Manager, Program Operations and Services

A professional with the ability to co-ordinate overall field services, celebration activities and specific event projects is required. The Director will ensure suitable activities are conducted throughout the Province and that there is a continuous assessment of proposed projects for maximum public acceptance and participation. This manager will work with participating branches of other Government Departments, professional groups and associations, municipal government and community representatives, and the public in celebrating Alberta's 75th Anniversary. Salary in the range of $35,000. Competition AC-75-PROG-3.

Assistant Manager, Program Operations

The Assistant Manager will be responsible for directing a program requiring co-ordination of continuous celebration activities and specific events in the field of amateur sport and cultural activities, including book publications and dedications, allocation of awards, commemorative functions, exhibitions, festivals, performing arts productions, films and commissions for works of art. This manager will assess all proposed projects to ensure adequately balanced distribution of support, funding, time and the favorable acceptance and participation by the public. Recreation Report

By Pam Rauser, Program Supervisor

SLIDE-TAPE PRESENTATIONS

The Community Recreation Planning Brasch has recently completed three slide tape presentations.

Community Playground Developenet is a ten minute program which emphasizes the planning considerations involved in putting a playground together.

Tire Playground is an eight minute presentation which concentrates on the importance of pre-planning tire playground structures.

Leisure Pools is a thirteen minute presentation which introduces the leisure concept in swimming pool design.

If anyone is interested in these services contact the Regional Recreation office for further information.

ARPA FALL CONFERENCE AND ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The location for this year's Conference is Jasper park Lodge in Jasper. The dates are October 25th to 27th inclusive. The Conference Committee has chosen as their theme; "Family - A Recreation Affair".

SKATING AND CURLING RINK ICE WORKSHOP (Natural and Artificial)

Plans are under way for the above workshop which is scheduled for Friday, September 28th and Saturday, September 29th, 1979 in Lloydminster. The workshop is designed mainly for rink managers and maintenance staff and will be very practical in nature. More information can be obtained from the Regional Recreation Office.

CANOE COURSE

The level I canoe course which was held on August 11th and 12th at Camp lake was a great success for those who attended. The canoers started early Saturday morning by going over the basic skills of canoeing and spent the majority of the afternoon viewing some very informative films.

On Sunday the group practiced tipping their canoes which proved to be a rather "cool" experience and then they canoed around the entire lake.

Everyone involved seemed to get a lot out of the course and suggestions were made to run a level II canoe course next summer.

Hopefully if a similar program is held again, we will get more participation.

Holden and District News

A group of Holden Senior citizens toured to Forestburg last week. An interesting attraction there was the coal mining operations.

A wrist watch was found at the Holden Wading Pool about two weeks ago. If anyone has lost a watch they may claim same by identifying it and phoning 688-3745.

A large group of ladies gathered to honor Debbie Zowtuk at her bridal shower party held last Sunday. Debbie was seated at the head table with her Godmother, Mrs. Lesoway taking Debbie's mothers place as her mother had passed away earlier this year. Also seated at the head table was her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Jeffrey, bridesmaids to be Lee Anne Rurka, Shelly Bilyk and Lisa Jeffrey. Many lovely gifts were received and a delicious lunch was served. Debbie will marry Clayton Jeffrey on Saturday, August 25.

Holden Couple Exchange Vows

The wedding of Valerie Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hallett and Kenneth John Stecyk, son of Mrs. Helen Stecyk of Holden was held on August 11th in Camrose United Church; with Father Van Damme and Rev. David Meddle officiating. The soloist was Heather Radecki.

Wedding vows were composed by the couple; the scripture readings chosen by the couple were given by Reg Kai and Regina Girard.

The bride, escorted by her father, was wearing a gown featuring a Parson's net-yoke embroidered with a cameo in pearls, a matching finger-tip veil was held in place by an embroidered Camelot cap; she carried a bouquet of coral roses and white daisies.

The bride's attendants were Debbie Wegner of Strathmore, Regina Gerard of Vancouver and Carol Flynn of Edmonton, sister of the groom. They were wearing identical coral gowns and shoulder shawls. Each carried nosegays of white daisies highlighted with coral roses.

The groom wore a beige tuxedo suit trimmed with dark brown; his boutonierre consisted of two coral roses.

Accompanying the groom were Reg Kahuny of Edmonton, Richard Bilyk of Holden and Blaine Hallett, brother of the bride, from Edmonton.

Ushering duties were performed by Robert Stecyk and Blair Hallett, brothers of the bridal couple. Photos were taken by Brent Hallett.

The bridal party received their guests in the Camrose Cultural Centre for a buffet dinner. Debbie Millemaka and Tina Komarnisky, nieces of the groom attended the guest register.

Grace was said by Father Van Damme. Ben Lutz acted as master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was proposed by Lloyd Shepherd, uncle of the bride, which was responded to by the groom. Bill Hallett responded to the toast given to the parents by Elaine Hallett.

Following the reception a dance and late evening buffet was held in the Holden Community Hall.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Ontario visiting the cities of Toronto, Ottawa, Barrie and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Stecyk are now residing in Calgary where the groom is employed by Home Oil.

$2000 FACTORY ALLOWANCE

These combines have earned their reputation the hard way, by doing the bigger jobs better and faster. Now you can buy a new Massey-Ferguson 750 or Massey-Ferguson 760 at a price that's hard to beat. The Big Combine and the Big Savings are both waiting for you now at our dealership during Action Time '79.

We've been given a factory allowance of $2,000 on the MF 750 and MF 760, which means extra savings for you.

Both combines feature Perkins fuel efficient diesel engines, and exclusive hi-inertia cylinders that maintain constant threshing speed to put more clean, whole grain in the tank.

Our factory allowances make it easier than ever for you to own a Massey-Ferguson combine. See us for full details or call.

FARMI

Measuring Accuracy 0.5%
Battery: Standard 9 volt
Shipping Wt. 2 lbs (1.2 kg)
Dimensions (w/case)
3½" x 5" x 7½" (9 x 13 x 19 cm)

The FARMI is made with the farm operator in mind. Its sophisticated measuring device is housed in a durable aluminum alloy shell. And all of its components are built tough to withstand years of use where it is used most — in the field

COMPLETE, READY TO USE
The FARMI grain moisture tester comes complete with a 9-volt battery and detailed instructions. A convenient carrying case with a shoulder strap is included also.

FULLY TEMPERATURE COMPENSATED
Under normal conditions when the temperature difference between the meter and grain sample is less than 9° F (5°C), no temperature corrections are needed — no complicated formulas or arithmetic. However, if the temperature difference exceeds 9° F the necessary correction can easily be read from the slide rule

TEST HAY OR SILAGE MOISTURE WITH THE OPTIONAL HAY PROBE ATTACHMENT.
Take the guesswork out of haying with the new FARMI hay probe attachment. For loose hay or silage simply push the probe into a bucket filled with a sample and note the moisture reading. Then use the handy slide rule to convert the meter reading into moisture content (Measures silage up to 70%) For baled hay follow the same procedure except push the probe into the hay bale itself. Repeat the test a couple of times to get the average of the whole lot

FARMI COMBINES DEPENDABLE ACCURACY AND LIGHT-WEIGHT DURABILITY
The FARMI grain moisture tester is a microstructured precision instrument. It checks grain moisture by measuring dielectrics in the electrical properties of grain as the humidity of the grain changes. That precise precision enables the FARMI to offer accuracy that until now was only available in electronic testers sometimes costing twice as much or more (The FARMI grain moisture tester has been evaluated by the Prairie Agricultural Machinery Institute Test results available on request)

REVERSIBLE SCALE
The scale on the FARMI grain moisture tester is reversible One side shows moisture calibrations for Wheat Corn and Soybeans When reversed, the scale shows calibrations for Wheat, Barley and Rapeseed The bottom scale is for use with the handy slide rule when checking other grains

Irma News and Views

Harriet Tomashewski and young son from Vancouver Island called on some friends in Irma on Tuesday, August 21 on her way to Wainwright to visit with friends and relatives.

Yoga for senior citizens will be held at the Drop-In Centre from Oct. 31 to Nov. 30 on Wednesday and Friday, from 10 until 11:30 a.m. This program is free to seniors. For further information please contact Phyllis Craig.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jim Craig recently were Wilma Collins, her son and his wife, Lindsay and Janet Collins. The Collins are friends of Phyllis' cousin in South Wales and pleasant hours were spent talking about the old days and places where they used to live. They also visited with Fred Thurston at Hope Valley.

On Thursday, August 23, the digger started on the sewer ditch for the Eastview sub-division. Several loads of sewer pipe have been installed.

Eddie, Lorna, Charlie and Howard Jackson of Irma attended the wedding of Linda McLeod and Grant Rathwell on Saturday, August 25th. The wedding was held in Wainwright.

Miss Noreen Jackson, Phyllis and Rick Hammond of Winnipeg were home for the weekend and also attended the wedding of Linda and Grant. Noreen was the wedding photographer and will be returning to Winnipeg soon.

Bob and Geraldine Jackson and Geraldine's sister Caroline of Edmonton, spent the weekend at the home of Eddie and Lorna Jackson.

Everyone sends their regards and best wishes for a speedy recovery to Dick McRoberts following his most unfortunate experience early last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lawrin and children of Chilliwack are visiting at the home of Mrs. Grace Archibald. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moffatt and family of Sherwood Park and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ramsey of Calgary.

Mrs. Horn of Yorkshire, England, cousin of Elsie McRoberts is visiting at the home of the McRoberts.

Mr. Dennis Burke of Edmonton who recently returned from a European tour, spent the weekend with his grandmother, Mrs. Edith Cockroft.

Jim Jackson met with an awful accident coming out of the hotel last Friday after delivering 'meals-on-wheels' and is in the Hardisty Hospital badly bruised and very much shook up. The doctor says he will be in for at least five days. His right arm is in a sling and although he can't use it there are no broken bones. (Minnie Jackson) therefore have completed the news items for this issue. Minnie Jackson

Dairy Outlook

Canadian cheese production during the second half of 1979 will likely be about 12 per cent above the same period in 1978, reflecting strong consumer demand.

Butter production during the second half of 1979 could be down as much as 10 per cent from a year earlier.

Agriculture Canada economists expect total farm deliveries of milk and cream in 1979 will be one or two per cent above the 1978 level, with most of the increase coming from the fluid sector.

Irma Playground Completed

With part of the funds allocated through the Devonian Grant, the village of Irma constructed this playground at the south end of mainstreet. Due to being located along Hwy No. 14 the one big difference this playground has from most others is that it is used equally as much by travellers along Hwy No. 14 as it is by local Irma children.

Irma Folk Join Northern Tour

A number of cars left Irma on Thursday, August 15th at, or about, 7 a.m. carrying passengers to Killam where they met the bus which was to take them on a ten day tour into the North West Territories.

The tour was scheduled to take them north where they were booked to stay at High Level, Pine Point, N.W.T., Hay River, and Yellow Knife.

Johnnie and Mary Lambert, Ella McRoberts, Kate McLean, Adalaide Dootson, Doris Likness, Mary Dempsey, Dorcas Coffin, Peggy and Archie Fleming, Alma Enger and Minnie Jackson took in the Majestic Tour.

The group reported many interesting side trips and reported that accomodation was excellent and that they were treated like royalty.

It was also felt that our students should have the opportunity of taking a trip like this for education and learn how the people of different nationalities live and work together in peace and harmony.

Vialta Lodge News

The Kinsella ladies of the Kinsella Womens Institute came to the Lodge on Tuesday, August 21st to celebrate the birthdays of the month. The singing was led by Jean McKie, Kris Lysgaard sang a solo, Debbie Orscheski played the guitar and sang and Jackie Pederson played the piano as well as the accordian. The entertainment and delicious lunch provided by these ladies was enjoyed by all.

Having birthdays in August were Mr. George Theroux and Mr. Albert Whitford.

Mrs. Ferguson spent a few days last week in Vegreville visiting with her son and family as well as sharing time with her daughter who was on a visit from B.C.

Mr. Beschell spent a couple of days in Edmonton during the past week.

Mr. Cosmeringer left on Monday morning to spend a couple of weeks with relatives in Switzerland. He will be travelling by plane.

Mrs. McNally enjoyed a few days in Edmonton the past week, visiting with relatives.

Mr. Theroux celebrated his birthday on Saturday, the 18th and on Friday he had his daughters, Mrs. Astley of Irma and Mrs. Sonoff of Edmonton to help him celebrate. They brought a birthday cake which we all enjoyed at tea time. Mr. Theroux was ninety-two years young. Many happy returns, Mr. Theroux.

On August 21st, several of the guests went on the bus trip to Big Knife Provincial Park and enjoyed the day very much. After touring around they enjoyed a potluck supper at the park. Attending from Vialta were Mr. Loveseth, Mr. Lindberg, Mrs. Reger, Mrs. Savage, Mr. Dillane and Mr. Ewasis.

Phyllis and Allan Bradley of Rocky Mountain House called to see Mrs. D'Arcy.

Norm, Jan and Wendi Erickson of Vermilion were in to see Grandma Sorenson.

Myrna and Sina Mackey of Killam called to see Mrs. Elness and Mrs. D'Arcy.

Visiting with Mr. Cotter were Kay Cotter and Sharon Mansfield of Calgary. Also visiting were Kathleen, Kenneth, James and Josephine Cotter of Dearborn, Michigan.

Mrs. Carol Helgeland and Darrel of Camrose were in to see Mrs. Reger.

Other visitors at the lodge were Mr. and Mrs. David Davidson of Sedgewick, Mary Kaltunky of Calgary and Jean Child of Killam.

Mrs. Pederson enjoyed a visit on Saturday with her daughter and son-in-law from Ryley, Mr. and Mrs. Heilisen.

Mrs. Theroux is making her home at Parkland now, after spending six years with us. We all miss her and trust she will be very happy in her new home.

Howard and Helen Ferguson and Irene and Edith Ferguson visited with Mrs. M. Ferguson.

Our very best wishes to Mr. Kelly at Parkland who is celebrating his 100th birthday on Monday of this week ....August 27th.

The residents of Vialta Lodge held a Retirement Tea for Mrs. Lillian Evans on Friday the 24th of August. The head table was decorated with many beautiful flowers and a cake suitably decorated for retirement and birthday. Sincere wishes Lillian for happiness and good health from all at Vialta Lodge.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

I Jn. 4:13. Hereby know we that we dwell in Him and he in us, because he hath given us of His Spirit. Proves that we can KNOW we are saved right now.

I Jn. 5:10-13. He that believeth on the Son of God HATH the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made Him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of His Son.

And this is the record, that God HATH given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son.

He that HATH the Son HATH life; and he that HATH not the Son HATH not life.

These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may KNOW that ye HAVE eternal life; and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

I Jn. 3:24b. And hereby we know that He abideth in us by the Spirit He HATH given us. Rom. 8:14, 16. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. - The Spirit Itself beareth witness with our spirit that we ARE the children of God.

It doesn't say we hope to be but we are the children of God. John 3:5, 6, 7. Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh and that which is born of the Spirit is Spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, YE MUST BE BORN AGAIN.

Kinsella Resident Edwin Overbo Passes

Edwin Thomas Overbo was the second son of Olaf and Annie Overbo longtime residents of the Kinsella district. - He was born at Sedgewick on the 20th day of June 1926.

Edwin married Miss Lois O'Neill on the 11th day of December 1942. To this union were born five children. Lorne Beaumont of Viking, Randy Overbo of Tofield, Sandra Mandrusiak of Edmonton, Peggy Hoffman of Viking and Cathy Overbo of Kinsella.

Edwin farmed in the Kinsella district from the time of his marriage until his sudden death on the 4th day of August 1979. He was a gentle and loving man and will be sadly missed by his wife and family and many relatives and friends.

He was predeceased by his father Olaf in 1967. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and five children, daughter-in-law, and sons-in -law and 9 grandchildren, his mother Annie Overbo of Burnaby, B.C., his sister Helen Lytle of White Rock, B.C. and his brother Norman Overbo of Edmonton as well as other relatives and many friends.

Funeral services were held in the Kinsella Community Hall on August 7th with Rev. Ray Niebergall officiating. Interment followed at Kinsella "God's Acre" Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Alan and Neil Skeri, Eddy Myahak, Clifford Meakins, Bob Greer and Allen Andreson.

Earl Kjelland of Viking was in charge of arrangements.

Long Time Viking Resident Passes

Funeral services were held for the late Lydia Otto on July 25, with Rev. Ted Heinze officiating.

Mrs. Lydia Otto passed away in the Viking hospital on July 21 at the age of 88 years, 9 months, and 6 days.

Lydia Otto was a long time resident of the area, having married Paul Otto in 1910 at Cooking Lake. Later in 1930 the Ottos moved to a farm located northeast of Viking. This was home for Lydia for the next 49 years, until the time of her passing.

Lydia is survived by three sons; Harry, Sam, and August, all of Viking; three daughters, Selma of Vancouver, Ruth Krueger of Kelowna and Violet of Viking. As well she leaves to mourn her passing 12 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and a brother Ed Babkitz of Edmonton; two daughters-in-law, Jean Otto of Squamish, B.C. and Edna Otto of Viking and one son-in-law Bob Krueger of Kelowna; also numerous nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were Lawrence Babkitz, Ruben Otto, Herman Otto, Harold Hassett, Irving Babkitz, and Ernie Hammermaster. Ronaghan Funeral Home of Viking was in charge of arrangements. Hymns sung were "What a Friend We Have In Jesus" and "Abide With Me" and "Rock Of Ages". Lydia was predecessed by her husband Paul in 1958; a son Dan in 1978 and a grandson.

1979 Migratory Bird Regulations Set

The 1979 Migratory Birds Regulations for the Prairie provinces have been announced by the Canadian Wildlife Service, Environment Canada.

The daily bag and possession limits for ducks in Manitoba, Saskatchewan & Alberta are 8 and 16 respectively. In Manitoba, not more than two canvasback or redhead ducks may be taken in the daily bag and not more than four canvasback or redhead may be possessed in certain zones. A further restriction of not more than four mallard ducks in the daily bag and not more than eight mallard in possession applies in certain zones.

These restrictions apply to all waterfowl hunters until October 20. On that date these restrictions will be lifted for residents of Canada but will still apply to non-residents of Canada.

The limits for geese in Manitoba are 8 in the daily bag and 16 in possession, of which only 5 and 10 respectively can be Canada Geese. In Alberta and Saskatchewan 5 geese may be bagged and 10 possessed, with the additional allowance of 3 Ross or Snow Geese in the daily bag and 6 in possession on and after October 15 in Saskatchewan and on and after October 16 in Alberta.

The season dates in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and most of Manitoba are only slightly changed from last year.

In Saskatchewan a provision has been made this year to allow hunting of migratory bird with the aid of raptors in areas designated by provincial authorities.

All hunters except Inuit and Indians must have a migratory game bird hunting permit. This can be obtained from post offices across the Prairies at a cost of $3.50. The Post Offices also display posters of the hunting regulations, and hunting information is printing

Encourage Adult Immunization

Most adults falsely think a childhood immunization program protects them from diseases for a lifetime.

"Adults may need additional protection against vaccine preventable diseases", according to Bob Bogle, Minister of Social Services and Community Health, in announcing the new immunization Schedule for adults in Alberta.

Mr. Bogle points out that the new standards are somewhat different from the former recommendations. There is more emphasis on immunization of women against rubella, and boosters for polio are no longer required.

The schedule was prepared by the Alberta Advisory Committee on immunizations who recommended:

- All women of childbearing age should be tested and those found to be at risk should be immunized against rubella (German Measles) before their first pregnancy.

- Anyone with serious cardiovascular, renal, bronchopulmonary or metabolic disease should receive an annual influenza vaccination. In addition, all those over age 65 years should receive this vaccination.

- Outdoor workers should receive a booster every ten years to protect themselves from tetanus.

- Adults who live or travel in areas of northern Alberta where diphtheria is present, and those who work in social care facilities should be fully immunized against diphtheria.

- Booster for tetanus and diphtheria are normally given every ten years.

- Boosters for polio are not routinely required for most adults, unless they are travelling to a highly infected area of the world.

- vaccination against smallpox is only necessary for Albertans travelling to countries which require this for legal entry.

The Alberta Advisory Committee on Immunization was established by the Department and includes members nominated by the Alberta Medical Association, The Alberta Pediatric Society, the University of Alberta, and the University of Calgary.

Albertans are urged to have their individual requirements for basic or supplementary immunization assessed regularly through their local health department.

Control Sow-Thistle

After an international search for a natural enemy of the perennial sow-thistle, scientists at Agriculture Canada's Regina Research Station seem to have picked a winner.

They have imported the sow-thistle seed fly from Europe and are releasing it for field tests this summer.

The fly attacks the sow-thistle's seed-producing abilities. Careful testing in laboratories at the research station have shown that it gives good biological control of sow-thistles and does not attack any crop plants.

INVITATION TO THE PUBLIC
(Individuals, groups and associations)

WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT IN ALBERTA?

WHO SHOULD BE INVOLVED IN MAKING POLICY?
WHO SHOULD SET STANDARDS OF ACHIEVEMENT?
SHOULD GRADE 12 MATRICULATION EXAMS BE REINSTATED?

In October, 1976, the Minister's Advisory Committee on Student Achievement was established to review the quality and standards of basic education in Alberta. The Advisory Committee studied ways to assess, maintain and improve student achievement. It also considered possible effects of the withdrawal of compulsory grade 12 final examinations in matriculation subjects.

The Advisory Committee conducted 18 separate studies at different grade levels in several school subjects and analyzed trends in student achievement and data on marking practices. It enlisted the assistance of members of the public and of teachers to judge standards of student achievement.

In May, 1979, the Advisory Committee reported its findings to the Hon. David King, Minister of Education. In July, the Minister appointed Dr. Gordon Mowat as Minister's Representative to secure reactions from members of the public and interest groups who might wish to comment on the recommendations of the Advisory Committee's report.

YOU are invited to respond, in particular, to the following recommendations in the Advisory Committee's report:

1. THAT Alberta Education establish a 10-member Student Evaluation Policies Board to advise the Minister of Education on student achievement.

The proposed board would include members from the public as well as educators. Formation of such a board is intended to ensure continuing public involvement in the development of procedures for testing student achievement. Are you in favor of such a board?

2. THAT a province-wide testing program in selected grades be conducted annually as a means of monitoring student achievement.

The proposed testing program is intended to serve as a means of measuring student achievement, in schools and school systems, against province-wide standards. Scores would be available to local school systems and reports would be issued periodically to the public. Are you in favor of this testing program?

3. THAT mandatory grade 12 departmental examinations for the purpose of awarding students' final marks in matriculation subjects not be reinstituted.

In 1973 the province terminated mandatory use of provincial examinations in seven subjects commonly used for university entrance. These examinations are still available to students who wish to challenge teacher-assigned marks, and to school systems which wish to use common final examinations. In general, however, final marks in matriculation subjects now are determined within local school systems without use of externally prepared examinations. The Advisory Committee proposes that the assignment of final marks remain the responsibility of local school systems. Do you agree with this recommendation?

Respondents may wish to react to other recommendations of the report, a summary of which is available from Alberta Education and from university and public libraries under the title "Student Achievement in Alberta."

Written reactions will be accepted from individuals until October 1, 1979 and from groups until October 15, 1979.

Written responses are to be sent to:

Dr. Gordon Mowat
MINISTER'S REPRESENTATIVE
Devonian Building
11160 Jasper Avenue
Edmonton, Alberta T5K 0L2

Meetings will be held in various locations during October and November, to permit discussion with persons who have submitted written statements. If you wish to be informed of further developments and to be advised of meeting dates, please include your name, address and phone number in your written reaction.

Killam Agriplex Plans Events For Teens

The Killam Agriplex is promoting a new concept this year. Programs for the fall will be geared towards the teens. Friday, September 14 there will be a teen swim night from 10 p.m. to midnight. There will be many pool activities and the evening will be accompanied by music and a moonlight mood.

On Monday, September 17 Ball Hockey League will commence. All interested teens must pre-register by September 14 at the Agriplex (male and female).

Friday, September 21 there will be a Light Show with Bruce Bowie as the Agriplex is presenting a CHED disco. Come-on-down to Killam and BOOGIE.

October will be a month of a unique sporting event. Every Friday there will be a Every Friday there will be Disco Roller Skating from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Fall is for the teens and everyone is invited to take part in our activities.

Senior Citizens' Week

To show our appreciation for our seniors, the Agriplex is making the last week in September "Senior Citizens' Week". Monday, September 24 from 1 to 4 p.m. there will be bowling, a card tournament, games and free coffee. Wednesday, September 26 from 1 to 4 p.m. there will be pool activities, films and free coffee.

On Friday, September 28 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. there will be pool activities, a pot-luck luncheon, a sing-sing and free coffee.

Pool activities should be lots of fun for all. There will be several instructors in the water to help the seniors in and out plus instruct and help in the water. Also, for everyone's enjoyment, the water temperature will be increased, just for "Senior Citizens' Week".

All individuals in the surrounding towns are invited to take part in Killam's "Senior Citizens' Week" activities. Please phone for information at 385-3617.

Family Entertainment

Programming for the Killam Agriplex has recognized the need for activities that will interest the entire family. There is a Family Swim on Sundays from 4 to 5 p.m. In October there will be Roller Skating for the family on Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m., on Fridays from 7 to 9 p.m., on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon and 7 to 9 p.m. and on Sundays from 2 to 4 p.m.

There will be a Ball Hockey League for all young-stars. Registration deadline is September 14 (fee $2.00) and the League will begin September 17.

Swimming lessons will not commence again until October 1st. This will leave the pool open for more public swimming and for rentals.

On Monday and Wednesday from 7 to 8 p.m. the pool is open for lane swimming. This means participants can only swim lengths. This is followed by aquatic games from 8 to 9 p.m. (water polo, volleyball, tubes). Everyone is encouraged to come out and participate in our new and exciting Monday and Wednesday programs.

For September the public swimming hours will be from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, as well as Wednesday afternoons from 2 to 4 and Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 4. The early-bird swim will be offered again for the month of September from 6:30 to 7:30 a.m. Please pre-register.

Holden & District News

Residents of Holden and district were shocked to hear of the death of Robert McKibbin, and of the injuries to his son, in a truck accident south of Holden on Friday, August 24th.

Several years ago the McKibbin family came to Holden to farm, buying John Mothoski's farm. The entire family took an active part in the Catholic Church at Polan and Holden. They participated in community activities, in hockey and the 4H club. Also, Robert was coach of the boys' softball team this summer.

Perhaps Robert's last family outing was at the Holden Agribition on August 13th. Robert watched with great pride while his five children won several first and second place ribbons in the horsemanship competitions.

During his residence in this community, Robert made a great many friends here with his warm and friendly attitude. We are pleased to hear that his son is in satisfactory condition in the Viking hospital.

Gordon and Donna Komarnisky are the proud parents of a second daughter born Tuesday, August 28th, a sister for Tara. Grandparents are Jos and Stella Komarniky and Frank and Rose Marcinkoski of Viking.

Mr. Bruce Logan of Edmonton was a recent visitor with Borgheid Chetney.

Holden School News

Pupils in grades one to twelve confirmed their registrations Wednesday, September 5, 1979.

Twenty-five teachers are working with these pupils. Teachers and their areas of responsibility are as follows:

Lynne Hicks - Early Childhood Services (Kindergarten); Carol Kurash - Grade one; Lorna Brown - Grade Two; Roy Fairweather - Grade Three; Elizabeth Peterson - Grade Four; Ethel Brown - Grade Five; Marvin Tomashavsky - Grade Six; Carol Klonts - General Integration Room; Margaret Hallett - Skills Centre; John Emerson - Grade Seven; Derek Burden - Grade Eight and H.S. Social Studies; Arthur Micklich - Grade Nine; Len Lasgnar - Advanced Opportunity Room; William Glover - Pre-Vocational; Joe Fornal - Mathematics; Lyle Andrusky - Chemistry-Biology; Ray Vaudan - English; Divana McKoen - French; Charles Mathews - Physical Education; Beatrice Fredericks - Business Education; Gwyneth Astley - Music; Ann Slavik - Roving Librarian.

Supplementing the staff from Ryley are Randy Ness - Careers Counsellor; Victor Petruk - Industrial Arts; and Sharon Kropielnicki - Home Economics.

Custodial staff includes Joh Ogonoski (Head Custodian), Mildred Josey, Olga Mielimaka and Laurie Runnels.

Clerical staff includes Audrey Pratt as library clerk and Darlene Gibson as secretary.

Oleh Shykora and John Emerson complete the staff as principal and vice-principal respectively.

Kinsella O.O.R.P. Holds Regular Meeting

The Kinsella OORP met for the regular meeting Tuesday, August 28 at 8:30 with H.R.I. Rawluk in the chair.

There were 19 members present, three officers were absent.

Lady Lori Sparry and Lady Yvonne Greenwood gave a report on their trip to Supreme Lodge Convention and thanked the lodge for sending them. They presented the lodge with a "Little Opener".

The correspondence was read.

The lodge was asked to cater to a reception November 10th.

Lullo Bell and her batteries were discussed.

The Elks thanked the O.O.R.P. for helping and organizing the Pancake Breakfast held during the Sports Day. They also reported on gate receipts.

We have formed two groups rather than three as we were always short workers for catering.

Sunshine committee sent cards to Lady's Piccia, Marilyn Lockhart, Josie Holt and Ernie Owen who had been in hospital.

We were sorry to hear Lady Ivy Mollier is in hospital and wish her a speedy recovery.

Jean McKie turned her Lodge hat and blazer in to us so if any of our members need one, please inquire.

Lady Betty Oakes consented to look after our kitchen supplies.

Visitors to Visits for September is Muriel Rawluk and she will find someone to go with her.

Lunch for September will be handled by ladies Mary Armitage, Muriel Rawluk and Yvonne Rawluk.

Good of the Order is Lady Sharon Minchau.

Food-Poisoning . . . "Botulism"

A couple of years ago, four people died in Canada after eating improperly prepared marine products. They were victims of the deadliest form of food poisoning known to man - Botulism.

Every year there are reports of illness and death associated with Botulism and most are the result of eating food improperly preserved or canned in the home. Since it is home canning season again, the time is ripe for another warning to home canners. Work with care and caution.

How does it occur? Botulism toxin grows in low acid foods that have been canned without adequate heating. There are three prime conditions which encourage the growth of these deadly spores: (1) lack of air, which of course is the case in a sealed can or jar. (2) Low acid environments such as that found in meat, poultry, mushrooms, and most vegetables. (3) Temperature conditions of 40 degrees F. to 115 degrees F. also promote rapid growth - and it is wise to note that room temperature is well within this range.

To avoid Botulism poisoning from home canning this season - get a hold of a good canning procedures book, and follow every instruction down to the letter. Your local Department of Agriculture office has many such booklets and they are free for the asking.

Never, under any circumstances, use recipes with questionable processing techniques like those suggesting that there is not need for the heat process. Even if it is a recipe you have used for many years - the risk you may be taking is much too high.

Vegetables, meat and fish should all be canned in a pressure cooker. Simple boiling does not produce enough heat to kill botulism spores.

Check both the container and the contents of canned goods before you taste. If there is any sign of spoilage, do not taste it, but throw it out.

As an extra measure of safety - boil home canned vegetables for ten minutes before you taste them.

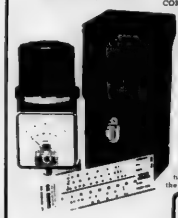
FARMI

Measuring Accuracy 0.5%
Battery Standard 9 volt
Shipping Wt. 2.6 lbs. (1.2 kg.)
Dimensions (case) 3½" x 5" x 7½" (9 x 13 x 19 cm.)

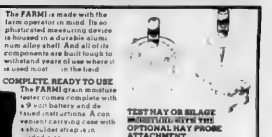


The FARMI is made with the farm operator in mind. Its sophisticated measuring device is housed in a durable aluminum alloy shell. And all of its components are built tough to withstand years of use where it is used most — in the field.

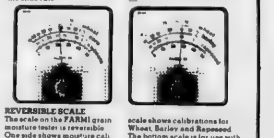
COMPLETE, READY TO USE
The FARMI grain moisture tester comes complete with a 9 volt battery and detailed instructions. A convenient carrying case with a shoulder strap is included also.

FULLY TEMPERATURE COMPENSATED
Under normal conditions when the temperature difference between the meter and grain sample is less than 9°F (5°C) no temperature corrections are needed — no complicated formulas or arithmetic. However, if the temperature difference exceeds 9°F the necessary correction can easily be read from the side rule.

FARMI COMBINES DEPENDABLE ACCURACY AND LIGHT-WEIGHT DURABILITY
The FARMI grain moisture tester is a transistorized precision instrument. It checks grain moisture by measuring differences in the electrical properties of grain as the humidity of the grain changes. That principle enables the FARMI to offer accuracy that until now was only available in electronic testers sometimes costing twice as much or more. (The FARMI grain moisture tester has been evaluated by the Prairie Agricultural Machinery Institute. Test results available on request.)



TEST HAY OR SILAGE MOISTURE WITH THE OPTIONAL HAY PROBE ATTACHMENT
Take the guesswork out of hay ting with the new FARMI hay probe attachment. For loose hay or silage simply push the probe into a bucket filled with a sample and note the moisture reading. Then use the handy slide rule to convert the meter reading into moisture content (Measures silage up to 70%. For baled hay follow the same procedure except push the probe into hay bale itself. Repeat the test a couple of times to get the average of the whole bale.



REVERSIBLE SCALE
The scale on the FARMI grain moisture tester is reversible. One side shows moisture calibrations for Wheat, Corn and Soybeans. When reversed, the scale shows calibrations for Wheat, Barley and Rapeseed. The bottom scale is for use with the handy slide rule when checking other grains.

U.C.W. Holds Successful Rally

The Annual U.C.W. rally was held at Vermilion United Church June 14. After an enjoyable Sing Song led by Irene and Renee Martin and Marilyn McGuigan from Islay, President Ruth Gray warmly welcomed us with an invitation to share in the fellowship for Christian service. Mrs. Irene Findlay and daughter Susan and Ruth Zelenski gave the morning devotions. Ruth read from Deuteronomy "open wide your hand to your brother, to the nation and to the poor of the land". Irene described the conditions in North Korea after the Korean war as she had lived there for several years. This first hand information drove home to us the needs of these people. Susan when she was nine years of age after being in Korea wrote this poem:

One day in May, as I lay
I thought of all the birds and trees & seas and bees
And all the wonderful things God gave us
Then I thought of all the starving mothers, fathers, children, and the sick
Dear Lord, why isn't every one one way?

Report from various chairpersons opened the business section.

Marjorie Parkin attended the institution of the new church group at Myrnam. She gave an account of the service at Beauvalon where they all met and the large church bell tolled out the call to worship - a truly unique and enjoyable experience.

May Peden gave the Supply and Welfare report - no cards or pill bottles are needed at present; send used stamps to Canadian Bible Society.

Renee Martin reported on Camp Whitney outlining the dates for the different camp sessions, a work bee on June 16 and a call for additional help that is needed to make camp activities a success.

Nancy Feenstra explained guide lines and application forms for bursaries. Eight persons from our area attended Naramata during the past year. We are hoping there will be candidate for the ministry from St. Paul Presbyterial.

Dorothy Bateman then introduced the guest speaker for the morning session Miss Marnie Tunbridge who has worked in Japan as a missionary for 29 years Her first hand experiences were most interesting and informative. Only 1 per cent of the Japanese population are Christian. Their focus on life is not religion but rather on education and success. The need there is not for financial help but for missionaries to come and live and work with the people.

Elsie Jones thanked Marnie for taking time to share with us her life's work.

Two big boxes were then opened and all the ladies donned "new" hats as they filed away to enjoy a scrumptious pot luck lunch.

The afternoon session began with a "Sing Song with the Marins followed by a report on where our dollars go that are donated to the M & S fund - home training programs and world outreach. We are urged to get a specific project and work on it as this is a more efficient way to spread the Christian program.

By the use of paper airplanes and members of the audience Olive Frissell and Marjorie Fischer introduced the afternoon speaker Mrs. Jean Luyendyk, her daughter and five children out of the 35 under her care at the present time at Cremona, Alberta. "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not" was Jean's quote from the bible as she related to us how she and her husband Roy have dedicated their home and lives in caring for underprivileged children. Some they have adopted from other countries - 79 in all in the 17 year project of dedicated love and care in a Christian home. They are not government supported but work diligently on a 3/4 section farm, everyone helping out. She showed slides that helped us visualize the activities and the many children that have graced their home. She emphasized the neglected children do not need organized activities but rather people who care for them and give them not only physical comforts but social and emotional as well, especially love.

Bessie Anderson thanked the speaker for her moving presentation and presented each child with a hat and pin.

Dorothy Clark and Hazel Patterson led in the closing worship. The theme was "Quiet now" - close your minds to things of the day and leave it open to God in quiet meditation.

Take my life and let it be Consecrated Lord to thee

Take my moments and my days
Let them flow in ceaseless praise

The offering of $310 was dedicated to the Luyendyk project.

The busy day ended at 3:45. The Rally will long be remembered for it was thought provoking and inspirational.

Away We Go . . . Northward Bound

What was the cause of the gay, excited chattering at the Killam Drop-In-Centre at the unseemly hour of 8:30 a.m. on August 16th! Just this - Senior citizens were about to take off on an unprecedented tour by bus to Yellowknife. Planes fly in; cars drive there; but, a bus, seldom, if ever! The reason, could be as we were to discover, the unpaved sections of road, either dusty or muddy. For us it happened to be the latter.

Joan Sutton, Toronto columnist, wrote: "Yes, I am growing older". The important word in that sentence is not "older". The important word is "growing". Mrs. Amy Robinson of Killam, with co-helpers Mrs. Tena Blakeney of Sedgewick and Mrs. Alma Enger of Irma, set out to prove the above quotation true, I believe. It was discovered that Majestic Tours of Edmonton was willing to give such a tour a try. And who would the pioneer passengers be? Senior citizens, of course! Ranging in ages from the mid-sixties to 92 years - we were a venturesome crew.

For example, there was Mrs. Kate McLean of Irma, a young 92 years and already a veteran traveller of the north and her friend of 86, Mrs. Ella McRoberts. Then there were Mr. Harry O'Brien of Killam, aged 91 years, along with his friend from Sedgewick, Mr. Robert Leeholm, a mere 88 years. Grandma Gunda Storbakken aged 85 with her sister Valda, the latter just returned from a trip to Norway, also joined the merry group.

Another just back from Norway, was Mrs. Brita Birchill, all set to go again. In all, 44 eager "growers" from the surrounding area, included three seniors from Rosalind, one from Provost, two from Consort and four from Edmonton, all prepared to venture northward that Thursday morning on what was to prove to be not only an educational experience, but a most delightful bus tour.

A number were interested in filling in their "Travel Alberta" pages as well. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mattinson of Edmonton said they had been unable to find another travel agency who was the least bit interested in such an undertaking as ours, except Majestic Tours. They fortunately, had been able to come along because of a cancellation.

We all felt that our jolly Majestic Tours escort Marg MacDonald and our driver, Scott Hartley, went far beyond the path of duty to show special spots of interest, or to stretch our morning and afternoon breaks a bit, especially if we had discovered an interesting Souvenir Shop.

At most stopping points we had a tour of our own or a local guide showed us the highlights. It wasn't long before all had become friends and a gay comaraderie was evident. There was never a dull moment...what with the chattering across the aisles, the jolly singsongs with a tape or led by talented people like Mrs. Peggy Fleming, Mrs. Dorothy Smallwood, Mrs. Tina Blumhagen.

Between times, goodies were continually circulating. Oh, yes, and one afternoon we had bingo fun, the winner's prizes drawn from the little pot of "Tissa". The bad word was "bus" with only the word coach permissible. The fine for each mistake was the big sum of five cents. And we made poetry too, most of the passengers adding their contribution to build up a delightful account of our tour. There were opportunities to share jokes and stories. Scott, perhaps, would have taken a prize here, or maybe Minnie or Johnny.

Day One took our "coach" as far as Valleyview, where we found it rather warm and somewhat dusty. We took our own valley tour and appreciated the beautiful setting. The tribute to John Diefenbaker touched a responsive chord in our hearts on the eve of the death of the "Chief". Both our driver and escort willingly gave us every possible driving bonus while Marg endeavoured to obtain tourist goodies for us everywhere; souvenir pins or badges, maps, booklets, etc. All these were much appreciated. Before our tour was over, we were all well decorated with our many gifts.

We noticed the crops immediately around Peace River looked quite good. On our return, most were already in the swath. Here Mr. Sanderson, an old timer like ourselves, was our tour guide. Of course, we all wanted to see the 12-foot Davis monument and to hear that story.

The Peace River Bridge was another fine sight. Peace River has a population of 8,000 and many fine buildings. If we had had more time we knew that Mr. Sanderson had much more to show and tell us.

At High Level we were privileged to spent the night in the post new Plainsman Motor Inn. Some ex-Sedgewick folk live there now, so a number of friendly reunions resulted.

On Day Three we set out for Pine Point in the Northwest Territories - five miles south of Great Slave Lake. This town, constructed in the 1960's sits astride the largest open pit lead-zinc mine in the world. The railway reached Pine Point in 1964 enabling ore shipments to be sent directly to Kimberley or Trail, B.C. for processing. We had the opportunity to visit the mine site (at least some of it) with a guide, and to poke around in the dirt for ore samples. We received badges and booklets here.

Because Day Four was Sunday, August 19th, Marg produced a tape and we sang some favorite hymns. We were travelling through Wood Buffalo Park and rather hoped to see some wildlife on our way to Fort Smith. Someone spotted a deer once, but only ravens and gulls were much in evidence. The few hours we had to spend at Fort Smith proved to be one of the most fascinating and interesting experiences.

We never got a glimpse of a forest fire, but we were truly given celebrity treatment. Mr. Jacques Van Pelt was indeed a knowledgeable guide. His love of nature and interest in his town was most apparent. He related a bit of history, how the settlement first came into being as a Hudson's Bay Post as far back as 1874. It was through the years the main government administrative centre in the territories from 1911 to 1967 and it was hoped that Fort Smith might become the capital of the N.W.T. That honor was given to Yellowknife.

The above report was submitted for publication by Mrs. Doris Likness and will be continued in the following issues of The Weekly Review for your enjoyment.

Combine Reports From Prairie Agricultural Machinery Institute

Evaluation reports on two self-propelled combines, the Massey Ferguson 760 and the International Harvester 1460 have just been mailed to Prairie Agricultural Machinery Institute subscribers. The reports are based on field testing carried out by the Institute in various crops last fall.

The International Harvester 1460 is one model of the series of axial flow combines recently introduced by International Harvester. In a report project engineer, Phil Wrubleski, relates the capacity of the International 1460 as being much greater than the capacity of the PAMI reference combine, a John Deere 6600. Rotor and shoe losses are described as low over the full operating range in wheat crops, but increase to significant levels in barley crops at high feed rates. Modifications to the pickup and header are recommended by PAMI. Maximum capacities are obtained in uniform, parallel single windrows.

The Massey Ferguson 760 is a conventionally designed combine with a transverse threshing cylinder and straw walkers. Mr. Wrubleski describes the capacity of the Massey Ferguson 760 as greater than the capacity of the PAMI reference combine and identifies strawwalker loss as the limit to capacity in most crops.

The Massey Ferguson 760 was equipped with a narrow spaced concave and straw walker risers. PAMI felt grain loss over the straw walkers, particularly in barley, could possibly be reduced by using an optional wide-spaced concave.

Mailed with the combine reports were three pull-type windrower reports. These covered the Versatile 10, the International Harvester 75 and the Co-op Implements 660 windrowers. The Co-op Implements and International Harvester were 7.3 m (24 ft.) models while the Versatile was a 6.0 (20 ft.) model. All three windrowers were centre-delivery design.

Unifarm Seeks For Pipeline Bill

In a letter to Hon. Ray Hnatyshyn, Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources, Unifarm President Howard Falkenberg has urged that high priority be given to a bill that was before the House of Commons prior to dissolution proposing amendments to the National Energy Board Act. The bill spells out procedures to be followed in land acquisition for the Alaska Highway Pipeline project.

In his letter Mr. Falkenberg observed that present legislation concerning land acquisition for pipelines falling under federal jurisdiction is badly outdated and expressed hope that the bill would find its way to the order paper soon after parliament resumes sitting.

Passage of the new legislation would go a long way toward solving an inequitable situation, he said, and would leave Alberta landowners with similar legislation related to pipelines under both federal and provincial jurisdictions.

During the last session of parliament a special Senate Committee on the Northern Pipeline, reviewed the adequacy of the existing legislation and the result of its work was presented to the senate as Bill S-12 and passed on March 4 of this year.

Pipeline hearings of the special committee were held early this year where representation made by Unifarm stressed the practical problems created by pipelines and associated facilities.

"A major portion of the new pipeline will be built alongside existing Alberta Gas Trunk Line right-of-way and in many cases this will cause damage to the land that will be impossible to estimate for a number of years after completion of construction," Unifarm said.

For this reason, an annual rental, reviewable periodically, particularly for above ground structures, is the only method that will ensure that farm operators are fairly compensated over a period of time, according to the farm organization.

Concern was also expressed regarding liability landowners would be forced to accept and additional operating expenses they would encounter because of the presence of pipelines.

Early in January of this year, Unifarm, The Farmers Advocate and Alberta Gas Trunk Lines, the company responsible for right-of-way acquisition in Alberta, reached an agreement on the contract document that would be presented to landowners affected by the project when approved by the Northern Pipeline Agency.

If the bill is implemented, all affected landowners will receive an information package that would include a sketch of the route sought, through the property; a detailed statement describing the basis for determining compensation offered; and a contract. Landowners will have thirty days from the date of being served with this package to appeal the route.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Terry Nils Field who passed away August 30, 1970

You bade no one a last farewell,
You said good-bye to none.
A dear heart ceased to beat,
And suddenly you were gone.

Ever loved and sadly missed by Uncle Hank, Aunt Vicky and Randy Field, David and Wanda Chomik 30c

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister Jeannette Meakins who passed away September 7, 1960.

Beautiful memories silently kept.
Of one we loved
And will never forget.
Always remembered by Mom, Dad, Linda, Judy, Connie and Grandma Hamner. 30p

In loving memory of our son Douglas Peter who passed away September 17, 1975.
Four saddened years since that fateful day,
When you dear son, were unjustly taken away,
Though your healthy being and spirit gone,
Our memories of you will forever live on.
Forever remembered and loved by Mom, Dad and family. 30p

Profile: Alice Hoines

Alice Hoines

The residents of the community of Viking know Alice Hoines as a person who makes her days meaningful to all -- giving freely of her time to many.

Viking has always been home to Alice. She was born in the Viking district nine miles southwest of town, where she lived with her pioneer parents on the family farm. While still a young girl, Alice lost her mother, in 1931. During the next few years she lived with her father and family and in 1939 was united in marriage to Ingolf Hoines. As a young bride, Alice set up her first home at the North Viking Gas Camp where her husband was employed.

The following year, 1940, found her husband transferred to the East Viking Gas Camp where Ingolf was appointed foreman. Here, his duties included the management of personnel and the building and developing of the camp. It was while living at the East Camp that Alice undertook the task of cooking for an unknown number of gas company employees.

In addition, Alice and her associates instituted the Quiste Womens Institute in the year of 1947, organizing twenty-two country women. She then followed up her efforts by filling the office of president for eight years, until the time of her husband's retirement in 1954.

Upon retirement Ingolf and Alice purchased the former Ken Hillker house in Viking. While living in town she was engaged in the operations of Lynn Lunch. Following this she managed the snack bar in the Carena and in 1961 she began employment as a cook at Viaka Lodge upon it's opening. She resigned from her duties at the Lodge in 1973 due to her husband's failing health.

Alice is interested in sewing, knitting and quilting and with this hobby she built up and convened successfully the bazaars for the senior citizens at Viaka Lodge.

Viking Bids Farewell To Koop Family

On Sunday afternoon, September 2, parishioners, their families and friends, and members of the Viking Community gathered at the lower auditorium of the Viking Alliance Church to bid farewell to Larry Koop and family. Mr. Koop has left his position with the Viking Alliance Church and will for a time, join the labour force.

Pastor Koop, a native of Abbotsford, B.C. has carried out the pastoral duties of the Alliance Church in Viking for over two years. Following his resignation, his aim is to join the work force, possibly in the Edmonton area, following which he intends to enroll in a study course at Regina which will provide the necessary education to enter the mission field - either at home or abroad.

During his stay in Viking he became a popular figure with young and old alike and was a frequent companion of the residents of Viaka and Parkland.

Larry, his wife Julie and their two small children are extended the best wishes of the Viking Community as they take this new step in their lives.

A farewell tea was held for Larry, Julie, Eldon and Robin on Sunday, September 2, 1979. Larry has been the Alliance Minister in Viking for the past two years and is now moving to Edmonton.

Care Helping Nicaragua Rebuild

"Rushing more than 880,000 pounds of emergency food to Nicaragua for some 80,000 desperate victims of the civil war has been our priority in recent weeks. Now we are concentrating on plans for urgently needed rehabilitation programs," Ray Rignall, veteran of 16 years with CARE, the international aid and development agency, said on his return from Nicaragua last week.

Mr. Rignall, who has been CARE's Country Director in Nicaragua since last year, returned to the agency's world headquarters to discuss plans for rehabilitation programs in that beleaguered country.

Reluctant to discuss his own brush with death during sporadic fire fighting in Managua, he stressed "the need to reopen Nicaraguan schools on schedule in September to begin rehabilitating youngsters who have been brutally victimized by the war. Most schools were closed during the revolution and many of them became centres for refugees who used much of the furniture as firewood for cooking. CARE - recently imported equipment for a school furniture workshop in Managua where desks and chairs will be constructed by Nicaraguans repair the damaged schools. That's the way CARE works - - we help the people to rebuild their own country."

Other CARE rehabilitation projects Mr. Rignall referred to included, "a plan to distribute a variety of basic grain and vegetable seeds to small farmers in Nicaragua. Those farmers who have traditionally planted cotton were unable to do so this year because of the revolution. Now it is too late but the beans, rice, sorghum and corn we are sending can be planted and matured in time for fall harvest."

He pointed to the urgent need for feeding and day care centres, expanded rural education programs and work-skill training for women. "Many of the women whose husbands and adolescent children died during the war are now the only source of income for their families. Day care centres are an obvious priority need in Nicaragua where such tragic family break down followed the war. CARE staff members on the scene are anxious to get on with expanded rehabilitation and reconstruction projects. We will do so when the necessary arrangements are made and as soon as donations come in and funds permit," he said.

Donations may be sent to CARE, Nicaraguan Relief and Rehabilitation Fund, Dept. 4, 1313 Bank St. Ottawa. K1S 5H7.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Gen. 3:20 and 2:17 and Jno. 3: 7. - But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. - And Adam called his wife's name Eve; because she was the mother of all living. - New God meant they would die spiritually so Jesus told Nicodemus he had to be born again. Jno. 3:6. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the spirit is spirit. So having died spiritually we need to be born again. God made it so plain. How to be born again is just as easy to understand. Jesus said Jno. 14:6 - I am the way, the truth and the life . . . He also said I am the door. He then is the way and the door so only through Him can we enter in. He took the punishment of sin upon himself so by personally accepting Jesus and repenting of our sins we can be born again.

If we meet the requirements God has so simply set forth and believe with all our heart we can be just as sure of eternal life with the Lord as we are sure we are living now. Jno. 3: 36 says he that believeth not the Son shall not see life: but the wrath of God abideth on him. What could be more plain? Heb. 9:27 says it is appointed unto man once to die but after this the judgement . . . To be judged of what?What - have we rejected Him or accepted Him. If we aren't with Him we are against Him.

Viking Town Council Deals With On-Going Issues

Reconstruction and up-grading of the Kinsella over-pass has been going on now for quite some time with only work on ½ of the bridge nearing completion. With light controlled one-way traffic the bridge has been the scene of two accidents involving a total of five vehicles.

At the September 5th meeting of the Viking Town Council, several on-going issues were dealt with.

After a presentation by Boyd Oberhoffner and Jamie Burr of the Alberta Municipal Affairs Department, Council gave first reading to By-law 826 which sets down the details of the proposed Viking General Municipal Plan. This By-law, if passed will give effect to the General Municipal Plan which has been developed over the past ten months by the Viking Town Planning Committee.

The dog-licensing issue was discussed when the General Government Committee presented Council with samples of dog by-laws from several other municipalities. Council decided to have a by-law for Viking prepared for the October meeting.

The P.S.S. Agreement which the Town entered into with the Provincial government has been approved by the Honorable Boyd Bogle. Council appointed Councillors Josephison and Taylor to represent Council on the P.S.S. Advisory Board which is to be established. Council decided to call on the local P.S.S. Committee to prepare a slate of members for the Board so that Council could establish the Board as required by the Provincial government. They decided to advertise for the position of P.S.S. Director for the Town immediately.

Council will tangibly support the construction of the Viking Tire Playground by the donation of $1,000 and the use of the Town's men and equipment on "Construction Day", October 20th. This followed a letter from the Playground Committee detailing its progress and needs to date.

Residents in the northwest subdivision can expect the start of paving operations within a few days. Council received information that September 15th is the proposed start date for the paving job. Council decided to construct three trailer lots on the 50th Avenue at its intersection with Main Street. The lots will be partially located on top of the water drainage ditch which enters the Town from the northwest. The ditch is gradually being culverted and covered with fill.

In answer to a request by the Viking Indoor Arts Committee that the Town hire one of the members of the refugee family which will be arriving in Viking, Council stated its position that Town workers are hired on merit and ability and the possibility of employment will depend upon an opening and the individual's qualifications.

In another item, Council received the approval of only approximately $120,000 worth of projects under the N.I.P. grants, out of the applied for $400,000 worth of projects. Displeasure with the government was expressed and the possibility of re-applying will be determined.

Irma Community Complex Receives Green Light

At an important meeting last Thursday night to review the program to date on the community complex, three developments occurred:

Firstly, those present were informed the government grant that had been applied for under the Neighbourhood Improvement Program (NIP), had been approved. A sum of $225,000 is therefore set aside specifically for the construction of the complex.

Secondly, a committee was struck to head up the project. This committee consists of Ron Dempsey, Chairman; Bert Smith, Vice Chairman; Judy Fenton, Secretary; Dick Milton, Treasurer; Erling Nilson, and Keith Harris.

Thirdly, the committee was given the power to go ahead with the construction of the complex provided the plans for the complex met general approval. To this end, we show the plans for the complex here, and a full set can be examined at the Bank of Montreal in Irma.

Kasten, Smith and Eadie, Architects, drew the plans to make the most efficient use of our present facilities in conjunction with the needs for the complex. The plan shown on page 8 of this issue illustrates where the newly designed complex will be sited in respect to the existing areas. Above the lobby area will be the community hall, and below the plans call for a crafts centre, club rooms, lockers and provisions for a 4-lane bowling alley. Each floor contains washroom facilities.

The main kitchen, on the ground floor, will be connected to the community hall by a dumb waiter.

In order that we can proceed as quickly as possible, would you make any suggestions, recommendations, etc. about the plans to the committee members before this coming Saturday, 15th September, 1979.

Of the $454,000 cost for the basic complex, we, the community, have to raise $35,000 in cash, and $45,000 in volunteer labour. This may seem initially a large sum of money, but do remember back to the 'artificial ice' campaign. Then we raised $32,000 in cash and $44,000 in volunteer labour - only a total of $5,000 less than our target for the complex.

Already volunteers have been canvassing to raise the cash, and this will be intensified in the next two weeks. We do hope we can count on your support. All donations will be recorded and a tax receipt issued. Thus, all donations will be tax deductible. Each week, in the newspaper, we will list all contributions made and our present total received towards our target of $35,000. If we can raise more than this, we can either cut down on the volunteer labour, or add more features to the complex.

If all proceeds well, we hope to have construction commence this fall. So we look forward to hearing your suggestions and receiving your donations!

Smith Earns Top Money In Canadian Cowboys' Association

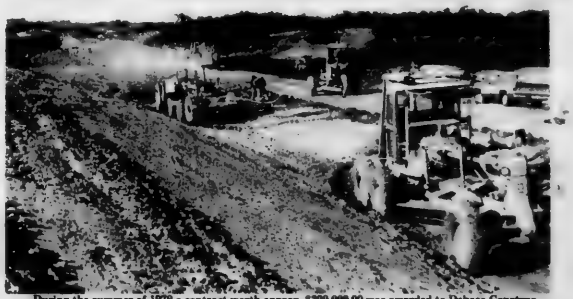
Rodeo history in the Canadian Cowboys' Association was made this past weekend when Don Smith of Viking, Alberta, scored a 70-point saddle bronc ride at the St. Paul, Alberta, Agricultural Society Rodeo.

The score wasn't a record-making ride, however, the score was good enough to put Smith in second place in the bronc riding at St. Paul, an eight-second ride which proved to be worth $164.73. That prize money, combined with Smith's previous winnings of $11,157.13 resulted in a new winnings record in the history of the North Battleford based CCA.

During the 1978 CCA rodeo season, Smith captured a number of awards, including the All Around title at the end of the year with a total of $11,272.25.

As a result of this past weekend's CCA winnings, Smith has now picked up a total of $11,341.86, making his the "winningest" cowboy in Canada this year, with the winnings coming in the bull riding ($7,554.72), saddle bronc ($2,913.46) and steer wrestling ($873.67).

Smith, who will be 25 later this month, will most certainly be successful in defending the All Around title he won last year...the only question being - "How much money will be win between now and the end of the regular season?"



During the summer of 1979 a contract worth approx. $200,000.00 was awarded to Deboco Construction by Alberta Transport for the construction and completion of two miles of new road located one mile east of the Kinsella Gas Camp and running north. As of this past weekend equipment has been moved off the job with the allotted monies already spent and less than 7/10's of a mile of actual road completed.

Let's Judge On Merit!

One of the major obstacles which will face the "boat people" when they arrive in this country is one which has been faced by many newcomers to our society for a number of decades. That obstacle is the deep-seated prejudice against anyone or anything different which some people in our area hold.

One dictionary definition of "prejudice" explains it as "intolerance or hatred of other races or nationalities". The dictionary also defines prejudice as "a preconceived, usually unfavorable, idea".

During the past few decades there have been a number of groups of people who been showered with intolerance and hatred.

At the end of World War II it was the European refugees (D.P.'s), many of whom are our parents or grandparents. During the 1960's and '70's it was the Pakistanis and East Indians. Now it is the "boat people". But are they targets for logical reasons or due to racial intolerance? The "boat people" are simply human beings who responded to the kindness of local residents and a government which "we" elected into power. We cannot blame them for coming into Canada for it is we who are bringing them here. Yet some people voice racial slurs against these people. If one wishes to disagree with their coming into Canada, let him her attack the source of the decision, the government and some Canadian people, and only them in an intelligent manner.

We fear that the newcomers to our area will not be judged on their merits as human beings by some area residents, but on the basis of petty prejudice. They are human beings. Let's have the dignity to treat them as such!

1943 Stampede Poster Unearthed

An old stampede poster unearthed by Roy Teske makes interesting reading. The 1943 stampede was held on July 28 with the net proceeds going to the war effort. At that time Henry Ovens was president. Gus Lentz acted as vice-pres. and Jack Parlett served as secretary-treasurer. Admission to the grounds was 50 cents for adults and children under 14 were admitted free.

Back in 1943 there were six rodeo events: saddle riding, loose rope riding, colt decorating, wild cow milking, calf roping and steer and slick riding. Top money in the calf roping was $7.50.

Horse racing seemed to be more popular at that time for instead of the two races held in recent years, there were four held in 1943: the free-for-all, cowboy race, ladies race and the pony race. The free-for-all was listed as having three heats of one-half mile each and the first prize was $15. An added attractions the poster states: "there will be a merry-go-round on the grounds and a hot dog stand."

4-H . . . What Is It?

Many towns - perhaps yours have one or two 4-H clubs. But how many people really know what 4-H really is? Do you?

4-H is an organization for young people and their families, with thousands of members in Alberta and millions around the world. It offers its members, aged 10 - 21 years, in Alberta, training in over 25 projects ranging from the traditional agricultural areas like beef and field crops to homemaking skills like clothing and foods, and on to special interest projects like photography, mechanics and woodworking.

The four "H's" in the name appear in the clover leaf logo for the organization, and stand for Head, Heart, Health and Hands - four areas of emphasis in 4-H club activities.

Aside from learning the project skills, members develope responsibility and gain experience and skill in running business meetings and carrying out community projects. a number of special 4-H programs help the members in their personal and social development through their teen years.

A 4-H club can be a lot of things to a lot of people. Could it be something worthwhile for your family and friends? If so, contact your District Home Economist with Alberta Agriculture for more information on how to join a club or get one started.

Our thanks to all who have brought vegetables etc. to the Lodge. All are much appreciated.

Remember our Bingo, Wednesday, September 19, at 8 p.m. and our Card Party for the month on Tuesday evening, the 25th, starting at 8:00 p.m.

Doris Likness of Irma called on Mrs. Elness.

Visiting with Selmer Heinen were Tara Holmes of Stony Plain and Cindy Howlett.

Ellen Dorin and Lynnette Field of Bruce visited with Mr. Adolf Dorin.

Joe Beschell enjoyed a visit with Jack McKie of Edmonton.

Mr. H. Lawes called on M. Cotter and Mrs. Seddaby.

Sarah Otto and Lillian Dorin of Westlock visited with Mrs. Otto, Adolf Dorin and Mrs. Savage as well as visiting with several others on Saturday evening.

Visiting at the Lodge on Sunday were George and Jeannette Ferguson of Vegreville who were in to see Marion and Olaf Sorenson of Edmonton were in to see Mrs. Sorenson.

Mrs. Orise Lundberg was in to visit with Mrs. Johnson.

Ellen Izzard visited with Mr. Walters.

On Friday evening Quinte W.I. and Vialta Lodge guests and staff got together at the Lodge to celebrate Alice Holmes 70th birthday. Everyone enjoyed the sing-song led by Mrs. Redwell with Mrs. Toverud at the piano. Mrs. Suddaby read a poem she had written for the occasion. Alice graciously accepted a gift of an office chair which was jointly given by Mrs. Lillian Evans from Quinte W.I. and Kay Borthwick on behalf of Vialta Lodge. Lunch was served including a cake decorated by Lois Crouse to represent a quilt to remind Alice of the many she has sewn for the lodge. Best wishes and many more happy years Alice from all of us.

Mr. Gommeringer returned on Saturday after a most enjoyable trip to Switzerland for three weeks.

Bruce & District News

Some people took advantage of the pleasant weekend weather to try their luck at fishing. Sonja and Norman Rabiitz, Jean and Jim Tkaczyk, and Audrey and Vernon Pratt took their families to Fork Lake to enjoy the last long weekend of the summer.

Evelyn and Harold Hissett attended the wedding of Harold's cousin Len Hissett which was held in Wainwright on Saturday, September 1.

The Koppels had the family home for the long weekend. Rudy Koppel, sons Douglas and Stanley and sons-in-law Dale Knievel and Hector Campbell participated in the Labour Day Golf-Fest at Vegreville. Stanley placed second in the second Flight while Rudy captured second spot in the tenth Flight and Douglas received the Consolation award in the twelfth Flight.

Joan and Irving Babiitz were in Calgary on the Labour Day weekend to attend the wedding of Joan's niece.

Frances and Leo Maruszeka have left the district to make their home in Tofield. However Leo is still farming south of Bruce therefore, he is back at the farm almost every day during harvest season. Hazel and Bob Bruce have also left the district to take up residence in Camrose. Their son Barry and his family will be living on their farm north of Bruce. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haugen will be leaving here shortly to make their home at Pierceland, Saskatchewan where they will be near their daughter Jenny. For the past year the Haugens have lived in Mary Robertson's house on main street.

Katie and Stanley Bracha enjoyed a visit daughter Jenny, son-in-law Mike and granddaughter Lindsay of Slave Lake. The Coopers were on their way to B.C. to visit Mike's parents.

Ernie Dorin attended the rodeo in Merritt, B.C. No doubt he was lucky enough to enjoy some sunshine for Merritt has the reputation of being the "hot spot" of B.C.

Ruth Dwyer hosted the Bruce Women's Institute meeting on Wednesday, September 5. Plans are being made for a pot luck supper for members and their families to be held in October.

Once again the Bruce Agricultural Society is giving you the opportunity to win your Thanksgiving turkey. A Bingo will be held in the Community Centre (School) on Friday, October 5, at 8:00 p.m.

Gladys Kadatz got a surprise when she was digging potatoes. She found an exceptionally large one that resembled a rabbit. Growing your meat and potatoes together may be one way to beat inflation!

Lorraine and Irven Fredericks attended the Lind Hardyard show which was held at the Sportex in Edmonton. They also spent the weekend in Sherwood Park visiting their daughter and son-in-law Gail and Gordon Chamulke and grandsons Jason and Robin.

In Memoriam

KIZIAK - In memory of our son Douglas Peter who passed away September 17, 1975 Four saddened years since that fateful day,
When you dear son, were unjustly taken away
Though your healthy being and spirit are gone,
Our memories of you will forever live on.
Forever remembered and loved by Mom, Dad, and family. 31p

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister Alice Kortzman who passed away on Sept. 16, 1977.
You bade no one a last farewell,
Nor even said good-bye,
For you were gone before we knew,
And only God knows why.
Our family chain is broken now,
And nothing seems the same
But as God calls us one by one,
The chain will link again.
Sadly missed by Mom (Hammer) Gladys Meakins and family, Cliff Hammer and family. 31p

HOLLAR - In loving remembrance of our wonderful father and grandfather, Glenn Clifford who was taken from us September 12, 1969.
May the winds of Heaven blow gently on the quiet and peaceful spot,
Where the one we love is sleeping.
And will never be forgot.
Though his smiles are gone forever,
And his hands we cannot touch,
Still we treasure all our memories
Of the one we loved so much.
Dear God, forgive our silent tears,
And the constant wish that he was here,
Others are taken, that we know,
But he was our's and we love him so.
Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by his children and grandchildren: Lark, Joanne, Susan, Glen and Jody, Randy, Ellen, Jason and Colleen, Geoff, Dixie, Glenda and Layle. 31p

HOFLIN Jean - In memory of our dear granddaughter who passed away on September 19, 1976 at the age of 15 years.
This month brings such sadness
In silence our tears will flow.
For one who left us so suddenly,
Today, three years ago.
God gave us strength to take this shock,
And sad has been the way.
For life for us is not the same,
Since you were called away.
It was a sudden ending
Our hearts still ache with pain.
The ones who loved you dearly,
Someday will meet with you again.
But as the years pass and the days go by,
We live from day to day.
Cherished memories you left behind
In our hearts they'll forever stay.
Lovingly remembered by Grandma Ann, Grandpa Mike Osubko and family, Aunts, Uncles, and Cousins 31p

In Memoriam

GIZOSKI - In loving memory of my dear husband, father and grandfather, Pete Gizoski who passed away Sept. 11, 1974.
Fondly loved and deeply [illegible]
Heart of my heart I miss you [illegible]
Often my darling, my tears will flow,
Dimming your picture wherever I go,
It's sad but true I will abide,
Until someday we'll be side by side.
Ever remembered by wife Rose, children and grandchildren. 31p

HOLLAR - In loving memory of my dear husband Glenn Clifford who passed away Sept. 12, 1969.
I remember the day I met him,
And the day God made him mine,
I remember the day God took him
And will until the end of time.
After all the sorrow and heartache,
There is one thing that makes me glad
He chose me to share with him,
The happy years we had,
Lovingly remembered by wife Meida. 31p

Card of Thanks

The family of the late Robert Moffatt McKibbon who passed away Aug. 24th, 1979, in an auto accident, wish to express thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy, spiritual offerings, floral tributes, and calls during our sudden loss. Special thanks to Father John Sienko and Father Aling, also to the Pipers - Ed Blake, Jack Blake, Eric Seddons, the organist-Miss Van Cawenberge, the pallbearers, and Ronaghan Funeral Home. Thank you to all the ladies who helped prepare and serve lunch and all others who helped in any way to make Bob's last walk revereent 31c

We would like to extend a sincere thank you to the many friends and neighbors who offered their assistance and help during Ernie's recent illness. Special thanks to those who helped at the hall, Pastor Tim Johnson for his presence, Doctors, Nurses and staff at the Viking Hospital. Thanks to all who helped with the work at the farm. Many thanks to the ladies for their thoughtfulness in preparing and bringing food and helping in numerous ways. The cards, gifts and many visits were much appreciated. Ernie, Annie Vicek and family 31p

It would seem that I can convey my sincere thanks to so many people through the printed word the best. During my long terms in hospital, I want to say how I appreciated the good food and excellent care given me by the Midical, Nursing and general staff of the Viking Hospital. Thanks to everyone who brought me flowers gifts, greetings and letters. Since I missed the Miskew wedding, I had many wedding guests visit me those 2 days and many visitors throughout my illness. I also managed to spend my birthday in hospital and it made me pleased to have so many visitors at that time. My eldest granddaughter, Karen Bauer, baked and decorated a delicious cake and brought it to me. At home, my husband looked after our home, the freezing of my vegetables and the pickling. Our children were all so kind and helpful, as well. It was very thoughtful of Mildred Hollar to bake and deliver a nice fresh cake to my husband and step-son. Thanks to Kathy Miskew for giving us several good tasty meals. To all of you "Deep Thanks". Mrs. Hazel Miskew 31p

Irma News and Views

Work is progressing steadily on the Eastview subdivision, sewer and water pipes are being installed, big units operating, digging for pipes etc. Other machines are covering them, while a front end loader hauls fine sand to cover the pipes. We have been told that 16 connections have been installed.

John Culbert from Vancouver is visiting with Minnie and Jim Jackson. John has recently returned from an eight month sojourn in the Emerald Isles during which time he visited many of Jim's relations and friends at Tipperary. He also visited in Co. Galway and Sligo and has manys newsy items to relate.

Minnie and Jim Jackson and John Culbert visited with Alma Harding, Stephen, Sandy and Larry at Sedgewick on Sunday, September 9th.

Alex Wallace from Vancouver, B.C. spent a few days with Mary and Bob Dempsey and while here called on other relations and friends in the district.

Eddie Jackson had the misfortune to lose the tops off two of his fingers on his right hand on Tuesday, September 4th. While he was unplugging a swather, the fingers were caught under a V-belt. He had them dressed in Hardisty Hospital and then had them re-dressed on Monday, September 10, at which time the doctor suggested a graft to speed healing.

On Monday, September 3rd, Eilen and John Armitage from Sedgewick called on Minnie and Jim Jackson to visit with their guests Frances and Tom Mooney from Vancouver, B.C. whom John had not seen for almost 50 years.

On Monday, September 3, Marilyan and Arthur Jackson took Frances and Tom Mooney to visit at the Holt Colony. They were quite impressed but felt no inclination to join the colony.

Eileen Prier and Edith Cockrell motored to Camrose on Thursday September 6 to take in the Eastern Star meeting which was being visited by the Grand Matron of Alberta.

Beverly and Albert Jackson came from Edmonton on Monday afternoon. Albert had booked off the greyhound bus with the intention of helping Eddie take off the crop. They combined barley until late on Monday night. The grain was dry and everything was going good and then it rained. Bev and Albert drove back to Edmonton on Tuesday.

On Monday, September 10, Eldon Fenton drove Isabel, Minnie Jackson and Chris Russell to Mannville to attend a meeting of Mannville L.O.B.A. Lodge in the afternoon. The Right Worshipful Grand Mistress of Alberta was scheduled to be present at this meeting.

Some people tell us that the hail season is over. It is too late for hail, never-the less, we have had reports of hail just last week from east and north of Lougheed and other locations not too far away. Considerable damage was done, especially to rape which was ripe, both standing crops and those already in the swath. Anything can happen in this country and generally does.

We should like to congratulate Jack, Irene MacKay and family on being awarded the Alberta Farm Family of the Year honor. This award was presented to the family at the 1979 Klondike Days Exposition in Edmonton.

The Irma family was in competition with 27 other entrants.

Alma Enger's nephew, Curtis Bond from B.C. visited briefly with his aunt last week.

Irma New Horizons

The Irma member of the New Horizons Club held their monthly meeting in the Drop-In Centre on Wednesday, September 5.

The meeting was brief as there was very little business scheduled. A committee was formed to take care of the repairs that are necessary to the roof where a small portion had been torn off.

Following the business meeting cards and scrabble were enjoyed. This was followed by lunch.

Just a note to remind all our friends that the Drop-In is open every day except Sunday from 2 until 5 p.m. for the enjoyment of members and their friends.

The WEEKLY REVIEW
Second Section Volume 2 No. 38

One Million To Canadian Children

The Canadian Commission for International Year of the Child has recently announced the allocation of the final portion of its $1 million grant to the children of Canada. Two previous allotments were made public earlier this year.

On the occasion of this third and last deadline, approximately $450,000 was distributed to some 270 projects for the education, recreation, cultural and personal enrichment of over 150 thousand children and adolescents across the country.

Also included are projects serving the social and health needs of the under-18 and their families. While the majority of projects extend directly to children, others are aimed at parents, professionals and the public in general. Urban as well as rural children will benefit from a range of activities involving all ethnic and language groups.

The Prairie provinces received $82,000 in funds, to be distributed among 47 projects. In two previous deadlines, 38 projects had received funding from the Commission. Provincial government funded programs in Alberta and Saskatchewan have also contributed to serving the children of these two provinces.

The final allocation of grants concludes the funding program of the Canadian Commission. An overwhelming response restricted funding to one out of every eight projects received, although it is estimated that a small group of non-funded projects will carry out their proposals through alternate funding.

Since January 1979, the five member Project Funding Committee chaired by Mrs. Phyllis Yaffe, Executive Director of the Children's Book Centre in Toronto, examined 4,000 submissions. These requests, prepared in the main by small, community-based groups, are being viewed as briefs to the Commission, expressing a spontaneous and honest appeal to consider the needs of children.

Special Feeder Sales Market Reports

Agriculture Canada will provide special market reports from key fall feeder cattle sales starting September 6th.

Price reports will be available on the Panorama Sale, organized by the B.C. Livestock Producers Co-operative Association; the Manitoba Sales in southwestern Saskatchewan; and the Northern Stocker and Feeder Cattle Sales, sponsored by local cattle producer groups in northern Ontario and Quebec.

These sales give and indication of price levels for other stockers and feeders sold through regular auctions and private transactions. Producers wishing to hear these reports can call Agriculture Canada's Zenith number at 1-800-267-8366.

Recreation Report

By Pam Rauser, Program Supervisor

SENIOR CITIZENS

On August 21st. the Senior Citizen groups from Ryley, Holden, Bruce and Viking visited Big Knife Provincial Park near Forestburg. The day dawned bright and sunny and we were on the road by 9:45 a.m.

We reached Forestburg at 11:00 a.m. where we stopped to refuel and then continued on to the Battle River Power Plant. At the plant we were divided into two groups and given very interesting tours lasting for approximately one hour.

SOCCER SCHOOL

The Soccer School which was to be held at Bruce School from August 20th until the 24th was cancelled due to a lack of registration.

FALL COURSES

Tentative plans are being made for numerous courses to be held this fall. Some of these include basketry, basic sewing, photography, Christmas crafts, square dance lessons, and loom weaving. Our decisions as to what courses would be offered were greatly aided by the survey which we took this summer.

Since this is my final week of work at the Regional Recreation Office, I would like to say that I have met and worked with a lot of very fine people. The experiences which I gained throughout the summer will be invaluable to me in years to come.

Pam Rauser
Program Supervisor

At the moment there is a lot of confusion concerning Recreation at a Regional level. It will take a lot of time and reorganization but I truly believe that everything will eventually iron itself out.

It is essential that everyone try and work together not against one another. As the old saying goes, "Two heads are better than one".

Initial Price Increases For Canadian Wheat

In a letter to Commissioner J. Leibfried, of the Canadian Wheat Board, Palliser Wheat Growers has requested that the initial price for wheat be increased.

Past policy has attempted to maintain the initial payment at a level of approximately 75 percent of the realized sale price. At present however, with an asking price of $5.80 per bushel and an initial price of $3.50, farmers are only receiving approximately 60 per cent of the realized price for their initial payment.

"At a time like this when export sales are some 2 million tonnes behind last year, and producers are facing a serious shortage of cash flow, farmers need to receive more of their operating cash at time of delivery", Jim Wright, Palliser President stated.

Regarding the current controversy over the two price wheat system, Wright went on to say, "we feel the current $5.00 ceiling should be increased to $6.00 per bushel to put it more in line with current world prices. Farmers should not be expected to subsidize consumers the difference between the current world price and the ceiling level of $5.00 per bushel."

Wheat Bunt Control Increases Shipments

Prairie grain farmers and elevator agents can help in the federal government's research program to control wheat bunt.

Bunt is a wheat disease caused by a fungus. It reduces crop yields and results in downgrading of wheat shipments.

Dr. K.J. Degenhardt, a cereal pathologist at Agriculture Canadas Lethbridge, Alberta Research Station, is looking for samples of wheat affected with bunt.

Dr. Degenhardt wishes to get samples from as many prairie locations as possible so that plant breeders can build into new varieties, a resistance to all races of bunt.

Growers or elevator managers who want to further Dr. Degenhardt's research should send a one-pound sample of bunted wheat to the Lethbridge Research Station.

Treasury Branches grew up with Alberta agriculture. Just like you.

Agriculture in Alberta has become highly complex and commercial. Generally it still remains a family business.

Treasury Branches has kept pace with the growth. But we haven't lost the family touch.

That's why your Treasury Branch manager is a good source of financial planning.

Ask him about our Agri-Plan, a loan service designed for farm and ranch needs - new tractor, improvements, breeding stock.

He can also help you invest your money in one of Treasury Branches' high interest earning programs.

There's bound to be a Treasury Branch conveniently near you, with over 200 branches, sub branches and agencies throughout Alberta.

Albertans Investing in Albertans

Away We Go . . . Northward Bound - Continued From Previous

Fort Smith, with its population of 2,500 is only a mile from the Alberta border. Mr. Van Pelt showed us the famous series of four rapids, known as the "Rapids of the Drowned", which is the nesting area for pelicans.

He showed us where the huge landslide had taken place making it necessary to found a new town site. We drove through the area where the Indians chose to relocate. Then we took a drive through the colorful streets with names such as Primrose Lane, Pelican Avenue, Pine Crest, Walrus Street, Whooping Crescent, etc.

The Vocational School and the School of Dental Therapy were pointed out, the latter the only training place for adults in the north.

We visited the fine new town offices where we were warmly welcomed by Mayor Kasser. We looked at some of Mr. Van Pelt's beautiful slides, but didn't have time to visit and tour the Radium-King Museum nearby. We noted the great St. Joseph's Cathedral, an outstanding landmark, and had a glimpse of the Grotto, a replica of Lourdes.

We also had an opportunity to see Mr. Van Pelt's home, a place of unique architectural beauty. And there was "Kid City" where this gentleman spends several hours a week working with the children. As if all this wasn't enough, we wound up at the Oblate Missionary House for a coffee and goodies.

The Mayor was present and how delighted the residents were to talk with us. In fact, Mrs. McLean met an elderly Indian who had worked with her brother in past years. The final injunction from these kind officials was: "don't come again for only three hours, but for three days!" Our thanks to Fort Smith for a most memorable afternoon and the lovely pin each one received.

The miles sped by quickly by on our way to Hay River, that busy port town on the Slave River. Previously, we had stopped to gaze in awe at the beautiful Alexandra Falls plunging 106 feet into the Hay River. These falls are located 33 miles south of Hay River. We looked forward to seeing Louise Falls on our return trip.

We had to leave our tour here until our return from Yellowknife, but some of us had to go and have a look at their famous purple school... perhaps the most modern in all of North America. Named for writer anthropologist Diamond Jenness, it is of metal, with no exterior corners or straight lines, only curves. An Indian architect designed the two-and three story building, and the students chose the color. We were to discover when we went inside, on our return, that the glass walled classrooms radiate from a central area. We were also told that this exterior purple color has served a great value to planes as a landmark. Ptarmigan Inn was most kind to us, serving complimentary breakfasts for the two mornings we were there.

Monday, August 20th, was cloudy and rainy at times, causing our windows to appear like dark brown walls from the muddy splashes. We could not complain because we had been told that there had been little or no rain for weeks and weeks.

We crossed the great Mackenzie by ferry, reaching Fort Providence in time for lunch. Snowshoe Inn was ready for our coming with a big sign on the dining-room door: "Welcome Majestic Tours". A delicious smorgasbord luncheon was enjoyed with fresh fruit for dessert: cantaloupe, nectarines, grapefruit, apples and oranges.

The beautiful Indian Craft Shop in conjunction with the restaurant turned us all "on" or rather our pocketbooks all "out". This is the only place we visited where flying mites could be annoying. Most of us had prepared for such emergencies by investing in Muskol at Peace River. As no one actually made use of it, we were able to exchange it for other goods on our return to Peace River.

The rain came down all the way as we travelled over muddy roads to Yellowknife. Yellowknife, only 320 miles south of the Arctic Circle, with a population of about 6,000 is situated on the North Shore of Great Slave Lake. Gold was discovered in the pre-Cambrian Shield area in 1935 with later discoveries leading to the establishment of the Con and Giant mine companies.

We visited the Con Mine in groups of eleven, but did not go underground nor see gold bricks being poured. The latter is done at night for security reasons. We did see the pregnant tank containing a cyanide dis-solution process as the only means of removing precious metals from ore.

A large sign warned us: "Danger - No Swimming".

Con (Cominco) celebrated its 40th anniversary on September 5th, 1978. To date, Con has poured a total of 5,348 gold bricks. Each brick weighs 45.5 pounds. It takes one ton of ore to produce one ounce of gold. In all, Con mines have produced over three million ounces of gold. The Giant mines have a similar story to tell. The gold is sent to Ottawa for processing. Con also has a new 250 foot Robertson headframe standing above a mile deep shaft at a cost of over 19 million.

Irma U.C.W. Holds Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of the Irma U.C.W. was held in the church parlor on Tuesday, August 28th. at 8:00 p.m. with Mrs. Edith Wilson presiding.

Greetings were extended to one and all by the President after which we repeated the "Prayer Purpose".

Mrs. Marjorie Fischer conducted the worship period. The Scripture lesson was read from Mark 5:36. For meditation she read a surmon by the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale.

Mrs. Mary Dempsey gave the program, reading "The Daughter of Jephthah" from the book "All of the Women of the Bible".

The minutes were read and approved as corrected. On a motion by Louisa Prosser and Peggy Fleming, it was decided that we have our "New-To-You" sale on Saturday, September 22 and our "Fall Bazaar" on Saturday, October 27th.

Would all those wishing to contribute to the sale please have their sale items in by Thursday, September, 20th.

There were 10 members present. There were 48 cards sent, 17 visits made and 8 units of literature read.

We sang Happy Birthday to two members after which the meeting was adjourned. We closed with our theme prayer. We then retired to the basement for our lunch which was served by Mrs. Louisa Prosser.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, September 25th. Mary Dempsey will be in charge of Devotions and Mrs. Edith Wilson will provide the Program. Mrs. Jenny Barber will be hostess for the meeting.

The Homemaker

By Maureen Bauman, Dist. Home Economist

Ask any school bus driver about bag lunches left on the bus. They'll tell you it happens everyday.

Think for a minute about the lunches you pack - are they interesting and nutritious?

We have to consider that our view of a good lunch is not necessarily the same as a child's view. Lunch is like the school uniform; it has to look right.

A good lunch should contain something from each of the four food groups - a protein foot - probably the sandwich filling, bread, fruit or vegetable, ideally both and milk.

Variety can be introduced with a different kind of bread. Try whole wheat or seasame buns, submarines, bagels, or muffins. Or even combine two kinds of bread in one sandwich.

Here a just a few samples of a "balanced" lunch

- double decker sandwich with chicken and egg salad on brown bread; celery sticks and cherry tomatoes; granola bars; apple and milk.
- buttered whole wheat muffins, chunk of cheddar cheese, hard cooked egg.
- ry stuffed with peanut ter, peach and milk.

Freeze a small can of juice the night before. It will help to keep the lunch fresh and it will be ready to drink at lunchtime.

Nutrition education starts in the home. Subtle influences, like a balanced lunch, go a long way towards family health eating habits.

If you'd like more ideas on sandwich fillings, even ones your children could make, contact my office and ask for the publication "The Portable Lunch Box".

ZUCCHINI, ZUCCHINI, EVERYWHERE

If you grew zucchini this year, you may be wondering what to do with it all. I have recipes using zucchini in various ways: cakes, squares, loaves, as main dishes pickles, and on and on.

To receive copies of these recipes please contact the Alberta Agriculture office by phone, mail or drop in.

Remote Sensing

Scientists in the crop disease loss section of Agriculture Canada's Ottawa Research Station are using aerial photographs with infrared film to study the effects of winter injury on alfalfa.

Previous remote sensing studies at the research station have investigated bacterial blight in white bean fields, aphid infestations in corn and late blight in white bean fields, aphid infestations in corn and late blight in potato crops.

The knowledge gained on how to interpret these infrared photographs will help commercial farmers assess and prevent crop damage in the future.

How will you celebrate Alberta's 75th Anniversary?

Tell us. We can help!

Alberta 75 1905 1980

Invitation

To: All Albertans
- Individuals • Clubs
- Families • Associations
- religious and other groups
- Businesses, large or small

From: Alberta 75th Anniversary Commission

Next year will be an important milestone in Alberta's heritage!

On September 1, 1905, we became a province in the proud Confederation that is Canada.

This is your invitation to take an active role in the province-wide, 75th Anniversary celebrations that will be held throughout 1980.

So act now and decide just what your role will be — as an individual, a family, a group or an organization. Tell us how you plan to celebrate ALBERTA 75, because we can help! Start working on it right away. Develop an idea that will recognize Alberta's history, acknowledge her present, or contribute to her future heritage. Perhaps you can even combine all three! And, whatever you plan, we're sure you will also want to put your active support behind Homecoming 1980 — an ALBERTA 75 program. Now is the time to submit details of your ALBERTA 75 celebration event or other idea for official approval. The Alberta 75th Anniversary Commission will recognize approved submissions in one or more of these ways:

- A letter, certificate, plaque or other recognition from the Alberta 75th Anniversary Commissioner.
- Use of the official ALBERTA 75 emblem, as illustrated in this invitation.
- Availability of commemorative support materials, including flags, buttons, pins and posters.
- Advertising and promotional support.
- Participation by the Alberta 75th Anniversary Commission wherever possible.
- The services of an ALBERTA 75 field representative to assist in your celebration plans.
- Inclusion of your plans in a Calendar of Events.
- Your idea could qualify for some funding by the Alberta 75th Anniversary Commission.

Two of the many volunteers who donated their time and equipment towards building the hill which is the start of the Viking Tire Playground were C & W Farms supplying the tractor and John Andrahow supplying one of the trucks. A complete list of volunteers is listed in the article "and so a hill is built".

Alberta's 75th Anniversary To Be Celebrated

Twelve months of province-wide celebrations will mark Alberta's 75th Anniversary was the message released by Mary Lemessurier, Minister responsible for Culture and Chairman of the 75th Anniversary Committee. The Minister also invites Albertans to submit proposals for celebrating activities.

"Alberta has achieved much in its 75 years as an integral part of the Canadian nation, and we should all be able to celebrate". We have a proud history that will provide a wealth of material for marking celebration ceremonies that will take place throughout the year from January to December of 1980."

Major government celebrations will be staged during the week of August 26 to September 1, 1980 which will mark the official anniversary of the granting of provincial status to Alberta. These celebrations will be largely centered around the Legislature Building.

However, with the assistance of government funding, celebrations and activities will be held throughout the province during the entire 12 months of 1980.

"The Alberta 75th Anniversary Commission invites proposals from individuals, clubs, societies, and social and cultural associations for celebration activities", said Mrs. Lemessurier. "Within reasonable bounds the government will attempt to ensure that there is a wide variety of activities to mark our proud heritage throughout the province. To enable the commission to adequately review the proposals a cut-off date of September 30th has been established".

"Closely linked with the 75th celebrations will be the homecoming activities of arranging for former Albert-Travel Alberta, which is one and friends and families of present Albertans to be invited to come home next year for our 75th Anniversary celebrations. So far, nearly 160,000 people have requested invitations to attend be out-of-province addresses".

"We have a proud past, an exciting present and a challenging future, and those are most in the purpose of the celebrations," said Mrs. Lemessurier. "We want to recognize our past and acknowledge the present Albertans".

Inmate Work Projects Contribute To Communities

Minimum security inmates of Alberta's Correctional Institutions contributed almost $500,000 in labour to community projects in the province in the past year.

Another $4 million worth of labour came from labour inmates working on various jobs within the institution, announced Solicitor General Graham Harle recently.

The inmates contributed 156,836 man-hours on community work projects with another 1,238,338 man-hours being devoted to institutional job assignments.

Mr. Harle pointed out that the inmate community work projects and institutional work programs were established to provide selected offenders an opportunity to develop meaningful work habits and gain a sense of personal accomplishment. The value of a program of this nature is that it assists the inmate in achieving positive changes in attitude, behaviour, habits and life style.

The minister said that the community work projects do not take jobs away from the regular Alberta work force, pointing out that all tasks involve projects which would not otherwise be proceeded with, due to the lack of funds or man-power.

Several of the community projects involved other provincial government departments while some involved municipalities, senior citizens groups and non-profit organizations also benefitted from the program.

A contribution of 28,750 hours by inmates of the Calgary Correctional Institution was the highest total of the province's four main prisons. A major portion of this was the work inmates undertook to restore the Cochrane Ranch Historical Site.

Fort Saskatchewan Correctional Institution inmates contributed 19,286 man-hours. Many of the projects involved communities near Edmonton as well as projects involving senior citizens in the capital.

Another 24,384 man-hours were contributed to community projects in Peace River by the inmates of the correctional institution there. More than half of the total was towards work on a golf course and in the Queen Elizabeth Park prior to last summer's royal visit.

Inmates of the Lethbridge Correctional Institution contributed 3,161 man-hours to such projects as clearing a publically owned ski hill, repairing toys for the Salvation Army and assisting the Minor Baseball League.

The Nordegg Correctional Centre contributed 73,064 man-hours, most of which was on a regular basis for Alberta Forestry.

The Belmont Correctional Centre in Edmonton contributed 10,191 man-hours in the city litter clean-up program, clearing of debris from Kennedale Ravine and assisting senior citizens through a snow removal project and at the Operation Friendship Centre.

Mr. Harle said that these projects help to prepare the inmate for his eventual and inevitable return to a work-oriented society, and provides a valuable service to worthwhile community projects.

A rather spectacular crash on the mainstreet of Holden Tuesday evening, September 11 when a ½ ton truck travelling east on 50th ave struck the corner of the Legion Monument located in the centre of mainstreet. The truck then overturned. Heavy damage was incurred by the truck but luckily only minimal damage was inflicted to the monument.

Twin Sisters Celebrate 88 Years

Luvia Gray of Kitscoty (left) and Lula Fredericks of Bruce got ready to blow out the candles. The twins celebrated their 88th birthday Sunday at the home of Mrs. Fredericks.

A family dinner was held on Sunday at the home of Lula Fredericks to mark the 88th birthday of Lula and her twin sister Luvia Gray of Kitscoty.

Four of Mrs. Gray's daughters were present for this special occasion; Gertie Martin of Westlock, Ollie Chisholm of Edmonton, Emma Shephard and Betty Evans of Kitscoty.

As well, six of Mrs. Frederick's children were able to join in the birthday celebration; Doris McLeod of Calgary, Bea Fredericks of Edmonton, Lillian Tonbo, Gladys Davis, Grant and Irven Fredericks, all of Bruce.

We Need A Different Type Of Action!

Last week's story and picture covering the proposed new Irma Complex has already created some reaction in Irma. By week's end the Committee working on the plans had received a number of letters on this issue. Some people offered some suggestions for possible improvements to the proposed complex. Others simply criticized the whole idea of the complex, some merely attempting to tear it to pieces.

The interesting thing about this situation is that the people involved in the development of the Irma Complex had requested suggestions and participation by the community from the time they began work on the idea. Yet many people simply sat back and offered little. Only when the money had been approved and the project given the green light did some of these people appear on the scene.

If we expect our communities to be vibrant, positive places in which to live we have to attempt to be active in the community. That doesn't mean we have to serve on boards and committees, but it does mean that we must attend public meetings and offer our constructive criticism as progress is made. If we all sat back and waited for things to happen, nothing would happen. That is why we must all endeavor to take some kind of active part in our communities.

The volunteers who worked on putting this complex plan together need the "active" participation of all community members. It takes no effort to sit back, wait until things happen, and then complain about what has been done. It takes a little effort to take part in the community.

All of our rural communities could not function without the many volunteers who work for improvements. All of our communities are short of these volunteers. It's time that other people came forward to help out with projects like the Irma Complex in their own communities. Efforts and constructive criticism are needed! Complaints aren't!

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

In the September 5th issue of The Weekly Review under the article "U.C.W. Holds Successful Rally", there appeared a slight error which I would like to correct in a "Letter To The Editor" type article.

The error as I see it was: "Irene described the conditions in North Korea after the Korean war as she had lived there for several years."

I would like to have it read as follows: "Irene described the conditions in South Korea as millions of refugees filed from North Korea following the Korean War. Irene had lived in South Korea for thirteen years".

I would like to add that my reason for the clarification is that literally NO ONE from the Free World has been allowed into North Korea since the end of the Korean War which was almost thirty years ago. It is the longest known Truce in history. Korean families have been separated during this time, not allowed to correspond or see one another. There has been no Missionary work in North Korea since the Second World War.

People of the Western World are inclined to take the Communist take-over in North Korea or other countries quite lightly, not realizing the full implications of it.

North Korea is an armed society under strict martial law. It is a known fact that North Korea has been responsible for the training of some of the worst terrorists in the world.

Perhaps like China, North Korea will once again be open to receive Missionaries, and hope it will not be too far off, for the sake of the Korean people.

Sincerely,
Irene Findlay

Dear Sir:

May I use your newspaper to convey a message to the citizens of Viking and District on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service?

I would like to thank the donors and volunteers who supported the Blood Donor Clinic. All the blood collected was driven to the Edmonton Centre for immediate processing into components.

Our records show that 99 persons registered to donate five of whom were deferred, giving us a total of 94 units for the blood bank.

Thank you for a worth while endeavor.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. Sandra Ramsley,
Director Blood

And So A Hill Is Built

The Viking Playground Committee would like to take this opportunity to thank a number of our local farmers and truckers who gave freely of their time and vehicles to help us build our hill.

Due to the inclement weather putting a damper on the harvesting operations, we had some 16 willing helpers with playground members directing trucks at the hill site and offering hot coffee to the busy drivers.

Following is a list of volunteers who donated their time and vehicles on Tuesday, Sept. 11, 1979. Phyllis Lefsrud, John Andrukow, Jim Hill, Richard Nordstrom, Bill Kittle, Jack Brooke, Alfred Hogstead, Edmund Lefsrud, Gerald Walker, Richard Hammer, Leo Stewart, Victor Naslund with swamper Art Francis, C. & W. Farms Driver Tom Newby, Driver Gordon Barker, Tractor and Blade - Ralph Child; Larry Hanson - Loader.

The trucks began hauling the donated fill from Ernie Sevcik's south of the ribstones, at approximately 9:30 a.m. and by 5:30 p.m. the same afternoon the last truck emptied his load of fill. The hill started to take shape under the skillful hand of Ralph Child and his tractor and blade.

We would also like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Jepson's Phys Ed 20 class for sorting our pile of earth mover tires. Thanks a lot gang....we know that was a real work out! The above is an example of real community spirit, just the kind needed to build our playground.

Remember our date of construction, Oct. 20, 1979.

Carolynne Nordstrom,
Chairman

Paul Chmielewski of Viking brought in these potatoes which he grew in his garden. Due to an abundance of rain this growing season there are some rather interesting specimens coming from the garden.

The Homemaker

By Maureen Bauman, Dist. Home Economist

Agriculture Canada urges consumers to add citric acid or bottled lemon juice to canned tomatoes to ensure a safe product. Occasionally, low acid tomatoes create a risk of botulism if they are processed in a boiling water bath.

The number of varieties of tomatoes has greatly increased in recent years. But the acid content varies according to variety and with the particular growing conditions. Tomatoes become even less acidic later on in the season or if they are over ripe.

When there is low acid level an acid must be used in canning tomatoes to bring it to the required acidity, preventing spoilage.

Citric acid, available from most drug stores, is recommended. The next best thing is bottled reconstituted lemon juice. Fresh lemon juice is not an acceptable substitute.

After tomatoes have been blanched, packed in jars and covered with juice, add 1/4 teaspoon citric acid or 1 tablespoon reconstituted lemon juice per pint jar. Double the amount for quart jar.

Tomatoes can then be processed safely in a boiling water bath. Allow 50 minutes for pints and 60 minutes for quarts.

If you are canning tomato juice, add the same amount of acid and process 40 minutes.

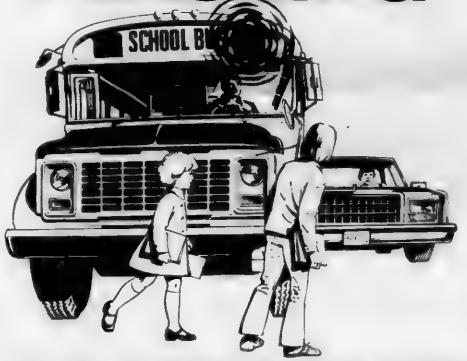
LIGHTS FLASHING



DO NOT PASS

Every school day, more than 115,000 young Albertans will be getting on and off those familiar yellow buses when travelling to and from school.

As a driver you must not pass a school bus displaying alternately flashing red lights. Except of course if you are approaching on the other side of a divided highway.

Know and obey school bus safety rules for our children's sake.

Shady Cove W.I. Holds Regular Meeting

In place of a July meeting, Shady Cove held a community picnic at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Francis. There were approximately sixty-five people in attendance at the gathering. Everyone brought pot-luck items for an afternoon snack and late supper.

As usual the table was laden with delicious food of all kinds and I'm sure was enjoyed by all. It was a beautiful summer day which added to the holiday spirit of those who were there.

On August 31st, Shady Cove was in charge of the birthday part at Parkland Nursing Home. We enjoyed serving cake and ice cream to all. Dora Haeberle contacted Mr. Norris, the music teacher of our school, asking if he would provide a short program for the afternoon. He and the Dennis Watson family gave a very enjoyable program of songs and instrumental selections which were enjoyed by all.

We wish to thank Mr. Norris and the Watson family for the fine entertainment that afternoon.

Following the party at Parkland we all met at the home of Mildred Bridgeman and held a short business meeting. There were ten members present. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The papers to be prepared before our conference were chosen: Agriculture and Industry - Dora Haeberle; Citizenship and Education - Myra Francis; Handicraft - Kay Dorward; Social Services - Ida Dorward; United Nations - Jenny Lefarud) Conservation - Rita Hafso; Health and Home Ec. - Ruth Ash.

Several items of correspondence were reviewed regarding competitions. The year of the child project is to be carried on for another year. As well, Jean Mangby would like to get in touch with pioneer people in order to collect stores of the early days. A thank you card and a donation was received from Laura Swift, for convening the lunch for her mother's funeral.

Dora Haeberle had sent out thank you cards for the gifts received for our anniversary.

Our next regular meeting will be held at Jenny Lafaruds on September 17. Roll Call will be Peonies for Friendship. Hostesses for the meeting are Ruth Ash and Myra Francis. It was moved by Jenny Lefarud that our meeting adjourn.

A lovely snack of cookies and slices was served with tea and coffee by our hostess Mildred Bridgeman.

Bruce & District News

It is unusual but many of the women in the district are wishing it would freeze. Gardens have produced so abundantly that they are tired of canning, pickling and freezing. Ruth Dwyer's garden is no exception and she proved her point by bringing an eleven-pound zucchini to Koppel's store.

Don't forget to mark October 5th on your calendar. That's the night the Bruce Agricultural Society is holding its Turkey Bingo in the Community Centre.

Bell and Fountain Contractors Ltd., of Wainwright has moved equipment into Bruce to commence work on the long-awaited water and sewer system for the hamlet. Early last week Torchinsky Consulting Ltd., set up an office in the Community Centre.

Trevor Bowen of Victoria called in briefly last week to have a look at his old home town. His father who operated the general store now owned by Rudy Koppel, left Bruce in 1929.

Food For Little People

A healthy child is a pretty good judge of how much he needs to eat, but he won't automatically pick the right foods - - that's your job as a parent.

Pre-schoolers don't require a special menu or separate meals. They need the same kinds of food as the rest of the family - only in smaller amounts.

And what about snacks? Should a child be taught to eat three meals a day and ONLY three meals? The answer is definitely NO. A child's stomach is small and you want to keep it that way --they simply can't manage to eat a lot of food at one time.

Therefore, a childs meal plan should include some food between meals and the sum total of all the food eaten in a day should add up to all the nutrients needed by growing youngsters.

Here are some tips for planning snacks for kids:

Each snack should supply at least part of the daily required nutrients - in other words - not junk food.

Snacks should be offered at the same time each day to discourage constant nibbling. Serve snacks about two hours before meals so as not to dull the appetite for the next meal.

Nutritious snacks include milk, juices, pieces of raw fruit or vegetables, crackers spread with cheese or peanut butter, cheese slices, cubes of cooked meat, cereal and milk, puddings etc.

Holden & District News

Mothers of girls in Holden who wish their daughters to join Girl Guides and Brownies are asked to meet in the Holden School next Thursday, September 20, at 7:30 p.m. Many newcomers to the organization will enjoy a session of planned activities. To all others who have previously been members - we welcome you back.

There will be a Third Annual Antique Collectors and miscellaneous items auction sale held at the Ag. Centre in Holden on Oct. 13.

The Royal Bank Manager in Holden, Mr. Clay Schaning has been transferred to the Royal Bank at Gibbons. Mr. and Mrs. Schaning and their two children will be leaving Holden soon. During their stay here, Clay and Joan were active in many community affairs, taking part in the Holden United Church, Community Choir, Chamber of Commerce and acting in the Holden Beaverhill Arts Group. Joan Schaning was employed at Parkland Nursing Home in Viking. The residents of this community will miss the family and wish them well at Gibbons.

Mrs. Irene MacGregor was a patient in the Tofield hospital last week.

Congratulations go to Anita and Gerrold Lemko on the birth of their first born son, Johathan Gerrold, weighing 7 pounds 4 ounces. He was born at the University Hospital on September 9th. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Erickson of Bruce and Mr. and Mrs. John Lemko of Holden. This is their first grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Mielimaka have purchased the Schanning home and will move into town in the near future.

Kinsella And District News

Recently calling in at the home of Alan and Helga Barker were Alan's sisters and husbands, Alice and Doug Jackson of Ponoka and Mary and Charlie Keller from Greenwood, B.C.

Russel Jackson, Brenda Marta, Rhonda Culbert, Ryan Greenwood and Paul Shippy are all boarding the Kinsella school bus and beginning Kindergarten. Jule Makar is taking a secretarial course at Lakeland College in Wainwright, while Karen Overbo is enrolled in Grant MacEwan College in a program which will enable her to become a travel consultant.

Dave Brown spent some time visiting with his mother Pearl Brown over the week.

Visiting with Bruce and Barbara Davis on Saturday were Barbara's niece an husband Myron and Anne Hosavar of Calgary.

Barbara Davis and her sister Bella Olsenberg have returned home from a five week holiday. They travelled to vancouver where they met with another sister and her husband from Scotland, as well as brother Alex and his wife. They went to Washington, Oregon, California, and Reno, Nevada.

While on holiday, they attended a wedding at Reno and had a lovely time. The weather was great. On the way home, they stopped in Edmonton for a day to meet her new granddaughter.

Karen Fay was born on August 23rd, the daughter of Richard and Penny.

Noella Brissard Receives Service Award

Miss Noella Brissard of Viking received a 25 Year Service Plaque and a Long Service Pin in honor of her many years of service with the Post Office.

Making the presentations on Friday afternoon, September 14th, was Mr. Malcolm Empson, Zone Postmaster from Wainwright, Alberta.

Noella's employment with the postal service began with a part-time position during the month of September, 1964. This part-time stage was very short lived as she moved on to fill a full-time employee category the following month. Presently Noella's position at the Viking Post Office is that of Senior Assistant.

From 1964 until the present time, Noella has seen the town steadily grow meeting a lot of new people. She has often been the first person to meet newcomers to the community and as well as meeting their postal inquiries she cheerfully provides answers to questions such as "where can I find the bus depot?" - "Does Viking have a High School?" and many many others. In addition to the many changing faces in Viking, Noella has been a part of the many changes within the post office with the most recent being the change-over to the metric system. However she has only worked under two postmasters during the twenty-five years, beginning with Vern Gilpin in 1954 and since 1972, with Al Willmer.

Noella Brissard received her 25th year service plaque and a long service pin in honor of her many years of service from Mr. Malcolm Empson, zone post master from Wainwright on Friday.

Palliser Hopeful Of Breakthrough

"The terms of reference of the new Grains Co-ordinator indicate that this will be a breakthrough for the grains industry", says Palliser Wheat Growers President, Jim Wright.

"We applaud Wheat Board Minister Don Mazankowski for this. It offers the first real hope that action will be taken to deal with the crisis in grain transportation. And that crisis is real. Witness the Canadian Wheat Board's statement that $500 million of grain sales had to be passed up last year, because of the inability of the system to handle it."

"It is essential that the co-ordinator have the power to get on with the job of breaking the grain delivery bottleneck", adds Wright. "By giving him complete control of the grain cars fleet and seeing that he chairs or sits on all relevant committees where he will have access to all information, he will be in a position to get a good start on the job. It will be up to government to fully support him, once he is appointed, to see that he gets the job done".

The Palliser President added, "The outlook for the grains industry has never been brighter, if we can structure the system so the grain can be moved to market. World trade is at record levels".

"Palliser has only one reservation", he adds. "We regret that it has taken so long to begin to come to grips with grain transportation. We urge that the co-ordinator, once he is appointed, get on with the job of getting the system restructured to move grain. It is important that the forces of the marketplace take over and move our grain into the world marketplace more freely and aggressively."

Kinsella Seniors Meet

The Kinsella Rose Seniors Club held their regular business meeting on Wednesday, September 12th, with nine members present. Having so many members still enjoying their holidays and a number of others busy in the fields, the meeting was kept short.

It was decided to have a Card Pary every third Wednesday of the month. The first Card Party is to be held in October. Members will be responsible for lunch and each member will be notified when it is their turn.

Member of our group who have recently been hospitalised include Phyllis McBride, Ivy Mollier and Bert Armitage. All are home now and we hope they are feeling better.

Main Street Viking

During the summer holidays the family of David Frostad were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pascha of Viking and Mr. Pascha has been avidly following the news releases on his nephew David Frostad of Auburn. His nephew David has recently won the championship in the National Junior Olympics weightlifting competition in Topeka, Kansas.

Mr. Hjelvoid had a visit on September 10th from a relative, Mr. Myrmo, of Sioux Falls, South Dakota. While visiting, Mr. Hjelvoid learned that his relative was the first boy to be baptized in the Nidaros Church of 1939. This church is the oldest log church, built in 1878. Although the church has been moved four times it is still in remarkable condition and is point of interest to visit when in South Dakota.

Friendly Visiting . . . Strengthening A Community

Around the world studies have revealed that the need of a friend is as basic as the need of food and shelter.

The value to a community in which a successful Friendly Visiting Service operates is apparent, as the needs of the people come to light and various groups or associations unite to help people solve some of their problems.

On every hand we are aware of the tragic effect of loneliness throughout all levels of our society. It is not always caused by economic need nor does age alone bring on loneliness.

The elderly however are often most vulnerable to loneliness and isolation as families move, often living far enough away to make communication a problem; as friendship circles shrink; and as decreased physical abilities and energy make them less able to seek outside social gatherings.

Those who are engaged in a friendly visiting service whether it be in person or by phone, deserve a large measure of credit for the happiness of shut-ins and otherwise lonely people.

"Involvement" is our key word as we endeavour to meet with a person. Once the visit has been established, mutual trust often enables the person to reveal some of his or her concerns and problems. A sense of well-being strengthens or returns as the person learns that someone is interested in them and cares.

Friendship is the highest degree of perfection in society. Can we strive to make this come true in our community? Let us search for the persons in our community who may need a friend.

The proceeding article was submitted for publication by Muriel Onushko, Volunteer Program Organizer and Gloria Lerrad, Home Care Co-ordinator with the Vegreville Health Unit.

Parkland Nursing Home News

Sincere sympathy is extended to the Kelly family on the passing of their uncle, Mr. William Kelly on Saturday morning. Mr. Kelly had made his home with us at Vialta Lodge from 1974 until 1977 and moved to Parkland Nursing Home where he spent the last two years.

Thanks to the quilters who came out on Thursday afternoon to help us quilt. We will be at it again on Thursday, the 27th. Bingo will be held on Wednesday the 19th and our Card Party will be on Thursday evening the 25th of the month.

Mr. Hoyland is visiting in Sherwood Park and will spend a few days with his family there.

Ezra Eberhart visited with Mr. Artor Dorin.

Calling on Mrs. D'Arcy were Mel and Myrna Mackey, Mrs. Elsie Satre of Irma, Jeanne White and Grace Rott of Sedgewick.

Mrs. Carol Helgeland and Darrel called on Mom Roger and their aunt Mabel Helm

Karen Gould visited with Mrs. Kay Hunt.

Visiting with Mrs. Esther Haugen were Esther Pükke of Tacoma, Washington and Ellen Lindgren of Portland, Oregon.

Calling on Mrs. Ferguson were Bernice and George Daymond and Ronald and June Hughes who also had a visit with Mrs. Suddaby.

George English called in to see Dutchy. Ida and Ed and Phil Austin visited with Mrs. Austin.

Other calling at the Lodge were Betty Lowe, William and Jessie Ziegler, Mr. and Mrs. John Houcher and Mrs. Florence Walters.

Our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Watson and family and Mr. Norris who came last Sunday evening to sing and entertain with musical numbers. This is always much appreciated.

Progressive Farming

Bill Brass Dist. Agriculturist

Are you wondering whether you need to give your ornamental trees and shrubs a good soaking this year before freeze-up. The answer is yes.

Herman Oosterhuis, in charge of Alberta Agriculture's tree planting program says that soil moisture reserves are still depleted in northern and central parts of the province, particularly in the western regions, despite the above normal precipitation that has fallen.

The reason for the low soil moisture level in these areas is the small amount of snow that has fallen during the last three years. The melting snow in the spring is one of the main sources of subsoil moisture in Alberta.

"Watering ornamental trees and shrubs before freeze-up is even more important in the south-eastern part of the province where the abnormally low subsoil problem has been compounded by the very low rate of precipitation received last summer", says Mr. Oosterhuis.

He explains that a plentiful supply of water in the fall is needed to enable trees and shrubs in this province to withstand the drying winds and variation in temperature that occur during the winter months. Since trees and shrubs have only limited ability to take up and transport moisture when the ground is frozen and they are relatively dormant, they must have an abundant supply of moisture to prevent dissication.

Evergreens like pines, spruce and junipers are even more vulnerable to winter desiccation than trees which lose their leaves in the fall because evergreens lose moisture through their needles.

Mr. Oosterhuis also points out that regardless of the rain that falls during the summer, the soil near the south and east sides of the house (in Alberta) is always very dry because it is in the rain shadow. Also, the soil on the south side of houses gives up its moisture more rapidly because of the heat of the sun.

This means that all plants, including climbing vines like clematis, should be thoroughly watered, no matter how much rain has fallen. These precautions should be applied before trees, plants and shrubs go into the winter season.

Irma W.I. Notes

September brought a resumption of activities for the Irma Women's Institute when the regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. R. Dempsey.

A warm welcome was extended by the president, Mrs. M. Fahner, to all members and a visitor from Denmark.

The cemetery clean-up day in June had been well attended, and the Institute would like to thank all those who turned out to work that day. With willing cooperation, the cemetery soon assumed a well-tended look. Lunch was served to the hungry workers by the members.

Good news for this branch was received with the message that our decorated car had been awarded first prize for the best organization float in the Irma Day parade.

Plans were made to make soap, an activity which we have carried on for some years. The soap is sent to the Unitarian Service Committee for shipment overseas.

Our friendship meeting, formerly Grandmother's Day, is usually held in June or July. Holidays have prevented many from attending so it has been decided to hold this special meeting in March.

The annual tea and bazaar is to be held on November 17 and plans for a raffle were finalized. October is United Nations month.

In keeping with this theme, each member will bring an ethnic dish to the next meeting to be held in the United Church on October 4 at 1 p.m.

The programme was in the capable hands of Mrs. Barbara Grasigue, D.R.E. Using slides, she gave an interesting talk on standards expected by judges when they are judging sewing, knitting, crocheting and other handicrafts exhibited for competition. This was a valuable contribution to our handicraft programme and will serve to improve handiwork.

Lunch served by Mrs. Jean Rae and Mrs. Orril Darling concluded an interesting afternoon.

Echo - Rodino District News

Victor Carter took in the chariot races at Sundre last weekend and came home proudly displaying a first prize trophy.

The Rodino Country Club held a meeting on Wednesday night to discuss the Fall Harvest Ball and a Halloween party.

Clarence Hunter and Kathy Heggie have been visiting for a few days with Norine Hunter and the Will ...ams family.

Sunday was the scene of a miscellaneous shower at the Rodino Hall for Bonnie Gulbrna (nee Mackowoski). Several ladies from the Looma area were also present.

The Mackowoski family have had a "lucky star" shining for them this week as Mike had the misfortune of having the brakes fail on his big truck as he turned off the highway near Viking, causing him to take a ride down into the ditch.

Trouble again struck as the ladies returned from the shower on Sunday to find smoke coming from the chicken barn. Little damage was done due to the fast thinking of their son Dean as he pulled a wall apart and put out the fire.

Harriet Faulkner has accompanied Mrs. Allan Faulkner of Wetaskiwin on a trip to B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Heggarty of Nanaimo, B.C. visited the Bruce Greenwood ...

Irma News and Views

Mamie Keller having disposed of her house and property on 49th Avenue, has taken up residence in the Chacutenah Manor.

Faye and Emery Passey visited her grandmother, Mamie Keller on Saturday and Sunday.

Ana and Gordon Petersen visited with her mother, Mamie Keller over the weekend.

Congratulations to Clifton Holt who celebrated a birthday on Thursday, Sept. 13. Among those attending the party at his home were his mother Gladys Holt from Viking, Mary and Bert Amtage and Maureen from Kinsella, Cecil Lockhart and Minnie and Jim Jackson from Irma.

From the middle of the week, good harvesting weather has been taken advantage of. Some combines began operating on Friday and continued over the weekend.

Please remember to save your papers. Leave them by the Drop-In, put them in Jackson's garage, or phone 754-3861 and they will be picked up. Every ton of newsprint which is recycled saves 17 trees from destruction.

Widely scattered showers on Sunday afternoon and evening over a wide area brought harvesting to an abrupt halt. By the time this is in print we will be in full swing again.

Several car accidents occured recently in the district. In one instance a half ton truck came across the private R.R. crossing and failing to stop collided with a west bound camper, resulting in crumpled fenders and a bashed in front end. The other accident occured as Adelaide Deeton was turning into John Nevirises. Her car was hit by a station wagon driven by a man from Millwoods. He attempted to pass on the left hand side, colliding with the car which was driven into the deep ditch and went through the board fence. Fortunately, no one was seriously hurt in either case.

Minnie and Jim Jackson visited with Ellen and John Armitage at Sedgewick on Sunday. John took them for a tour of the Marna Oil Field which was rather interesting.

Mrs. Charlene Dunbar had a visit from her mother Mrs. June Manion from Youngstown over the weekend. Her grandmother Mrs. May Cox from Berwyn called on her way through to Edmonton where she will visit with her son.

Ray Lewis is the new janitor for the Irma school. He has purchased and moved into the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Lill Glasgow situated west of Fred Jack Hardware. Best of luck in your new job Ray.

Neil Jackson of Edmonton is down for the weekend helping his uncle Eddie with the harvesting.

Mrs. Fred Thurston spent a week recently with her daughter Phyllis and Jimmy Craig. While she was here, she attended the Strawberry Plains annual tea and bake sale in the Legion Hall on Saturday, Sept. 8th. She met and visited with many old friends.

The papers and magazines which accumulated since March were taken to the paper recycle in Edmonton on Wednesday, September 12, by Eddie Jackson. The newsprint weighed 5,000 lbs. which brought $1.25 per 100 lbs. The mixed (magazines, catalogues, brown paper bags) weighed 3,400 lbs. and brought 50 cents per 100 lbs. Total price received for this shipment was $74.80.

Miss Inga Pfeiffer from Denmark is visiting with the Ole Nimsen family. They have taken an auto trip through the mountains and a train trip to Winnipeg. She hopes to get a look at harvesting Alberta style if the weather co-operates.

Cubs will soon be underway for a new season. Registration will be held at the Cub Hall on Monday, September 24 from 3-4 p.m. Boys between the ages of 6 and 10 are most welcome. If possible parents are asked to please register their boy as there will be no meeting on registration day. If anyone is interested in helping with the cubs, please let us know. For further information please contact Margaret Archibald 754-3930, Brenda Costall 754-3735 or Carol Creasy 754-3867.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Village of Irma

The Planning Act, R.S.A., 1977

TAKE NOTICE that the council of the village of Irma proposes to pass a land use by-law pursuant to section 66(1) of the said act.

The purpose of the proposed by-law is to prohibit, regulate and control the use and development of the land and buildings within the municipality in accordance with the said act.

A copy of the proposed by-law may be seen at the village office and may be inspected by the public at all reasonable hours.

At 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, the second day of October, 1979, the council will cause a public hearing to be held at the village office at which time written objections to the proposed by-law may be made and discussed.

Dated at Irma, this 10th day of September, 1979.

Municipal Administrator

"Stubble-in Treflan this Fall

"Granular Treflan is the stubble herbicide you can apply before freeze-up this fall for weed control in next spring's rapeseed and other oilseed crops.

"Granular Treflan is recommended where oilseed crops will be grown on stubble. It is easily spread on stubble and works well under trash conditions. Liquid Treflan, also available at The Pool, can be applied in the fall to control weeds in oilseed crops.

"This fall, spread the spring work: apply POOL TREFLAN now before freeze-up. For applying Granular Treflan, ask about renting one of our Berber Spreaders - they're available at many Pool locations throughout Alberta."

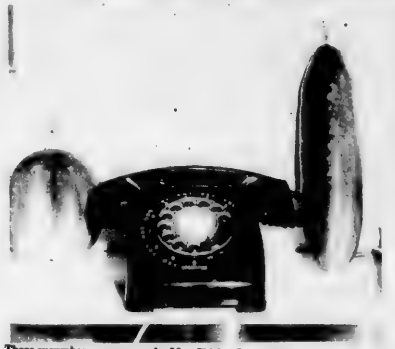
The WEEKLY REVIEW

Second Section Volume 2 No. 22



These cucumbers were grown by Mrs. Shirley Orscheski on their farm north east of Kinsella. The long cucumber (right) measured 10¼" in length and weighed 1½ pounds. The oddity or siamese cucumber shown on the (left) weighed one pound.

Palliser Names New Director

Don Baron was named as Executive Director of the Palliser Wheat Growers Association in a recent news release.

Don comes to Palliser after four and a half years as Area Head, Agriculture and Resources, CBC Television. In this period, he developed a series of prime time food specials and re-shaped the Country Canada series to profile the food producers of Canada. These shows brought Canada's agriculture to the very center of the CBC schedule and won big audiences not only of farm people but of city dwellers as well.

Earlier, Baron was the first regional editor of Country Guide in Eastern Canada and from 1963 to 1974 was editor of Country Guide stationed in Winnipeg.

Don Baron served as president of the Agricultural Institute of Canada in 1974-75, of the Manitoba Institute of Agrologists in 1970-71, and of the Canadian Farm Writers Federation in 1966. He was Commissioner of Inquiry into Vegetable Marketing in Manitoba in 1966-67.

In these days of explosive growth in world grain markets, and of traumatic adjustment for Canada's grain industry, Palliser is pleased to bring Don Baron to this role in representing the producers best interests as the industry adapts to the needs of a more demanding future. Palliser's goal is to promote a Canadian grains industry geared to maximum production, competitive in world markets and capable of serving the needs of our customers.

Quinte W.I. News

Nine members of Quinte W.I. gathered at the home of Mrs. Harriet Newby on Thursday, August 16, for a regular meeting.

The meeting opened with the reading of the W.I. Creed and was followed with the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting.

Correspondence and items of new business were dealt with. These included a thank you note received regarding a recent auction sale we had catered for, as well as a thank you for the wedding at which we had catered.

The visiting committee of Lillian Arnett and Harriet Newby gave their report. A new visiting committee consisting of members Lois Crouse and Cleora Darling were appointed for this month.

A lucky draw from the birthday box was held with Harriet Newby the winner for this month. Cleora Darling adjourned the business meeting and the evening ended with coffee and lunch.

The residents of Parkview Manor, Vegreville's new senior citizens' residence, will be delighted to show you around their new home, at the

OFFICIAL OPENING OF PARKVIEW MANOR
4833 - 49 Avenue
Vegreville, Alberta
WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26
2:00 p.m.

Mr. John Batiuk, M.L.A. for Vegreville, will officiate at the ceremony and a tour of the residence will follow.

Parkview Manor, with 30 self-contained apartment units, is an Alberta Housing Corporation development and is managed by the Vegreville Lions Club.

You are cordially invited to attend the opening and to join the official party at a reception following the ceremonies.

Alberta Food Products Official Opening

The $20 million Alberta Food Products Canola processing plant was officially opened near Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta, recently. The plant will help broaden and stabalize oilseed producer markets and bring the benefit of added value processing in Alberta. Alberta Food Products is a joint partnership of Alberta Wheat Pool - 60 percent and Japan Alberta Oil Mills Limited - 40 percent.

Japan Alberta Oil Mills is a Canadian registered company and is made up of four Japanese companies: C Itoh and Company, Limited; Ajinomoto Company, Inc.; Showa Sangyo Company, Limited; and Fuji Oil Company, Limited.

The ultra-modern plant, located on a 36 acre parcel of land, one mile north of Highway 15 on Highway 825, has the capacity to process 600 tonnes (28,450 bushels) of clean Canola seed daily. The plant will process 204,000 tonnes (9 million bushels) of Canola seed annually, which will produce about 80,000 tonnes of Canola oil and 120,000 tonnes of Canola meal.

Principal hosts at the official opening ceremonies included A.J. MacPherson, Chairman of Alberta Food Products Management Committee and President of Alberta Wheat Pool; Y. Tsutsui, Deputy Chairman of Alberta Food Products Management Committee, and Director, General Manager of Produce Division of C. Itoh and Company, Limited of Japan; and R.C. Chamberlain, General Manager of Alberta Food Products.

Mr. MacPherson said the partners in the joint venture will contribute greatly to the success of the processing plant in a number of important ways. Alberta wheat Pool will aid the plant in securing supplies of Canola seed. The term Canola denotes the new oilseed varieties which have the very desirable characteristic of low erucic acid and low glucosinolate content. The four Japanese companies of Japan Alberta Oil Mills Limited will provide support to the plant that includes technical assistance, advanced oilseed processing technology and will play a major role in the marketing of Canola oil and meal, particularly to the Japanese markets.

Mr. MacPherson said he was very pleased with the cooperation received from many people who were involved in bringing the processing plant to fruition. He acknowledged the assistance and encouragement received from the Alberta government, particularly during the initial stages of the formation of the partnership.

The joint ownership of Alberta Food Products processing plant by Alberta farmers will enchance their farming operations with more efficiency and security. Benefits that will accrue to farmers include the following: Canola producers owing: Canola producers within 160 miles of the plant will benefit directly through trucking assistance on direct seed deliveries. The volume of oilseed delivered to the plant will increase space in the country elevator system allowing other grains to be delivered. Opportunities for expanded domestic and export markets for Canola oil and meal are expected to increase returns to oilseed producers.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

But, seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. Matt6:32.

In the beginning (God) Gen. 1:1 The proper way to begin.

With the exception of our eternal God, everything else has had a beginning. In God's creation of this world and everything in outer space, He had a purpose and aim for each individual thing and creature. He is intimately interested in all their concerns. "Thou are worthy O Lord, to receive glory and honor and power. For, thou has created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created. Rev. 4:11

Man is his only creation who disobeyed. Man was created to have domain over the rest of His creation in this world Gen. 1:26 Because of sin and disobedience man has made a mess of their lives and the lives of others and the whole world.

Since Adam and Eve, God has had a thread of human beings down through time to fellowship with and to glorify Himself through.

Happy and blessed have been all those who recognised that without God's control of their lives their success was questionable. Whether it is a person or group of persons; in a household, government, or sports team, it has been proven over and over again that when they sought God's help and guidance, success was more pleasing. For all things work together for them that love God and are called according to His purpose. Rom. 8:28.

The Christian who has God as his companion moment by moment each day will readily testify how God has helped him or her in instances of immediate need, and the joy of having this intimacy with God is truly encouragement to rely and lean on Him for every step of the way.

Oh, that every home was the place where at the beginning of each day the inhabitants would seek God for direction and Godly wisdom. If this were done there would be less disappointments, less discouragement, less heart ache and more satisfaction. As truly as we eat our breakfast each morning, we also commune with God in Bible reading and prayer for God's help.

I beg of you parents, children, teenagers, newlyweds, teachers, business personnel and leaders to seek God, first for control of your own lives and then seek Him at the beginning of each day for intimate hiep and guidance.

Pioneer Passes

Mr. Ed. Bruhaug of Viking, Alberta passed away suddenly on Sunday, September 9th, 1979 at the Viking Municipal Hospital. He was born in 1886 in Flatdal, NOrway. He attended school in hist native Flatdal.

As a young man he helped break sod for one of the world's first Hydro projects at Rjukan Telemorken. He soon turned to farm work and followed the outdoor life for most of his years. He was an avid sportsman, fishing and hunting in his native mountains and valleys.

In 1917 he was united in marriage to Elsie Moen who survives him today. To this union was born two daughters Borghild (Meakins) and Olga (Marks).

Ed and Elsie immigrated to Canada in 1927 and took up farming near Jarrow where they resided until they moved to Viking in 1963. Ed and Elsie have had a rich and rewarding life. They would have celebrated 62 years of married life on October 30th of this year.

Ed loved to work on his land and he had a special love always for the horses in his care. He was a kind and loving husband and father. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his loving wife, his two daughters - Borghild Meakins of Edmonton and Olga Marks of Sidney, B.C, their husbands Bill and Leo, five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

He will always be remembered and sadly missed by those who knew him.

Early Viking Resident Passes

Humphrey J. Checkly of Sedgewick passed away in the University Hospital at the age of seventy-three years, following a short illness. Humphrey was born in Cardiff, Wales on February 11, 1906 and passed away on August 18, 1979.

He came to Canada at the age of twenty-one and worked in the Viking area for a time.

He joined the Armed Forces in 1942 and served in the United Kingdom, Central Mediterranean area and Continental Europe until his discharge in late 1945 at which time he returned to Viking. He worked here until 1950 at which time he joined the Corp. of Commissioners at Wainwright Army Camp. He remained with the Army until his retirement in 1975. Following his retirement he moved to Sedgewick, where he resided until his passing.

Funeral services were held in Bethania Church at 11 a.m. with Pastor Niebergall officiating. Interment followed in the Sedgewick Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Randy Mikkelson, Warren Fuder, Dwight Miles, Earl Cook, Albert Cook and Clifford Cook. Fee and Sons were in charge of all arrangements.

He leaves to mourn his passing Dorothy Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Warren (Pat) Fuder, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight (Marie) Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cook and many friends and neighbors.

Former Viking Resident Passes

Mr. Peder Lyslo of Killam formerly of Ryley passed away in Killam on August 22, 1979 at the age of 89 years.

Peder had lived in the Peace River country for many years before his residency at the Vialta Lodge in Viking and the Killam Auxiliary Hospital.

He is survived by two brothers, Ludwig of Ryley, Alberta and Albert of Kelowna, B.C.; one sister Julia (Mrs. Art Anderson) of Ryley and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were conducted on Friday, August 24, 1979 at the Ryley Lutheran Church with Rev. Gary Barr officiating. Interment followed in the Ryley Cemetery. Pallbearers were Harold Vergette, Leonard Helgeland, Robert Lyslo, Walter Norton, Selmer Helgeland and Carl Gjerde. Hoveland Funeral Chapel Ltd., of Camrose was in charge of all funeral arrangements.

Away We Go . . . Northward Bound - Continued From Previous Week

We had time to visit the shops to buy the inevitable souvenirs. Later in the afternoon, a local guide, Mrs. Joan Reimer, gave us a conducted tour, along with much interesting information. We found that Senior citizens have to pay only $55.00 per month with a free meal every day; that red decals in the window mean that help is needed; that there is free medicare for everyone; that any young person wishing to attend university must go "outside" with all expenses fully paid; that alcoholism is the number one problem, the first alcohol offense rating a fine of $500.00, the second a jail term.

We noticed that children were already at school, the reason being that families thus have an opportunity for a month-long Christmas holiday.

We climbed the 69 steps to the bush pilot's memorial to have a most splendid view in all directions. That gallant lady of 92 years, Mrs. McLean, went up all those steps too. We saw the first wheel-based plane, a Bristol-Freighter, on display, the first of its kind to land at the North Pole in 1967.

Delightfully, we accepted pins, certificates and polar bear license plates, with many thanks to our fine guide, a resident of Yellowknife since 1960. Then there was the very beautiful Museum of the North to visit. It was built by students of Sir John Franklin High School and opened in 1963. The fine Eskimo carvings on the second floor of the court house were well worth seeing. A splendid visit to Yellowknife, the largest community in the N.W.T.

As we went southward again, we noticed the rocky soil of this area and the trees were a bit on the scrubby side. But it was raining again so once more muddy roads splashed our windscreens. We called in at Rae, the largest Dene settlement in the territories but they were not prepared for us. We had thought we might see some of their craftsmanship.

These people will allow no consumption or sale of alcohol within a 15 mile radius of Rae. We stopped at Providence again for lunch, which included fresh apple pie. Then the rain stopped a bit and we were able to get a snap or two of the ferry as it crossed the river towards us.

We reached Hay River amidst rain, more or less, all the way. However, after supper at Ptarmigan Inn, a guide came with us on a tour in the rain. Scott had done his best to get our windows clear again. We discovered that Hay River, 82 miles north of Alberta, is a major shipping and fishing point. Not only is it the southmost town for the barges travelling the great Mackenzie, but also the northern end of the railway centre, built to serve the lead-zinc deposits at Pine Point, and known as the Great Slave Lake Railway. So Hay River is indeed the "Hub" of the north.

There is a high-rise as well in this busy place, 60th parallel's largest. The population is around 4 thousand, including an Indian community and a fishing village. We saw the great Northwest Telecommunication (CN) set up to provide services all over the Western Arctic. Drinking water is used directly from the lake, merely filtered.

Fishing, except for sportsmen is all by gill net. The fish is cut and frozen at Hay River, canned at Yellowknife, and then flown to New York. Yes, all of it. A most interesting tour, but, alas, no picture-taking possible because of weather conditions. Were we tourists ever "growing"!

August 23rd was spent at the new Travellers Motel at Peace River. The weather was fine once again, so we took walks and pictures, and returned our bottles of Muskol, and spent a pleasant evening in one way or another. Slave Lake was to be the final night together.

Majestic Tours was giving us a complimentary dinner that night. We had a look about the stores, and then took our bus on quite a drive to actually stand on the shore of Lesser Slave Lake. We appreciated that very much. Then our dinner - what a feast, finishing with wild blue-berry pie. Amy, Tena, Alma and our young in-spirit Kate each were presented with a beautiful red rose by Majestic Tours. Harry received a rose boutineer. It was only fitting that Kate and Harry should have a picture together. Alma presented a gift to Marg from the group in token of our appreciation for all her kind consideration, while Minnie did the same for Scott.

This was the official close of tour, here at the lovely Sawridge Motel, a project of the Sawridge Indians. Before we left next morning, Chief Walter Twinn came into our bus to bid us good-bye and to answer any questions. He had been unable to attend our dinner. We took group pictures at Westlock on our noon break, dropped off our Edmonton people and one or two others enroute, arriving at Killam about 4:00 p.m. Coffee and cookies were soon produced at this hospitable Drop-In Centre, as they had been when we left. I am sure we all feel we have had a truly marvellous "growing" time, as well as a time of fellowship. We are almost thankful for a safe trip and that everyone came home in as good health as he or she left.

Oracheski-Prepchuk United In Marriage

A very pretty summer wedding took place on July 7th at the Holy Heart of Mary Catholic church in Viking, when Tannis Ann, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Oracheski of Irma was united in marriage to Robert Allen third son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Prepchuk of Two Hills, Alberta.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, attired in a candlelight chiffon gown, featuring a red overskirts meeting in a "V" in the front. The bodice was accented by a lace yoke front and back and sheer cape style sleeves. Her long lace trimmed train was held in place by a lace and seed pearl headpiece. Her only jewelery was an Artic gold filled necklace and gold bracelet.

The brides attendants, Luella Hinton, a close friend of the bride as Maid of Honour, Gail Oracheski and Heather Barss sisters of the bride as bridesmaids were most attractive in apple green sateen halter style gowns with patterned sheer jackets gathered at the waistline. They wore similar gold necklaces and earrings with pearl insets, gifts of the bride. Teri-Lyn Barss, niece of the bride as flowergirl wore a green sateen gown with sheer bodice insets and white and yellow daisy trim. She wore a daisy necklace, a gift from the bride.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and cream carnations, the bridesmaids carried lace backed nosegays of yellow and white daisies. Teri-Lyn carried a dainty basket of daisies.

The groom and his attendants, Geordie Peat, a close friend of Lethbridge, Alberta, Doug Prepchuk, brother of the groom and Darrel Oracheski brother of the bride, were attired in brown tuxedos with light beige ruffled shirts. The ring bearer, Darren Ogden, a nephew of the groom wore a brown suit, and carried a light beige lace trimmed pillow with the rings for the double ring ceremony.

The groom wore a carnation and red rose Boutineeir and the bestmen wore white carnations.

The guests were ushered to the pews by Chris Oracheski, brother of the bride and Curtis Archibald, cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose a gown of powder blue, featuring a cowl neckline and pleated skirt. The groom's mother was attired in a bright blue sleeveless gown with cape style bodice. Their corsages were pink roses. The grandmothers of the bride and groom wore patterned summer frocks with yellow rose corsages.

During the signing of the register, Wendy Burr and Kathy Lawson, classmates of the bride sang "You Light Up My Life" accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Archibald.

One hundred and eighty guests sat down to a sumptuous reception at the Kinsella Memorial Hall. Father John Adamyk asked grace. Donny Ast of Edmonton was a very capable master of ceremonies. He introduced the head table with a special welcome to Mr. and Mrs. George Lorence of Lethbridge, maternal grandparents of the groom and Mrs. Louise Oracheski of Wainwright, paternal grandmother of the bride. From amongst the guests a group of co-workers and friends from Inuvik, N.W.T. as well as relatives and friends from Michigan, U.S.A. British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and many points in Alberta were welcomed.

Mr. Sonny Archibald, an uncle of the bride proposed a very fitting toast to the bride, to which the groom capably responded. Mr. Geordie Peat proposed the toast to the bridesmaids. The father of the bride welcomed the groom to the family and thanked the ladies of the Kinsella Order of the Royal Purple for the lovely meal they prepared and served.

The bride and groom cut their three tiered cake, decorated fittingly with white daisies. The very attractive cake was decorated by Mrs. Richard Glasgow of Irma.

Refreshments and dancing to the music of the Mad-Hatter continued until 1 a.m. when a delicious lunch was served to the guests.

On Sunday, July 8th, the happy couple and their parents held open house at the home of the bride's parents at which time many beautiful and useful gifts were opened.

After a brief honeymoon to points in southern Alberta, the young couple returned to Inuvik where the groom is employed by the Territorial Government and the bride by Mack Travel.

S.R. 870 Construction Halted

Construction on Secondary Road 870, located one mile east of Kinsella Gas Camp, remains at a standstill. The project, which involves the building of two miles of S.R.870 and the upgrading of two adjoining miles, came to a halt when the Alberta Department of Transportation let Debsco Construction of Edmonton go from the project with about one mile of road grade completed.

According to Charles Lenzion, Regional Director for the Alberta Department of Transport in St. Paul, Debsco Construction was hired on an hourly basis (day labour) to work on the project. Mr. Lendzion said that the Provincial Government is responsible for the construction of all secondary roads and that these are turned over to the counties for maintenance once they are completed. Debsco was hired by the Alberta Department of Transport and the project was supervised by the Department.

The Regional Director stated that Debsco Construction was let go because the Department was not satisfied with their work. Mr. Lenzion stated that approximately $200,000 was budgeted for this year's construction, but that this amount was not expected to complete the job, only about 2 and 1/2 miles of the 4 miles. He said that about $150,000 of this amount has already been spent and that only about one mile had been completed. It was stated that Debsco was not let go earlier because with the weather problems experienced in the area, it was difficult to assess the progress in the first mile of construction.

The Regional Director said that they hope to get the County of Beaver crew to tidy up the construction this year and that funds would be made available for completion of the project next year. Bob Cross, Secretary-Treasurer for the County of Beaver, stated that the County had been approached to complete some construction this year. He said that the County had been requested this spring to do the entire job with provincial government funding, but that the County equipment was slated for other projects this summer.

However, Mr. Cross stated that the County has been given no firm commitment by the Alberta Department of Transport concerning funding. He said that the County equipment could be moved onto the project this week if funds were confirmed. Mr. Cross said that the District Engineer, Lloyd Werbowski of Vermilion, advised that only about $25 thousand of the Alberta Department of Transport funds were left over form the $200,000 and that the County was requested to put in another $75,000 for the project. (Mr. Werbowski would not comment on the project and referred this reporter to the Regional Director for nay information).

Mr. Cross noted that originally, the Alberta Department of Transport was to pay for construction of the total project (as noted earlier by the Regional Director) and that the County had not budgeted any funds for S.R.870. He said that he had talked with the District Engineer for the Department of Transport, Mr. Werbowski, on September 17 and that the Regional Director was to contact him last week to determine the funding for the County equipment. As of today, Mr. Cross had not been contacted by the Regional Director.

Possible Change In Service For Irma

The Irma district has been served with a questionnaire by Alberta Government Telephones. The objective of the questionnaire is to ascertain the opinion of the public regarding the idea of area dialing. If this should be established, Irma and Wainwright would be united.

Irma subscribers could then phone direct to Wainwright. The cost of this service would be 95 cents per month.

This questionaire should be given serious thought and everyone should fill out and return the sheet.

We depend on Wainwright today for so many services - machinery and mechanical repairs, hospital, dental, veterinary, seed cleaning, school board, municipal administration etc. It would be very handy to be able to phone through to Wainwright whenever necessary at no extra charge other than the 95 cents per month.

We have been told that Edgerton residents are happy with their tie up with Wainwright.

Some Irma people have long regarded Wainwright as Irma's most promising suburb, so let's get closer to our suburb.

Freight Transport Business Ceases After 50 Years

In mid September 1979 the freight transportation service provided by Viking Cartage (1979) Ltd. came to a halt. The final freight pick-up was made on September 17th.

Following the sudden passing of Jim Biddlecomb, owner operator of Viking Cartage, the business responsibilities were handled by his wife Darla and family. Shortly thereafter, Darla Biddlecomb attempted to sell the franchise, trucks, equipment and property as an on-going business. With prospective buyers limited and none willing to meet the dollar value she had established, Mrs. Biddlecomb felt she had no alternative but to cease operating. And thus, a business which has provided an essential service to Viking businessmen and individual citizens alike, closed its doors.

The freight transportation service to and from the Viking District traces back a full fifty years. Mr. and Mrs. Ike McLaren laid the foundation with a "fleet" of two trucks. Folks fondly refer to the "his" and "hers" operation, which found Mrs. McLaren behind the wheel whenever needed. From its early beginnings in 1929 the business grew to the point where a separate livestock transport was established. Keeping the livestock business, the McLarens sold the freight service to Cecil Place in 1943. The business owned and operated by Place served the area for the next five years.

Alfred and Bill Rosene purchased the business in 1948 and met the transport needs of the community until 1951 when the operation again changed hands.

In 1951 Norman Miles of Edgerton became the new owner. Three years later, in 1954, Lloyd Fouts brought the franchise "home". The business operated and remained in his ownership for ten years.

Sandy Klachuk bought the business in 1964 and sold out in 1967. From 1967 until 1970 the partnership of Ken Kjelland and George Rivers provided a freight transport service to the area. Later in 1970 the partnership dissolved with Ken Kjelland continuing the business on his own for the next three years.

The final change of ownership was transacted between Ken Kjelland and the late Jim Biddlecomb. From 1973 until his recent passing Jim and his family provided the district with a freight hauling service operated under the familiar name of Viking Cartage.

Throughout the many changes in ownership one figure remained constant — that of Carl Almgren of Viking. The name Carl Almgren became synonymous with the freight hauling trade. Carl started trucking some twenty years back and drove for Lloyd Fouts in the spring of 1954. He continued in the business under Sandy Klachuk and went on to manage the operation for a period of three years. The following six years he drove for Kjelland. He followed through with the final sale and drove for Viking Cartage for a short while.

Although the transportation of freight will without a doubt continue, it is unfortunate that circumstance have led to the closing of a Viking based operation.

Bus Safety Week

This week is National School Bus Safety Week. Every school day of the year, hundreds of children in the area get onto their large yellow bus for their journeys to school.

The youth of our area are our most valuable resource. We must, at all costs, ensure that their safety is not in doubt. We all must take special care to respect the large yellow bus and the flashing red lights at "all" times. A moment of negligence can be disastrous. Let's be careful whenever we come upon these purveyors of our youth.

Passing The "Buck"

The problems arising over the construction, or lack thereof, of SR870 seems to be a case of pass the "buck". The buck in this case means the dollar bill. According to government officials, over $150,000 of a total budget of $200,000 has been spent on SR870 and less than half the project has been completed. That's over ¾ of the budget for less than ½ the desired work. Obviously things went too far before a halt was made to the project. Too many "bucks" went out with too little progress made.

Yet now Transport Alberta has requested that the County put some money into building the project. How absurd! Charles Lendzion, Regional Director for Transport Alberta, said that they are responsible for all construction costs excluding easements. As the County has already secured the easement, why should the County tax "buck" be used to "bail out" the provincial government department!

Either their initial cost estimates on the project were "wayout", or they didn't keep close enough tabs on the progress being made. Either way, in this case the "bucks" should be passed from the Provincial government to the County and not vice versa. They were originally responsible! They should foot the bill!

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I have just read your Editorial in the issue dated September 12, 1979 and I take exception to the tone and implications therein stated by you.

I am one of the people who wrote a letter to the Complex Committee stating my opinions and I also returned the questionaire sent out earlier.

I cannot support the idea of a community hall on a second storey for several reasons: - safety factor both in going up or down stairs - high heat levels unless air conditioned (no provision made for this) especially in summer - extreme inconvenience of catering, both food and bar services - musical equipment would all have to be hauled upstairs as well as hauling out garbage - inadequate kitchen for catering to receptions etc. - last but not least we have a large number of seniors as well as some disabled in our community who have every bit as much right as you or I to use this facility, probably more, as a great number of them started this community.

You mention that the project had been given the green light to go ahead. By whom? I wonder.

The plans and commentary as written in the paper also fail to mention some other pertinent facts. The main hall diamonds and grandstand as it sits now, would have to be dismantled and relocated. The Cub and Scout Hall would have to be destroyed or moved as would the main entrance gates. Again by whom? No provision was made for this in financial planning as stated by the Committee.

I fell very strongly that had all these facts, especially the fact the hall was planned for a second storey, been put in the paper earlier in the summer they would have gotten a reaction long before now.

It was stated it would cost another $50,000.00 to put the hall on the ground, many of us feel it would be money well spent in order to make a much more acceptable unit. As far as I'm concerned all we're looking at now is a glorified curling rink.

Again you talk of needing active participatin. I considerer that I and my family do as much as many and a great deal more than some in the direction of volunteer work in the community, so be careful where you point your finger.

It has long been the policy of some to go ahead and do things and people can just like or lump it. Well this time it's just not working that way.

We have to operate this facility after it's built and if it is not used to the utmost it is going to cost a lot mmm

Maybe you had better talk to a few more people in the Irma Community before you form a no biased opinion. Were the Committe unable to speak for themselves? No one denies the great amount of ground work they have done, but they surely were not listening to public opinion on all facets of the proposed Complex.

I could mention several other aspects of the situation but maybe people will become more involved. Remember it is your dollar that is going to build it either by donation or by taxation to operate it so make your wishes known.

Thank you for allowing me to express my opinion.

Mary E. Newton

Alberta Agriculture Questionnaire

By Dallas W. Schmidt

As your Minister of Agriculture for the last six months, I have found myself in the position of having to set policies and initiate programs that I believe are in the best interests of Alberta producers.

During this period I have also found that this column has become one of my best forums for reviewing government agricultural policy and for discussing the many varied issues that make agriculture so interesting and sometimes controversial. This column offers me still a third option which I now intend to use.

From time to time we in government request public input into policy making. As you can appreciate, obtaining input from each individual on every agricultural issue would be almost impossible; therefore, most times we rely on meetings with representatives of various agriculture interest groups.

However, I think some larger issues require greater direct public input. This I hope to obtain in the form of feedback from my readers.

As a result, I'm requesting that all readers fill out the following questionnaire. The opening section requesting personal data is entirely optional. Still, those answers will help me make the questionnaire, what the experts call, "statistically meaningful". As I said, we often ask for public input. Too often we don't get it. This is one time that I hope you and I will provide fundamental information for our industry.

After completing the questionnaire, please clip it out and mail to the special address listed below. By all means, use an additional sheet to answer any questions you feel need a detailed reply.

Questionnaire

Please send all replies to: Alberta Agriculture — Today and Tomorrow, P.O. Box 3010, Station A, Edmonton, Alberta T5J 2T6. If necessary, hand it to your D.A.

   a. Do you favor the quota marketing system? Yes ____ No ____ Undecided ____
   b. If no or undecided, would you favor a marketing system based only on price? Yes ____ No ____
   c. If you're somewhere in the middle of this whole question, which grains do you think should have quotas? _____
   d. Which grains shouldn't have quotas? _____
   e. Should domestic feed grains be subject to quotas? Yes ____ No ____
5. Stabilization is a controversial topic. If you are a producer or associated with agri-business, then:
   a. Please list the specific type of operation in which you're involved _____
   b. Do you think a general stabilization program for all agricultural products should be implemented? Yes ____ No ____ Undecided ____
   c. Should the decision to start a program be left to each product sectors? Yes ____ No ____
   d. If you've answered yes to either 'b' or 'c', do you think any such program should be voluntary _____ or mandatory _____?
   e. Regardless of your answer to 'b' and 'c', do you think any program should have minimum (yes or no) _____ or maximum (yes or no) _____ limits?
6. Research is important to the continuing growth and maintenance of our agriculture industry. In months past I have described our Farming for the Future program. What areas do you think require further research?

The above questions cover some of the areas that are of great importance to Alberta's farm community. They also concern sectors where I will be required to make future decisions as your Minister of Agriculture.

I think that our input is important to my decision making process. Often, the cries of a particular sector are loudly heard while the wishes of the "silent majority" remain unknown. Through this questionnaire I would like to see some input from that "silent majority".

It's quite possible that the answers you provide to these questions combined with answers from other Albertans could have a significant impact on agricultural policy for decades to come.

Let Us Help The Children

Statistics recently made public by Douglas Barr, Executive Director of The Children's Aid Society of Metropolitan Toronto, are shocking: between 1976 and 1978 the number of 13 to 15 year olds in foster care in Metro Toronto went up from 305 to 510, an increase of 150 per cent in two years.

The old image of the Children's Aid was one of child-snatchers who took children from their homes over the protests of parents. The new problem for the 70's is children so out of control that their parents request that they be removed from their homes and "straightened out" in foster care.

Or social workers may have to take young children into care out of concern for their safety. The 13 to 15 year olds are not babies, but some cannot speak up about parents who batter them or sexually abuse them.

When a child is taken into care, the choice is not between a troubled home and an ideal situation in foster care. Children take their troubles with them and often go through two, three or four foster-placements, becoming more and more rejected and disturbed. Foster parents can only take so much before their family is in danger of breaking down as well.

The agencies attempt, under extreme shortages of budget and staff, to keep children in their own home by giving the parents support and guidance. As well, a number of alternatives are attempted, such as boarding schools, temporary group homes, stays in shelter-type homes during crisis periods. But isn't it time for the rest of us to ask ourselves, "What is happening to the children?"

If they are in trouble, they need our help every day in every way, too. Often we are mean spirited when we hear a neighbor's teenager applauding in anger, using foul language or we express disgust when we see a 12 year old temper tantrum. Agencies cannot work in a vacuum. It is up to all of us to create an atmosphere of love for the children

As parents we can guide them, laugh with them, correct them in a generous manner. As good neighbors we can alleviate little tensions that could grow -- lending an ear or a hand to a depressed or worried mother. We can spread calm to achieve peace.

The professionals can best handle crisis situations. But surely parents and neighbors can prevent many from reaching the boiling point by living love. Perhaps we can begin to turn around Doug Barr's statistics in this Year of the Child.

Successful Settlement of Refugees In Vegreville

On August 28, 1979, ten families of Indochinese refugees totalling 36 persons travelled from the Edmonton refugee reception centre to Vegreville, Alberta.

The group was the first in an anticipated 25 refugee families that will be settling in Vegreville over the next few months.

Only five days after arrival, all of the heads of family were working and all families were settled in their own accommodation in this community of 4,000, located approximately 45 miles northwest of Viking.

This successful initial settlement was the direct result of a tremendous effort on the part of the community as a whole, and the special committees that were established to work in co-operation with the Edmonton Canada Employment Centre staff in welcoming the refugee families.

Each refugee was befriended by a local family who will offer moral support and orientation to the community. Special language classes have also been set up, and the community is now anxiously looking forward to the arrival of the remaining fifteen families.

Protect The Value Of Your Money

With inflation running at 10 percent or better every year, savings are next to useless unless you take advantage of the tax laws to help you protect the value of your money.

Your best bet is to try to earn some income on which you'll not have to pay tax. The Institute of Chartered Accountants suggests that for those of us who have children there is a relatively painless way of saving and avoiding taxes at the same time.

Assuming that we can afford to save the monthly family allowance cheque we can turn a handsome profit simply by investing it wisely in the name of our child. But why use the family allowance cheque? Simply because this is the only part of our income that really belongs to our child, not we his parents in the eyes of the tax man.

Normally if a parent invests money in the name of his child, he must still pay income tax on the interest earned. This is not the case with the family allowance cheques however because the money is deemed to be owned by the child, therefore any earnings made on investing the child's money in his name will simply be reported as income to him, not his parent. Well, of course, as a dependant he is allowed to earn $1,000 a year before being taxed and that is basically why a smart investment for parents is the family allowance cheque.

Here is an example of how this system can work. Each month deposit the family allowance cheque in a savings account in your child's name. Then each fall buy a Canada Savings Bond with the money. With a $30.00 investment per year in bonds started when the child is born, your money will grow to over $1,000 by the time he or she reaches college. In other words by investing $480.00 you earn over $520.00 in interest and you have a tax saving to boot.

Progressive Farming

Bill Braun
Dist. Agriculturist

If you are thinking of buying a grain dryer, the following information may help you to decide on the type of dryer that will be most suitable for your particular harvesting system.

Grain dryers come in many sizes and types. There are the in-bin batch, the recirculating batch and the continuous flow systems. Some units are stationary, some are portable, some are powered electrically, some are powered by a tractor, and some run on natural gas or propane.

Dave Scott, systems engineer with Alberta Agriculture, says that in order to select the size and type of dryer which will best suit your particular harvesting operation you should consider the following points:

The grain dryer should be able to dry all the damp and tough grain that can be combined in an average harvesting day.

The capacity of any future harvesting equipment you may be planning to purchase should be taken into consideration when selecting your dryer.

A portable batch with a propane fuel supply might be your best buy if your fields are spread over a considerable distance.

An in-bin dryer or a continuous flow system might be your best bet if your grain handling system can be located at the farmstead.

The availability of electricity and fuel should be taken into account. In some areas of Alberta natural gas lines cannot accomodate the fuel consumption rates of some of the larger dryers.

The grain handling system should be evaluated before a decision on a dryer is made because the grain handling system is the most important part of an efficient grain drying operation.

The ability of the dryer to handle both cereal grains and oilseeds should also be considered.

The ease at which the grain dryer can be cleaned should be of special concern to seed growers.

The grain dryer should be checked to make sure that it has been certified by one of the following recognized test agencies: the Canadian Gas Association, the Canadian Standards Association or the Underwriting Laboratories in Canada.

Prices of grain dryers fall into the $6,000 to $18,000 price range and the operating costs can vary all the way from 4 cents to 18 cents per bushel. The operating costs include labor, repairs and fuel. Fuel costs are determined mainly by the moisture level of the grain, the grain drying temperature and the outside air temperature. Fuel costs will be lower if the dryer is used during August and September rather than during the cold winter months.

Alberta Agriculture's systems engineering branch has developed a computer simulating model which can evaluate the potential of any type of grain dryer. It predicts the drying rate, fuel consumption rate, and the operating and fixed costs. It can also help the farmer to determine the best conditions for drying by showing which combination of factors will give the lowest costs and the highest drying rate.

Several fact sheets are also available from the systems engineering branch. They contain information on the costs, performance and management of a grain drying operation.

If you would like more information on the computer simulation model, the fact sheets, or help in selecting or operating a grain dryer, contact your regional Agricultural Engineer or the Systems Engineering Branch, Agriculture Building 9718 - 107 Street, Edmonton, Alberta T5K 2C8

Kinsella District News

News has been received from Campbell River, British Columbia of the passing of Mrs. Mae Brooks. Mrs. Brooks is the second eldest daughter of Mr. J. F. murray, formerly of the Kinsella district.

The following was submitted by a Kinsella reader. It has been reprinted from the Chuck Davis column of the September 2, issue of "The Province".

You've heard by now that former Socred minister of education (and former minister of labor and attorney general), Vancouver lawyer Leslie Peterson, became chairman of UBC's board of governors on Saturday .... but did you know he was from Viking, Alberta (pop. 5261)? Well, I didn't either. And I sat there looking at the name on the UBC news release about his election and I thought, Why is it called Viking? So I called Les Peterson and asked him.

It turns out that Viking, Alberta (between Bruce and Kinsella on the CNR, (in case you didn't know), was originally a Scandinavian settlement, and the locals gave it its name in 1908 - the same year the railway arrived - for no particular reason other than to honor the ancient Vikings.

The Petersons were homesteaders. "My people came by horseback into Alberta from Norway via South Dakota," Les told me, "and then went by rail to Wainwright. From there, they travelled by oxen to Viking... which didn't have that name at the time. This was in the early 1900's.

Les Peterson himself was born in Viking October 6, 1923. "I left Viking in the early 40's....but they invited me back for their Canadian centennial celebrations in 1967."

Home Economist To Attend Farmers' Market

The Viking Farmers Market is held every Thursday afternoon in the Viking Community Hall. This has been a successful venture for both the producers and the consumers. It is a good opportunity to purchase fresh vegetables and delicious home baking and a good place to meet your neighbors.

Maureen Bauman, District Home Economist from Ryley will be attending the market on October 4th. She will be handing out information and ideas on various topics. She invites you to stop by and introduce yourself and hopes to see a lot of people there.

On Thursday morning a cement pump truck owned by Canan Cementers of Wainwright was hit by a C.N. freight train on the railway crossing one mile west of Viking. Due to the angle at which the road crosses the track the truck driver did not see the approaching train which struck the truck at approximately 60 m.p.h. Heavy damage was done to both the truck and the locomotive with the truck driver receiving only minor injuries.

Fall Fashions Salute The Forties

Fashions this fall take us back to styles of the forties. We will see broad shoulders, well defined waists, narrow skirts and pegged pants.

Suits are prevalent this season. You'll see shapely suits with broad shoulders, indented waists and narrow skirts. Suit jackets are often belted.

Skirts are slim with pleats at the sides, buttons up the front and slits. Team with a velvet or wool jacket for a new fall look.

Feminine is the word for the latest in blouses. They are detailed with pin tucks, pleats and gathers. Collars are smaller and narrower.

Fabrics for fall are rich in texture - tweeds, flannels, mohair blends, corduroy, velvets and velours. Knits such as tweedy, nubby or rib knits are popular in dresses, two piece sweater sets, sweater jackets and coats.

For evening wear the emphasis is on velvet, taffetta and silk.

Rich dark colors express the fall scene: Black is teamed with the new fall neutral gray. Berry colors are mixed into the multicolor tweeds, checks and plaids are prominent. The berry colors include plum, wine, burgundy and cranberry. Other fall colors are dark browns and deep blues.

Accessories for fall include hats with pins and feathers, small handbags, gloves and silk scarves. Button carvings are back along with porcelain rose hair combs. Hosiery is tinted, textured or seamed. High heeled shoes are still very fashionable.

Adapting these styles to suit our own tastes and needs is still the most challenging part of wardrobe planning. If you feel good in an outfit it probably looks good too.

Holden News

The Holden United Church held a social hour and coffee party Sunday to honor Mr. and Mrs. Clay Schaning and their two children who are leaving Holden. Clay has been transferred to the Royal Bank in Gibbons. The family were presented with a gift and the well wishes of the community as they make their new home in Gibbons.

Word has been received that the bank manager who will be replacing Mr. Schaning is Mr. MacKenzie.

If the fall season has left you with some spare time, don't forget to check out the Education and Recreational programs available in our community. Brochures have been put in the mail and offer a wide choice of activities.

What Price Research?

The breeding of new grass varieties for the prairies does not come cheap. Agriculture Canada has spent more than $500,000 over the past twenty-five years on its grass breeding program.

But, scientists in the program point out that the investment has paid untold dividends.

Five new varieties of three types of grass have been developed. The new grasses have allowed western ranchers to increase their production, extend the grazing season by three to four months and make use of unproductive saline areas.

Irma News and Views

On Thursday, September 20, Ron Thurston drove Minnie and Harry Riley to the Edmonton International Airport where they took off for England for a two week visit with relations and friends. We all hope they will have nice weather and a pleasant journey, arriving back home with a host of pleasant memories.

Melissa Lynn Johnson was born on Friday, September 21st to Dianna and Randy Johnson. She was born in the Viking Hospital. Mother and daughter are doing along fine after some anxious moments. Ted and Doreen Hill are happy with the arrival of their 4th grandchild.

Mrs. Irene Hill has been to the Royal Alex Hospital in Edmonton for a check up and is to return shortly for further tests. She is presently staying with her daughter Muriel.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Moody from Illinois, U.S.A. visited with Isabel and Eldon Fenton for several days during the past week. While here they also called on Mervin and Elfreda Steven at Fort McMurray.

Irma's Cargill Elevator manager, Ernie Jacob- had an added work load placed on him last ek when the north west corner of the elevator ust open spilling between 1500 to 2000 bushels wheat.

After many, many weeks of construction in the upgrading of Kinsella overpass, government crews have finally completed the south half of the bridge and are now working on the other side.

Old Age Security Payments To Rise In October

A recent announcement by the Honourable Heward Grafftey, Minister of State for Social Programmes advised that increases in the Old Age Security Pension, Guaranteed Income Supplement and Spouse's Allowance, will be effective in October of 1979. The announcement was made on behalf of the Honorable David Crombie, Minister of National Health and Welfare.

The basic Old Age Security pension will rise to $179.02 from the present $174.82.

The maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for a single person, or a married person whose spouse is not a pensioner and is not receiving a Spouse's Allowance, will now increase to $146.97 from its current $143.53. Added to the basic pension, this gives a person receiving both the OAS and the maximum GIS a monthly total of $325.99.

The maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for a married couple, both pensioners, will increase to $122.20 each from $119.34. Added to the basic pension this will give each married pensioner receiving the maximum GIS a total of $301.22 or $602.44 for the couple.

The Guaranteed Income Supplement is paid to pensioners whose income, apart from the Old Age Security pension, is limited. The amount of the supplement varies in relation to income.

The maximum Spouse's Allowance will increase to $301.22 from $294.16. The maximum spouse's Allowance is made up of an amount equivalent to the basic Old Age Security pension and the maximum GIS at the married rate and is paid to persons between 60 and 65 years of age who are married to OAS pensioners and meet residence requirements. Entitlement to a Spouse's Allowance, and the amount paid, is based on yearly income.

Old Age Security pension and Guaranteed Income Supplement payments are increased quarterly based on the cost of living.

Community Saddened By Sudden Passing

The Irma Community was shocked and saddened with the news of the sudden passing of H.C. Nissen, Ole as he is most commonly known passed away on Thursday, September 20th in the Bonnyville Hospital.

Ole in the company of his niece from Denmark had been enjoying a fishing trip in the Bonnyville area. Ole loved to fish and evidently his niece did too.

Ole leaves to mourn his passing his wife Audrey, two sons, two daughters, four grandchildren and a host of relatives and friends, both in Denmark and in Canada.

The burial service was held in the Irma High School Auditorium on Saturday, September 22nd with Rev. Gordon Wilson officiating.

Mrs. Marg Fischer was organist. Hymns sung were "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Amazing Grace".

Ole was well known and respected by the community as was evident by the impressive show of friends and members of the Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star Chapter.

Pallbearers were from the Masonic Lodge: Richard Glasgow, Almon Archibald, Clifton White, Keith Currie, Ron Prior and Eddie Jackson.

The Mason's conducted a impressive and meaningful service at the grave side. Interment was at the Irma Cemetery.

Lunch was served by the ladies of the Irma W..I at the Nissen home following the service. Ladies of the Eastern Star assisted with lunch preparations and serving.

Ole will long be remembered by those who were privilged to have known him.

Ernie Owen Laid To Rest

Ernie Blaine Owen was born on August 14, 1902 at Hardisty, Alberta. He passed away in an Edmonton Hospital on Thursday, September 20th following indifferent health for quite some time.

Funeral services were conducted from the Irma School Auditorium on Monday, September 24th at 3 p.m.

Pastor Larry Koop of Viking officiated. Pallbearers were nephews Richard Waddell, Marvin Owen, Randy Johnson, Jim Owen, Carl Hoyvak and Kenneth Owen.

Interment followed in the Jarrow Cemetery. Members of the Kinsella Elks conducted a ceremony in the school and also acted as guard of honor at the grave side.

Ernie took his early education at The Metropolitan School. He later attended school in Irma. In addition to his farm operation, Ernie worked for approximately ten years as a butcher and meat cutter for the Irma Cooperative Association. He was well known and favourably spoken of by a wide range of friends.

Deep sympathy is extended to his loved ones, especially his wife Christina and Treena, as well as other members of the Owen family.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Isa. 50:1 Behold for your inequities have ye sold yourselves. Psa. 42:1, 2. As the heart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God.

My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God; when shall I come and appear before God?

In the human heart there is a thirst and a hunger and every individual seeks to satisfy that hunger. They seek this and that, here and there, but still the hunger and thirst leave a gnawing.

Some turn to drinking, some to gambling, some to all the activities the world offers, some even to religion but still that hunger is there.

Our souls are panting after God, but we try to satisfy them with all else bu satisfy them with all else but God or Christ.

Jesus said "I am the way". Why do people not take this that way, when it is the only way that they will find satisfaction and have peace in our soul here and everlasting life with our Savior.

Psa 107:9 For He satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness. John 6:35. Jesus said I am the bread of life, He that cometh to me shall never hunger and he that believeth in me shall never thirst.

Matt 5:6,8. Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness for they shall be filled and blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God. Have you accepted Jesus into your heart? Why not satisfy that hunger the proper and lasting way?

County Zoning By-Law Amended

At the Thursday meeting of the County of Beaver Council, bylaw 497 was passed to prohibit the dividing of land into small acreages in Zone C of the County. In 1978, bylaw 459 established Zone C as an area around Lindbrook which the County deemed to be unsuitable for farming. This bylaw also allowed for the subdividing of property in Zone C into 3 to 5 acre parcels.

Presently, the County is divided into 3 zones. Zone A is all agricultural land comprising about 90% of the County. Zone B is an environmental zone around the Cooking Lake Forest Reserve, Ministik Lake and Beaver Hill Lake. Zone C is the designated part of the County around Lindbrook.

The new bylaw, which amends bylaw 459, allows subdivisions of an 80 acre minimum, the subdivision of fragmented parcels, or the splitting out of homesteads in all three zones. The 3 to 5 acre parcels allowed previously in Zone C are no longer possible anywhere in the County.

Ron Pepper of the County of Beaver stated that the alarming number of small parcels being established in Zone C with the relatively small number of occupancies caused the County to act. Long term speculation by developers appears as a reason for the large number of acreages.

With the small number of occupants, yet the potentially large influx of residents, the County Council became concerned with the supplying of landfill sites, fire protection and road maintenance in the area. The new bylaw now places all of the County of Beaver on the same terms of reference with regards to the subdivision of land.

On Sunday, Sept. 30, the County of Beaver held their annual Hose Laying Contest in Tofield. At the conclusion of the afternoon competitions, first place honors went to the Viking Fire Department with the members being involved being (left to right) Brian Anderson, Alan Otte, Gordon Draper, (Fire Chief) and Darrel Abbot. Basic Hospital Funding Explained

With the construction of the new Viking General Hospital well underway, many questions have arisen pertaining to the financing and operation of the many services which will be supplied by this facility.

In order to possibly answer any questions which the public may have, we are pleased to begin a series of articles on these aspects of the new hospital written by Mr. Rod Krips, Hospital Administrator. The first of these articles deals with the basic funding of the new facility and its equipment.

Since 1958, the Government of the Province of Alberta has paid the total construction costs of hospitals. The construction cost is the total cost of all building, equipment and services, the supply, construction and installation of which are included in the Standard Construction Contract as commonly in use and approved for use by the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada and the Canadian Construction Association.

The local responsibilities (of the Viking General Hospital District No. 10) include land purchases, site surveys, soil testing, storm sewer relocation, electrical, water and sewer contingencies, landscaping, ambulance garage and demolition costs (if any) of the existing buildings. the landscaping includes sodding, trees, plants, parking lots, sidewalks, curbs, and special lighting.

All equipment and systems approved by the Department of Hospitals and Medical Care necessary for the operation and servicing of the buildings is paid for by the Provincial Government. This approval is based on accepted standards as laid down in current acts, Regulations and Standards Publications. Any equipment or systems in excess of those approved will be installed by the local Board ONLY by permission of the Department of Hospitals and Medical Care.

The approval requirement for extra equipment is there for the safety of the patient as the Department will now allow any organization or individual to purchase equipment which can not be backed up by the expertise to operate that equipment.

The new hospital is financed by the Province of Alberta and then turned over to the Board of Trustees who operate the facility for the citizens of the Viking General Hospital District.

For a great number of years individuals and organizations have been donating money and/or equipment to the Viking Hospital. These donations have been given because the citizens appreciate the care given to them or their relatives and/or wish "their" hospital to have some little extra piece of equipment. The donations received to furnish rooms, allow the Hospital Board to relocate funds for the furnishings to the purchase of better quality equipment.

The Viking General Hospital belongs to the residents of the Viking General Hospital District. It is up to you to decide how you want your facility equipped, the greater probability that the citizens can be treated in Viking (within limits), with only the complicated cases being transferred to Edmonton.

Irma Seniors Enjoy Activities

In response to an invitation extended by Killam Senior Citizens, two cars conveyed a group of Irma Seniors to Killam on Friday, September 28th, where they took part in a well planned program for seniors from Killam and surrounding towns, including Hardisty, Sedgewick, Strome, Irma and others.

Included in the activities were free bowling, swimming in the large heated pool, bingo, a sing-song led by two ladies on piano accordians etc.

The pot-luck luncheon at noon was something to behold, what a variety of dishes; fried chicken, casseroles, jellies, buns, pies, etc. etc.

I was told that a total of eighty seniors helped themselves.

After lunch a lady from Majestic Tours gave a very interesting talk on tours conducted this year and gave a list of tours in process of being arranged for the next season. Tea, coffee and cake brought a most enjoyable event to its conclusion.

The program ran for three days - September 24th, 26th and 28th, and it reflected great credit on those responsible for the project.

Bank Staff Receive Award

The communities of both Irma and Viking join in extending congratulations to the staff of the Irma Branch of the Bank of Montreal.

The Irma Branch received the Award of Excellence, presented in "District C" which is comprised of thirty-two branches.

On Friday, September 28, Mr. Frank Hocquell, Vice President of the Alberta Division and Mr. Keith MacMillan, District Manager, were on hand to present Bank Manager Gwen Selp with the award. A fine accomplishment and we wish you continued success in your work.

Fire Prevention Week

The Week of October 7th to 13th has been designated National Fire Prevention Week. One of the objectives of the week is to remind people of the very destructive nature of fire and the great care with which it must be handled. Fire is similar to all of nature's phenomenon in that it can be very helpful or very destructive. We all utilize fire in positive ways, yet we all hope that its destructive capabilities will not catch us unexpectedly.

Yet just in case it does, we are all able to call on our local volunteer fire departments to attempt to control or stop this destructive force. None of us are totally immune to the possiblity of fire destroying our person or property. Some of us may experience just such a disaster. Others of us may never.

The people who volunteer to help protect our property should be commended. They receive little in return for their efforts, yet they perform a tremendous service for us all. At times they may experience difficulty with sometimes outdated equipment, but they never fall short of giving 100 per cent in their attempts to perform the task which they have been called on to fulfill.

One of the problems with our volunteer fire departments is that quite often they run short of volunteers. This is a major problem for a shortage of firemen at a fire can lead to unnecessary destruction. Most of the fire departments in our area are looking for volunteers from time to time. If you are in any way interested in helping your area by being a volunteer firefighter, do not hesitate to contact your local fire chief or town administrator. Your efforts in this area are greatly appreciated for because of our volunteer firefighters, we all sleep much easier. What would it be like without them!

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Recently your paper ran an ad asking for people to take part in testing new products in the home. I was one of those who answered the ad.

Since then this firm "Consumer Products Testing Laboratories" has written to me, asking for a cheque in the amount of $25.00 to become part of their "team".

I subsequently phoned the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs to find out if this was in fact a legitimate firm. The firm in question is APPARENTLY UNDER INVESTIGATION AT THIS TIME. I was advised to ignore their request for money.

In sharing this information I hope to prevent others in our community from being taken in as I nearly was.

Students Attend Henwood Seminar

The following article written by Wayne Hoecherl, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William Suddaby of Viking has been reprinted with the permission of the Edson Leader.

For several years the Yellowhead School Division has taken grade eleven students to a drug rehabilitation centre called Henwood. The students are selected by the Principal or Councellors of their schools. Henwood offers this one week seminar which is labelled Awareness to Life Styles Alternative Workshop.

Programs like this are what makes the Yellowhead School Division unique. It was the first to attempt this, and remains the only division in the province, maybe even in the country where a program such as this has been preformed and sucessfully completed several times.

This year sixteen students from the Yellowhead Division were chosen. There were nine students from Edson, four from Evansburg, two from Niton, and one from Hinton.

The program lasted from the evening of April 15th to the afternoon of the 20th. During the one week period we were able to learn and understand what it takes most people several years to learn.

The reason we were able to assumulate such a vast ammount of information on the topics of Alcohol and Drug Abuse, was due to the excellent instruction we were given by two exceptionally good councillors, who we looked upon more as friends than as councillors.

The first thing we were shown was the effects of drugs, (alcohol, and others) on the body. We discussed alcohol effects on the family and on the abuser. We also discussed our own outlooks and opinions on the topic. We did role playing, which not only showed us how drugs can affect one's life, but it was also a lot of fun.

One very interesting activity was when we broke into three groups. One group wrote a poem, one wrote a story, and the third performed a play, about alcoholism. Later we presented these to the patients, who enjoyed them very much.

Most of our evenings were free, so we went into the gymnasium. The gym is a very important part of the program because it introduces the patients to recreation and helps them realize that drugs are not needed in order to have a so called good time. We were also allowed to attend an Alcoholics Anonymous meeting. We sat in on several lectures, viewed informative and interesting films and videos with the patients.

I feel, and I am sure most of the other students share in my feeling, that the most interesting and beneficial part of our stay was meeting with and talking to the patients first hand. We discovered that almost all of the people were more than willing to discuss their drug related problems in order that we could better our own understanding.

The main purpose of the program was not only to better our own knowledge, but to help us counsel others. Henwood helps alcoholics and drug abusers to realize that they are the same as everyone else, able to live a healthy, active life, without alcohol and drugs.

Since our return from Henwood, we have all made presentations to the grade nines at the Jubilee Junior High and certain classes at the high school. Many of us have also discussed this program with friends and relatives.

When we left Henwood, we were presented with a very nice certificate as a reminder of the experience. However, I feel Henwood has left a lasting impression on us all.

I would like to encourage all the upcoming students to take part in the Henwood program if possible, if it continues. I think it should.

The Energy Savers

KNOW YOUR FURNACE AND KEEP COSTS DOWN

Are you, like many people, content to occasionally adjust your furnace's thermostat and yell for help if the furnace doesn't put out the heat on cue? You may be losing money in one way or another if that is all you do about it — and you don't need to go to evening classes or read thick technical manuals to find out why.

A little book called The Bullpuncher's Guide to Furnace Servicing will help you out. Drop a line to Box 3500, Station C, Ottawa, Ontario, K1Y 4G1, and it's yours free. In it Conservation and Renewable Energy Branch, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources simply explains how furnaces work, what to watch out for, what you can do to help, and what to expect from the serviceman who should be looking after the system for you.

If you are installing a new furnace, start right by having one match the size of your home. If it is too big, it "cycles" too often and wastes fuel. Also see that your model is approved for safety and sound construction. If it is, it will have a seal on it from the Canadian Standards Association, Canadian Gas Association or Canadian Electrical Association. Then arrange to have the furnace overhauled and serviced on an annual basis by your fuel supplier or local furnace service company to keep it working efficiently and safely.

You can save up to 10% on the fuel bill if you have your oil furnace and burner cleaned and tuned at least once a year by a qualified serviceman. With an oil furnace, the serviceman should visually check the filling and vent pipes fuel indicator, oil lines, exhaust breeching or chimney pipe, furnace casing, warm air ducts, hot water pipes (if any), the burner and burner chamber.

The overhaul should include the exhaust breeching, damper, stack controller (a smoke safety device), chimney base, interior of furnace, fan, air filters, oil burner and its accessories. The flue gas temperature, carbon dioxide content, smoke number and over-fire draft should all be measured with instruments. The furnace efficiency should be calculated and burner adjustments made if the efficiency is not satisfactory.

With a gas furnace, the serviceman's three visual checks should cover the vent connector, draft hood and chimney base. He should also check the burner's performance, which takes in the pilot light, flame, burner and air grill.

The annual overhaul of a gas furnace should include inspection of the heat exchanger, a thorough cleaning of the interior, and inspection of the fan and the air filters, and also the water systems (if any).

With both oil and gas furnaces, the serviceman can further improve efficiency in other ways. If necessary, he should adjust the speed of air circulation and the timing of the fan's operation. Another improvement may be to install a smaller oil nozzle if tests show that the furnace is wasting fuel by producing too much heat.

In addition to all this, it pays to keep an eye on the furnace yourself to see whether it is working properly. Don't try to make adjustments; they could be risky both for the furnace and yourself. Some practical steps you can take are in ensuring that conditions in the home help the furnace to work efficiently, especially by keeping dirt out of the system, and by promoting proper air circulation both for the furnace burner and the delivery of hot air. More about this and other aspects of furnace care will be found in The Bullpuncher's Guide to Furnace Servicing.

October is International Energy Conservation Month. What are you doing today to conserve energy for tomorrow?

Work began this week on the installation of a private rail spur for Cargill Grain in Viking. The present side rail accomodates approximately 25 hopper cars and is used by all the elevators. The new line will hold an additional 14 cars giving a total loading capacity of 39 cars in Viking. Staff Photo

Detecting Vision Handicaps

Many children have an undetected vision handicap that interfers with adequate school achievement.

Dr. Grant Campbell, President of the Alberta Optometric Association, wants parents and teachers to become more aware of the fact.

"In these last few months of the Year of the Child, I think it is appropriate to focus Alberta parent's and teachers attention on just how important it is to the school progress of every child that they have the best vision possible",said Dr. Campbell. Inparticular it is important for parents and teachers of children in their first year of school to ensure that any vision difficulties are diagnosed and treated. A vision defect that goes undetected in a child's early school years may create a long term handicap, according to Dr. Campbell.

"Vision is a complicated process",said Dr.Campbell. "Just because a child has sight does not mean he has good vision".

Vision is a complicated process.To function satisfactorily in the school environment a child must have adequate near and distance vision, both eyes must co-ordinate properly and he must have an adequate field of vision.

Near vision is the ability to focus and to see clearly andcomfortably at a distance of about 15 inches with both eyes and with each eye separately for extended periods of time. Near vision is essential for most school work. The same visual skills and abilities at a distance of about 20 feet or more are necessary for blackboard work and for much of the visually presented instruction using projectors, movies and television. It is also important in sports. Binocular co-ordination - the ability to make both eyes work together is necessary for art work,handicrafts and play activities as well as to read efficiently.

The term "field of vision" refers to the ability to see peripheral objects while focusing on a small target. This ability to see up and down and on both sides with a minimum of eye and head movement is essential for participation in sports and for personal safety.

"The difficulty", says Dr. Campbell, "is that a child does not know when he is not seeing adequately because he does not know what he is missing. This places a lot of responsibility on parents and teachers to watch for behavior patterns that may indicate less than adequate visual performance. For this reason the Alberta Optometric Association recommends that every child have a professional vision examination during or prior to their first year in school."

Of course, any child who evidences such symptoms of vision difficulties as lack of attentiveness, frequent or accentuated eye and head movement, lack of hand and sight co-ordination or the backward formation of letters, should immediately be referred to a vision care specialist for a complete eye and vision examination.

200,000 adult Albertans returned to the classroom last year...

. . . for fun, health, recreation, personal growth, practical skills and other learning needs. They met in homes, libraries, churches, schools, places of business.

Realizing that education is a lifelong challenge, adults seized the opportunity to expand and enrich their personal, family and work lives.

They took courses in leadership . . . cooking . . . physical fitness . . . arts and crafts . . . languages . . . carpentry . . . conservation. Over 13,000 general interest courses on nearly every imaginable subject.

Major credit for the success of this growing continuing education program in Alberta belongs to the province-wide network of 80 Further Education Councils. Their volunteer members, nearly 1000 strong, worked long and hard to help this recent trend gain such popularity.

The Further Education Branch salutes those Council members . . . and asks you to join in extending to them our recognition and sincere thanks.

Vialta Lodge News

Our sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. Walters and Mrs. Elness on the passing of the loved ones. Mrs. Walters passed away in hospital here after a lengthy illness, and Mrs. (Lee) Grue passed away at Bethany, Camrose after a lengthy illness. Both were old timers of the Viking district.

Greetings to Mrs. Weber and Mrs. Suddaby who at present are in our Hospital and to Mr. Ziegler in University Hospital.

Mrs. Ash celebrated her birthday on Saturday at her daughter Ruth's where they had a family get-together and dinner.

Bob Cotter of Calgary came Saturday morning and took his Dad back to Calgary with him to celebrate his birthday which is October 3rd.

Greetings to Mrs. Waks who celebrates her birthday on the 1st and Mr. Taylor on the 4th.

Mr. Hoyland returned Friday after spending two weeks at Sherwood Park and Drayton Valley.

Visitors to see Mrs. Elness the past week were Clifford Lee of Burnaby, B.C., Harley Atkinson of Regina, Sask., Viola Lee of Edmonton, Doris Likness and Alva Springs of Irma.

Rene and Gladys Desmot of Edmonton called to see Mrs. McNally.

Calling on Mr. Cotter were Bob and Pat Jones of Winterburn, and Adel Jones and June and Zic Millard of Edmonton.

Other visitors at the Lodge during the week were Helen (Nellie Doherty) Gimby of Calgary, Mrs. Guy Harris and Mrs. Roth (Emma Harris).

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ferrier called on Mrs. Suddaby and Mrs. Rodwell.

Mrs. Rodwell accompanied Ruby Rattray to Vegreville on Wednesday to attend the opening of the Parkview Manor.

Bingo at Vialta Lodge for October will be held Wednesday, the 17th with the Card Party on Tuesday, the 30th. Our Bazaar will be held this year on November 10th. There will also be a bake sale and raffle.

Be a Name Dropper...

The Honourable Dr. J.W. Grant MacEwan is enthusiastic about Alberta's 75th Anniversary:

"I think 1980 is going to be more important than any time in our history for people to become familiar with their friends and neighbours in the province and those across borders.

"But you can't share without someone to share with. I want to see people in our local communities become more interested in their own story, to invite people to experience their own background, their own heritage. I think a little bragging has its place, especially during our 75th Anniversary."

"Albertans have been sending in the names of out-of-province friends and family. To all of these, the Premier of Alberta will be sending a personal invitation, starting in October, to participate in "Homecoming 1980".

"I think people would be flattered to receive an invitation from our Premier. I can't think of any nicer way to have someone's aunt or uncle, friend or neighbour invited to come home to visit. It's very impressive indeed.

"I'm being a name dropper and I hope to do more. Anything I can do to encourage people to become part of our celebrations, I will do most gladly."

Join Dr. Grant MacEwan and send in the names and addresses of your out-of province friends and relatives to:

October . . . International Energy Conservation Month

Representatives of recreational ice facilities will have an opportunity to learn more about energy management by attending a day-long seminar sponsored by Alberta's electric utilities in cooperation with Alberta Recreation and Parks. The seminars will be held in conjunction with International Energy Conservation Month in October.

Scheduled for Lethbridge, Calgary, Edmonton and Grande Prairie, the seminars will be conducted by representatives of Alberta's four major electric utilities, two major natural gas utilities, refrigeration companies and Alberta Recreation and Parks. More than 500 recreation administrators will have an opportunity to gain better understanding of Alberta's energy situation and learn how to save energy dollars by practising good energy management techniques.

The seminars are part of a province wide program to assist customers in eliminating waste and minimizing energy use during peak periods. Almost 90 per cent of Alberta's electric energy comes from non renewable resources. The four sponsoring electric utilities Alberta Power Limited, Calgary Power Ltd., The City of Calgary Electric System and Edmonton Power are interested in passing on the energy management message to their customers.

Recreation Report

Harvest time is a busy part of the fall season, and that is why we in the Regional Recreation and Parks have not planned too many programs for September or October of 1979.

However, it would be a good time for you who are looking for something to do for the fall, October 29th to December 15th, 1979 to let us know NOW what you would want in the way of programs. It is not too late to plan for them.

This fall we will be looking at taking programs into the rural areas where halls are available.

You will notice some programs for our Department have been announced in the Further Education Brochure that you received recently.

RYLEY

Loom Weaving will go if we receive enough pre-registrations with fees by October 13th, 1979 - Eight or more are needed.

OIL PAINTING

The deadline date will be extended to October 15th for this course. During this time we have to look for a new instructor as Mrs. B. Tessier will be taking a year off. Have you some suggestions?

Registration fees will have to be worked out after we see what another instructor would cost. Please register your names if interested in seeing it go.

GRANTS - PROJECT COOPERATION - CAPITAL

Time is getting short - Deadline date for completing these applications will be November 15th, 1979. So if you are doing any remodelling, repairs or new work please or write now for details. We are free to help you with them. Call us at 663-3730, extension No. 24.

CRAFT SUPPLIES

We still have some stock left, and would like to clean it all out now. You could purchase it in bulk quantities and get a special discount. Come in now and decide what you would like.

Some: Macrame Cords, Beads, Construction paper, Arts Supplies, Foam Balls and Eggs, 12"x12" Felt, Wool, Art Paper, Basketry Reed, and many other items too many to mention.

REGIONAL ARTS CENTRE TOURS

Last week we prepared brochures on all the tours to be held in the Centre from October 1979 through until April 1980. You will be receiving the brochures in the mail in most cases before this information gets to you by papers.

There will be a blank form to fill in for reserving seats at special prices, as well as a seating plan where you can X the seat or seats you wish.

Return this to us with your cheque or money order and your tickets will be mailed prior to each Concert or Show.

Deadline for these subscription rates will be October 15th, 1979 and after that tickets will be at the outlets at the regular prices.

By subscribing early, prior to October 15th, you will get 6 Concerts for the price of five, and a choice of seats you will now and they will be there for each show when you arrive.

We hope to also bring in other Tours as they are available during the season, so watch for announcements. If you think of some you think would be good to see or hear, let us know and we will follow up on them.

If you don't receive a brochure phone us and we will mail one to you. If in Ryley drop into the office.

KOPPERNICK

The ladies who enquired earlier on in the year for a Loom Weaving Course are requested to register now.

PROVINCIAL DRAMA WORKSHOP

Alberta Culture in cooperation with the Performing Arts is having a Workshop at Red Deer College on November the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th. Applications are available at Regional Recreation Office.

Card of Thanks

My sincere thanks to the many friends who remembered me with cards and visits during my stay in the Wainwright Hospital. Also, your gifts of flowers, fruit and candy were much appreciated. Thank you.
Ella McRoberts 34c

We would like to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the many cards of sympathy, the spiritual offerings and floral tributes received during the recent loss of our Uncle Bill. A special thank you to all the pallbearers, the choir, Father John Adamyk, Spike Halso, Ken Kjelland, Maurice Balaban, the ladies of the C.W.L. for the lovely lunch and everyone who helped in any way. Leo, Alma and family, Bud, Marge and family, Margaret and family 34p

Our thanks to the kind friends for the messages of sympathy received at the time of the untimely death of our beloved Barry. Your thoughtfulness is much appreciated. Mavis Taylor, Stan and Edith Taylor, Bob and Jeanette Taylor, Ella McRoberts, John and Evelyn Moore, Dick and Elsie McRoberts. 34c

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to take this opportunity to thank my parents for all they have done for me in the past year. Your strenuous efforts will be repaid many times over.
Dusten 34p

It is with heartfelt thanks we extend to Dr's. Cunningham, Caldwell, staff of Viking hospital, ambulance driver and nurse for wonderful care given Phyllis during her stays in hospital. Also to our dear faithful friends, neighbors, and relatives, Pastor Tim Johnson and ladies of the church for flowers, visits, and cards when they were needed most. God's richest blessing to each of you.

Irma News and Views

Tim and Joan Dixon (nee Armitage) from Edmonton and their children Alex and Heather spent the weekend with Betty and Clifton Holt and family. Tim was able to get in some duck hunting.

The next meeting of the Strawberry Plains W.I. is being held at the home of Mrs. Doreen Bell on Wednesday, October 17th. Hostess Doreen Bell; Raffle Bersie Long; Roll Call - A Thanksgiving reading, song or poem.

Bev and Albert Jackson were down from Edmonton during the week. They brought Mrs. Mabel Lewis with them for a visit with her son Ray and Eileen and family. Albert helped Eddie with the digging of potatoes and took a supply to the city when they returned home on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Lewis accompanied them.

Marg and Bert Armitage from Kinsella called on the Jackson's on Saturday afternoon. They also took in the Eastern Star Bake Sale and Tea in the Legion Hall where they enjoyed meeting so many old friends.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery is extended to Isabel Fenton who is undergoing surgery in the general hospital there.

Mrs. Bill Pedrell (Dolly) went into Wainwright Hospital for a series of tests on Monday. She expects to be back home next Friday.

Most of the grain in the immediate Ira area is in the bin or at the elevator. We have been told that grain which lodged badly did not fill, resulting in some light grain, which resulted in lower yields.

The major portion of all grains yielded very well, in fact, in some instances crops produced storage problems.

Most garden produce has been gathered and crops of almost everything were from good to excellent. The potato crop in the area was particularly good with some potatoes weighing as much as four pounds.

On the way home from Killam on Friday evening, Alma Enger, Minnie Jackson and Jim Jackson had lunch and a very pleasant visit with Alma's daughter Shirley and son-in-law Clarence Swanson. The family live just northwest of Sedgewick.

Irma School News

The followings were taken from the Wainwright School Division No. 32 Regular School Board Meeting of Wednesday, September 12, 1979.

"The finance committee discussed the account for Psychological Testing, Colin Saker garbage hauling at Chauvin, and the Tandy Leather order for leather craft tools and equipment; Beneficial Forter Account re: Division Lawn Mower, Martin Gosselin account re: Grass Cutting Wainwright High School and the cost of roofing the Irma School under BQRP and the percentage of support from the Department of Education.

A letter was read to the Board from Albert Copeland a student worker at the Irma School hired on the Hire a Student Program for the summer. Albert complained that he and Tom Parsons were laid off for two days when it was felt they had no sufficient work to do. They feel they were unjustly laid off and should be paid for these two days.

Secretary to reply to the letter advising that casual workers during the summer may be subject to layoff at any time and no pay is forthcoming to workers on layoff.

TRUSTEES REPORTS:

Subdivision No. 1 - Don Lukens reported the following:

1. That he was not satisfied with the finishing of the windows of Irma School under the BQRP program.
2. Dirt and weeds on the west side of the school should be cleaned up as it is a hazard for fire fighting equipment.
3. Musical instruments need repairing. Secretary advised that this matter has already been taken care of.
4. Roberta Jones, school bus contractor at Irma, has advised that his bus is fully loaded with 48 passengers on his 48 passenger bus. He may have to let some students go to another bus in the near vicinity to avoid overloading.
5. Mrs. Mcburney, caretaker at the Irma School, has requested that the school yard be levelled on the east side of the school as water lays in that area causing dirt and mud problems in the school. Mr. Lukens advised that he would attempt to have the area levelled with the M.D. No. 61 or Village of Irma grader as soon as possible.

Subdivision No. 2 - J.C. Barber reported that some of the busses in the Irma area are full to capacity. The Bouchard bus is going into the Hartley farm as there has been work done on the road with more to be carried out at a later date."

Provincial Grand Mistress Visits Prince Edward Lodge #292

The L.O.B.A. met for their regular monthly meeting on September 10th in the Orange Hall at which time the Provincial Grand Mistress made her official visit.

She accompanied by R.W. Sis. C. Reid, Dept. Grand Mistress, R.W. Sis. M. Bunyan immediate Past Grand Mistress & R.W. Sis. G. Hodgson Grand Auditor from Edmonton. Also present were R.W. Sisters M. Jackson, C. Russell & I. Fenton, Honory Member from Irma. Sisters Jackson & Russell are Past Grand Mistresses of Alberta.

Bro. Fenton acted as chauffeur and he spent an enjoyable afternoon with Bro. Cockle.

W.M. Sis. J. Lugg opened the meeting in ritual extending a warm welcome to the Grand Lodge Officers & Sisters present.

The Password was taken.

Grand Lodge Honors were given to all Grand Lodge Officers.

The Lecture was repeated.

A short business meeting was held.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved with minor corrections.

Committee reports were presented.

The sick had been remembered.

A report on the recent stall in the Farmers' Market was given by the treasurer which had proved very rewarding.

Correspondence was read which included a letter from the Sentinel, Home Care Service & Taxi Service and Transportation for Senior Citizens within the confines of the Village.

A representative will attend a meeting arranged for the discussion of the Taxi Service and Transportation.

All other correspondence was tabled for the time being.

The highlight of the meeting was the address by the R.W. Grand Mistress of Alberta, R.W. Sis. L. LeVesconte Prov. G.M. in her quiet simple way reviewed the hi-lites of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge held in Halifax last June. She said how impressive were the wreath laying and the Memorial Service. She also mentioned the beautiful Anglican Church in which the church service was held.

It could be noted here that I with Bro. Cockle visited this church several years ago and the caretaker who showed us through the church told us that during the war a munition ship exploded in the harbor and destroyed more than half of Halifax but the Anglican church was saved. Only one of the stained glass windows was cracked and if you looked closely you can see a Christ-like figure. Who can say there is not a Supreme Being??

Grand Mistresses were in attendance from every Province.

The Grand Mistress mentioned several changes that had been approved in the Ritual. She urged the Lodges to get new Rituals (1978). She expressed the hope that a special event could be arranged for the 150 celebration in 1981. She spoke on the importance of the Sentinel which is the Orangeman's Paper.

R.W. Sister LeVesconte said she was doubly pleased to have the priviledge of being Grand Mistress during M.W. Sister Horton's tenure of office (both Alberta women and both living in Calgary).

Most Worshipful Sister Horton Grand Mistress of Canada gave a white Bible to M.W.G.L. which was presented by R.W. Sister E. Harris, daughter, and G. Director of Ceremonies of Alberta.

The Grand Mistress congratulated the Sisters of Prince Edward Lodge for all the charitable work being done and encouraged them to continue. She thanked the Sisters for her Grand Honors and gift.

All Grand Lodge Officers were asked to say a few words. They all expressed their pleasure at being present and also thanked the Sisters for their Grand Honors.

The Worthy Mistress closed the Lodge according to form and a social time was very much enjoyed over a delicious lunch served and prepared by R.W. Sister Williams and Sister Good and Gerhart.

R.W. Sister Fenton, Hon. Member won the guess.

Thus came to an end another happy occasion for the Ladies' Orange Lodge of Manniville.

Holden and District News

In Holden the Brownies and Girl Guides and their mothers are holding a Pot-Luck Supper on October 18, at 5:30 p.m. in the United Church basement. This is registration evening for all Brownies and Guides. There are now about twelve Brownies interested in the program and we are hoping that some more Girl Guides will register as well. For further information call the leaders Mrs. Emerson, Mrs. Anne Scherger or Mrs. Soni Zemiak.

Those interested in antique or collectors items and miscellaneous items are reminded of the annual sale to be held at the Ag. Centre in Holden on October 13.

The 8 Unit Senior Citizen Housing Unit in Holden is nearing completion. Billy Bilyk housing employee with Revelstoke Co. is the sub-contractor at the unit. Assisting Mr. Bilyk are his father Steve Bilyk and Leonard Pooke. Other employees were hired through Alberta Housing from out of town. Mr. Bilyk states that only final touches are needed now. Interior painting has been done, most kitchens are completed. Recently Demy Suchy has been hired as janitor. Some landscaping has also started around the unit.

Donald Tkaczyk has purchased the Holden water tower. Donald states that he made the recent purchase for the sum of $155 but is not certain as to when he will attempt to move the water tower from the village to his farm. He will possibly use the tower for grain storage. Donald also stated that the moving of the tower will cause some interest among area people and expects an audience on moving day.

Rev. Peter Paul Hrabec OSBM formerly of Holden passed away in Grimsby, Ontario at the age of 51 years. Rev. Peter Hrabec OSBM was ordained in 1952. He is survived by his loving mother Mrs. Anastasia Hrabec of Vegreville, two brothers and three sisters. Family members are Mike of Vegreville, John of Edmonton, Mrs. Mary Pasley of Renfrew, Ontario, Mrs. Olga Balko of Edmonton, Mrs. Rose John Baliuk of Mundare, as well as 12 nieces and nephews.

Rev. Hrabec was predeceased by his father Demytro in 1969. Prayers were held on October 1, at St. Basil's Ukrainian Catholic Church, Edmonton. Requiem Mass was held on Tuesday, October 2, at 10 a.m. at St. Peter and Paul Ukrainian Catholic Church at Mundare. Most Rev. Bishop N. Savaryn OSBM assisted by the Basilian Fathers will be the celebrants with interment in the Church Cemetery. Park Memorial Ltd. Funeral Administrators and Directors in charge.

The Homemaker

By Maureen Bauman, Dist. Home Economist

As various kinds of community groups get back into sewing it's time to consider our own involvement and contributions.

Is this your group? "Once upon a time there were four women who belonged to the same association. Their names were Jean Somebody, Jane Anybody, Joyce Everybody, and Ruth Nobody.

Everybody thought she would like to go to the meeting but she figured Somebody was not friendly with Anybody, so Nobody went.

Everybody was asked to attend meetings, to work on committees, to give her ideas and suggestions, but she thought surely Anybody would want to attend and work and at least Somebody would do it, but Nobody did.

Whenever there is a job to be done Everybody agrees with Anybody that Somebody will do it, but Nobody always does it.

Is this familiar? These four women all belong to the same association and guess who got all the benefits from it. You're right - Nobody.

Don't let this happen to your group. Attend meetings, take on responsibility and reap the benefits of your contribution.

Bruce & District News

Mary and Ernie Hammerster were overnight visitors in Grande Prairie where they attended the funeral of Ernie's uncle. While their parents were away, Annette and Paul were guests at the Norman Babiuz home.

Barry and Bob Farlinger of Edmonton were visitors in Bruce last week. Bob was visiting at Viking for a couple of days.

Visiting at the Starky home are Jean's father, Archie McLeod, brother George McLeod and her two small nephews, all from Coquitlam, B.C.

Anita and Barry Bruce are receiving congratulations on the birth of their daughter on September 23 at the Vegreville Hospital.

Volunteer firemen Bruce Kawaliuk, Harold Hissett, Vernon Pratt and Grant Fredericks participated in the hose laying competition held in Tofield on Sunday. They were third (impressive until one realizes that there were only three teams competing). The reported an enjoyable afternoon and thought that the barbecued steaks were delicious.

By now you have received your Further Education program for the fall. LADIES KNOW YOUR CAR will begin on Wednesday, October 17 with Gary Howery of Viking acting as instructor. Arthur Micklich, Holden math teacher, will be conducting a short course INTRODUCTION TO METRICS beginning November 20. Registration fees must be paid one week prior to registration.

If you are interested in the above courses, please phone Sonja Babiliz at 688-3970 or Bea Fredericks at 688-3883. The Regional Recreation Board is also sponsoring two courses. Jean Romaniuk is offering BASKETRY beginning October 29 and SQUARE DANCE LESSONS will be held starting October 18. Allan Zwierschke will be instructing. You can register for these courses by phoning 688-3730.

Don't forget the Turkey Bingo sponsored by the Bruce Agricultural Society which will be held in the Community Centre (School) on Friday, October 5 at 8 p.m.

Kinsella District News

Jack and Jean McKie have returned home from an enjoyable holiday in B.C. In Revelstoke they visited with Jack's sister, the Howard O'Toole family and in Trail with his niece.

At Sparwood they spent ten days with their son Fraser, his wife Margaret and family. On the homeward journey they called in on two of Jack's army friends, one in Vulcan and the other in Eckville.

Members of the Kinsella U.C.W. will be sponsoring their annual Turkey Supper on Friday, October 19, 1979 at the Memorial Hall and extend an invitation to the public to attend.

Progressive Farming

Bill Brass
Dist. Agriculturist

The best time to assess your fertilizer program and to locate areas where the growth is not what it might be is when you are harvesting.

Size of swath, length of straw and head and combine performance can all be used to indicate areas of poor growth, short stunted plants or a marked variability in crop growth.

Don Laverty, head of Alberta Agriculture's soil and feed testing laboratory in Edmonton, says that any of the above characteristics that are noted should be taken into consideration when taking soil tests. He recommends sampling small areas of unusual growth separately from the rest of the field or avoiding them altogether and sampling large areas of poor or unusual growth separately so the factors causing the growth differences can be identified and corrected.

Mr. Laverty also recommends noting changes in growth and yield that occur between low areas and high land or hilltops. "Do not attribute all growth differences to lack of moisture or too excessive moisture," he warns. "Nutrient supplies, soil acidity or alkalinity or soil salts may well be causing the difference in crop growth and yield."

Mr. Laverty believes that a carefully planned soil sampling program that is based upon uniform soil type, past management techniques and observable crop growth differences can go a long way towards proving the data needed for future management changes. "Knowledge of the factors that are causing variations in crop growth and yield can often be used to indicate the changes that are needed in a fertilizer program and the management of a field" he says.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse ...Deut.11:26. God had already done so much for Israel and showed them His love in so many ways besides all the good things He had in store for them if they would obey Him: but if they disobeyed the curse was also in store for them.

I hope you will take your Bible in hand and read Deut.27, 28, 29, 30 and 31.

In these chapters you will see how good God is to His children, and how they bring curses upon themselves and their offspring.

Moses their leader also loved them so much, and he was tenth to die because he felt sure that they would disobey and serve other strange Gods and thus bring these curses upon themselves.

This picture fits this present generation as well as all generations gone by. God is the same yesterday, today, and forever. He is an all loving Father to His sin-cleansed obedient children. But, remember, He has put warnings of curses and wrath also in His Word (the Bible) for all who reject Jesus His Son, who came and died for their sins, and rose again for their justification. He loves with an everlasting love but if that love is spurned and rejected, He must and will keep His Word to their eternal ruin. We are living in the dispensation of the Grace of God and that saving grace is available to whoever will accept Jesus as Savior and Lord.

In this area the goodness of God has been so obvious with all the good crops and gardens and excellent weather for the harvesting of them as well, no damaging frost to spoil. Leaving the beauty of the flowers for us to enjoy longer. God is so good and I truly and intimately love Him.

Friend, is He your constant companion? He is mine and I want His involvement in every facet of my life. I need Him to lead and guide me, and to protect me. To give me wisdom and by His Spirit to empower me to stand true to Him against the evil forces of satan. Any who reject Jesus are denying themselves of all these wonderful blessings.

William J. Kelly Laid To Rest

Mr. William J. Kelly passed away September 15, 1979 at the Parkland Nursing home at 100 years of age.

He was born in Lucon Ontario August 27, 1879.

He come to Alberta along with Fred Cotter and Mike Ryan in 1903.

He was united in marriage to Harriet Boyhen in 1912 and from this union they had 2 sons - Frank and Jack.

Bill farmed in the moorseville district for many years until his retirement.

Bill could tell many fascinating stories of his early years in the west.

He was very active in curling, and enjoyed a good bonspiel.

He was one of the first members of the hospital board and stayed on for 30 years.

In his later years there was nothing he loved more than a good game of cribbage, and enjoyed many a game with his old buddies at Valla Lodge and Parkland Nursing Home.

Bill will be sadly missed by all who knew him.

He was predeceased by his wife Harriet in 1959, his son Frank in 1984 and son Jack in 1971.

Funeral service were held from the Holy Heart of Mary Catholic Church on Monday September 17 with Father John Adamyk officiating.

Pallbearers were Maurice Cumming, Roy Maxwell, Sid Brooke, Cecil Runyon, John Heslop and Bill Johnson.

Internment took place in Mt. Carmel Cemetery with Ronaghan Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

He leaves to mourn his loss 3 nephews, 2 neices, Bud and Leo Kelly and families of Viking, Herb Kelly and family of Detroit Michigan, Mae Lyans and family of Burmingham Michigan and Margaret Greenfield and family of Viking and one sister-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Bayhen of Petoluma California, plus many long time friends.

William Franklin Haire Passes

On September 18, 1979 William Franklin (Billy) Haire passed away at the General Hospital in Edmonton after a lengthy illness.

Funeral services were held in the Viking United Church with Reverend J.E. Bennett officiating. Organist Mrs. Edna Roddick accompanied the choir in the singing of "The Old Rugged Cross". Other hymns sung were "How Great Thou Art" and "Amazing Grace".

Active pallbearers were Johnny Cumming, George Myren, Ross Haeberle, Billy Clifford, Evert Burk and Richard Cherneesky.

Honorary pallbearers were Alan Skori, Dwayne Lancaster, Gene Gunderson, Gordon Brodie, Ole Myren.

Honorary pallbearers were Ole Myren, Dwayne Lancaster, Alan Skori, Gene Gunderson, Gordon Brodie, Bill Cook, Ross McKay and Ralph Lauman.

Mr. Haire leaves to mourn his wife, Emelia, three sons, Jesse, Kelly and David, one daughter, Shannon, his Mother and Father, Kathleen and Frank Haire, two sisters, Mrs. K. Gordon (Marlene) and Mrs. Kathy McIntyre all of Victoria, two brothers, Joe and Gordon of Edmonton and many aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

Billy was well known in the Viking district where he lived with his Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Haire. During this time he helped his uncle in the dray business and milk delivery.

Billy started riding bucking horses at an early age and later was well known on the rodeo circuit as a bull rider. He spent some time working on ranches in Southern Alberta as well as two seasons with a big game guide in the mountains.

For the past several years Billy has made his home in Edmonton where he was employed in construction, the last job being the Commonwealth Stadium.

We wish to thank all our friends and neighbours for their expressions of sympathy in our recent bereavement. A special thanks to Rev. Bennett, the United Church Choir and organist Edna Roddick, to all those who helped with the lunch at the Church and bringing food to the house.

New Water Supply For Viking

At the regular October meeting of the Viking Town Council, Cicon Engineering of Edmonton was engaged to design a new water supply system for Viking.

The new system will include a new raw water storage reservoir to supply a population of 3,000 with design expansion for a population of 5,000. A pipeline with a capacity to supply a population of 5,000 will be constructed from the reservoir to the Town.

Council decided to have a new water treatment facility constructed with a capacity for 3,000 people, expandable to meet the requirements of a population of 5,000. This will allow them to utilize the old treatment plant during construction and maintain it for a back-up system to the new plant. An underground reservoir for treated water will be built to meet heavy water demands during fires.

The present raw water storage will be maintained to cut down on the amount of pumping from the major reservoir located in the country. Cicon proposes to drain the old reservoir and clean it out once the new facility is operational.

Council set a construction date of the fall of 1980. The actual operation of the system will likely not be realized until the spring of 1981 because the major storage reservoir must be filled with spring run-off.

Ron Chrapko of Cicon Engineering stated that the design would be completed in about four months, with construction expected to begin in the spring of 1980. The exact location of the major supply and reservoir will be determined upon the completion of the system design. Water studies undertaken by both the Alberta Department of the Environment and Cicon Engineering indicate that a surface supply is the only option to meet Viking's needs.

In other Council news, Mr. Dennis Watson and Mr. George Ritchie presented a petition on behalf of the residents living on the north side of 59 Avenue. The petition requested that the Town raise the grade on the alley behind their lots to a height approximately 18 in. higher than it is at present.

In discussions with the Cicon engineers, Council instructed Cicon to raise the alley if at all possible, in keeping with necessary drainage flows on the alley.

In discussion with the petition representatives, Council also learned that the residents were concerned about the danger created by the ditch between their property and the hospital road. Fear was expressed that the deepness of the ditch, combined with the high water levels in the spring could result in the death of one of the area's youngsters.

Council decided to place a fence between the ditch and the alley behind the residents lots to decrease the possibility of such an accident occurring.

Bonanza Ball Provides Facility Funding

On October 27 the Viking and District Agricultural Society will hold the second annual Harvest Bonanza Ball. The purpose of the ball is to raise funds for the operation of the Community Hall and the Carena. Approximately $8,000.00 will be profit from the ball to assist with operating costs of both facilities.

Operation and maintenance of the two facilities run around $5,000.00 per year for expenditures. Of this total $10,000.00 was received in grants from the County of Beaver to cover the payment on the hall. Although a good percentage of the costs are covered by the rental fees on the hall, skating fees and charges to the hockey teams, these fees do not cover major repairs or insurance.

Combined insurance fees run around $6,500 per year. In the past year the hall roof was replaced. The old roof had lifted in many places and water was leaking into the hall causing damage. The replacement of the roof, unplanned in the budget, cost $15,140.00.

A fire in the electrical panel in the Carena was a large unplanned expenditure. During the same year the compressor broke down and replacement was necessary at a cost of approximately $800.00.

As with everything else in today's world, major expenses, plus the cost of gas, power, etc. is escalating. The operation of these two major facilities in Viking is no easy job. The most important part of the operation is to ensure that funds are available to enable the Hall and the Carena to continue to serve our community.

Grants are available to assist Agricultural Societies. The grants received to date have been for additions or improvements to these two facilities.

Improvements to date have been new lights in the Carena and a new heating unit for the hall. Unfortunately funds from the grant cannot be used for the replacement of the hall roof because, to obtain the grant, certain improvements had to be specified and planned for. The spending of the grant funds is closely monitored by the government to ensure that they are properly allocated to planned improvements.

Donations, in the past, have been sufficient to assist in the operations of the Hall and the Carena. However, in the past couple of years other organizations have chosen to channel donations to other worthwhile projects.

The Bonanza Ball is being held to assist in the maintenance and upkeep of the two facilities by raising funds to help cover extra costs that arise. Support of the function is greatly needed. Not only does the ticket which costs $100.00 per couple, allow entrance into the dance, it also covers the meal and all refreshments. Plus, each ticket holder has a chance to win either a car or one of the nine $100.00 prizes. Come and have a good time while supporting two worthwhile facilities.

Irma Complex To Be Discussed

There has been a pleasing response to the request by the Complex Centre Committee for views and suggestions concerning the plans for the Community Centre. Obviously a lot of thought has been given to the topic, and we appreciate the positive suggestions made and the time you have taken to do so.

The committee have carefully studied all suggestions and are presently looking at the viability of each of them.

With this in mind, we have invited Mr. Henry Kasten, who designed the complex, to attend a public meeting in the school next Wednesday, October 17th at 8:00 p.m. Everyone is most welcome to attend this meeting. It is important that everyone who has an interest in the complex does attend.

This meeting will have two main objectives. First, to discuss the viability of all the suggestions made to the committee. This should prove to be a most useful discussion, especially with Mr. Kasten present.

Secondly, we must, once and for all, determine whether there is community support for a complex. The committee's view is quite simple: they are willing to do all the donkey work required to get the complex rolling and completed IF they have the support of the community. If the support isn't there, is it because the community does not want a complex (in which case let us drop the idea now) or because they would rather have another organization develop the complex?

Whether you are for or against the complex, please come to the meeting and make sure the Complex Centre Committee know exactly where they stand.

Artists Urged To Enter Competition

Amateur artists in Rural Canada are invited to participate in Report On Farming's Second Annual Cover Art Competition.

The competition is open to all amateur artists. Entries will be judged in two age categories: those submitted by artists 16 years of age and under, and those by artists over 16 years of age.

A total of 12 paintings - six in each category - will be selected by a panel of professional judges, and will be reproduced on the cover of Report On Farming during the 1980 publishing year. Offers to purchase first publishing rights to each of the winning paintings will be made by Report On Farming. The two first place paintings will receive $100 while the second place paintings $75 and the eight third place paintings $50.

Managing Editor, Leo Guigley, said the farm paper is looking for "contemporary farm scenes .... paintings that represent life on today's farms and in today's villages.....paintings that appeal to readers across Canada.... paintings that everyday people can understand and appreciate."

A similar art contest last spring drew overwhelming response from Report On Farming readers. "That contest convinced us that there is tremendous artistic talent in Rural Canada, but that artists aren't being given an outlet for their work" Quigley said. "In some small way we would like to change that - to offer an opportunity".

Since the paintings will be run throughout the year, judges will choose paintings suited to the various seasons. Only paintings done in watercolors, oils, acrylics or inks will be considered. Crayon and pastels are not suited to quality reproduction.

Paintings must be done to cover size, 101/2 inches wide by 11 1/2 inches deep. Only those paintings submitted with sufficient return postage included will be returned.

Name, address and appropriate age category must be included with each entry. A brief biography of each of the 12 winning artists will be published in Report On Farming when the painting is reproduced.

Deadline for entries is set at November 19, 1979.

Entries should be mailed to Cover Art Competition, c/o Report On Farming, 300 Carlton Street, Winnipeg, [illegible]

The contest is closed to Report On Farming employees and their immediate families.

It's Hunting Season Again!

Once again it is hunting season in the Province. To date, many stories have been heard concerning careless or inexperienced hunters shooting either farmers animals in place of their intended target or each other.

The use of firearms for sport carries with it a great deal of responsibility. Hunters should endeavor to be fully knowledgeable about their weapons, about their hunting partners, and about their prey. Hunting accidents in most cases are caused by carelessness, negligence or inexperience. However, they are the type of accident that can result in very serious consequences.

Take care this fall to see that you, as a hunter, are not either the victim or perpetrator of a needless tragedy.

Letters Are Valuable

In response to a very valuable Letter To The Editor published in last week's paper concerning an advertisement in The Weekly Review, we wish to inform our readers that our placement of the advertising from "Consumer Products Testing Laboratory" is presently under investigation and review. Part of this review is being done by us and part by The Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association on behalf of its members.

The ad placed by C.P.T.L. was sent to us with insertion instructions in the same manner as many of our ads are received. We are not able to determine the validity of some of our advertising so we rely on the goodwill of our readers and the efforts of the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs to aid us in determing any "questionnable" advertisers.

We heartily thank the "Concerned Citizen" who wrote this letter for we are then able to relay their findings to our readers. Being able to serve our readers through the responsible actions of others is a major reason for our existence. As the statement goes, "Consumer Beware"! So make use of our government departments and this paper if you suspect problems with any advertisers.

Letters To The Editor

May I use your newspaper to clarify any misunderstandings which arose concerning the funeral conducted for my late husband.

I would like to say that the entire funeral service was conducted as to the wishes of the family!

We are sorry some people thought the funeral home was at fault!

An identical service was seen in another more broad minded community and was thought to be a touching reunion of the family for the last time.

I do hope this puts matters in a clearer light.

Sincerely,
Christine Owen and family

Dear Sir:

Schoolchildren in the Northern and Central Alberta area and across the nation, will soon be reading for the needs of others, just for the fun of it - in the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada's Read-a-thon.

In a period when massive cutbacks throughout the school system are occurring at the same time that reading levels by pupils in our schools are declining, it is heartening to report a reading program being implemented by the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada across the country.

The MS Read-a-thon is widely recognized as an outstanding motivational tool that has succeeded in getting thousands of school children to read books.

Young readers are assisted in the program in "Mystery Sleuths" who read to help solve the mystery of multiple sclerosis, a neurological disease that afflicts an estimated 35 thousand Canadians.

Guidelines for the program are simple. The MS Read-a-thon begins in the schools where the children learn about the program at a special assembly. The child then reads as many books of his choice as he or she pleases and obtains pledges from family, friends and neighbors.

At the end of approximately a four week reading period, a random prize draw is held to award prizes to the children who complete the program.

The program was established in Canada by the Multiple Sclerosis Society in 1977 and has gained the enthusiastic acceptance of the International Reading Association as well as support from thousands of school superintendents, principals, teachers, librarians, parents and the children themselves.

Youngsters are urged to read for the needs of others' by well know personalities including Lindsay Wagner, television's Bionic Woman, William Shatner of Star Trek, Bobbie Orr, Guy La Fleur and many others.

This worthwhile program, which begins October 15 merits everyone's support. The MS Read-a-thon provides important educational benefits that will stay with young people the rest of their lives.

For further information please contact the Multiple Sclerosis Society at 641 Tegler Building, Edmonton, Alberta, or telephone 482-9297

Sincerely
Gail Goudy
Read-a-thon Coordinator

Preparing The Garden For Winter

Fall preparation is the key to a successful, healthy garden the following spring.

The lawn is one area of the garden that many people ignore in the fall, trusting the snow cover to protect the grass. However, a few simple precautions should be taken.

Snow mold is a problem in many areas. Application of a fungicide to the lawn is the late fall before the snow covers the ground can eliminate this problem.

Cleaning the lawn of debris and leaves is also important. These often harbor pests and diseases that could affect the lawn if left all winter.

Government . . . Not Citizens To Pay For Phone Calls

Subject to Public Utilities Board approval, all Alberta Citizens will be able to call provincial Government offices without paying long distance charges. This is one of several announcements regarding the regional information telephone enquiry system, made recently by Stu McCrae, Minister of Government Services.

It is proposed that all long distance calls made by Alberta citizens to Provincial Government offices will automatically be charged to the Provincial Government rather than the citizens.

Subject to approval by the Public Utilities Board, A.G.T. will implement an automatic reverse billing procedure for provincial government numbers.

Presently, private citizens who live in 35 communities with R.I.T.E. operators are able to contact provincial government offices at no charge. However, 14 percent of the Alberta population live in areas not served by R.I.T.E. centres and must pay long distance charges when calling provincial government offices.

Mr. McCrae emphasized that local R.I.T.E. operators will continue to provide provincial government information at the local level, and will still transfer calls to appropriate provincial government offices.

Safety Tips For Halloween

Many parents are concerned for the safety of their children during Halloween and the Canada Safety Council suggests the following safety tips which parents may wish to discuss with their children before they set out on their happy expedition.

Always wear light coloured flame resistant costumes with retro-reflective strippings so that you are easily seen by motorists.

Clothing must be short enought to avoid a tripping hazard.

Face masks must not obstruct vision. Make-up is much more preferable.

Make your calls along one side of the street and then along the other. Do not criss-cross. Cross the street at intersections or preferably sidewalks.

Carry a flashlight to see better and to be seen better.

Travel in groups of four or five. Young children should always be accompanied by an adult.

Do not enter the house or apartment of a stranger.

Do not eat any treats or gifts until they are inspected by an adult at home.

Help keep Halloween 1979 a happy occasion for everyone.

Alberta Agriculture

By Dallas W. Schmidt

SAPPORO, Japan — Among the many good experiences I've enjoyed during my first 27 weeks as Minister of Agriculture, few can compare with my visits to two of Alberta's far-flung 'relatives' during the last seven days.

Of course, I'm talking about our official 'twin', the province of Gangwon in the Republic of Korea, and our so-called 'sister', the province of Hokkaido in Japan.

My week actually began in Australia where I was attending the Ninth Biennial Conference of the Royal Agricultural Society of the Commonwealth.

After that meeting, I flew to Hong Kong where I met with the Honorable Ed Nichols, Director of Agriculture and Fisheries for the Hong Kong Government (Kowloon), and Mr. W.T. Wanless, the Canadian High Commissioner to the colony. During that day I also addressed Hong Kong's Canadian Businessmen's Association on Alberta's presence and position in South-east Asia.

Hong Kong is a growing market for Alberta products. Currently, we sell her sizeable amounts of rapeseed oil and hides, and we're continuing to work on expanding our sales of frozen vegetables, margarine and evaporated milk.

My next stop was Korea, where I was received by the Governor of Gangwon, and met with Mr. Jun Hahm, president of Korea's Livestock Industry Development Corporation, and Mr. Tae Won Chung, president of the Korean Feed Association.

Alberta's relationship with Korea's Gangwon province continues to improve. Just last August the Alberta/Gangwon Livestock Project was officially inaugurated when a planeload of top-quality Alberta cattle left Calgary for this region.

The departure of those 55 cattle was a visible result of the 1974 Alberta/Gangwon twinning arrangement. The main shipment, three separate herds of high-quality Angus, Hereford and Simmental cattle, was sent to demonstrate the merits of Korea's purchasing higher-quality breeding stock.

The herds, each composed of 10 bred heifers and a good quality bull, were a gift from this province and the three participating breed associations. Gangwon purchased an additional 23 cattle to complete the planeload.

The project could become very important for Alberta producers. Korea intends to import more than 100,000 dairy cattle and 50,000 head of beef under a long-term domestic livestock improvement program. Most of these cattle will be sent to Gangwon, the chief livestock district in Korea.

Important developments are taking place in several other sectors. Korea is reducing its rapeseed import tariff to that now imposed on soybeans. As a result, we expect to increase our rapeseed and rapeseed meal exports. In the coming years we also hope to expand our Korean sales of forage seeds, dehydrated alfalfa and feed barley.

Japan was my last major stop of the tour. Upon arrival, I paid a courtesy call on the Governor of Hokkaido, Mr. H. Dogakinai. We had a fruitful discussion, made interesting because we had a common bond in the on-going Alberta-Hokkaido Dairy Exchange Program.

The aim of this program, first announced in 1972, is to promote an exchange of culture, friendship, business, education and technology. This year Alberta has hosted 10 farm exchangees from Hokkaido, and four young Albertans have taken similar advantage of this opportunity to study the dairy practices of Japanese producers.

On a trade level, Japan ranks as Alberta's top customer. In fact, Japan is Canada's chief market for agricultural and food products. At $4 billion in 1978, Canada's total Japanese trade was second in value only to our trade with the United States. This merchandise exchange also proved to be very profitable for Canadians who achieved a healthy trade surplus of $750 million from the year's transactions.

In agriculture alone, our 1978 Japanese exports exceeded $800 million. Of this, rapeseed (worth almost one-quarter billion dollars), wheat (just under $200 million), meat (mostly pork) and barley (about $90 million) were the top four farm exports. Live animal sales and exports of flaxseed, dehydrated alfalfa and milled cereals were other significant factors.

Of interest to Alberta producers might be our increased rapeseed exports which passed the one million tonne level in the 1978-79 crop year. Recently, we entered negotiations to extend our pork sales to Japan. And future sales of Alberta potatoes hold good promise. In these and other sectors, my department's International Marketing Group is continuing to work with Alberta producers and suppliers as we seek out new markets.

This tour is rapidly coming to a close. It's been interesting, in fact it's been fascinating, and it's been exceptionally hectic. I hope I have had some influence in maintaining and hopefully expanding our markets in the countries I've visited.

Grain Price Outlook

Agriculture Canada has released market outlooks for wheat and coarse grains.

Canadian wheat prices will likely average higher than last year as a result of strong world demand and an unexpected 20 million tonne decline in world wheat stocks in 1979 - 80.

Canadian and U.S. wheat prices in the next three months are not expected to vary much from those of recent weeks. World coarse grain prices should be higher in 1979 - 80 than the previous year because of reduced production and strong demand.

Coarse grain production in Canada is forecast to be down 10 per cent from the previous year.

Agriculture Canada economists foresee no increase in oilseed prices from present levels this crop year. Some oilseed prices could decline slightly.

World supplies of edible oils and high protein meal are expected to be ample, relative to world demand, putting downward pressure on prices.

World supplies of edible expected to increase 22 per cent in 1979 - 80. The United States soybean crop could reach a record of 56 million tonnes.

The Canadian rapeseed supply is expected to be about the same as last year despite an increase of 22 per cent in planted area. Drought and mid-August frost limited the size of the crop. Canadian rapeseed exports look strong, particularly to Europe.

FIGHT FIRE WITH COMMON SENSE!

One in ten fires is caused by careless use of kerosene, gasoline or other inflammable fluids, and by carelessness in handling candles, open lights, lamps, open gas jets, torches, etc. Pouring kerosene on wood or coal fires is extremely dangerous.

Using gasoline, benzine, naphtha and other inflammable liquids in the house for cleaning or similar purposes causes many tragedies each year. These fluids vaporize when exposed to air and may quickly produce an explosive mixture that is readily ignited by a match, pilot light, sparking motor or even a static spark developed from rubbing textiles together. Or the quickly spreading vapor may be exploded by a smoker or a fire in another room.

You can never be safe using inflammable, explosive fluids in your house -- or in filling kerosene or gasoline stoves or lamps while they are lighted.

If your clothing catches fire do not run. Running fans the flames and increases them. Lie down on the floor and roll, in a rug if you can.

Don't wear fuzzy, filmy, inflammable clothing around a stove or range.

Fire Prevention Week - October 7 - 13

We salute the members of our Fire Department!

The Village of Irma

Flames Versus Fumes

Did you know that a fire's gases are as deadly as it's flames? If not, you're not alone.

Everyone, especially children, fears fire. In fact, youngsters often try to hide from fire and as a result have been found dead under beds or in closets. Adults sometimes act just as irrationally. For example, a husband, having evacuated his family from their burning home, re-enters to phone the fire department and never returns. He died needlessly because he just didn't know toxic gases produced during a fire are as deadly as the flames.

Fire gases affect you in a variety of ways. Hydrogen chloride gas, for example, when inhaled for a short period of time, isn't fatal, but you will experience a strangling sensation, and will not be able to see due to pain and tears in your eyes. Some gases, when they reach the central nervous system, produce confusion and cause unconsciousness. Many gases produced by a fire are odourless and give no warning of their lethal nature.

As fire decreases the level of oxygen in the air, your ability to be rational is affected. In fact you may find yourself clawing at a door instead of turning the doorknob. Many gases produced at a fire can impair your judgement and co-ordination. A parent, for example, saves a teddy bear instead of a baby or a waiter tries to prevent patrons, who haven't paid for their drinks, from leaving a flaming lounge.

The way you behave in smoke and fire is dependent upon many factors, such as the nature and concentration of gases inhaled and the duration of exposure. Smoke may delay or prevent your evacuation by obscuring exits, by making you blind, confused, ill, or unconscious.

The best way to avoid fires is to prevent them. Don't give fire a place to start. If you are ever caught in a fire, stay low and if necessary crawl. Heat is less intense and smoke less dense low to the floor. If your clothes catch fire, drop to the floor and roll, while holding your hands over your face. Plan and practice an escape route and alternative route so that you and your family know the quickest way out. Prearrange a spot away from the building where your family can meet.

People cause fires! Only you can prevent them!

Fire In Alberta

For every fifty residential fires in Alberta, one person dies and seven are injured. Last year there were approximately 3,400 residential fires in the province. Most were started by the careless use of smoker's materials or by children playing with matches.

Fires are costly. The average loss per residential fire is $7,000. Many fires destroy an entire home and the family.

It is important to remember that smoke alarms don't prevent fires; they help give people time to escape. By installing them in your home, lives may be saved and property losses reduced. However, only YOU can prevent a fire. Practice fire prevention.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week is always the calendar week of October 9 - a date chosen to mark the anniversary of the "Chicago Fire of 1871". This conflagration killed 250 persons, destroyed 17,430 buildings at a cost of approximately $200 million. It was supposedly started when Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over a coal oil lantern.

This disasterous fire is what started people thinking in terms of FIRE PREVENTION rather than FIRE FIGHTING.

Fire Prevention Week

•YOU can help prevent fires•

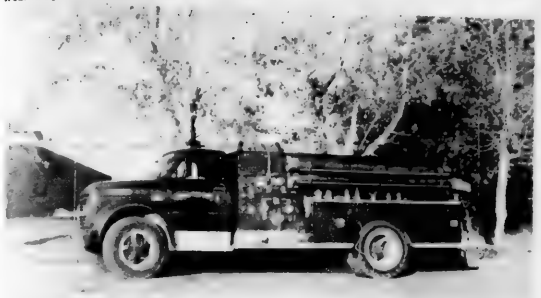
Practice Fire-Safe Habits All-Year

- Do not smoke in bed, or while watching TV when you are tired.
- Check appliances for proper & safe wiring.
- Keep matches out of reach of small children.
- Clean Up — remove rags, trash, papers, in & around the home.
- Pre-plan an easy escape exit from your home and know how to call your fire department.

Fire Prevention Week October 7 - 13

The citizens and the administrative staff of The Town of Viking wish to pay tribute to the members of the Viking Fire Department for the fine job they do in safe-guarding our town!

STOP FIRES



During Fire Prevention Week (October 7 - 13) we should all reflect on the importance of good fire fighting equipment as well as adequately staffed fire department to use the equipment during emergencies.

Install Smoke Alarms NOW!

A Message From Viking's Fire Chief

Fire Chief Gordon Draper reminds you that October 7 to 13 has been designated as Fire Prevention Week. During this particular time we become aware of one of the basic requirements of any community - the need of adequate equipment and trained fire fighters.

The Town of Viking has a single equipped unit available for use in combating "in town" fires as well as the use of the County owned fire truck. In the case of a rural fire, only the County owned vehicle is used. As this particular unit is not adequate for extinguishing certain types of fires, a replacement is being provided.

The Viking Volunteer Fire Fighters have answered 17 calls since January of 1979. Of these, 13 were "in Town" calls with two proving to be false alarms. Four calls were received from rural residents.

Although our firemen are volunteer workers, not employed to perform this service, the Town of Viking does provide a nominal payment of $5 for each practice attended. Also a fee of $5.00 per hour is allotted for time spent fire fighting with the Town of Viking providing funds for "in Town" fires and the County of Beaver responsible, should the call be a rural one.

Although Viking is fortunate in having at least seven of their ten members in attendance for most practices, this is not always the case when fire breaks out. A couple of the volunteers are employed outside of Viking during the week. Also, we must remember that these men are volunteers and cannot be expected to remain in Viking at all times in case of an emergency, which often leaves only two or three of the original team available at any given time.

Viking's Fire Chief would therefore like to see as many Viking residents as possible join the Viking Volunteer Fire Department, in order that enough trained members would be available, even during the summer holiday season, or special holiday weekends.

The Viking Firemen leave you with this thought: "Fire always happens to someone else. Remember to others, YOU are someone else."

The Council of the County of Beaver No. 9 salutes the volunteer Firemen throughout the County. Your dedication of fire prevention and fire fighting is all too often taken for granted. To each fireman we say Thank You!

Something To Think About . . .

Wouldn't Fire Prevention Week be a good time to join your local Fire Department?

Be A Partner In Fire Prevention

On Saturday night, the motor on this sewing machine at Parkland Nursing Home burning out and was the cause of the Viking Fire Department being called to the scene. Residents were evacuated from their room into the hallways in anticipation of a possible major fire. Staff Photo

Fire prevention is a family affair. That means you all must work together to keep your home safe from fire.

For a start, get rid of old papers, clothing, draperies, boxes and nearly empty containers of paint and other liquids that might be flammable.

If you keep hot pots and small appliances such as coffee makers out of the reach of young children, they won't spill scalding hot liquids or grease on themselves.

Don't plug too many cords into any one outlet and never run cords under rugs or across doorways. If you walk on them you will damage the insulation, leaving bare wires which could start fires. Remember too, only use the proper fuses in your fuse box.

For the smokers in your house, provide large, steady ashtrays. If possible, prevent people from smoking in bed or while relaxing in a chair or on the couch. Dozing off while smoking and setting fire to the bedding or furniture is the leading cause of residential fires.

When you've done everything you can to prevent fires, go one step further. Install smoke alarms. They can alert you to the presence of fire and give you time to evacuate safely, before you are overcome by flames or smoke.

Be a partner in FIRE PREVENTION from each Fire Prevention Week to the next.

Guilty Of Burning

Last year in Alberta approximately $10 million of property was destroyed by fires that were deliberately and maliciously set. The cost of arson is high and continues to increase in losses resulting from incendiary fires.

Arson fires occur throughout Alberta. While 60 per cent of all incendiary fires occur in Edmonton and Calgary, the remaining 40 per cent are dispersed. Hamlets, villages and towns are not immune to incendiary fires.

The most common reason for arson is mischief and the usual culprits are eleven to thirty year olds. Many of these people just don't know that arson is a crime and arsonists can be jailed for up to 14 years.

So what can be done about arson? The provincial government has initiated an 'Arrest Arson' campaign aimed at reducing incendiary fires. The components of the campaign include television commercials, advertisements in the TV Times, brochures and a display that will travel throughout Alberta. Only through public support and participation will this campaign's success be assured. To assist in arson investigation, Albertan's are being asked to report, in complete confidence, any suspicious acts relating to fires to their local fire or police department.

In addition to community involvement, the Fire Prevention Branch, in conjunction with other agencies, is trying to improve training programs for arson investigators and law enforcement procedures.

Everyone must do their part if we expect arson to be curtailed.

It was a home

Burning embers are all that remain to show for years of work. Carelessness causes most fires - so be consious at Fire Safety - practice it everyday.

October Is Energy Conservation Month

The Alberta Government will support and participate in the International Energy Agency's "International Energy Conservation Month" during October, Alberta Energy and Natural Resources Minister Merv Leitch announced recently.

"The purpose of International Energy Conservation month is to increase the public's awareness of the need for energy conservation and to encourage people to use our energy supplies in a wise and efficient manner" the minister noted.

Mr. Leitch said the provincial government is planning a number of activities during the month, including the distribution of a booklet titled energy matters and an "Enersave Home Energy Audit Questionnaire". Energy matters discussed are efficient energy usage in the home and car, and the enersave questionnaire results in a computer study of an individuals home through identification of specific ways to reduce energy costs. Both items are b distributed by a reader service card delivered with electric utility bills.

Additionally, a number of activities have been developed jointly with Alberta's major gas and electric utility companies. These include a newspaper advertising campaign and a series of eight seminars to assist managers of recreation facilities in Alberta in reducing their utility costs.

"Although we are drawing particular attention to International Energy Conservation Month, Mr. Leitch commented, the province has been active in implementing odd-use energy conservation measures for several years." Alberta Government Services, for example, started a comprehensive program in 1976 to reduce energy consumption in provincial buildings with significant results to date in cutting energy costs. Also, Alberta Housing and Public works has taken steps to ensure that new government buildings are designed to be more energy efficient.

More recently, the government approved funding for several projects, including an industrial energy conservation program to be managed by Alberta Economic Development. This will involve participation in the Federal-Provincial Energy Bus Program, a service designed to assist industry in identifying a ways to reduce fuel consumption and costs.

Advanced Education and Manpower received funds to assist its on-going program in improving energy use in Alberta universities and colleges.

The University of Alberta for example, has saved about 1.4 million dollars on utility bills over the past four years as a result of its energy conservation program. Along the same lines, Alberta Education is about to implement the results of recent research by assisting 50 schools to reduce growing energy costs through improved operating procedures.

"These are practical programs, designed to benefit all Albertans through reduced costs and conservation of the province's valuable energy resources," concluded Mr. Leitch. "They will suplement to a very real extent the long-standing policies of the province's energy Conservation Board, designed to promote efficient production and conservation of Alberta's fossil fuel resources at the well head or plant-gate. Taken together, the production-oriented and consumer-oriented conservation programs will play a large role in ensuring the availability of energy supplies for future generations of Albertans."

Irma News and Views

On Tuesday evening, Oct [illegible] Minnie and Jim [illegible] were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kinsella and [illegible] son, on the occasion of the birthday celebrations for Maureen Armitage who was celebrating her 18th birthday. The gathering was attended by Maureen's cousins, Armitages, Holts, etc. Maureen was later treated to a picture show in Viking. Many pictures were taken to celebrate the happy occasion.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Mabel Reitan who underwent eye surgery this past week.

Neil Jackson and his pal Brian Countryman of Edmonton, visited with Neil's aunt and uncle, Lorna and Eddie Jackson. They enjoyed helping with the bales and left for Edmonton on [illegible]

Bradley Hill and Howard Jackson went to the city with Neil and Patti Nystuen and over the weekend to take in the football game between the Edmonton Eskimos and the Montreal Alouettes on Monday.

On Thursday, October 4, Arthur Jackson drove his parents to Lafleche, Sask atchewan to visit with Jim's niece Kathleen Pratt who was 95 years of age on December 21st last, as well as visiting with his niece Kathleen White. They arrived that same afternoon in time for tea. On Saturday, Oct. 6th they drove east to Bcagough and visited with the Evans and Mooney families. On Sunday they drove home via the Gardiner dam and generating station near Outlook, Saskatchewan.

News is rather scarce this week as your reporter has been away. We saw a lot of country. We discovered that a considerable amount of flax is grown in some areas of Saskatchewan, most of which is harvested and the straw burned. Some however, some is still standing.

It was very evident that some areas were short of moisture and crops in these areas were poor. Some farmers spoke of wheat yields from 10 to 15 bushels per acre, while a few said they got 20 bushels or a little better with wheat grading No. 7. Hay crops in some areas were quite good.

Visiting at the Hollinger's this week were Mr. and Mrs Board Hollinger from Stanley, North Dakota. Mr. and Mrs. Andreas from Arendal, Norway also visiting over Thanksgiving weekend were Nels Thompson and Ilud from Clarenholm and Mr. and Mrs. Carl [illegible] Saskatoon and [illegible]

So with our monthly 'Motto'
To keep our paths aright
For our Home and Country
We boldly set our sights.
Suggestions Mrs. R.V.G.

When our second meeting gathered
Our Branch had gained by two,
Mrs. Sophie Kryzanowski
And her daughter Olga too.
Sophie made 1st raffle cushion wrote 1st Citizenship paper.

This first year set the pattern
Our W.I. would follow
Amateur program, cooking sales, selling tickets
More than we could swallow.

Whether holding Chicken Suppers
Or bringing fire victims joy:
We alleviated suffering
With Christian-like ploy.

So many quilts were stitched by Em,
If laid from end to end,
They stretched to far Korea's land -
Or made layettes for a friend.

Then Whist, transmit by telephone,
Brought joyful jubilation
As treasurer sent the sheikels forth,
For Hospital accreditation.

Money helped buy equipment that raised hospital standards
We sent our "Papers" year by year,
With firm determination,
And thus to learn: but truly hoped,
They'd "place" the top location

To Conference or Convention,
Our delegates we sent,
Dedicated to new information,
Most proudly they went!

Lovely Home Ec. ladies
With finest of direction,
Taught us how to warmly glow,
With aids to our perfection!

The "Wollen Mills" we patronized--
Sent sox and underwear,
Then quickly lauched our blankets,
To those who needed care.

Though meetings averaged five or six [Members]
Still guests were ushered in:
We sold the A.C.W.W. tale
With many a welcoming grin.

Across the world it flourished well
From Stoney Creek's beginning [Ontario 1897]
And women of the world hold hands,
While sisterhood is winning.

Our biggest "Project" centered
Around Centennial time,
When Government erected
On 36, The Battleford sign [1967]
Instigated by Shady Cove

Back we go to Shady Cove
In infantiamal form;
To tell the change a decade brought,
From the day that it was born.

New members seven placed their names
Upon our calling roll
But there were loyal faces lost
As Heaven claimed each soul.

Holden and District News

The Holden and District Chamber of Commerce held their regular dinner meeting on October 2nd. President Kevin Stambaugh chaired the meeting.

Due to the recent move of Clay Schaning to Gibbons, Christine Mackay recorded the minutes for this meeting. William Hallet volunteered to take the secretary/treasurer position until the end of the term which comes about on the 31st of December, 1979.

William Hallet gave a report on the gate signs and a committee of William Hallet, Don Hultholm, and Mel Hlass were appointed to look after the sale of these signs. The signs may be bought for $12.00 each from the appointed committee members, or any member of the Chamber of Commerce. A motion was passed to send a letter to Clay Schaning expressing our thanks for a job well done while in office with the Chamber in addition to his active participation in the organization.

The Chamber voted to raise the amount paid per plate for their Chamber dinner meetings and agreed to raise the amount from $3.75 to $4.00 per plate. The Ladies of the Royal Purple continue to serve excellent meals at each Chamber dinner meeting.

President Kevin Stambaugh read several letters that the Chamber had received during the summer recess. Due to harvest several farmers were not able to attend this meeting. There were however, twelve members in attendance.

The third annual antique collectors and miscellaneous auction sale will be held at the Ag. Centre in Holden on October 13.

Holden Brownies and Girl Guides and their mothers are having a pot-luck supper on October 18, at 5:30 p.m. in the United Church. This is registration evening for the Brownies and Guides.

MCC Self Help Sale at Holden Lutheran Church October 12, from 11-4 p.m. Gift items for weddings, Christmas and birthdays are to be on display from many foreign countries.

Mel Hooper, employee of the village of Holden has resigned effective October 31, 1979. Mr. Hooper stated that he was sorry to leave his position, but that one has to retire sometime. At the moment he has no specific plans for enjoying his retirement. Mr. Hooper was a village employee for several years.

Anyone interested in learning more about the Metric system is asked to call Pearl Allen (Further Education) or Ann Shavchook, who are working towards bring this course to the area through Further Education sometime in January. We will need at least eight people interested in this course before we can take any further steps, so let us know if this course would be of value to you.

FELIX POSSAK

This is truly a one-man variety show with Felix playing as many as six different instruments and singing in several languages.

The sound of the banjo, dulcimer, autoharp, guitar and other stringed instruments used to provide variety and added excitement and to enhance the characteristics of the individual pieces.

The performance, consisting of vocal numbers as well as instrumentals, features music from around the world. His material ranges from traditional North American folk songs, blues, bluegrass, ragtime to Irish and Scottish ballads and tunes from Central and Eastern Europe. Felix also performs Jewish songs in Hebrew and Yiddish. There are many humorous renditions and sing-alongs for the whole audience to join in.

Felix Possak studied piano and classical guitar in Vienna, Austria. He has appeared in concert on major stages in Salzburg and Vienna and has performed with various Canadian ensembles from coast to coast.

November 16th 1979
LAURA VINSON & RED WYNG

Born in Brule, Alberta, Laura Vinson spent her early years becoming an expert horsewoman on her father's farm. Later in her early teens she became a self-taught guitarist.After university Laura decided to farm her own land and chose the name "Red Wyng" after and old standard fiddle tune about an Indian maiden. The group soon became one of the area's most sought after attractions. The group has appeared at the Klondike Days, Citadel Theatre, Canada's top country music clubs, Commonwealth Games concert, and countless major fairs. They have taken on the Tommy Hunter Show, Family Brown Country, 90-Minutes Live, and other various television appearances.

They received award nominations for Top Country Group, 1978 Country Awards and Top Country Female Vocalist 1979 June Awards.

January 18th 1980
CONNIE KALDOR

Singer, song-writer and actress, Connie Kaldor brings a joy of life and a wealth of talent to her performances. In five years she has crossed Canada working in radio, television and live concerts. She has recorded original music for Sylvia Tyson's radio programme "Touch the Earth" for 25th Street House Theatre, Saskatoon, and for Toronto's Theatre Pass Muraille, to name but a few of her achievements. Her lively performances cover a wide range of subjects in her own original compositions. She has done warm-up acts for performers such as Valdy as well as Paul Puar and co-hosted a local CBC Special with the "Dumptrucks" of Regina.

Performed at Folk Festivals such as:
Bear River Festival, Calgary.
Wild Rose Festival, Edmonton.
Isolands, Whitehorse.

February 8 & 9 1980
ONE THIRD-NINTH

The Artists-in-Residence Program is a unique example of partnership in the arts. It was initiated in the fall of 1972. The distinct feature of the program is the actual residence in a community by the One Third-Ninth for a period of two to four days. Through this residency the trio is able to provide a wide range of musical services. In the past four years the One Third-Ninth has gained national and international recognition as one of the outstanding performing groups in the nation. It undertakes a schedule of over 100 concerts a year throughout Canada and the United States and is frequently featured on radio and television.

The group consists of:
Moshe Hammer, violinist.
Gabriel Rozin, pianist.
John Rose, cellist.

March 14th 1980
SARABANDE

Kathleen Payne, Robin Chew and Patricia Schreiber formed Sarabande early in 1978. They achieved great success with the first fifty-six performances of their entertaining and talented lecture-concert history in the trio's.

Two singers, Patricia Schreiber and Kathleen Payne, and one pianist, Robin Chew are three unique musical personalities who blend an emotional combination of experience, talent and artistry into something special.

Sarabande's programmes are varied, sometimes dramatic, and if you love music, never boring.

Sarabande: Three interesting performers who do things that many audiences interested.

April 16th 1980
PAUL HANN

Singer-song writer Paul Hann, after three albums on Edmonton-based Stony Plain Records, is just beginning to step out. He's had a substantial round of tours in Western Canada over the past 12 years and is now moving into Eastern Canada and the U.S.

In addition to singing, performing and playing 6 and 12 string guitar, mandolin, and banjo, Hann has also written a number of instrumental pieces for Access Canada films in Alberta.

Hann is an artist who defies labelling. His voice is resonant and deliberate, sometimes emotional and other times subdued and relaxed. He has appeared on numerous TV programs

Live Theatre Presentation Features Talented Performers

By now all residents within the County of Beaver #9 would have received the brochure outlining the Artists who will be performing at the Regional Arts Centre for the entertainment season of 1979 - 80.

Also, you will notice that we have set a special rate for those who wish to subscribe to the Series - six shows for the price of five. Elsewhere in this newspaper you will notice those figures.

The brochure mailed out contained a form to be completed and mailed back to our office at Box 5, Ryley, Alberta with your cheque to reserve your tickets. On the back of the order form is a sketch of the seating arrangement where you can choose and mark an X

If the particular seats you choose have already been taken we will try to place you as close to that area as possible.

If you did not receive a brochure, Phone 663-3730, extension #24 and we will mail one out to you.

All of our Concerts this season have been booked with the idea of the whole family being able to attend together.

The following outline provides an idea of what will be on our entertainment list.

October 24 - Felix Possak a one man variety show, playing as many as six different instruments and singing in several languages. There will be vocal numbers as well as instrumentals, of dulcimer, banjo, autoharp, guitar and singing.

November 16 - Laura Vinson and Red Wyng. Born in Alberta, Laura spent her early years becoming an expert horsewoman, then in her teens took up guitar and singing. Later University she formed her own band named Red Wyng.

January 18 - Connie Kaldor. Singer, songwriter and actress. She brings a wealth of talent and joy of life to her performances. In five years she has crossed Canada, working in Radio, Television and live Concerts; recorded original music as well.

February 8 and 9 - One Third Ninth. Three artists in residence, now teaching at Mount Royal College in Calgary. Included in this group are three people: Moshe Hammer, Violinist, Gloria Saarien, Pianist and John Kash, Cellist. They have played national and international concerts in the nation, Canada and the United States.

March 14 - Sarabande. Again a group of three people: young ladies from Vancouver, Kathleen Payne a Vocalist, Robin Chow a Pianist, and Patricia Schreiber also a vocalist. They are three unique musical personalities who blend in well together. They present something special in the way of music.

April 16 - Paul Hann. Singer, songwriter and recorder. Lives in Edmonton, and has had many tours in Western Canada in the past 12 years and is now going into Eastern Canada and the United States. He plays six and twelve string guitars, mandolin, and banjo and performed on many television programs.

Come see them all and enjoy for yourself.

The deadline for subscriptions is October the 15th. After that time tickets will be sold from the Regional Recreation and Parks office and ticket outlets at the regular prices.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

And he sought to see Jesus and could not for the press and when they could not come nigh unto Him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was.

Anyone desiring with all his heart to come to Jesus will find a way. Too many are held back by the press of many various things on which they attach more importance.

The press might be making money through various ways, becoming involved with too much work because of too large an undertaking. Many are aware that they need to be saved but the press is binding them.

Jesus is near. He is speaking. He is blessing and healing and saving all who will avail themselves of the opportunity to come but too many are too busy with the press to take time to make way to see Jesus.

The woman who for the press could not get near Jesus was only able to touch the hem of his garmet but reached out in faith and was healed.

The press will hinder any one if they let it, and Jesus will not force anyone but in love. He calls and speaks, Zachaeus found a way to see Jesus, he was intent on seeing Him, The man sick of the palsy was determined to get to Jesus and found or made a way.

Blind Bartimaeus whom hearing the voice of Jesus cried out to Jesus for mercy.

Jesus heard him and healed him. The press could perhaps be the love of liquor and its effects. If you allow any press to hinder you from coming to Jesus you are inviting eternal separation from God and eternal punishment on your soul.

Benjamin Appelby Laid To Rest

Master Benjamin William Appleby of Fort McMurray formerly of Holden passed away at the age of five years on September 2, 1979. He is survived by his loving parents Bruce and Mary Anne Appleby of Fort McMurray, two brothers, David and Dale at home; loving maternal grandparents Paul and Sophie Kryzanowski of Viking; loving paternal grandparents Bert and Grace Appleby of Holden.

Private services for the family were held at Park Memorial Chapel in Vegreville on Tuesday evening, September 4, 1979. Mass of Christian Burial was held on Wednesday, September 5, 1979 at 10:00 a.m. at St. Gregory's Roman Catholic Church in Holden. Reverend Father John Adamyk of Viking was the celebrant with interment in the Holden Cemetery.

The pallbearers were uncles: Floyd Taylor, Harvey Bukza, Doug Appleby and a friend Bill Ziessel

Holden Parent-Nursery Formed

The proposed Holden Parent Nursery is finally getting a start. A big thank you to the Holden Legion, as we have had difficulty in locating a place for our Nursery.

The Holden Legion will rent their hall for a nominal amount. Now, you may wonder what the Holden Parent Nursery is about. It is a group of interested parents from Holden and area who have young children ages birth - to school age. We have organized "The Holden Parent Nursery" as a non profit group so our young children of the community have a place to meet, to learn, to cope and to play with one another.

Our children need a place to go to, especially during the winter months. We hope to share and do things with the children that aren't always possible to do at home.

Some of the ideas for play are: kitchen play, having a work bench, painting, water play, sand play, dress up, a story corner, play dough, songs and games. This will give parents a chance to do things with their children without any interruptions. Parents will be able to exchange their ideas on children.

An added bonus is that the program will be a good place for new families to get to know the people in Holden and area. We hope that this organization will not only benefit the children, but open other doors of communication for the community, by just getting to know each other.

If you are interested in the Parent Nursery please come to the meeting on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., October 23. The meeting is being held at the Legion Hall. For further information, please call Darlene Stambaugh at 666-3995.

Hearing Held On Irma Land-Use Bylaw

A Public Hearing was held in the Irma Village Office Tuesday, October 2, 1979 at the hour of 6:30 p.m., to hear objections to the proposed Land Use By-Law.

Present were Councillors. Barber, Dempsey, Jackson, Larson and Littlewood. Also present were Municipal Administrator and rate payers Gunnard Larson and Henning Johnson. Mayor Larson presiding.

Objections were that there is adequate commercial land available in the down town area, and that it is not necessary at this time to zone highway frontage for commercial use.

After a review of the zoning map and a review of the land use under C2 of the said By-Law, Mr. Johnson withdrew his objection and Mr. Larson agreed that the property along the highway is not attractive for new residential development.

It was moved and carried that no amendments be made to the proposed Land Use By-law No. 499. Council Barber opposed.

There being no further objections to the proposed By-law Councillor Dempsey moved the hearing adjourn.

Carolynne Nordstrom, left, receives a cheque for $500.00 from Mrs. Vivian Garos who made the presentation on behalf of the Viking O.O.R.P. The money will be used in the construction of the new tire playground. Construction date for the playground is Saturday, October 27. Volunteers interested in helping with the construction are asked to call one of the committee members listed on page 30. Staff Photo

School Club Opens Wildlife Acres

Last Friday, Mr. Ron Erickson and members of his Viking School Wildlife Club and Ecology class erected a sign officialy opening the first phase of Wildlife Acres.

"Wildlife Acres" is a piece of land with environmental study trails set up by the Viking School Wildlife Club and the Ecology class.

The nature trails are situated 10 km east of Viking on the north side of Highway #14. Wildlife Acres consists of 18.3 acres of grasslands, bushland and wetland.

The purpose of the trails is to aid students in developing their interests and their awareness of nature in a practical environment. The public is welcome to use these trails. It gives the opportunity to become a part of ones surroundings, in learning more about the ecology of the living aspen forest - its soils, water, trees, shrubs and wildlife.

Self-interpretive booklets may be borrowed from Mr. R. Erickson or any member of the Wildlife Club for Trails #1 and #2.

Last Friday Mr. Ron Erickson and members of the Viking School Wildlife Class erected a sign at Wildlife Acres east of Viking. This marked the opening of the first of three nature trails which the Club is developing.

Keep October 20 Open

This Saturday is P.C. Day in Viking. On Saturday, the Viking Playground Committee will undertake to construct the new tire playground to be located at the school.

A great deal of time and effort has been volunteered towards the realization of this project over the last six months. Numerous farmers and equipment owners in the area have given of their time and equipment to haul tire

A great deal of time and effort has been volunteered towards the realization of this project over the last six months. Numerous farmers and equipment owners have given of their time and equipment to haul materials, and the County, the Town and many local businesses have donated or will be donating men, equipment and materials for the construction.

Now all that is needed is a concerted effort on the part of area residents to get out and help on Saturday. This is an opportunity for the "old-fashioned community spirit" to rear its head and get all of us involved. Let's make an effort to be a part of "Playground Construction Day" this Saturday.

Harvest Bonanza Ball

Two of the most important social and recreational facilities in Viking have to be the Community Hall and the Carena. Yearly, a vast number of functions are held in the Hall, including wedding dances, youth gatherings, business meetings, community fund-raising projects, musical shows and agricultural fairs and sales. The Carena hosts tennis, hockey, figure skating, ice stampedes, and cattle and horse shows for both the youth and adults of the area.

Without the operation of these two facilities, a large number of community endeavours and events would be inoperable. The importance of these two facilities is immeasurable to the life of this community.

The operation of both of these facilities is strongly dependent upon the success of the Harvest Bonanza Ball to be held on October 27. This event was initiated to raise money for the operation of these facilities. The objective was to provide the people of the area with an enjoyable evening in return for their money spent to support the facilities. This seemed better than simply asking for donations whenever the operating funds ran out.

As members of the Viking and District Agricultural Society, we heartily endorse and support this function. The $100 which is spent on a ticket for the Harvest Bonanza Ball enables us to have an opportunity to spend an enjoyable evening and support the operation of the facilities at the same time. The money raised helps to maintain two of the most important, most used facilities in the area.

The Viking Playground Committee would like to extend a heartfelt "thank-you" to a number of our local farmers and truckers who once again showed that they have true community spirit.

A special thank you also to our local county council members, Mrs. Bjordis Armitage and Mr. Gordon Maxwell who came to the committee's assistance when our original source of sand for the tire playground was cancelled. I would like this community and district to know that the county has given the playground committee a great deal of support, morally, financially and now materially.

We started Saturday, at 9:00 a.m., provided our truckers with a meal ticket, served them an occasional cup of coffee and worked until approximately 7:30 p.m. We had a fleet of 11 farm trucks and 1 gravel truck making the long haul from the county pit at Kinsella to the playground site.

The efforts of these individuals are commendable and it should be noted that several of the same truckers that were seen hauling on September 12, were once again trucking on Saturday, October 13 and again on Sunday, the 14. That is real community spirit, something that every community needs. These individuals are not leaving it up to someone else.

Our Saturday work bee was stretched to include a Sunday afternoon of heavy hauling when the county loader operator, Roy Gillard offered to load for us if we found the trucks.

After much phoning, we decided to go ahead with 5 trucks. Happily the numbers increased to 7 farm trucks, 2 gravel trucks and 2 tandems. I point out, that several of the aforementioned were not contacted; they heard or saw what was going on and pitched in with their trucks. Thanks truckers, we need more like you!

The following is a list of our willing truckers on Saturday, October 13. - Muriel Hall, Jim Hill - driver Dennis Watson and Fred Nordstrom, Ken Pobuda, Robert Ash, Ed Lefsrud, Don Klein, George Roddick, C. & W. Farms - driver Bill Kamphuis, Norman Ericksen, Richard Nordstrom, Gary McClements and Orville Fowler.

Volunteers for Sunday, October 14 were: Dennis Sarafinchin, Bob McVittie, Bruce Harray, Frank Fornal, Don Klein, Jim Hill - driver David Hill, Richard Nordstrom - Fred Nordstrom, Ken Kjelland, Clarence Orenchuk, Hammer Construction - driver Richard Hammer, and Kinsella Transit - driver Leonard Greenwood.

Meals On Wheels . . .

WHAT IS "MEALS ON WHEELS?"

One full course hot meal is delivered at noon Monday through Friday, except on holidays, in disposable dishes, to homebound individuals who are unable to provide themselves with well-balanced meals. Through this service, it is hoped that many will be able to continue living independently in their own homes. These meals will be provided by the Viking General Hospital.

WHAT is "WHEELS TO MEALS?"

One full course hot meal provided Monday through Friday, except holidays, to any individual who has great difficulty in cooking well-balanced meals, but who is able to ride or drive to Vialta Lodge.

WHY IS THE SERVICE NEEDED?

There are many individuals who are facing difficulties with the purchasing of food and preparation of meals either through illness, recent hospitalization, handicaps, poor facilities or simply, lack of interest.

VOLUNTEERS?

The backbone of the organization are the volunteers. They pick up and deliver piping hot meals at noon, or transport individuals to and from Vialta Lodge, in cars owned and operated at their own expense.

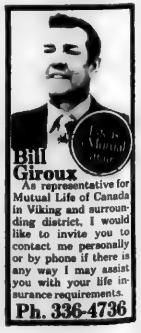
WHAT IS THE CHARGE?

$2.75 per meal, collected each Friday, unless this is covered by Home Care and recommended by a doctor.

HOW TO REQUEST THIS SERVICE?

Requests may be made to the Viking Hospital Auxiliary by contacting any of the following: Mrs. Pauline Watson-336-3279; Mrs. Edna Roddick-336-3129; Mrs. Mildred Robinson-336-4811.

. . . Wheels To Meals



As representative for Mutual Life of Canada in Viking and surrounding district, I would like to invite you to contact me personally or by phone if there is any way I may assist you with your life insurance requirements.

Kitchen Food Storage Test

A genuine effort by homemakers and good planning in the kitchen are keys to avoiding many common food storage pitfalls and proper storage is essential to ensure the safety and quality of any food.

Be your own inspector, check your kitchen to see what should be improved.

First, check the cabinets under the kitchen sink. Do you store food here? If so you're violating good storage practices. Damp cabinets often attract insects and leaking pipes can damage food products. It is always a mistake to store edible items with household chemicals. Bottles of cleaning chemicals may easily be mistaken for food.

Next, look at storage areas near heat sources, such as the stove. Spices and fine herbs, cereal products or dry mixes, which can be held at room temperature will not keep well if too warm.

Now take a look at foods being held at room temperature. The first item to check is canned goods. Reach to the back of the least accessible. Any dust on the cans? Cans and can openers should always be kept clean and free of dust so that dirt and other foreign matter will not fall into the food. When you pick up the can - does it feel sticky or stick to the shelf? This could be a sign of leakage and the can should be discarded.

Some added tips on food storage:

- Always buy a reasonable amount of food that meets your needs and consumption.
- Write the date and year with a felt pen on containers you expect will be around for a while.
- Always put new stock at the back and the old towards the front of your storage area.
- Check when you buy from the bargain cart, such foods may be damaged.

Assured Income for the Severely Handicapped

The Government of Alberta has introduced a new program to assure a guaranteed level of income for Alberta's severely handicapped.

The maximum level of benefit per month as of December 1, 1979 is $370. A modified handicap benefit will be available to severely handicapped persons living in designated facilities such as nursing homes or auxiliary hospitals. In addition to financial benefits, recipients, their spouses and dependent children will be covered for Alberta Health Care Insurance Plan, drugs, optical and dental care.

You may be eligible if:

- you have a severe handicap that substantially limits your ability to earn a livelihood;
- your condition is permanent and one for which there is no remedial therapy available in Alberta;
- you are 18 years of age or more;
- you are not eligible to receive benefits under the Old Age Security Act;
- you are at your maximum employment potential and have fully utilized all rehabilitative resources available within the province of Alberta.

Income of an applicant and spouse is taken into consideration in determining eligibility and level of benefits. Assets do not determine eligibility or level of benefits.

The first payments under the new program will be made as of December 1, 1979. To apply for benefits, you must have an application completed by a social worker and have a medical report completed by a physician.

For further information or an appointment with a social worker, contact your nearest district office of Alberta Social Services and Community Health or write:

Town of Viking Council Minutes

A regular meeting of Viking Town Council was held on the evening of October 3, 1979 in Viking Council Chambers.

Present were: Mayor S. A. Hafso; Deputy-Mayor K. Midbo; Councillors L. Josephison; W. Taylor; R. Evans R. Labreche and M. Stephenson and L. Hanson, recording secretary. The meeting was called to order by the Mayor at 7:00 p.m.

K. Midbo moved that the minutes of the regular meeting of September 5th, 1979 be adopted as printed. Carried.

Mayor Hafso reported that the Court of Hearing scheduled for October 3rd, 1979 could not be held as notices of the Hearing had not been published in the newspaper as required. It was moved that the Court of Hearing be re-scheduled to October 24th, 1979 at 7:00 p.m. in the Viking Council Chambers and that notice of the Hearing be advertised in The Weekly Review issues of October 10 and October 17, 1979. Carried.

R. Evans reported that a letter had been received from the Economic Developers Association of Alberta requesting representation from Viking Town Council to a meeting at the Edmonton Inn, Edmonton, Alberta to be held on October 24 - 26. Either Mayor Hafso or R. Evans would attend if possible.

The financial statement for the month of September was presented showing a net balance at September 30th, 1979 of $495,037.91 with $38,734.81 of this amount in the current account and Term Deposits totalling $462,700.00. A street paving debenture in the amount of $1,721.08 will be due on October 15, 1979. The statement was accepted on a motion by R. Evans. Carried.

R. Evans moved that the accounts be paid with the exception of invoices Fuller Knowles Ltd. and Cicon Engineering. Carried.

A sample collected September 10, 1979 at the Town Office shows Standard Plate Count at iver 3000, Coliform Bacteria Nil. Remarks: Standard Plate Count is high.

Applications had been received and approved on the following: R. Thomas to construct a residence (12,600 x 12,600 - 15,600) Alberta Wheat Pool to build concrete sink and move crib annex from site #3 to site #1 also to demolish #3 elevator. F. Sutherland to construct a residence (44 x 26 - 34) on Lot 9, Block 46, Plan No. 772 0614. N. Lefarud to construct a garage (26 x 24) on Lot 14, Block 45, Plan 772 0641.

A delegation of 50th Ave. residents presented Council with a petition (See story Oct 10 issue of The Weekly Review.)

Mr. Boyd Oberhoffner appeared before Council to review certain areas of the General Municipal Plan noting that some amendments will be introduced at the Public Hearing and if Town Council has any amendments these should be presented at the beginning of the Public Hearing as well. Mr. Oberhoffner reviewed the outline plans of Town owned land). Council preferred Alternative 2.

It was moved that it is the intent of Council to dispose of part of Reserve Parcel R1, east of Block 44, 160 feet west of Main Street and running north of 59th Avenue as per attached map for the purpose of creating and selling Mobile Home lots.

Notices regarding the above motion are to be advertised in the newspaper and mailed to residents in the vicinity.

It was moved by R. Evans that Lydia Hanson be appointed Acting Administrator.

It was moved by R. Evans that Lydia Hanson, as Acting Administrator, be given cheque signing authority. The motion was carried.

Committees to review applications for positions with the Town of Viking were drawn up as follows: R. Labreche moved that the General Government Committee review the applications for the position of Municipal Administrator. Carried. K. Midbo moved that the Street Committee review applications for Town Men positions. Carried.

R. Labreche moved that W. Taylor and L. Josephison be on the committee to review applications for the P.S.S. director. Carried.

Mr. Ron Chrapko and Mr. Ivan Chrapko of Cicon Engineering appeared before Council with a progress report regarding the 1979 Paving Program stating that Border Paving Ltd. had just commenced work. There was some concern expressed that either the road level was too low or some houses had been set too high when constructed. Mr. Chrapko informed Council that new levels had been taken to see if adjustments were necessary to get the best level for all concerned. Any excess fill from the road would be used on the northern most lane.

It was moved that Cicon Engineering be engaged to design a water system for the Town of Viking with a supply line to accomodate a population of 5,000 people and a water treatment plant to accomodate a population of 3,000 people, expandable to a population of 5,000 people, to be constructed in 1980. Carried.

R. Evans moved that this regular meeting adjourn and be continued on Wednesday, October 17, 1979. Carried.

Rural Education & Development Variety Of "At Home Programs"

More than 3,000 Albertans learn in their homes by taking part in a program which offers topics from 'How's and Why's of Local Planning' to 'The Law and How It Effects Those Under 18'. Sponsored by Rural Education and Development Association the program deals with current social and economic trends in rural Alberta.

Whether you are eighty or eighteen there is a topic for you in this year's Alberta Rural Development Studies. Participate by choosing five of the twenty-one topics in each areas as leadership development, farm management, environmental concerns and even a series for young people.

In addition to individual study, registrants are encouraged to form groups to exchange ideas and discuss topics of concern to them. Does your group need more effective committees? "Using Committees Effectively" offers ideas in a clear, concise manner.

Continued support from the following organizations makes this program possible Unifarm, Federated Cooperatives Limited, The Cooperators, Credit Union Central and Alberta Agriculture. However due to increased costs, a small fee of $2.50 for individuals and $1.00 per person for groups will be charged this year.

For a complete list of topics available and registration information and brochures you are asked to contact: Rural Education and Development Association, 9834 - 106 Street, Edmonton, Alberta. T5K 1C4 or direct telephone inquiries to 429-1283

FELIX POSSAK

This is truly a one-man variety show with Felix playing as many as six different instruments and singing in several languages.

The sound of the banjo, dulcimer, autoharp, guitar and other stringed instruments are used to provide variety and added excitement and to enhance the characteristics of the individual pieces.

The performance, consisting of vocal numbers as well as instrumentals, features music from around the world. His material ranges from traditional North American folk songs, blues, bluegrass, ragtime to Irish and Scottish ballads and tunes from Central and Eastern Europe. Felix also performs Jewish songs in Hebrew and Yiddish. There are some humorous renditions and sing-alongs for the whole audience to join in.

Felix Possak studied piano and classical guitar in Vienna, Austria. He has appeared in concert on major stages in Salzburg and Vienna and has performed with various Canadian ensembles from coast to coast.

Initiation Held At Irma School

The Students' Union held an excellent initiation day followed by a Kangaroo Court and Dance last Friday.

Our initiates did a magnificent job of dressing up, showing considerable originality. The evening's activities were well-planned, lots of fun and in good taste. Music by Blaine and Dwight completed a most successful day.

Congratulations to the new members of the Student Union and thank you for being such good sports. Thank you also to Mr. Allen, who supervised the dance, and to Mrs. Veenstra, Mr. and Mrs. Orscheski and Mr. and Mrs. Lien for coming as chaperones. We cannot hold such functions without this kind of support.

Remember
Thursday,
18th of October is the day to send your children all spruced up for their photographs to be taken. Canadian School Studios will be here, and we would like to start with pre-schoolers at 9:00 a.m.

Even the new teachers, Mrs. Larsen (right) and Miss Lasseur, are honored.

Firearms Acquisition Certificate Needed!

Albertans planning to hunt this fall are urged to apply immediately for a Firearms Acquisition Certificate if they plan to purchase a new gun or borrow one.

George Reid, Chief Provincial Firearms Officer with Alberta Solicitor General, said today that police departments are experiencing an increase in Firearms Acquisition Certificate applications "and it is causing a delay in some cases of a few days."

Under Federal Gun Control Legislation all persons purchasing a firearm or borrowing a gun since January 1st must first obtain a Firearms Acquisition Certificate from a Municipal Police Department or R.C.M.P.

Applications are available at most stores selling firearms or from police departments throughout Alberta.

Under the Federal Legislation is illegal for anyone to sell or loan a firearm to another person who does not have a Firearms Acquisition Certificate. The Firearms Acquisition Certificate is issued to an individual for a five year period and the person may then acquire as many legal firearms as desired.

Irma Chamber Report

The monthly meeting of the Irma and District Chamber of Commerce was held on October 9, with ten members and one guest present.

President Mitton called the meeting to order at 7:55. Minutes from the last meeting were adopted as read by President Mitton.

Correspondence was received from Alberta Chamber of Commerce (copy of policy for 1979-80). In addition correspondence received included information regarding Crime Prevention, Alberta 75th, and Employment of the Disabled.

Numerous other items of correspondence were received, with the following business arising.

A discussion was held regarding the up-grading of our ball diamonds. A discussion arose concerning a community bus.

Dick McRoberts moved that the Chamber has no need of a community bus and thus has no interest in this project at this time. Ron Thurston seconder. Carried.

Business arising from the minutes included a discussion regarding the suitability of suggested film "Watership Down" for Santa Daze. President Mitton was to speak to Mr. Allen regarding substitute of film.

In connection with the Farm Family Award, Ron Thurston is to look after ordering and presenting a small plaque, while President Mitton is to present larger plaque.

A committee was set up to take care of putting up of our new X-mas lights. Sonny Archibald is to head the committee assisted by L. Lemieux, D. Mitton, T. Copeland and any others that are able to assist with the project.

A bill for $25.79 was brought up for consideration. This represents the purchase of brooms for clearing the arena after Irma Daze. Ron Thurston moved that the bill be sent to the Irma Ag. Society. Seconder, Gwen Seip. Carried.

A discussion followed on the proposed complex and everyone is urged to attend the Complex Meeting on October 17, 1979.

The meeting was adjourned on a motion.

Congratulations are extended to Dan and Mrs. Nash on the arrival of a baby boy in the early hours of Wednesday, October 10. The baby weighed 8 pounds and 1 ounce and was named Jeffrey, a brother for Christopher.

Correction - In last week's paper regarding the south Sask. wheat grading No. 7, this must have been a typographical error, or else poor writing by your correspondent. This should have read No. 1.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Isabel Fenton who is recovering from surgery in the General Hospital in Edmonton.

A double-wide mobile home was moved onto the Dunbar property on 49th Avenue last week. Two trailers were located at this site previously.

Loads of pipe have been passing through Irma this week. These pipes, approx. 4 inches in size are apparently intended for use in the construction of the pipeline which is underway west of Irma.

Muriel and George Jackson and Mr. F. Webber from Sedgewick had tea with Jim and Minnie Jackson on Sunday afternoon.

Andrew Tunko, an old timer of the Irma area passed away on Saturday morning, October 13, at the Battle River Lodge in Wainwright. Andrew had taken up residence there when he disposed of his garage and lots to the Irma Inn proprietors. Funeral services will be held in Wainwright on Wednesday, October 17.

Heavy equipment became active on Monday at the site of the Eastview subdivision in Irma. Three euclids, a packer and a grader were busy moving dirt.

Irma L.A. will be holding a Brownie meeting on Tues., Oct. 23, at 6:00 p.m in the cub hall.

All parents with children interested in taking figure skating lessons this year are asked to attend a meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, October 18, in the Irma arena.

The Irma cubs would like to thank the community for their support on Apple Day.

The Irma United Church will be celebrating their anniversary with a guest minister on Sunday, November 18, and the usual supper and program on Monday, Nov. 19. Rev. Bateman from Edgerton will be the guest minister. Mrs. Batman is the former Dorothy Geeson and many will remember when her father was the minister of the United Church here.

Holden and District News

Arthur and Doris Story, formerly of Holden, now in Edmonton, will celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary on October 17. In honor of the ocassion, there was an open house held at the home of their son Gordon, on the 14th. The Story's farmed west of town for many years and took an active part in many organizations in the district and town. Doris Story was an active Social Credit supporter, being president of the Ladies Auxiliary for several years.

A Musical Variety Show will be held at the Holden regional Arts Centre on Wednesday, October 24 at 8:00 p.m. The show will feature Felix Possak with songs from around the world. The Arts Centre will feature several performances during the fall and winter seasons, following a summer recess.

Steve and Alice Gabryah of Holden have purchased a home in Kelowna, B.C. and will be moving in the near future.

At present, they have scheduled an Auction Sale at their farm residence on October 20th, 1979. Mr. and Mrs. Gabryah came to this district 11 years ago from Colsville, Saskatchewan. Sympathy from the Village of Holden and residents is extended to Mr. and Mrs. George Hunchak and family on the passing of a family member. Doris's brother, Nick Trutyn, of Vilna, passed away suddenly on October 11, at the age of 49 years. By Anna Shavchook

Bruce District News

Ken Stambaugh left last week for England where he will join his wife Joan and spend the next two weeks visiting relatives.

Gladys Dorin accompanied Lillian and Dan Teske to Manitokan Lake for their last fishing trip of the season. They had ideal weather and were fortunate enough to bring home a plentiful supply of fish.

Jean Brachi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Plain of White Rock, B.C., are visiting at the farm.

Visiting at the Starky home were Jean's cousin and his wife, Bruce and Shirley McMorran of Edmonton. Bruce was giving Bud a hand with the harvesting.

Even University of Alberta students are lured away from their studies by these pleasant days of Indian Summer. Dwayne Dychkowski spent the weekend before last with his parents Ida and Joe Dychkowski and this past weekend Candice Koppel visited at the home of her parents Annie and Rudy Koppel.

Cindy Curtis has accepted a position as a typist at the Court House in Edmonton.

Kinsella Elks 364, Harold Lien and Elina McKee 36p

SKOLNEY - In loving memory of Joseph, a dear husband, father and grandfather who passed away October 13, 1974.

Five years have passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away,
The parting was so sudden,
we often wonder why,
To us the saddest part, we never said good-bye.
No one knows the sorrow we share,
When the family meets and you're not there,
We hide our tears when we speak your name,
But the pain in our hearts remains the same.
You were sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory you left behind.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by your loving wife Olga, Children Frank and Ellen, Ben and Pat, and grandchildren, Jackie, Elaine, Gary and Cory. 36p

In loving memory of Emily Swift who passed away on October 11, 1978.
We watched you slowly fade away,
At times you did not know us:
But we were near by to hold you hand,
Now you have left us for eternal rest.
Patience and kindness were your greatest virtues,
Memories are treasures no one can take away.

Ever remembered and sadly missed by the family, Elsie, Bob, Les, Terry, Nancy, Darlene, Dale and great-grandchildren. 36p

School and School Bus Operations During Storms

1. Schools in the County of Beaver will operate on all regular school days. Should school busses not operate due to hazardous road conditions, teachers, town pupils, and rural pupils who can be transported safely to school by their parents, will be expected to attend.
2. Should an over-night storm cause blocked roads or the serious danger of blocked roads, school bus runs will be cancelled. Radio station CFCW (Camrose) will broadcast messages, starting at 6:30 a.m., informing parents of the cancellation.
3. Should it be necessary to send pupils home by school bus at some time during the school day because of stormy conditions, these procedures will be followed:
   1) The Principal of the school has authority to send school busses home at any time during the school day.
   2) Radio station CFCW will broadcast messages that rural pupils are enroute home.
   3) Parents, school bus drivers and others who are informed on road conditions are asked to telephone the Principal, the County Councillor or the County Office at Ryley should they suspect that stormy conditions will block roads.
4. Road and weather conditions vary considerably throughout the County. For this reason, each school will operate independently under this procedure. It is possible that morning runs may be cancelled at some schools and not at others. Similarly, busses may be routed home during the school day at some schools and not at others.
5. Parents are reminded that it is their right to decide whether or not their children will get on the bus in the morning should conditions be stormy or hazardous.
6. Please be certain that all pupils are dressed adequately warm each day. A school bus can become stranded on any given day due to road conditions or mechanical breakdown.

Licence Suspensions Increase

A total of 2,163 Alberta Drivers lost their licences during August for impaired driving offenses. This was an increase of 988 licence suspensions over July's total.

Since January 1st of this year a total of 15,065 drivers have had their licences suspended for impaired driving offenses. Six-month supensions and 1,568 receiving 36-month suspensions. A total of 564 drivers have had their licences revoked for three months with another 1,612 receiving suspensions for refusing the breathalyzer test.

The statistics were compiled by the motor vehicles division and Alberta checkstop which is co-ordinated by the law enforcement division of the Solicitor General's Department.

In addition to the licence suspensions, these drivers were fined in court and must attend an impaired drivers' course operated by the Alberta Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Commission and Co-ordinated by the Driver Control Board. There are no exemptions to licence suspensions for impaired driving offenses.

There were also 679 24-hour licence suspensions handed out by police in the Province during August bringing this total since April 1st to 2,589.

A driver convicted of impared driving can be fined up to $2,000 or sentenced to prison for six months - or both. Repeat convictions can bring even stiffer penalties.

Last year approximately 17,000 Alberta Motorist had their licences suspended for impaired driving offences.

In August R.C.M.P. and Municipal Police Forces in Alberta Established 2,606 Checkstop locations and checked 37,968 vehicles. this year has seen police setup 22,202 Checkstop locations, checking 353,513 vehicles.

Last year police established checkstops in 32,417 locations and checked 426,277 vehicles.

All checkstop activity by police departments is in addition to their regular and continuous traffic checks.

Tire Playground A Reality!

Some felt it couldn't be done. Some felt it shouldn't be done. But well over 100 area residents decided it had to be done. And it was.

Starting about 8 a.m. on Saturday morning at the Viking School, a large number of area residents began work on a number of projects which would result in a completed tire playground. Beginning with locations marked out on the ground with paint, each crew secured the materials they needed, headed to their spots and began their work.

Although the weather was on the cold side, over 100 people registered with the Project Desk to ensure their coverage by insurance during the days work. Project leaders had spent Friday evening learning the methods of putting their particular project together from Playground designer Gary Dobsey. The leaders then took charge to ensure that their project was built as required.

Within two hours of starting, many of the more than 30 projects were taking on their completed form. The entire area became a beehive of activity as holes were dug, tires were drilled and joined together, poles were set in the ground, and tires and sand were moved throughout the playground.

The large number of community spirited volunteers were helped by a large number of equipment owners who had supplied their equipment for the day. Tractors, backhoes, chain saws, drills, wrenches, shovels and levels were all in evidence during the day.

Lunch was served to a hungry crew of workers between 11:30 and 1:30 p.m. with coffee being brought to the projects during the day.

At about 2 p.m., most of the projects were nearing completion and back-filling and sand placement began in earnest. By 3:30 p.m., some extra small projects, made possible by an excess of tires, were being constructed and tractors were busy spreading sand. Work continued into the early evening by a small group of workers required to finish up the project.

Many people who worked on the project on Saturday expressed a great sense of pride and accomplishment for the efforts of the group. The organizational work of the designer, Gary Debney, during the day was considered to be invaluable by most workers.

Except for a few very minor hitches, the entire day of constructing the Viking Tire Playground went very smoothly. Those who took part on the Committee and in the construction were pleased with the result.

The east half of the new Viking Tire Playground neared completion late on Saturday afternoon as a part of the many volunteers put the finishing touches to a number of the projects. Staff Photo

Holden Reservoir Nears Completion

Mr. Bruno Hamil foreman for Kraft Construction 1976 Ltd., of Edmonton stated that his firm has nearly completed the water reservoir for the Village of Holden.

Upon completion of the project the water capacity of the reservoir will total two hundred and twenty-eight thousand gallons. According to Mr. Hamil this will adequately meet the demands of the Village.

The reservoir is to be filled to capacity upon it completion and tested for any leakage. Upon verification of its construction, the reservoir will then be hooked up for servicing the Village. Thus the water tower which has served the Village for so long, will no longer be used.

The old water tower will be taken down and possibly used for a grain storage unit, according to Mr. Don Tkaczyk who recently purchased the water tower.

"Feeling of Community"

Some people in the Viking area said it couldn't be done. Others suggested that it shouldn't be done. Yet a large number of enthusiastic area residents made it happen!

Many months of hard work and planning by a small group who believed in a Tire Playground for the youth of the Viking area, combined with a large number of volunteers saw a beautiful playground appear on much empty space on Saturday. Many hours of preparation and the volunteering of time and equipment had brought the plans and materials to the sight for the October 20th construction day. The efforts of these preliminary people were not in vain as over 100 concerned area residents appeared on the scene to make this dream of some a reality for many.

Countless numbers of people who were not able to help out on Saturday can take pride in the fact that their donations of money, equipment or verbal support helped all of the people involved to succeed in this endeavour. The new Tire Playground in Viking is one of the finest additions to the community in many years.

The "feeling of community" displayed by those who took part in this project should make them feel proud that they played a part in the realization of this fine facility. Hopefully just such a spirit can be maintained for many years to come.

Editor's Quiz

What political leader of a rural community, when discussing the construction of a local amusement project for children, suggested that for the price of the project, someone must be "lining their pockets"?

What political leader of a small town in Alberta, while attending a meeting of a men's service club, refused to take part in a work crew which the club was organizing to help build a community project? His reason: the club had already given money to the project so why should they have to work also?

The determination of the answers to these questions may be very difficult. We can not divulge the answers but leave it to the reader to arrive at a solution. But hopefully this type of attitude is never displayed amongst the leaders of the communities in this area. Our rural communities don't need so-called "leadership" of this kind. If such an attitude is ever displayed by any leaders of our communities, we would hope that such a "leader" would have the courage to remove himself from public office.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Due to the number of inquiries received regarding both the Viking Figure Skating Club and the Viking Power Club, I have been prompted to write this letter to leave each one better informed.

With regard to the Figure Skating Club, registration will be held after the ice is in. Hopefully this will lessen the number of skaters registering after the lessons have commenced. The Annual Meeting will be held approximately one week after registration date. The two main purposes for the meeting will be to elect a new slate of officers and to outline the new financial assistance which we will be receiving from the "mother" club.

The positions for both the Junior and Senior instructors have been filled. A second Junior Instructor will be hired if the number of first and second year skaters warrants such.

To be able to hire local instructors and eliminate the added cost of paying mileage has necessitated a change in days for lessons. The Junior classes will be held on Saturday mornings and the Seniors will receive their lessons on Wednesday afternoons, subject to the approval of the Carena Committee.

The Power Skating club will be run independently again this year. I am very pleased that my husband has agreed to assist me in running this program.

Nellie Cikaluk, who is very well qualified to do so has agreed to teach this season. Unfortunately, Ron Naslund will no be able to teach this year, but we are thankful for the fine job he and his assistant Wayne Seizler did in getting the program underway last year.

Last year I errored in the publicizing of this program. Apparently I left the impression that the program was designed for the young skaters. It is true that the youngsters will benefit from it in the future. There is an immediate plus for adults. From becoming a member, you would probably make better use of the ice and benefit from the regular exercise. So don't send your family, bring them, or a friend, or a neighbor.

I am proud to be on the Alberta Recreational skating Association executive as it is one of the few skating organizations left that concentrates on recreational skating rather than competition. The lessons are there and tests are available, but their prime reasons are - purpose and motivation.

A bonus for skaters, coaches, and volunteers has been introduced this year in the form of a Premier's Award. A subject on which I will expand at a later date.

Registration dates will be announced in this paper once the skating fees and scheduling have been established and announced by the Carena Management Board. Club fees for both clubs will be $10.00

Hopefully this will answer your questions. If however, you require further information or are not clear on a certain point, you are welcome to phone us at our home 336-2264. See you at the rink.

Sincerely,
Shirley Voltner

Dear Sir:

I feel that all of the reputable businesses in Viking should have the opportunity of knowing how a certain fellow business man is giving the whole town a reputation that it doesn't deserve.

We recently got married here in Viking and were proud to have several out of town guests in attendance. It really is too bad that they left this town not wanting to come back.

Several rooms were booked at the Lamplighter Motel at least a month in advance. When the day of the wedding arrived - only one room happened to remain booked, leaving the rest of the guests to fend for themselves.

The only reason given to us for this inexcusable action was that wedding guests were not wanted. However, the management failed to bring this to our attention at the time of booking.

Is this how visitors should remember the "Crossroads Town With A Future"?

Concerned Citizen

Congratulations Volunteers - "We Did It"

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

The Playground Committee salutes all of the volunteers who turned out on Saturday, October 20, 1979 to build our playground. Without these individuals our dream of a tire playground could not have become a reality. Community spirit at its best was certainly evident throughout the day in every corner of the playground site and flowed into the Home Ec. room where members of several ladies groups plus many individuals prepared a most delicious noon meal. They also looked after warming up workers with good hot coffee in the morning and afternoon.

Gary Debney, our consultant, was extremely pleased by the quality of workmanship displayed by the volunteers. Comments such as: "That is the best cube I've seen"; "Here comes that fellow from the monkey swing. Boy is he particular, that's just great"; "Boy, what a tremendous meal!"; "I like this better than any playground I've designed. Its a good one to finish up with."

It's very difficult to put into words the feelings of gratitude that were felt by myself and the rest of the committee members. The support that was given to our cause made the many anxious moments and the obstacles that seemed to pop up, all worth while. Having the 112 volunteers sign up on Saturday and the 30 women look after our dinner and coffee, made the playground grow before our eyes. Our machine operators left no doubt that they were "top of the line". The accuracy of Irv's backhoe is indeed a sight to behold. The post hole auger supplied by Warren Hodgins made short work of the holes.

Place Farm Equipment and Northwestern Utilities were very efficient at placing earth mover tires and power poles. Front end loaders supplied by Ken Pobuda and Richard Nordstrom along with bob-cats supplied by Bill Mattinson and Ruzicka's Trucking moved our sand into place.

Sunday morning saw Irv Beaumont and Ken Pobuda back moving sand. The Town backhoe was instrumental in our triple swing placement on Friday afternoon. It was a tremendous show of support and a fitting tribute to our children in this the International Year Of The Child.

The Viking Tire Playground will be officially opened on Wednesday, Oct. 24, 1979 at 2:30 p.m. in conjunction with the school's celebrations for the International Year Of The Child.

And so, once again, thank you to our volunteers and donors. You made it happen. Without your support our playground would be "just a dream".

Thank you for the priviledge of knowing so many fine and public spirited people.

Carolynne Nordstrom
Committee Chairman

Quinte W.I. Report

There were seven members and two guests at the last Quinte W.I. meeting held at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 27 at the home of Mrs. Till Arnett.

We started the meeting off with the reading of the W.I. Creed. The Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were given next.

The correspondence was read next. It included two Thank You cards from Mrs. Lill Evans and Mrs. Alice Hoines for the surprise birthday parties which we had for them. A news letter from our president, Mrs. Marie Plaizier, was also read.

Our guest, Mrs. Carolynne Nordstrom, then gave a very interesting talk about the tire playground to be constructed at the school grounds. After this, we decided to give a donation towards the construction of the playground.

Then Mrs. Lill Arnett gave a paper on Education. The birthday box was drawn for. The winner this month was Mrs. Alice Hoines. The meeting was adjourned by Mrs. Lill Evans.

The evening was ended off with coffee and lunch.

Annual Curling Meeting Held

The Viking Curling Club held their annual meeting on October 22, a new slate of officers was elected and are as follows: President - Norm Maxwell, Vice-Pres. Lane Carrington, Secretary - Dawn Hodgins, Treasurer - Rhonda Cumming. Our new three year directors are Don Hafso, Roger Siermachesky, and John Andrukow.

Neil Amundson and Vern Hafso have one year left on their three year term. Anyone wanting more information regarding the curling club are asked to call any of these individuals.

Ice making will start immediately so curling will resume shortly.

Anyone interested in curling this season is invited to attend a fun spiel to be held on November 9 starting at 7:30 p.m. The new curling schedule will be posted and we would like to register as many members as possible that night. Fees are the same as last year.

We are also holding an Open Mixed Spiel on Nov. 15 16, 17, & 18. As this will be the first spiel of the year please show up. You won't be any "rustier" than anyone else.

Thanks to the retiring executive - Rusty McLean, Eve Carrington and Muriel Walker.

Carena Cleaned-Up

On Thursday evening over twenty men involved with hockey in Viking descended on the Carena to prepare the building for this winter season. After contacting the Oldtimers, the Gas Kings and Minor Hockey, over 15 Minor Hockey members attended, with the Oldtimers fielding 4 workers and the Gas Kings supplying 1.

An accumulation of rodeo chutes and garbage between the boards and the east wall of the Carena was tackled by the large contingent of volunteers. Within an hour and a half, the rodeo chutes and gates had been removed and the "saveable" of stands and bench parts were neatly stacked in the northeast corner of the building. All of the garbage that had accumulated over the past several years was then loaded on trucks for disposal.

The Town street sweeper arrived to remove the dirt from the floor area. At about this time, power was turned on to the artificial ice plant which was started up on Friday. Thanks to the efforts of those involved, flooding began on Sunday and expectations are that the ice should be ready for skaters by the end of October.

Plans to paint the ice surface floor white have been cancelled for this year due to a lack of necessary funds, about $600 to undertake the project.

The Carena Committee would like to thank all those who volunteered their time or trucks to aid in the clean-up of the Carena.

The Last Ride

May your horse never stumble,
Your cinch never bust;
Nor the barrel of your pistol
Clog up with rust.

Empty - the saddle he rode so well,
Oh - how my lips grow numb
A pony waits at the pasture gate,
For a master who doesn't come.

Stirrup to stirrup we canter
On down memory land
Recalling the scenes of yesterday.....

That can never come again.

John has taken his last long ride;
He rests in a quiet place
Gone is his hearty hand smile
And the happy smile on his face.

Something is missing at the stampede ground,
because friend John is not there.
Yet we miss him most in the big parade,
It just don't seem quite fair.

Where a helping hand was needed,
That's where John would be.
He left us all that priceless gift.....

A Beautiful memory.

A special thank you to Jim Warren, Melvin Fjellstrom and Earl Davis for composing the preceeding poem in memory of John Thacsyk.

Sincerely, Harry Thacsyk

I'm going to increase my list.

Tom Wilkinson, Quarterback of the Edmonton Eskimos, suits up with Jack Gotta, General Manager and Head Coach of the Calgary Stampeders, for Homecoming 1980.

T.W. "If any member of my family had a birthday, you'd certainly want to make it for that party and this is a party for everyone."

J.G. "I've got some names of mine and I'm going to increase the list."

T.W. "You are getting an invitation from the Premier which makes it even that much better. Not only can you come to the party, but you're going to have an invitation you can keep and put on your wall."

J.G. "I have family ... and some friends that are native Albertans that are here, there and everywhere. I'm going to drop a note to a lot of these people to come back."

T.W. "I want to invite people here to make them aware — to take part in it. It's a party for everyone — and it's your party. The only difference is it's a whole year."

J.G. "If people don't get turned on in 1980! The natural beauty, the vitality is here. I think everybody should encourage everybody to come back and visit."

Send in your list of out-of-province friends and family so they, too, will recieve an invitation from the Premier. It's your party! Fill in the coupon. Add your own sheet of names and make sure all your favourite people are invited. Send to:

Echo - Rodino News

Mrs. and Mrs. Ken Robertson of Barrhead visited the Robert Hollar home.

Donna Hollar and Claudia Williams travelled to Edmonton for a day of shopping.

Gloria Pavelly of Winnipeg called in at the Holt home for a visit with her sister, Josephine.

Mr. Henry Foston and daughter Jenifer visited the Holt ranch.

Harold Greenwood returned to Edmonton with his sister Rita for a couple of days.

Yvonne Greenwood chauffeured her mother Florence Johnston to Edmonton for a day of shopping. Rita made the return trip with them.

Visiting the Williams' home this week was Duane Piper of Kamloops. Duane is a nephew of Neria's.

A social evening was held Friday night to honor Maxine and Tom as their marriage takes place this weekend. A couple of fun games were played after which Marney Barrs and Bob Williams played a few numbers for the folks to dance to. Bob sang a song or two to end the entertainment. A gift to the honored couple from the community was then presented and lunch was served to close the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams and family took in the weekend visiting in the city.

Several couples took in the 50th Wedding celebrations at Albert Community Hall on Saturday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Meyer. Congratulations go to the happy couple from all your friends in this area.

Alberta is known throughout Canada and around the world as the "energy province." Energy Conservation Month is our chance to show the world that we're not just producers and consumers but can be energy savers too! The whole world will know that we care!

Here are some little ways we can all save energy and money:
- Don't waste hot water.
- Do full loads in dishwashers, clothes washers and dryers.
- Close the damper on your fireplace when not in use.
- Keep your car well tuned for fuel economy and longer life.

Use what you need — but need what you use. Wise energy management is not a sacrifice! For more energy management ideas, contact one of Alberta's Energy Utilities.

The world is watching Albertans.

October is International Energy Conservation Month

In Memoriam

JACKSON - In loving memory of our son and brother Wayne Edward who was suddenly taken from us on October 27, 1978.
Somewhere beyond the sunset,
Neath the blue and gold of the skies,
He dwells in a beautiful garden,
Where happiness never dies
Asleep in God's beautiful garden,
Away from all sorrow and pain.
Someday when life's journey is ended,
We'll all be together again.
Always in our thoughts and sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Levina, Melda, Irma, Melford, Robert, Gale and families. 37p

In loving memory of our father LLOYD K. HANSON who passed away on October 25th, 1976.
It's a year no Dad
Since you have been gone,
No longer are you with us...
But your memories still live on
And your memories keep us going,
When we don't think we can cope,
Just thoughts of brighter yesterdays...
Can give us brand new hope.
So when we get to missing you,
We lift our heads and smile.
We remember all the love we shared,
And that makes life worthwhile.
Always loved and sadly missed by your children Larry, Harold, Lorraine and Charlene. 37p

VILLAGE of IRMA

D D CREASY MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATOR

BOX 419 — IRMA, ALBERTA — T0B 2H0

NOTICE

A Public Meeting of the rate payers of the Village of Irma will be held in the Legion Hall Monday, October 29, 1979 at the hour of 7:00 p.m.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the proposed street improvement program for the village streets as set out in the Public Notice of Council's intention to Construct a Local Improvement.

Council members and Mr. Dave Scott, P. Eng., of EPEC Consulting Western Ltd. will be in attendance for questioning on matters relating to the proposed project.

D.D. Creasy,
Municipal Administrator
Village of Irma

Irma News and Views

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Craig have been enjoying a visit from their daughter, Mrs. Colleen Golka and small son Peter of Kitimat, B.C. Mrs. Craig has also been caring for Barry, son of Michael and Donna while they are holidaying in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Greenwood from Ontario have purchased and moved into Mrs. Campbell's house in west Irma.

Mrs. Grace Archibald and her daughters Genesee McLeod and Lorna Jackson and Vivian Firkus are visiting at Chilliwack, B.C. with daughter Irene Lawrin and family.

Allie Bacon was home for the weekend from Edmonton where she is undergoing treatment. She was to return on Monday

Marguerite and Charlie Tinholm from Hardisty spent the afternoon and evening with Minnie and Jim Jackson on Sunday. Joyce Bartholow also called in.

Alex Smallwood, Eddie Jackson and George Foreman drove to Edmonton on business on Friday. They visited Helen Smallwood in the Charles Campsell Hospital where she had undergone surgery. They found her in good spirits but she may have to spend some more time before returning home. George stayed with his brother Dave and his wife for a short visit.

There always seems to be something to take the joy out of life. Lately we have noticed an increase in the number of dogs of all kinds running loose in the streets. This is a nuisance, and I think something should be done. Also, we have been told that there seems to have been a rash of high-pressure salesmen making the rounds and some of them at least, are making a nuisance of themselves.

Yoga lessons will commence on Wednesday, October 31 in the Irma New Horizons Drop In at 10:00 a.m. with Mrs. Mary McGuire as instructor. Sessions are free to all persons 65 years or over. Ages 50 to 65 can pay $7.00. These sessions are held every Wednesday and Friday until the 30th of November. Interested persons can contact Phyllis Craig or Edith Cockrell.

Meg Dunbar returned on Saturday forenoon after having an enjoyable visit with son Bob and family at Juniper Lodge, Lacombe.

Eldon Fenton went to Edmonton by bus on Saturday and visited with Isabelle in the General Hospital where she is recovering from major surgery. He found her in good spirits and gradually getting her strength back and looking forward to getting home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould and granddaughter De De, from Consort called on Minnie and Jim Jackson on Friday afternoon.

Irma Home And School Resume Meetings

The first meeting of the Irma Home and School for the 1979-80 school year was held on Oct. 15 in the Home Ec. room.

President Della Nilson welcomed the new parents to our community and was pleased to see so many parents out.

Mrs. Kay Clumstad sent a thank you card to the Home and School members for their part in her retirement party.

It was decided to continue the road runner project. At each Home and School meeting a room count is taken - the number of parents of children of each grade. The class with the most parents in attendance, gets the road runner for that month. In June a trip is awarded to the class who has obtained the road runner mascot for the most months.

We are most fortunate to have the Area Director for Central East from our local Home and School - Mrs. Lillain Copeland. The following is a report as prepared by her.

If parents want more to say in the education of their children they would be well advised to join their local Home and School Association. You don't have to be a parent to join. Anyone with an interest in the education of today's children can become a voting member and will receive the regular H.S.A. Newsletter.

The federation is a member of the Canadian Assoc. of Home and School Associations which means it and its affiliates are chartered as a registered charity.

The Federation acts on resolutions presented to it by individual H.S.A's. These are presented, in brief form, to the government.

Our brief in November will include such items as sex education, teacher student ratios, relationships between schools, parents and local boards of education and the autonomy of boards.

The Federation has membership representation on the curriculum policies board of the provincial department of education, on the early childhood services board, the committee on articulation of post-secondary education, on the education work committee and on MACOSA. This is the Minister's Advisory Committee on Student Achievement and has to do with such things as provincial testing for grade 12 students.

Parents who do not become involved are giving up part of their freedom of speech because their opinions are never brought before the government.

An ethnic family supper followed by a short program is being planned for Monday, November 26 to replenish our treasury. Keep this date open and bring your children as we wish to acknowledge International Year of The Child.

As this first meeting was meet the teacher night, Mr. Milton introduced each member of the teaching staff. In turn each gave a report on themself in general. A fine teaching staff - of which we as a community can be truly proud and confident.

The next regular meeting will be held on Nov. 26. See you at the gym for the ethnic supper on November 26.

D D CREASY MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATOR

PUBLIC NOTICE

Intention To Construct A Local Improvement

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 153 of The Municipal Taxation Act R.S.A. 1979, Public Notice is hereby give that the Council of the Village of Irma intends to undertake the Construction of Street Paving and Concrete Curbs and Gutters as local improvements. The estimated cost of the before mentioned local improvements are as follows:

A. Street Paving	$ 960,000
B. Concrete Curbs and Gutters	162,000
TOTAL	$1,122,000

Of the total amount of $1,122,000 it is anticipated that an amount of $184,000 will be received from Alberta Transportation for construction of Secondary Road No. 881 and street assistance grants. It is also anticipated that Council shall apply $138,000 from the Provincial Debt Reduction Plan. All assistance shall be applied to the Street Paving.

Of the total amount of $1,122,000, it is proposed to borrow $830,000 over a period of twenty (20) years at a rate of interest not exceeding twelve per centum (12%) per annum and to charge the lands abutting that portion of the street, or place wherein the local improvements are made at a uniform rate of $5.38 for Street Paving per front foot and $1.33 for Concrete Curb and Gutter per front foot, over the said period of twenty (20) years.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 147.2 of the Municipal Taxation Act, the Council of the Village of Irma intends to assess frontage on the actual front yard dimension of each parcel. Council also intends to assess frontage on block corner parcels on the basis of the front yard dimension plus fifty (50%) percent of the side yard dimension.

The locations of the proposed local improvements are as follows:

Irma Royal Purple Hold Inspection Night

The Irma ladies of the Royal Purple held a meeting on October 16. H.R. Darlene Lovig opened the meeting in regular form. Roll Call was answered by 28 members. All officers were present, with the exception of one.

Our D.D. Dorothy Crozier was escorted to the altar, introduced and welcomed. The minutes were read and approved. A number of items of correspondence were received and dealt with.

Initiation was exemplified for D.D. followed by the pansy drill. Balloting was also carried out.

The Sunshine Committee reported sending fruit baskets to Elizabeth Prior and Darlene Lovig; cards to Dianne Soucy and Shane Fischer.

Under new business a discussion was held regarding Falcon Enterprise's request for a project with the proceeds to be given to Falcon Enterprises.

Our lodge is willing to have our name put on the list for the Irma Daze tea as requested by the W.I. We are making plans for a doll bazaar tea and bake sale. Committee #4 is to convene this.

Marge Guitner is to be our delegate to the meeting about the proposed bus for Irma clubs and organizations.

Good of the Order. D.D. Crozier gave her report and congratulated our lodge on work well done and gave us a few pointers. She also asked us to set a date for the District meeting.

H.R.L. Lovig thanked the ladies for filling in in her absence and also for the gift she received. Sherilee Fletcher thanked the lodge for her daughter's gift. Gail Soucy also thanked the lodge for remembering her daughter. Happy Birthday was sung to Marian Fischer, Marge Guitner and Ruth Archibald.

Good of the Order draw, donated by D.D. Crozier was won by Ruby Taylor. Linda Pomeroy thanked the lodge on behalf of herself and her mother and reported how much they enjoyed Supreme Lodge.

Lodge closed in regular form and an enjoyable time was had during lunch

The Kinsella Elks Degree Team initiated four new members for the Wainwright Elks Lodge. Bros. Wayne King, Bert Smith, Tobe Smith, Lawrence White, John Bobyak and Cliff Overbo made up the Degree Team.

Congratulations to Karen Overbo and Ruth McDonald for the awards they received at the Awards Night held at the Viking School last week.

The Kinsella Elks will be sponsoring a New Year's Dine and Dance at the Kinsella Memorial Hall on December 31. They remind you that admission will be by advance tickets only, so contact one of the members to purchase your tickets.

Irma School News

Our Senior Girls and Guys teams have really done themselves proud this season and provided very exciting games for the spectators. This last week the girls lost to Edgerton and defeated Hughesden, while the boys team won both of their games.

Incidentally, the boys' volleyball team wish you all to know how generous Mr. Nash is - providing each of them with a bottle of coke for winning 15 - 0 in the final game.

The Students' Union, starring their secret spiking stranger have challenged the willing teachers to a volleyball game on Monday, October 29th in the Irma School gymnasium.

There will be an admission fee of 50 cents charged per person at the door and lunch will be served after the games.

This "all costume" game takes place at 8:00 p.m. with everyone welcome to attend.

Halloween - U.N.I.C.E.F. time, a time when we can help those less fortunate than ourselves.

This year Mrs. Astley's Grade Three class will be canvassing the town on October 30, from 2 to 3:15 p.m. to collect money for U.N.I.C.E.F. If you will not be at home at this time, would you please leave your donation with a neighbor or send your donation to the school.

Rural families are encouraged to participate in this worthy cause be sending their donation to the school or giving it to Mrs. Astley or any Grade Three Student.

More Capital For Farm Loans

On Thursday, October 18, Agriculture Minister John Wise announced that the Federal Government has increased the capital budget of the Farm Credit Corporation (FCC) by 50 million dollars.

"With this addition to its capital budget, the Farm Credit Corporation will be able to make total loans of about $634 million during the current fiscal year," said Mr. Wise.

"The deamand for Farm Credit Corporation loans has been running ahead of the corporation's budget. The Farm Credit Corporation will now be able to provide more funds for Canadian farmers. In turn, this will mean greater farm productivity."

Mr. Wise also announced that the Farm Credit Corporation lending rate has been increased from 10 3/4 percent to 12 percent, effective October 18. The increase reflects the general increases in lending rates.

"This year the Farm Credit Corporation celebrates its 50th Anniversary," Mr. Wise said. "It plays an important role in rural Canada - helping farmers get established and grow".

Much of Alberta's rich farmland is located around the major urban centres. As population pressures increase, industry grows, and recreational demands continue to climb, greater pressure is put on Alberta's prime cropland.

AGRICULTURE OUR RENEWABLE RESOURCE

Agriculture Week

October 21 - 27

The Need To Retain Farmland

Farmland is indispensable to agriculture. Alberta has been blessed with large expanses of fertile land, and a thriving agricultural industry has always been the strength of Alberta's economy.

But, increasingly, the rich farmland is coming under pressure - pressure from urban expansion, pressure from industrial and energy developments, and pressure from recreation demands.

Alberta has about 25 percent of the improved land acreage in Canada. There are 80 million acres used in crop and livestock production in this province, but only 4 per cent of that acreage is prime number one soil.

Alberta's best black soils are located in a fairly narrow band east from Edmonton to the Saskatchewan border and south through Calgary along the foothills to the Montana border. It is significant that Alberta's two largest cities and the major urban corridor between them are located within this fertile belt. As cities and towns expand, prime agricultural land is put out of production.

The loss of good farmland is an important issue to the future of agriculture since it takes several acres of marginal land to replace one acre of prime farmland.

A fallacy exists that by simply adding more fertilizer the number three and four soils can be made as productive as number one soil. However, Dr. Fred Bently former dean of agriculture at the University of Alberta is emphatic in refuting the idea.

"There is absolutely nothing we can do that will make number four soil as productive as number one soil", he says.

As elsewhere in Canada, Alberta's population is shifting from rural areas to urban centres. In 1951, Canada's population was about 40 per cent rural. It is projected that by 1980, the rural population will make up only 20 percent of the population. This shift to urban centres has created new demands and pressures. Urban people increasingly seek recreational experiences such as hiking, camping, snowmobiling, trail bike riding. These demands put pressure on all types of farmland and can create extreme problems in areas of fragile environments.

Yet another type of pressure comes from industrial and energy developments.

Industrial plants, frequently located close to centres of population, consume arable land. The energy needs of both the increased population and the increased industrial activity have to be met.

Thus farmland may be flooded as a result of dam construction. Pipelines, transportation corridors and electricity transmission lines cut across the country, fragmenting and consuming farmland. Strip coal-mining is another energy related activity which affects agricultural production.

From a global perspective, the situation is the same - an increasing world population is putting greater pressure on the world's crop land. At a time when demand for food is increasing, more and more crop land is being converted to non-agricultural uses.

The need to preserve and properly manage Alberta's crop land has never been greater. Soil is Alberta's most important renewable resource. Once it has been put under housing or cement, it can never be reclaimed.

The business communities and district residents pay tribute to their Agricultural customers and friends!

Food processed from Alberta's bounty.

Just a sampling of the variety of foods that are processed in Alberta. The food processing industry is important to Alberta's economy. It shipped goods valued at more than $2 billion in 1978, and employs thousands of people.

A Message To The Media Of Alberta

October 21 to 27 is Agriculture Week in Alberta. This week serves to remind Albertans of the importance of agriculture to them and to the economy of our Province.

Virtually all Albertans are affected by agriculture in some way. We are all consumers. Many of us are working members of the industry. About 100,000 Albertans work on farms and ranches. Another 400,000 people are employed by the 400 firms that process and manufacture the goods produced by farmers. The transportation of products such as fertilizers and machinery and both finished and raw materials provides jobs for many more Albertans.

The Agriculture Week Committee in planning a promotional campaign has prepared the enclosed kit. (This information is enclosed for your use.) With your assistance we hope that more Albertans will become aware of the diversity and importance of Agriculture - Our Renewable Resource. Please feel free to contact any member of the Agriculture Week Committee - (list appended) for further details.

A TRIBUTE TO AGRICULTURE

It's that time of year when all our farm friends are busy reaping the harvest. Work goes on often until late night hours after an early morning start turned the engines of equipment, the cost of which pains the pocket book long after the aches of hard work have left tired and weary bones. Oh yes, the farmer today is a business man and thanks to him and his family, you and i as consumers can sit at our tables three times a day.

We are proud to serve the men and women in agriculture!

Food Of The Future

The scenario of a family sitting down to dine on a single pill which contains all the required nutrients is not new. As we approach the '80's, is this scene closer to becoming a reality?

Dr. Pavel Jelen, associate professor of food sciences at the University of Alberta, sincerely hopes not. While food scientists have the knowledge to formulate food containing all the known nutrients, it is much more enjoyable to receive our nourishment from conventional food.

So what are some of the changes we can expect regarding our food?

Dr. Jelen sees a need to make better use of our food supply and one way of doing this is to make better use of our food wastes.

Whey, a by-product of the cheesemaking process, is of interest to Dr. Jelen. For every pound of hard cheese produced, nine pounds of whey are left over. Whey contains about one-half the nutrients of milk and its protein is of a special kind. All told, it's a substance too valuable to throw down the drain, which is where it goes in several of the city cheese factories. In rural areas, whey is sometimes used as a fertilizer for fields. The challenge was to find a way to make whey palatable. The result is a whey spread which can be used much like any other cheese spread. The whey spread is made of whey, buttermilk powder (another dairy by-product, often used as animal feed), and butter. Various flavorings, herbs and spices can be added.

In formulating the spread, certain problems had to be overcome. One was to find a method to keep the milk sugar from crystallizing. Another problem, keeping the spread smooth, was solved by the use of the buttermilk powder which has emulsifying properties.

They aren't strange "blobs" from outer space, but they could be a food of the future. These edible mushrooms grow on straw and in the process improve the nutritional content of it. They're just one of the new foods currently being developed.

Dr. Jelen hopes the whey spread will be successful when it is marketed in Alberta stores.

Another area of food waste is in the meat packing industry. Since meat is deboned by hand, a certain amount of protein clings to the bones. On the average, about eight kilograms of meat are left on each carcass of beef. In the U.S., one billion pounds of meat are wasted annually in this manner.

While bones are put through a mechanical deboner, the process doesn't recover all the protein. The challenge has therefore been to refine the process further.

A mechanical deboner grinds the bones and the remaining meat together. The bones are ground into larger particles than is the meat, and are removed in a screening process. Even this, however, doesn't recover all the protein. A further step makes the screened bone-and-meat residue into a slurry, from which the protein can be separated. This recovered protein can be made into processed luncheon meats.

In another endeavour to use waste for food production, Dr. Jelen reports there is a certain type of mushroom which requires nothing more to grow than the nutrients found in waste straw. The growing process produces not only edible mushrooms, but results in another benefit. In the early growing stages, mushrooms develop mycelia or "roots" which grow into the straw. The mycelia have a high protein content and thus greatly increase the protein content of the straw. This project has problems to be overcome. Though the straw is nutritious, a further treatment of it is required to make it enticing to cattle.

Such methods as steaming, adding molasses, drying, pelleting, etc. are still to be tested. Another problem regards human taste. The mushroom that grows on straw has a different appearance from the more common button mushroom. Consumers will have to adjust to the new look and taste of the mushroom.

The realm of engineered food is not entirely in the world of science fiction. Single-cell protein can be grown on any waste with nutritional value. Micro-organisms, in a fermentation process, change carbohydrates to protein. The micro-organisms reproduce rapidly by division. They can be harvested and the protein processed out. The resulting white powder has a high protein content and can be used as a supplement or as the raw material for engineered food.

Micro-organisms have tremendous protein-producing capacity. Given ideal conditions, 10 acres of single-cell protein production could produce enough protein to supply the world's needs. Dr. Jelen points out that such a calculation does not take into consideration the difficult practicalities that could be involved.

Looking into the future, Dr. Jelen sees a greater likelihood of food from new sources, rather than engineered food. He believes aquaculture - the commercial farming of our oceans and lakes - will come into prominence. Range management of wild animals could result in another source of food. He points to New Zealand as an example of this, where elk and deer, because they have no natural predators, are overpopulated. They are a potential source of meat protein.

All told, our food supply isn't likely to change drastically in the future. But, suggests Dr. Jelen, the need for energy conservation will force our food production system to become more efficient.

An important trust -

The future of our agriculture industry is well placed in the hands of our young farmers. The fate of "our renewable resource" depends upon how they fulfill that trust.

We have faith in their ability to preserve this heritage

Agriculture In The 1980's

A pig farmer uses his microcomputer to help him manage his sow herd. The dairyman each year gets 10 heifer calves, all offspring of his best milk producer. An entire future herd of cattle is shipped overseas in a container no bigger than a suitcase. A farmer, desiring some specific information on the fertilizer recommendations for his area, sits down to a keyboard, punches in his question and receives the written answer on his television screen.

These are all scenes that could be occurring in the 1980's. Agriculture, like the rest of society, is changing rapidly.

The day may not be far off when a dairy farmer will be able to have 10 or more heifer offspring from his best milk producer each year. Likewise, the beef man may determine the sex of his best cow's calves.

The process will involve transplanting sexed embryos. Embryonic transplants have been being done since the early '70's. Yet to be developed are the techniques needed to determine the sex of the embryo before it is implanted. By the early 1980's, the process should be refined and a farmer will be able to transplant male or female embryos according to his needs.

The process of transplanting embryos, although expensive, enables a farmer to get several calves from a top producing cow. The valuable donor cow is induced to produce a large number of germ cells through a hormonal injection. She is then artificially inseminated and fertilization occurs. Within a few days, the embryos are flushed out of the cow and are transplanted to less valuable recipient cows that are at the same stage in their reproductive cycle. The transfer is carried out either surgically (more expensive but currently has a higher success rate) or non-surgically.

Freezing embryos in liquid nitrogen has been going on now for about three years. There are still problems to be solved in the method, however. To date, the success rate has not been high, but if that rate can be improved, great possibilities exist. The embryos could be kept until recipient cows reach the proper stage in the ovulation cycle. Entire future herds of cattle could be shipped anywhere in the world in containers no bigger than a suitcase.

Another development which could benefit dairy and beef operators is still in its infancy. The day may come when semen can be sexed. Thus, a dairy farmer using artificial insemination could be assured of heifer calves every time, if that were his wish.

Advanced technology, in the form of the computer, has made its entrance into the agriculture scene and is proving to be a valuable tool. Managing a complicated farm operation requires a great deal of expertise and information. Such problems as calculating feed rations for a sow herd, or figuring the break-even price for finishing livestock can be solved within seconds by using a computer.

While microcomputers are not commonplace yet on the average farm, the technology has certainly been developed and prices are within the range of many farmers' budgets. As time goes on, more and more farmers are likely to acquire their own microcomputers and use them as important management tools. For those farmers not interested or unable to own their own computer system, central time-share computer services may be the answer. Under such a system many farmers would wire into a large central computer, where their individual records and programs would be stored.

The methods whereby a farmer receives farming information are due to change as a result of modern technology. While today a farmer may phone his district agriculturist for information or request material from the department of agriculture, a few years hence he may be able to sit down to a keyboard attached to his television set and dial his information request. Within seconds data on the subject will be transmitted over his television screen.

Two-way television is being used now on some farms as a means of monitoring livestock. Looking further into the future, we may see dairymen scanning a computer readout showing body temperatures of their cows. The data would be transmitted by devices attached to the neck of each cow. Such devices could detect a cow's coming into heat, or the onset of disease. Look even further ahead and we may see the day that farm machinery is operated by remote control.

The 1980's will see many changes. Some of the changes will occur early in the decade; others may take 10 years or more to develop. However long they take, agriculture will be altered as a result.

Albertans Investing In Alberta

PROVINCIAL TREE NURSERY . . .

Stem cuttings being planted at the Provincial Tree Nursery. In a couple of years these cuttings will be large enough to be sent to farmers in Alberta for windbreaks and farm beautification. The nursery ships almost 3 million trees per year.

Provincial Nursery

"There is hardly a farmstead in Alberta that has not used the shelterbelt program for protection or beautification", observes Herman Oosterhuis, superintendent of production at the Provincial Tree Nursery. He makes this observation from travels which have taken him from the United States border to the Northwest Territories.

The shelterbelt program, which dates back to the early part of this century, supplies Alberta landowners with trees and shrubs to establish shelterbelts around their farmsteads, along roadsides, and in fields. The Provincial Tree Nursery, the source of the planting stock is situated at Oliver, north of Edmonton. In its almost thirty years of operation, it has shipped 30 million trees to acreages and farms located in all parts of the province. Any holding over one acre in size can qualify for the program.

The Tree Nursery has a total area of 620 acres with 380 acres under cultivation. The remainder is taken up in shelterbelts, treed areas and building areas. The shelterbelts divide the nursery into small plots of land, offering protected growing conditions. The shelterbelts also act as a source of seed for the 37 varieties of trees and shrubs the nursery provides. The nursery is self-contained. Facilities for extracting and cleaning seeds are also on the premises.

As well, greenhouses which are used to start the container plants (mainly coniferous varieties) are situated on the site.

All nursery stock that is sent out is 18 inches or less in height. The time it takes to grow a plant to that size depends on the variety. The conifers spend the most time in the nursery. This is usually from three to four years, before they are large enough to ship out. A container program, started in the mid 60's, notably reduced the growing time. The conifers are seeded in containers and kept under greenhouse conditions from 10 to 18 weeks, at which time they are planted into nursery fields.

The nursery has developed a unique container which has proved to be highly successful. The container hinges open like a book, allowing the seedlings to be gently lifted out rather than pulled out. Since the introduction of the container program, the nursery has had a 99 per cent conifer seedling survival rate.

About 10 per cent of the trees shipped out are conifers. Varieties of spruce, pine and larch are available to the land owner.

The Provincial Tree Nursery is one of the very few large nurseries in Canada producing deciduous materials. Thus, culture and propagating information on many species, especially native species, is not abundant. In the past two years, the nursery has become involved in research programs.

All deciduous material in the nursery is grown from seed except the willow and popular varieties. These are started from stem cuttings taken from special stool stands kept for the purpose. Seed, for the other varieties, is collected at the nursery, or crews are sent to parts of the province where seed can be found.

Most deciduous varieties spend only one or two years in the nursery seed beds before they are large enough to ship out. Unlike conifers, deciduous seeds and cuttings are planted directly into the field.

Caragana is the most popular variety the nursery stocks. Over one million caragana plants are shipped out each year.

It takes a large staff and sophisticated machinery to keep the nursery operative. The permanent staff of 32 is augmented each summer with an additional 65 summer employees. The three-week shipping period each spring, during which time almost three million trees are sent out, is the busiest time of the year. But it takes year around work and management to have those trees ready.

Municipal Officers Elected

Last week, the annual in-council elections were held throughout the area. At organizational meetings in the local municipalities, councillors were selected to fill the numerous committees which are part of the municipal administration.

As well as the committees being filled, the Reeve for the County of Beaver #9 and three village mayors were selected.

At Ryley, George Knudsen was elected Reeve for the up-coming year. Hjordis Armitage was elected Deputy Reeve.

Olah Shykora retained his position as Mayor of Holden and chief executive officer for the Village. Mr. Shykora has held the position for the past two years. Marvin Gisbelhuse was re-elected as Deputy Mayor.

At Irma, last year's top council officer retained his position as Mayor. Richard Larson will fill this position until the elections in October of 1980.

Ryley's organizational meeting found Ernest Brown, last year's Deputy Mayor, elected Mayor for the new year. Mr. Brown's old position will be filled by Richard Kope.

The County of Beaver Board of Eduction re-elected Charlie Sears as Chairman for 1979-80. Mr. Sears retains the position he has held for a number of years. Hjordis Armitage was elected Deputy Chairman.

All of these positions have terms which run from October of 1979 to October of 1980. In October of 1980, municipal elections will be held across the Province, an event which occurs every three years.

Refugee Family Arrive In Viking - On Saturday Quoc Loong Truong, his wife Ngoc Truc, and their 2 year old daughter Tieu Van began their "new lives" in Viking. The family, Ethnic-Chinese, left South Vietnam in an 18 metre long fishing boat along with approximately 300 refugees. After a 7 day ordeal they landed at Hong Kong Refugee Camp. All other members of the Truong family remain in Sai-Gon. In order to leave the country, one must pay from 10 to 14 ounces in gold to the government for their freedom. Through Canadian support the Truong family journeyed safely to Canada and eventually to our community where we hope they will enjoy health, and happiness.

Beaver Local Holds Induction Ceremony

The County of Beaver Local of the Alberta Teachers' Association held its annual induction banquet on Friday, October 26, at the Ryley Community Hall.

At the event, teachers new to the teaching profession are formally inducted into the Alberta Teachers Association through a series of oaths in which a teacher pledges that they will serve their profession to the best of their abilities.

The banquet also provides an opportunity for all teachers of the local to become acquainted with their new colleagues.

Present at this year's banquet was Ken Offord, the new district representative to the Central East Zone of the A.T.A. Mr. Offord spoke briefly at the induction ceremonies and heartily welcomed the new teachers to the teaching profession.

This year's event was sponsored by the Ryley sub-local of the Alberta Teachers' Association.

A total of ten new members joined the teaching staff of the County of Beaver #9 and were inducted at the ceremonies. Those inducted included Beth Chermiawski, Connie Ondoba, and Renata Werner who have accepted positions at the Tofield School.

At Ryley School the new staff members are Wendy Welsh, Lynn Hicks, and Kim Munkvold.

Holden welcomes Gwenyth Astley while newly inducted members teaching at Viking are Carolyn Doneman and Ann Provost.

Irma Home and School Sponsors International Supper

Irma Home and School Association have planned an International Supper for Monday the 26th of November in the School Auditorium. Please note that this is a change in date from the one established at the last Home and School meeting.

The supper is a combination of two ideas - one, to raise money, and two, to provide an activity to recognize the International Year of the Child. We hope that the supper will have an international flavour, and following the supper entertainment will be provided by our students.

For anyone wishing to obtain further information, you are invited to contact the Home and School executive members.

Holden Lutheran Congregation To Celebrate 75 years

The Holden Lutheran Congregation are making plans for their 75th Anniversary to be held on November 4th, 1979. Included in the celebrations will be a special service at the church at 10:00 a.m. and also at 2:00 p.m.

Guest speaker for the celebrations will be Pastor Osborne Olsen. After the 10:00 a.m. service, dinner will be served at noon at the Holden Community Hall and coffee will also be served at the Community Hall following the 2:00 p.m. service.

Hafsos Win Grand Prize At Bonanza Ball

The Second Annual Harvest Bonanza Ball, held to raise money for the operation of the Viking Community Hall and Carena, was held on Saturday night. Although only 179 tickets of the possible 200 were sold, the evening was a success as everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves.

Following cocktails, those in attendance enjoyed a beautiful meal which was prepared by the women of the Viking and District Agricultural Society. Students from the Viking High School Students Union arrived to clean up after the meal, thus allowing the women to enjoy the evening.

President Gus Quattek welcomed those who were in attendance and thanked them for supporting the operation of the Hall and the Carena. He briefly outlined the financing difficulties which the Ag. Society is experiencing this year.

Next, Dick Morris of the Bonanza Ball Committee also thanked all those who had purchased a ticket in support of the facilities. He then explained that due to the financing problems, some other alternative methods of operating the facilities are being considered such as increasing rental fees for all or certain groups, or placing them under Town control and operating through taxation.

Mr. Morris then explained that no push for ticket sales would be done in the Hall this year because the Committee felt that those in attendance had already supported the Hall to this point. He then laid down the method of awarding prizes.

During the intermissions in the dance, all 179 tickets were drawn, with nine prizes of $100 being awarded and the grand prize of a 1980 Mercury Bobcat being the final number out of the draw.

Winners of $100 were John and Bessy Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hoines, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maxwell, the Viking Meat Market, Brian Denham, the Magpies, Taylor's Garage, the Bingo Gang and Howery's Auto and Farm Supply. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hoines and Garry Howery of Howery's Auto and Farm Supply donated their prizes back to the Agricultural Society.

Grand prize winners of the 1980 Bobcat were Vern and Cheryl Hafso of Viking.

Dancing to the fine music of the "Rondrunners" lasted until 2 a.m. with everyone seeming to enjoy the wide variety of music provided by this talented group.

Viking Agricultural Society president, Gus Quattek, presents the keys for a new car to Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hafso of Viking. Vern and Cheryl were the lucky winners of the Grand Prize, a 1980 Mercury Bobcat, given at the 2nd Annual Bonanza Ball held in the Viking Community Hall on Saturday, October 27th.

Make Some Time!

One comment sometimes heard from parents when it comes to dealing with their child's education is "I don't have time". Yet our society has determined that formal education is an important part of a youngsters growing up.

Our society treats youth who enter into the market place in the same manner as it treats any product. The more skills and knowledge the youth displays, the greater are his/her chances of finding a rewarding job. The means by which employers most often determine the initial value of a prospective employee is by the level of education which that particular person has achieved.

Therefore it is important that we show some responsibility towards our children and show some concern about their education. The school cannot do it all. The major factor in success or failure at school, if the ability is there, is found in the home. Interest and concern about a student's progress in school is a part of being a responsible parent.

With parent-teacher interviews being held this Friday in the County of Beaver and on Tuesday, November 20 at the Irma School, let's "make some time" for our children's future!

Positive P.R.

One important aspect to the functioning of a society is that the citizens respect the law. Laws, in general, are made for the protection of a society and those within it.

Yet one of the very important features of a respect for the law lies within those who enforce that law - our policemen and our courts. Both of these bodies must display a fairness which places them above reproach by the citizens. This is a difficult task, yet one which these two entities must strive to maintain.

It is important that our police portray a public image of prevention and not just detection. By "staking out" dances and other social functions with a view to "nabbing" offenders does not portray a positive image of the police. Seldom does one see these officers sitting outside our most prized disseminators of drunken drivers - our bars. A couple of incidents 'ately where police officers sat outside of social functions waiting for people to disperse does nothing for their public image.

The police do need our help to stop those who wish to break the law. But an effort shc ld be made on their part to request our help without them having to place themselves in a position of seemingly 'harrassing" the local citizens. A reputation for fairness and concern for area residents is much more valuable than a reputation for being tough or for "chalking up" tickets.

What Is The Viking Child Development Society?

Different types of child care arrangements meet different family and community needs. The Viking Child Development Society is a non-profit organization voluntarily attempting to provide playschool and child care services for Viking and area. From research conducted in early spring, the need for this type of service proved to be a definite one.

In order to accomodate as many people as possible, we have set up programs to include children from ages 1 - 5 and will be open Monday to Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

The programs which are to be available include:

1. Mother's Day Out - where mothers can leave their children for a part day or full days. This must be pre-arranged in advance.
2. Parent Nursery - parents working voluntarily with the children.
3. Playschool - ages 3-5 This will include planned activities such as housekeeping corner, finger painting etc. for two hours each morning and afternoon.
4. Before and after school care.
5. Family Life - education programs, parent -child development programs designed to meet the need of parent involvement and understanding through workshops etc.

The objectives of The Child Development Society are:

1. To help children to become a responsible member of a group; to learn to be self-reliant.
2. To help children learn to respect the rights of others.
3. To provide self-esteem and self-confidence.
4. To provide for the development of muscle coordination.
5. To enhance a child's problem-solving skills.
6. To provide a variety of activities.

Our programs are not simply a luxurious baby-sitting or entertainment service for children. Underlying all the activities is directional guidance towards a high standard of ethical and social behavior.

Anyone interested in any of the programs are required to register in advance to be accommodated in our schedule.

The facility which we have been fortunate enough to rent, is one of the county houses.

Hopefully, around November 15, 1979, we will be operational, providing a service that is in great demand.

We hope this clarifies what our program encompasses and what we are endeavouring to do. If you require additional information please call Mrs. Er. Carrington at 336-3234.

Registrations forms are available at Viking Jewellery and Giftware.

M.L.A. Report - By Tom Lysons

The fall sitting of the 19th Legislature opened on Wednesday, October 10th.

The Premier gave a short speech on the operations of the Government of Alberta since the spring sitting. During his speech, he as well touched on various comparisons of our Province with those generally in Canada.

On Thursday, October 11, the Honourable Hugh Planche, Minister of Economic Development, announced the hopper car purchase for the movement of grain. I thought it might be useful to include it in its entirety in this report.

"The Government of the Province of Alberta has agreed to purchase 1,000 hopper cars to move grain from Alberta farms to market. The purchase, estimated to cost $50 million dollars will be financed through the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund. The purchase of the 1,000 hopper cars will take place over the next two to three years, with $15.6 million to be expended in the 1980-81 fiscal year.

The Alberta Government recognizes that Canada's grain handling and transportation system has proved to be inadequate for moving present, let alone future volumes of grain production to market. This limitation in transportation capacity has significantly reduced producer's income through the imposition of restrictive quotas. On farm stocks are growing and producers are not maximizing the utilization of their land and equipment. Thus, the Alberta Government has decided to purchase the hopper cars to assist in increasing the capacity and ability of the system to meet the urgent needs of moving more grain to market.

The purchase of additional hopper cars by Alberta represents another step to improve the marketing opportunities for Alberta producers. Alberta was and still is the principal catalyst in ensuring expansion of facilities at Prince Rupert and just recently announced the takeover of the three Inland Terminals in the Province by a newly established company, Alberta Terminals Ltd. By purchasing the cars and unsuring that the car fleet presently serving Alberta will be increased by an additional 1,000 cars, the objectives of both Prince Rupert and Alberta Terminals Ltd., will be achieved. It is the intent of the Government to negotiate that a necessary portion of the car fleet will be dedicated to use by the Inland Terminals for solid or block train movement from the terminals to Prince Rupert and other West Coast Terminals. However, this does not ensure the cars will be used as efficiently as possible. Therefore, with this concern in mind, I will be meeting with the Federal Transport Minister, the newly appointed Grain Co-ordinator and Canadian Wheat Board officials in the near future to negotiate terms and conditions of Alberta's provision of additional hopper cars to ensure that in addition to increasing capacity, steps are taken to allow for the most efficient utilization of the system as a whole.

If the present and new rolling stock can be used more efficiently by reducing car cycle times, it will contribute millions of dollars per year in farm receipts to producers, a benefit which is of extreme importance to all Albertans.

We have new phone numbers in the Government Member's office, so when phoning me in Edmonton please call 427-1835 or 427-1800. My home phone number remains the same at 853-5265. Please call person to person collect.

Letter To The Editor

I would like to make use of this column to convey a message of appreciation to the Tire Playground Committee for their effort, and many long hours spent, in planning and organizing the construction of the playground.

It takes a lot of conviction and drive to spearhead and realize such a project.

With their motivation, the community proved that the cooperative spirit still exists.

The success of their efforts was quickly evaluated as the children eagerly put each structure to the test immediately upon completion. That, in itself, is gratification.

I wish I was young enough to show my appreciation that way.

Greensleeves Hosts Successful "Girls Nite Out"

Nearly 200 ladies took advantage of the opportunity afforded them last Thursday to view the new fall fashions while enjoying a social evening complimented by a bounteous and tastefully arranged wine and cheese bar. Delightful local entertainment added to the gala atmosphere which provided our community with a truly "first night" social experience.

Musical accompaniment and special numbers by Mrs. Elsie Merta at the organ set the mood throughout the evening.

The program opened with Pam Rauser's captivating rendition of "Leaving On A Jet Plane" and "New World In The Morning."

Mr. Zee and His Gorgeous Models then made their entrance with a variety of outlandish and original fashions designed by Mr. Zee himself.

Appropriate fall sportswear from Greensleeves was then modelled. Emphasis on soft, warm shades of velours and tweedy blends in pants, skirts, jackets and sweaters, whetted the appetites of the fashion conscious audience.

After a short intermission the guests were treated to a "strip-tease" by Flose, the ex-mannequin. Because of Flose's physical handicaps, audience participation was required.

A variety of afternoon and evening dresses were then modelled featuring a wide selection of fabrics and colors. Skirts are narrower and often slit. Pleats are important. Long gowns are sober and fit closer to the body. Accessories, including disco bags, add interest and flair to the total look. The charming models for Greensleeves were: Nellie Cikaluk, Pat Cottrell, Janice Hafso, Joyce Hoffman, Ellen Holter, Kathy Hummel, Lynn Kittle, Pat Runicka, Claudia Williams.

Draws for items of clothing and bottles of wine were made throughout the evening. The lucky ladies were: Doreen Barber, Marion Miller, Olga Skolney, Rose Rovold, Laura Holland, Merriel Kill, Debbie Wemp, Isobel Quinton, Madeline Kirchmayer, Guerine Hammer, Mary Bailey, and M. E. Mealing.

It was evident that a great deal of planning and effort had gone into staging this event and the audience responsed with enthusiasm, making the evening a fantastic success.

Viking Class Of '70 To Hold Reunion

It will soon be 1980 and time for the class of 70's ten year reunion. Are You Interested? In order to coordinate with all former classmate's plans, it is necessary to establish a date for the reunion. August 2, 1980 has been suggested.

Sandra Nistfield has volunteered to formulate an address list of all former classmates. Could all parents, classmates and friends please help to complete this list by contacting Sandra. Her address is Box 793 Viking; or phone 336-2575.

Also, any feedback in the way of suggested activities and volunteers to take responsibility for organizing various aspects of the reunion would be greatly appreciated. The reunion will only be as good as we make it.

A planning meeting has been tentatively discussed. Let's all participate and make our reunion an extra-special one.

Halloween Party Held For Kinsella Youngsters

Ghosts, witches and the many traditional characters were represented at the annual Women's Institute, Halloween Party held on Saturday, October 28th, in the Kinsella Community Hall.

Some sixty children from the Hamlet and district (including four week old Tracy Walker, seven month old Jody Armitage, and twelve month old Scott Hollar - who just looked on), had "a whale of a time". The children bobbed for apples, pinned the tail on the donkey, held a sack race, played musical chairs and many more games organized by Pam Lysgaard, Margaret Ball and Debbie Oracheski.

The fancy dress parade followed, with the children parading around the hall to be judged. This was a most difficult task for the judges, Mrs. Pat Retzloff and daughter Susan of Edmonton - as there weren't 57 prizes.

However, first prizes went to Shannon Lancaster as the lifelike Indian; Tonya Johnston, a super Clown and Dwayne Haydon as an overweight Pumpkin.

Chad Nordstrom, Roger Jackson, Jeff ARmitage and Billy Joe Lysgaard were runners-up, as were the Hobo, Batman, Football Player, and Princess ....no names given for these characters.

Juice, cookies and cake followed, while the mothers enjoyed a cup of coffee.

Each child enjoyed a bag of treats and novelties on conclusion of yet another Halloween Party.

Thanks to the Royal Purple, Kinsella Lodge for sharing the expense of the treats and novelties with us. Also thanks are extended to the people who brought lunch.

Legion To Welcome "Fraternal Affiliates"

The Viking Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion extend an invitation to all wives or husbands of members to become associated with the Legion as "Fraternal Affiliates".

The branch feels that they should be included in the activities of the Legion and as this seems to be the ideal way to achieve this, an invitation is extended.

If you are interested in becoming an Affiliate member, contact Mr. Art Willans who is Secretary Treasurer of the branch and he will see that you get the necessary application form.

We hope that you will seriously consider becoming part of the Legion and be assured that you will be warmly welcomed by your local branch.

8:00 p.m. in the Civic Centre — REGULAR MEETING General Meeting & Election of Officers — Town Office Council Chambers

Town Council Holds Regular Meeting

The following minutes are a continuation of the Oct. 3rd regular meeting of the Viking Town Council which was held on October 17th.

By-law #324 was given third and final reading.

By-law #332, a By-law to provide for the licensing, regulating and for the confinement of dogs and other animals was passed after lengthy consideration. This By-law was to be published in The Weekly Review.

A letter had been received from Alberta Housing and Public Works advising that applications for the 1980 Neighbourhood Improvement Grants will be accepted until November 1, 1979. It was decided to set up a meeting with a member of the Neighbourhood Improvement Branch to assist in the re-application for the grant.

A letter had been received from Canadian Transport Commission regarding a monitoring meeting to be held at the Viking Community Hall on October 22, 1979 at 1:00 p.m. The Mayor and Council and interested residents are urged to attend.

The matter of the Business Licensing By-law was tabled. A special meeting will be set up at a later date.

It was reported that the offer of $16,000 for the Humphries property had been rejected. The agent will be contacted again.

It was reported that the Town men had repaired some water valves and sewer line which had been damaged by the construction crew working on the paving project. Invoices for the materials and labour are to be charged to Border Paving Ltd.

Correspondence had been received from the following:

1. Copies of correspondence between Border Paving Ltd. and Cicon Engineering.
2. Mr. R. Cross, County of Beaver, re: balances owing on the 3 mill capital loans.
3. Foster-Chatwin advising they are proceeding with recovery of damages sustained by P. Mykitykyhyn's vehicle arising from a collision with a water pipe on one of the Town streets.
4. A thank you letter from the Viking Wildlife Club.
5. Letter from Associated Engineering Services Ltd.
6. Western Management Consultants re: minicomputers.
7. Alberta Environment re: operation of sewage treatment facilities.
8. Copy of letter from Alberta Municipal Affairs to Mr. J. Pearson, Manager of Municipal Planning re: Outline Plan of E½ 35-47-13-W4th.
9. Local Authorities Board that annexation application is presently being circulated to the various authorities concerned.
10. Information from Alberta Disaster Services re: courses being held.
11. Alberta Municipal Financing Corp. showing new repayment schedule.
12. Correspondence re: Alberta Water Resources Conference was tabled until the next regular meeting.
13. Alaskan Auto & Salvage Ltd. was to be contacted about old car bodies at landfill site.
14. Provincial Planning Conference agenda to be held Oct. 21-24 in Edmonton.
15. Thank you card and letter from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norwood.
16. A letter from Calgary Power Ltd. had been received with a design print showing the proposed up grading of street lighting on 50th Street from 51st Avenue to 58th Avenue inclusive. Council felt that more information was required before accepting the proposal. R. Evans moved that a representative from Calgary Power be invited to attend the Nov. 7th regular Council meeting with more detailed information on the project.
17. A letter from the Viking Child Development Society was referred to the P.S.S. Board.

It was decided that Corp. D. Will should be invited to attend the next regular Council meeting to meet with Council.

It was moved by W.R. Taylor that the Organization Meeting be held on Oct. 24 at 8:30 p.m.

By-law #331, being a By-law to authorize the adoption of the 1979 Assessment Roll for taxation purposes in the year 1980, was given all three reading and passed.

Mayor Hafso will attend the official opening of the Viking Tire Playground on October 24 at 2:30 p.m. as representative from the Town of Viking.

Council had no objection to Lots W15 feet of 1 and 2, Block 22, Plan 5440HW, presently registered under one title in the name of Ernest and Jessie Walters, being subdivided into two separate lots, with all costs of survey and other costs being the responsibility of the owner. Any building on the vacant lot must conform with the building standards of the Town.

R. Evans reported that several interviews had been held for the position of Municipal Administrator with two more applicants to interview before a recommendation be made to Council.

W.R. Taylor moved that the Town parking lots be filled and gravelled as soon as possible.

The Tire Playground Committee had inquired if some of the power poles near the treatment plant would be available for their use. M. Stephenson moved that 8 power poles be made available to the Tire Playground.

R. Evans reported that the Building Committee had met with Robert Baldwin regarding his application for a building permit on Lot 8, Block 38, Plan 772 0614 which had been rejected by Council. The Committee recommended to Council that an application with the required revisions be approved.

K. Midbo moved that a revised application for a building permit for Lot 8, Block 38, Plan 772 0614 be approved. Carried.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Bruce & District News

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barker were in Bruce to visit Jim's brother Gordon. Jim left the Bruce district in 1941 and now makes his home on Vancouver Island.

Ellen Doris left Friday for a two-week holiday in Hawaii. She accompanied her son and daughter-in-law Malcolm and Marion and grandchildren Marla and Christopher who plan to spend a week in Oahu and a week in Maui.

Sergina Sizer visited with long-time friends Gladys Dorin and Mary Pirie one day last week. Sergina has made her home in Camrose for the past few years.

Jean and Bud Starky are the proud parents of a baby daughter who arrived on October 27, at the University Hospital weighing 8 lbs. 9 oz.

The Bruce Agricultural Society will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday, November 6 at 8:00 p.m. Everybody is welcome to attend and coffee and donuts will be served.

Stampede Association members are reminded that there will be a meeting on Monday, November 5, at 8:00 p.m. in the meeting room at the Community Centre.

Halloween Safety Requires Visibility And Good Vision

Seeing well and being seen are the to basic ingredients to help avoid tragedy this Halloween, cautions the Alberta Optometric Association. Some simple costume decorating tricks can do a lot to help protect children from accidents and add to their fun.

Costumes should be made so that they will be seen easily by drivers and not obstruct the child's clear view of traffic, and signal lights, stops, curbs and wet or icy surfaces.

Of course ensuring that children wear light-colored clothing is almost a routine procedure for many parents, but the availability of newer retro-reflective material has added a welcome element of safety to Halloween.

The Alberta Optometric Association recommends the use of this highly visible material, which, according to studies in the United States makes pedestrians visible to drivers even at speeds of over 100 kilometers per hour.

Retro-reflective material comes in iron-on, stick-on, or sew-on varieties from hardware and department stores and can even add to the design of a child's costume.

Another safety tip, says the Alberta Optometric Association, is to discard the masks altogether, since they are liable to block a child's view if they slip out of place or if the eye holes are inadequate. Instead, they recommend the use of non-allergic makeup and applicators. The whole process can become a great opportunity for an evening of family fun.

The Alberta Optometric Association also remiads parents that regular eye examinations are crucial. Poor vision can be a great handicap not only at Halloween, but throughout the entire year.

Residents of Holden and other communities throughout the county are looking forward to another excellent evening of entertainment by the Beaverhill Players when they will present "Design for Murder". In this presentation, "There is a Murderer on the loose" - the question remains - "Will he be caught? Why not find out? The dates set for this presentation are November 8, 9, and 10 at 8:00 p.m. and Nov. 11, at 2:30 p.m.

The Holden and District Agricultural Society are now planning their Annual Fall Carnival at the Holden Community Hall on Saturday, November 24, 1979.

Supper will begin at 5:30 p.m. with a variety show scheduled for 8:00 p.m. Games of chance will follow. The dance is to follow. There will also be 7 prizes of $200.00 each - draw at midnight.

The Queen Candidates are Janice Keith, Glenda Tkaczyk and Debbie Mielemaka.

The King Candidates are Evan Keith, Darrel Malick and Ed Shyba. Members of the Agricultural Society are getting tickets and posters ready. Watch your newspaper for more detailed information.

The Holden Parent Nursery will be held every Wednesday from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. beginning on October 31, 1979, at the Holden Legion Hall. The fee established is $10.00 per family for the next six months (November to April) or 50 cents for each morning that you attend.

Everyone is welcome, from birth to school age, along with one parent or substitute.

Since the Holden Nursery is a non-profit organization, we are improvising and will be providing home-made equipment for the children. If anyone has any "throw-away items" that may be suitable for out organization to use, we would be very grateful of their donation. Contact us at the Legion Hall on a Wednesday morning. Thank you for any help you may provide. For further information call Darlene at 688-3908

Viking Wildlife Club Hold Presentation

On the night of October 24, the Viking School Wildlife Club held a slide presentation of the Goldeye Field Trip taken by the students last year.

The activities started at 6:15 p.m. with some of the member's parents touring the three trails at Wildlife Acres located east of Viking.

At 8:15 the parents attended a slide presentation at the Junior High Science Room. Afterwards, the parents and members of the Wildlife club enjoyed coffee and cookies. Club Reporter Dennis Kjelland

Fall Wild Oat Control . . . Important Management Step For Alberta Farmers

Farmers who are just finishing up their harvest have an important management decision to make this fall - - whether to put their equipment away for the year or start preparing for next spring.

If farmers decide to keep working this fall, one of their first thoughts should turn to wild oat control, says Jim Harren, District Manager for Monsanto in Alberta. Farmers can invest in an early spring if they put some money in the ground this fall.

"Particularly after this past spring. The spring was so late and wet, that farmers were very rushed to finish their seeding and often had to wait for their custom applicators. Farmers who put down their herbicides and fertilizers last fall were on the land earlier than their neighbors this spring," he says.

The wild oat is the prairie farmer's worst weed problem. It can rob the individual farmer of about a third of his yields and prairie farmers as a group of about $1 billion per year. And if wheat prices increase this year, that figure can be much higher.

"Yield losses occur when the wild oats compete with the crop for moisture, nutrients and sunlight", says Mr. Harren. "This year there were such heavy infestations because the cool wet spring conditions were ideal for wild oats." The yield losses caused by heavy wild oat infestations could be high this fall, when all the harvesting is finished and the yields are in, he adds.

Wild oat control fits right into a prairie farmer's fall tillage practices, points out Mr. Harren. He can apply and incorporate pre-emergent wild oat herbicides while working and land for next spring.

If this fall remains open and moisture conditions remain ideal, farmers should take the opportunity to prepare for next year. Fall work also means be splits up his workload between the two seasons, covering more land with the same amount of labor. But he can also get his local custom applicator when he is needed. Many farmers had to change their planting plans this past spring because the custom applicators were so rushed, said Mr. Harren.

The key to wild oat control is getting a head start on the weed infestation, says Al Gallagher, Product Development Representative for Monsanto in Alberta and weed control specialist. Farmers need to make wild oat control part of their yearly land management program to protect their grain yields and also their total investment.

Annual wild oat control is necessary to keep infestation levels under control. A single plant growing under normal conditions can produce 150 seeds which scatter to the ground before crops are harvested. To further complicate control measures, not all seeds germinate in a given year, says Mr. Gallagher. They will lie dormant for more than eight years waiting for the right conditions for germination.

This year wild oats emerged throughout the growing season after every major rain. Under these spring conditions, the pre-emergent herbicides provided good weed control for six to eight weeks. The post-emergent sprays controlled only the first flushes and missed the wild oats that emerged later, says Mr. Gallagher.

Granular formulation of fall-applied pre-emergent herbicides is suited to stubble area and trashy fields. They can be applied and incorporated using proper tillage equipment while still maintaining trash cover on the soil surface, says Gallagher. In Alberta field trials this year, the fall applied granular herbicides offered to best wild oat control. Pre-emergent herbicides are also available in liquid form, but the soil must be 60 per cent black before application.

He also points out that farmers using a pre-emergent herbicide like Avadex BW on black soils and thin black soils should use the higher recommended rates per acre.

The black, higher organic matter soils will tie up more herbicide and not leave as wild oat control. Gallagher says the higher recommended rates for each crop will give good control on black soils.

Chemical control is available in pre-emergent and post-emergent herbicides. Pre-emergent herbicides are applied in the fall or spring and control wild oats before they emerge. Post-emergent products are applied when wild oats are between the two and six-leaf stage.

The advantage of a pre-emergent herbicide is that it provides crop flexibility and maintains its effectiveness for six to eight weeks controlling wild oats as they germinate at different times in the spring.

The Real Reason We Buy Toys

Canadian citizens spend $200,000,000 a year on Toys - so it stands to reason that we should be concerned about how we spend on toys and whether we get the best buys in terms of quality, price and play value for the child.

There are a number of factors to consider when selecting toys - such as "the real reason we buy toys" and the level of our child's development.

Parents these days buy toys for many reasons. The most obvious, of course, is to provide children with a source of fun and activity, or learning aid. However other motivations may at times enter into those decisions such as a feeling of guilt or perhaps a need to provide children with all the things we wanted, but could not have as a child. The latter is often seen among the grandparents of today, who were often unable to provide a lot of luxuries for their own children - but enjoy the opportunity they have now to "spoil" their grandchildren. This attitude is certainly nothing to be concerned about as long as it is kept within reason.

Feelings of guilt are prevalent these days and are a result of the hectic lifestyle many of us have become accustomed to. Parents who feel they are not spending enough time with their children, may without realizing it, over compensate by lavishing a playroom full of toys on other material goods on their children. This type of behavior doesn't make children feel any better - but it certainly helps to alleviate feelings of guilt on the part of parents.

It has often been said that the quality of time spent with children is more important than the quantity.

Working Moms, in particular, need to be reminded of this - especially at this time of the year when the pressures to buy for children is at its peak.

Children's toys should be elected and evaluated in terms of the play value to the child and added to that - the best value in terms of price.

Think about it, why do you buy toys for your child-ren?

Parkland Nursing News

Greetings and get well wishes to our friends in the hospital at this time. They are Mrs. Theroux, Mr. Hagen and Mr. Harvey.

Mr. Starosa enjoyed a visit from Ann and Jack Rose and Dick and Jo-Anne Dall and family.

Calling on Mr. Ritland were Gladys Clarke of Sedgewick and Olive Good from Holden as well as Judy Daniluk and family from Leduc.

Mrs. Gustafson had visitors from Irma - Jim and Agnes Knudson.

Fern Rabby stopped in to visit her mother Theresa Block.

Our dear friend, Mrs. Danner Anderson of Tofield called on her many friends at Parkland. It was great to see her again.

Honey Curtis and Mabel Robson from Sirome called on their home-town friends Charlie Auburn, Gale Seward and Barb Blaeser.

Mr. Laube enjoyed a visit with his wife Anna, and Helen, Sonja and Laurie.

Zorah Casdilah of Daysland was in to visit her mother, Mrs. Clegg.

Calling on Gale Seward and Charlie Auburn were Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Guild from Marwayne.

Mrs. Ward had a visit with her two sons from Ryley - Ross and Harvey.

On Friday afternoon, the Eastern Star hosted our October birthday party. A thank you is extended to the ladies for the lovely afternoon and a special thanks to Elsie Merta for the lovely music. It was enjoyed by everyone. Mrs. Theroux, Mrs. Ward, Mr. Kapler, Mr. MacAuley and Mr. Gardiner all celebrated October birthdays.

Everyone at Parkland extends a warm welcome to our new-comer - Mr. Seward who moved to Viking from the Sedgewick Lodge and has been a long-time resident of the Sirome area.

Recreation Report

In our recreation information column this week we will start of by asking your help. The Beaver Regional Recreation and Parks are seeking some long lost rug making frames. These frames were loaned out to a group some time ago to make rugs and they have never been returned. They are needed now for another course and who ever you are please return them.

BADMINTON - HOLDEN AND RYLEY

Are there any people in these two villages and surrounding area who are going to play badminton this winter. It is not cold now, but if you are interested you should be registering now so that plans can be made for facility use. If in Holden, register with Mrs. MacGregor or contact the Regional Recreation Office and those in Ryley should contact the Regional Office as well. 663 3730 ext. 24.

In Ryley, our playing time will be on Thursday evenings, but until we receive enough registrations and a contact person we cannot get started.

BRUCE - What are you going to do about badminton this fall.

KOPPERNICK - On Thursday, November 8th, 1979, at 1:00 p.m. there will be a rug weaving course starting in the Koppernick Community Hall near the church. Some ladies are already registered and ready to go. There are still some openings. Why not show up at the hall and get in on the activity. Bring your old rags etc., that you intend to use.

GRANTS - There are still some small grants available for the rural communities. Time is running out so if you are interested give us a call and we will meet with you and complete an application. Are you doing some local renovations to your hall or sports grounds? Act now, don't wait until it is too late.

FELIX POSSAK - Those who attended this concert enjoyed it very much. Mr. Possak is very versatile in his work and renditions of international and national music. The children down in the front row enjoyed his version of Ghost Riders in the Sky and other items presented.

Although attendance was not as high as expected, we received some very good comments about the first in our series of concerts. We hope to see you there at the next one. Mr. Possak played over six different string instruments and sang in several languages.

CHRISTMAS CRAFTS IN HOLDEN - Time is moving on - this course will go on November 13, but only if we receive enough registrations. Are you interested? Register at the Regional Recreation office. What do you want to make for that different Christmas decorating item?

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother Robbie Meakins, who passed away November 1, 1975 - .
May the winds of Heaven blow gently on the quiet and peaceful spot,
Where the one we love is sleeping,
And will never be forgot.
Though his smiles are gone forever,
And his hands we cannot touch,
Still we treasure all our memories
Of the one we loved so much.
Dear God, forgive our silent tears,
And the constant wish that he was here,
Others are taken, that we know,
But he was our's and we love him so.
Always remembered and sadly missed by -

PCB Pheasants Ordered Destroyed

Agriculture Minister John Wise and Health and Welfare Minister David Crombie today ordered the destruction of a shipment of 1,374 pheasant carcasses in British Columbia because of contamination by polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs).

The contamination was discovered as part of a widespread government tracer and test program in B.C.

The search began with the manufacture livestock feed by mills at Abbotsford, B.C. The contaminated tallow originated in a Billings, Montana livestock processing plant, site of a PCB spill last June from an electrical transformer.

The condemned carcasses belong to a pheasant-raising operator at Aldergrove on B.C.'s lower mainland. Government officials traced suspect feed from Abbotsford to the operation. Subsequent tests showed unacceptable levels of PCBs.

Other pheasants from the same operation being raised for slaughter and market are also being tested for PCB content.

"No birds posing a health threat to the consumer will be allowed to go to market," Mr. Crombie said.

More than 500 samples of poultry (live and in carcass form), eggs, milk and livestock feed throughout B.C. have been tested since the discovery of PCB contaminated tallow last month. Only the Aldergrove pheasant operation showed PCB levels high enough to pose a health threat to the consumer.

All milk samples were negative. Some low levels have been found in chickens, turkeys, feed and eggs.

The testing program in B.C. is a co-operative effort of two federal departments, Health and Welfare and Agriculture. The program will continue until officials are satisfied the PCB problem in B.C. is resolved.

PCBs are industrial chemicals that have leaked into the food chain in several countries. PCB manufacture and use in Canada has been sharply curtailed by law because of the threat posed to human health.

Progressive Farming

Brass
Dist. Agriculturist

Slaughter cattle prices should remain fairly steady during the remainder of 1979, with A1 and A2 steers at Toronto selling for about $75 to $80 per hundredweight.

Agriculture Canada economists say the supply of beef in the fourth quarter will be below a year ago, but above this summer's levels.

It is expected that federally inspected cattle slaughter will average close to 80,000 head per week. That's down nine per cent from the fourth quarter of 1978, but 4,000 head per week more than during the first half of this year.

On the demand side, pork supplies are expected to average close to 20 per cent above year earlier levels; this will dampen the demand for beef. Hog prices will be perhaps $10 to $15 per hundredweight below year-earlier prices.

At the same time, a general slowdown in economic growth is foreseen in both the United States and Canada, and this will further weaken beef demand.

Feed grain prices will likely average below spring levels during the fall. This, combined with shorter fed cattle supplies and expected strength in slaughter cattle prices, is expected to keep feeder cattle and calf prices firm. Good 500 to 600 pound steer calves at western markets will likely average about $120 per hundred weight.

The Statistics Canada July estimate of cattle in ventory in Canada indicates that farmers have generally stopped liquidating herds. Total cattle numbers were 13.6 million head, unchanged from a year earlier.

However, it is not yet known if the national beef cow herd is increasing.

HOG OUTLOOK Printed by Agriculture Canada

Canadian hog prices dur ing the last quarter of 1979 are expected to average below the $60-per-hundredweight level, compared with an average of about $74 in October-December 1978.

Agriculture Canada economists report that Index 100 hogs at Toronto dropped from $64.37 in the second quarter to $61.70 in the July-September quarter this year.

Higher pork production in North America, particularly since the spring of 1979, is responsible for the price drops. Canada's hog marketings during 1979 may reach an all-time high of about 11 million head, up almost 20 per cent from the 1978 level.

Hog marketings, including Canada's inspected hog slaughter and live exports to mid-September, 1979 were about 22 per cent above the corresponding period in 1978. The 1979 increase amounted to 25 per cent in the East and 16 per cent in the West.

This expansion phase of the Canadian hog cyle, which commenced in 1977, was basically in response to favorable production returns since the mid-1970's when hog prices rose and feed grain prices were low.

Hog feed price ratios dropped to relatively low levels in the summer of 1979, and are not expected to improve during the balance of the year.

Per capita pork consumption in 1978 was 57.8 pounds and for 1979 may average about 63 pounds.

Canada's pork trade in 1979 moved to a large surplus position. Exports to mid-September totalled 121 million pounds, up 50 per cent from a year earlier. Canada's pork imports to mid September 1979, at 43.3 million pounds, are only half as high as the corresponding period in 1978.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Psa. 77:11, 12 and 104:34 and 11 Tim. 2:15.....I will remember the works of the Lord: surely I will remember the wonders of old. I will meditate also of all Thy work and talk of Thy doings....

My meditation of Him shall be sweet - Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

A herd of cows lying under some shade trees chewing their cuds after feeding on the lush green pasture spells contentment and satisfaction.(Meditation.) They are meditating on what they have been feasting upon.

Christians should be like cows. It is not enough to feed on the Word only, but it must be thoroughly digested and chewed. Do you just read God's Word and then forget it? Then you are like a cow that does not chew it's cud and goes dry. Remember a cow may cover an acre feeding but the digesting is done in the quiet of meditation which is most productive of spiritual fruitfulness.

A good help in the study of God's Word is the "Students Commentary on the Holy Scriptures" by George Williams. This one volume commentary can be bought at the Gospel Supplies in Edmonton.

One day I felt a great desire to go away somewhere,
And have a quiet time with only Jesus there,
I had communion with my Lord, I tasted heavenly food,
Not anything in all this world now seems to me so good.

Ernie B. Owen Laid To Rest

Ernie Blaine Owen passed away in the University Hospital in Edmonton, on September 20, at the age of 47 years.

Ernie was born in Hardisty, Alberta on August 14, 1932 and was raised in the Metropolitan District until after his father's passing in 1945. He then moved to Irma with his mother and sister Connie. Ernie remained in the Irma and Jarrow districts until June of 1979 when he moved to Viking where he resided until the time of his passing.

Ernie leaves to mourn his passing his loving wife Christina, his daughters Erna and Wayne Burger, Cindy and Frank Russel, all of Edmonton and Treena at home and a step-daughter Gail and Bill Bacon of Edmonton as well as a step-son Jerry and Ann Owen of Holberg, B.C.; Six grandchildren, one brother Jim of Irma, six sisters: Helen Saul of Edmonton, Elvie Kelly of Mayerthorpe, Elsie Reber of Langley, B.C., Alice Johnson of Lougheed, Doris Waddell of Edgerton, Connie Fornal of Viking. He is also survived my many nieces and nephews, friends and acquaintances.

Ernie was predeceased by his father Leonard Owen in 1945, his mother Addie Owen in 1975 and his brother Leonard (Sonny) in 1962.

Funeral services were conducted in the Irma School Gymnasium on September 24, at 3 p.m. with Pastor Larry Koop officiating. Members of the Kinsella B.P.O.Elks conducted a ceremony in the school and acted as honor guard at the graveside.

Hymns sung were: "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" "Like A River Glorious" and Sonja Skori and Lillian Glasgow rendered a duet "How Great Thou Art". The pallbearers were Richard Waddell, Marvin Owen, Randy Johnson, Jim Owen, Carl Hoybak and Kenneth Owen.

Interment followed in the Jarrow Cemetery. Remagban Funeral Services Ltd., Earl Kjelland, were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Feed Barley - Outlook Promising

Non-board barley prices should average between $62 and $65 per tonne during the 1979-80 crop year and could be even higher if the Canadian Wheat Board raises its initial payment in mid-year.

This is the opinion of Lynn Moberly, market analyst with Alberta Agriculture, who bases it on an approximate reference price of $78 per bushel and a forecast 1979-80 year end carry over of around 3.3 million tonnes. He points out that past experience with such a carry over suggests non-board prices from 15 to 20 per cent higher than the reference price.

Mr. Malmberg says the non-board price of barley on the prairies is determined by the net initial payment, which is the Canadian Wheat Board's "in store" Thunder Bay - Vancouver, initial price minus freight and elevation; the final payment received in the current year, which is related to world market conditions in the previous crop year even though it is received in the current crop year; and any interim or adjustment payments received in the current crop year.

Adjustment payments are weighed by the number of months of the crop year for which they are in force. "Farmers", he says, "appear to use the sum of these three numbers as a reference price and to adjust thier actual selling price upwards and downwards, depending upon their need to sell barley or on a buyer's need to buy barley".

The extend of a farmer's need to sell barley depends upon barley stocks on hand. Thus high barley stocks will tend to depress prices below the reference price and low stocks will tend to cause prices to rise above the reference price.

Mr. Malmberg says delivery quotas for feed grains will remain restricted because of restricted handling and shipping capacities. In his opinion, the implementation of quotas on nonboard grains can be expected to widen the spread between prices at Thunder Bay and western points.

Farmers can be expected to avoid non board feed grain sales to country elevators in favor of non-quota sales to feedmils and feed lots because deliveries against non-board quotas are deducted from board quotas.

The reduction in non-board supplies moving to country elevators and thus to Eastern Canada will tend to inflate prices in that market but to lower prices on the bulk of western sales.

Mr. Malmberg expects Canadian export barley prices to follow the United States corn market and to possible reach $185 per tonne by early 1980. "The degree to which Alberta farmers can capitalize on these prices will depend almost entirely on the ability of the system to move the grain into export position", he says.

Viking Beef Club Name Executive

The Viking 4 H Beef Club held their reorganizational meeting on October 19 in the Youth Centre at 8:00 p.m.

The election of officers for the current year was held with the following people filling the offices. President - Joanne Armitage; Vice-President Blair Robinson, Secretary - Karen These, Treasurer Glen Maxwell, Club Reporter Dean Cumming, Club Representative - Blair Robinson; Librarian - Marlyn Ash; Lunch Committee consisting of Curtis Quatiek, Carrie Ruzicka, and Sheryl McClements. Entertainment committee members are Brad Majeski, Kevin Maxwell, and Darren McLean. Mary Lee Armitage and Eleanor Fulton will be on the Finance Committee.

Following business discussion, the club decided to have their weigh-in day on November 17th. The location has been set at the farm of Robert Ash from 2 until 4 p.m. Each member's calf must weigh from 450 to 700 pounds.

The club will hold their next meeting on November 2. All new members are extended a sincere welcome to come and join us.

1979 marks the "coming of age" for the Alberta Junior Citizens of the Year program. For eighteen years now, the investor-owned electric utilities have recognized young Albertans who have shown courage, determination, selflessness or responsibility in their communities. This year is certainly no exception! These outstanding young people have been chosen as the Alberta Junior Citizens of the Year for 1979 from many deserving nominations. They exemplify the vital role youth plays in the development of our Alberta. We salute these young people who are an inspiration to the whole province!

Improvements Not Endorsed By Irma Rate Payers

A public meeting of the rate payers of the Village of Irma to discuss the proposed street improvement program as advertised. The meeting was held in the Legion Hall on Monday, October 29, 1979 at 7:00 p.m.

Mayor Larson called the meeting to order and advised that the proposed local improvement had been presented to the rate payers following direction at the last Annual meeting at which time Council was directed to abandon the policy of dust control by oiling the streets and move towards some permanent type of surfacing. He further advised that this meeting had been called in order that the rate payers may express their opinions and give Council direction in policies in general and especially those policies which Council should consider relating to the upgrading and dust control of the streets.

The meeting was then open for discussion and plans setting out the location of the project were posted on either wall, setting out the locations for the proposed curb and gutters and the streets to be paved. Those present were requested to review the plans if there was any question as to properties that would be assessed.

Mr. Scott then gave a report on the preliminary study that had been made in preparation of the proposal and outlined the costs and appropriation of grant funds that are available.

Mr. Scott further discussed and advised that Alberta Transportation has agreed to allocate the funds necessary for the surfacing of S.R. 881 at this time if the Village does proceed with the proposed local improvement. The department had not formerly planned to undertake surfacing of the section through the village until such time as contracts are called for the surfacing of S.R. 881.

From the question and answer period that ensued, the general concensus was that the rate payers do not endorse the project as proposed. It was felt that the frontage rates necessary are too high and that if implimented would present a burden to the rate payers.

The general concensus was the Council should investigate the costs for paving the first two blocks on Main Street and one block on 50th avenue between 50th street and 49th street, and that the other streets should be oiled for dust control. Further that heavy trucks should be banned from the streets in the residential area. At the close of the meeting Mayor Larson thanked all those present for their comments and direction.

Reg Stefaniuyn son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stefaniuyn of Viking was the recent recipient of a Calgary Power Matriculation Scholarship in the amount of $500.00 for outstanding achievement during the 1978-79 school year.

Interest Rate Increases Mean Higher Beef Prices

The recent increase in interest rates will slow down the rebuilding of Canada's beef cow herds and will mean higher beef prices for the consumer over the next few years.

Jim Boyd, Vice President of the Canadian Cattlemen's Association said that the very high interest rates now being charged mean sharply lower prices for feeder cattle. Every 1 per cent increase in the rate actually causes a transfer of $6.00 per head from the producer to the Banker. This effect, combined with the similar impact of higher feed grain prices has already caused many producers to revise their plans to increase their cow numbers over the next two years.

Boyd, who ranches at Heinsburg, Alberta, pointed out that the interest on money borrowed by feedlot operators to buy feeder cattle puts an extra 14 cents per pound on the cost of a pound of grain in the feedlot.

If this cost is added to the interest on the investment in the brood cow, total interest charges now amount to 50 cents on every pound of beef sold at the retail level. With beef averaging about $2.50 per pound, this means that interest now accounts for approximately 20 per cent of the price of beef.

Boyd said that while his Association understands the Goverament concern about inflation, high interest rates in the beef industry will eventually create more inflation down the road.

Following four years of herd reduction it is essential that we start to rebuild our cow herd if we are to keep up with beef demand. However, this rebuilding process will now be approached very cautiously be producers and beef suppliers from now through to 1983 will be lower than expected.

As hog and poultry suppliers also start to react to higher costs, it is likely that consumers will have to pay sharply higher prices for their meat.

Boyd also said that his Association is urging the Government to take a very close look at the impact of high interest rates on productivity in the food sector and especially the impact that declining supplies will have on future inflation rates.

Irma Farmer Looses Barn And Hogs In Blaze

On Sunday evening, at approximately 9:00 p.m. the Irma fire siren sounded and the Irma Volunteer fire fighters responded with their usual promptness. In less than twenty minutes they were at the scene of a fire on the farm of George Ford, which is located 17 miles northeast of the Village of Irma.

Upon arrival they found a well ignited blaze eating away at the hog barn. By the time the water supply carried by the fire truck was depleted, Francis Ford's boys arrived with their huge 3,000 gallon tank. This tank was refilled twice before the fire was extinguished.

A watchful eye was kept on the main dwelling as sparks from the hog barn landed on its roof on several occasions. These were quickly detected and extinguished.

The big roof barn was completely destroyed and two adjacent buildings were badly damaged. We have been told that in addition to the buildings, George Ford lost eight or nine sows and approximately ninety young pigs.

The Irma Volunteer Fire Fighters are to be commended on their promptness and efficiency.

Golden Valley To Celebrate 75 years As A Congregation

Golden Valley Lutheran Church of Viking will celebrate its 75th anniversary as a congregation on November 18, 1979 with Worship Services at 10:30 a.m., 2:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m.

Pastor Herb Keil, Western Assistant to the President, will be guest speaker at the morning service.

Former pastors of the congregation, Larsen, Berstad, Frecht and Stolee will speak in the afternoon and evening. There will be special music at each service.

A dinner will follow the morning service. Following the afternoon and evening services, there will be coffee and fellowship. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Hallowe'en Quiet In Area

Hallowe'en throughout the area in 1979 was relatively quiet. The three R.C.M.P. detachments which cover the area report that few problems were experienced in any of the communities or the rural area last Wednesday night.

Constable Brown of the Wainwright R.C.M.P. detachment stated that there were no damage reports received from the Irma area. He said that the situation was relatively calm in that area.

Besides a couple of bales of straw and soap being spread around, little of any major consequence occurred. He noted that no reports of serious damage were received and that generally the youth enjoyed themselves without hurting anyone.

Constable Christianson of the Tofield detachment reported that things were relatively quiet in their area. Besides a number of hay bales spread around the Village of Holden and a few eggs and some shaving cream and soap being spread around, little of any major consequence occurred. He noted that no reports of serious damage were received and that generally the youth enjoyed themselves without hurting anyone.

Besides a couple of bales being set on fire north of Viking, little was reported in the Viking area. A number of eggs were thrown and some shaving cream was spread around, but little else occurred in Viking. In the rural areas, some farm machinery was moved about, but little damage was reported.

Generally, a very quiet Halloween was experienced in terms of damage while most of the youth enjoyed "trick or treating" and some Halloween parties.

This year's Hallowe'en is what Hallowe'en is all about. A large number of youngsters in the area dressed up and made the rounds "trick or treat" and besides minor Hallowe'en pranks no serious problems occurred.

Election Promises

Once again the problems of our democratic society have been brought to light by the actions of our federal government. The reversal in policy concerning the moving of the Canadian embassy in Israel from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem displays the type of policy which some politicians follow.

When Prime Minister Clark announced that he was moving the embassy, his objective was to attract the Jewish vote in some key ridings in Toronto. Little if any thought appears to have gone into this policy as evidenced by the reaction from both inside and outside of Canada. After much "study" and sending Robert Stanfield to investigate the situation, at the taxpayers' expense, Mr. Clark reversed his stand. This inept action on his part shows the folly in some election promises.

The Conservative government's mortgage deductibility scheme also smacks of election goodies. Their policy calls for homeowners to be able to deduct a certain percentage of their mortgage payments each year, depending upon the size of their mortgage. However, with the tremendous increase in the prime lending rate, and therefore the mortgage rate, over the past four months, few Canadians can afford to purchase a house. This policy, in isolation, may spark an increase in housing starts in Canada, and thus an increase in employment and a boost to the economy. But tied to high interest rates, this deductibility scheme looks like it will do little if anything for future Canadian homeowners.

Policies which are formed in isolation of the overall picture solely to attract the voters is political deceit. The average voter seldom understands all of the ramifications of such policies and needs to have honest politicians who can properly explain each policy. Many voters were attracted by these policies of the Clark government, yet now they both appear impractical. Democracy is the best form of government, yet at times it appears very mediocre.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

It is a sad day when the County Council and the present recreation board decide to shut everything down.

Some years ago there were four people in the County who had some vision of the needs of the people, Andy Seiberg of Tofield, Dennis Cooper of Holden, Tom Kerlee of Ryley and Jack MacArthur of Bruce-Viking.

After much preliminary work in their own communities they prevailed on the County Council to set up a regional board. I believe they hired two directors who had a little experience and less initiative or desire to work before they were so fortunate to get the services of Mr. George Baker, a man of vast experience, who has never counted the hours of work it has taken to get recreation organized from Lindbrook to Kinsella.

His biggest stumbling block has been to get volunteers in each community motivated enough to get recreation, sports, craft classes, dancing classes, cooking classes etc. planned and going in each town, village and hamlet. Some people think that one paid employee, the director, should do it all. One odd result was the fact it was most successful in the Hamlets of Bruce and Kinsella where the people realized they were doing it for themselves.

Now, when we have a swimming pool, a theatre and several arenas, going well, when we really need a director to see that these facilities are made good use of, some members of town councils and recreation boards, who really don't take part in these activities whatever, can decide to close it down.

Whatever will become of Camp Lake and Black Nugget Resort if left, unmaintained and not improved as the years go by.

I have been at Camp Lake where lots of people from Irma and Wainwright love to spend the weekend and wish they had something like it in their area, or Black Nugget where scores of people go almost everyday to fish. I have been to recreation seminars in Edmonton where the County of Beaver Regional Recreation set up was received as a model throughout the whole province.

Please let us not toss everything aside for the sake of some assessment on the tax roll.

Rather let us allocate money to help pay the yearly expenses of maintaining these facilities for the good of young and old.

Good sports always, always, seem to be good citizens.

Yours truly,
Bruce Budd

Dear Sir:

The Town of Olds will be celebrating their own Anniversary along with the 75th Anniversary of the Province of Alberta. I feel the following information may be of interest to some of your readers.

A double 75th Anniversary celebration will make 1980 a gala year in Olds, Alberta. Olds was incorporated as a town in the same year (1905) that the province was born.

One of the commemorative projects will be a book covering the history of the town and immediate area, from earliest settlement to the present. Material for the book, in the form of stories, photographs and family information is still being received by the committee. Everything will be acknowledged and carefully preserved until it is returned.

If you have material that should be included in the Olds book (e. if you would like to buy one), please write now to Olds History, box 199 Olds, Alberta TOM 1PO.

Your name will then be on the mailing list for information about all the events being planned throughout the year by the Anniversary Committee.

Yours truly,
Helen C. Smith

Pioneer Portrait By Carol Maxwell

Sybil Brower

Many people of the surrounding districts will undoubtedly recognize Mrs. Brower and will remember her for the excellent care she gave as a nurse in the Viking Hospital.

Sybil McLeod was born in Carmen, Manitoba. Following the early death of her mother, Sybil, her sister and father, left Carmen and settled near Wainwright at Heath, where Mr. McLeod homesteaded and opened a general store. He subsequently became the local post master as well.

Following public school at Heath, Sybil boarded in Wainwright where she completed her high school. From there, she entered into training at the Royal Alexandra Hospital from which she graduated in 1925. Although she no doubt had the drive to complete this venture regardless, she recalls how her father gave her return train fare when she left. Bound not to give in to trials and homesickness, she left the sum untouched in the bank for the three years.

Not all were so committed. Of 80 probationers, 56 survived the first few months; 30 graduated. Fifty years later of 23 living, 16 attended the 50th Anniversary in 1975.

Nurses of today dress quite comfortably and with individuality. This was not always the case. The basic dress of nurses in training started with black stockings and shoes. A probationer's basic dress was pink; from then on it was blue. That color seemed to matter little, however, as it was almost wholly covered by a bib and complete apron, detachable elbow high cuffs and collars. Apron length was a rigid six inches from the floor.

Graduates wore all white, with a less restricting collar but the style was standard for all.

Sybil, after graduation, specialized at the Royal Alex for three months, then became a matron at Smoky Lake. She then spent part of a year in Vancouver but returned to the Royal Alex where Mr. McLeod was very ill. Smoky Lake again beckoned for it was there her future husband lived. Sybil and Ab were married in January of 1926 and she settled in to housewifery and mothering for the next 21 years.

As the family of an elevator agent, the Browers moved to Andrew for six years, to Rasfurly from 1935 to 1940 and finally to Viking. It was then Mrs. Brower returned to nursing; this time she stayed with it for twenty years, until her retirement in '69, serving in the operating room, on emergency, and as matron for a number of years.

It is hard to highlight a nurse's life as it is so intermingled with happiness and tragedy - birth, life, and death go side by side.

She was, however, on duty during the snow storm of '51 when the hospital was cut off from the downtown area from Thursday to Saturday. Food was running out when the Dray finally came through Naslund's field. The horses had to be literally shovelled through each step of the way.

After her years of service Mrs. Brower has not simply put her feet up. At home, her spare time is used making afghans of many hues and patterns - one for each of her five children, their spouses, and her 16 grandchildren.

Extensive travelling has filled much of her time. Besides visiting her sister in Ontario each year, she has over the past years been to Mexico, Great Britain, and Ireland (twice), Eastern Canada and New England, the Caribean (on a cruise), Spain, the Canary Islands, Britain and Western Europe, Hawaii and California.

As Mrs. Brower was fully committed to her work, she is now fully committed to enjoying her retirement and I'm certain everyone joins in wishing her health and happiness for many years.

Child Development Society Needs Used Toys

The Viking Child Development Society are seeking the assistance of the residents of the community and surrounding area. In conjunction with the establishment of a playschool and child care program, the society realises the needs of the young child for play things, and the appropriate furnishings for their facility.

Members of the society are conducting a 'Toy Drive' during the week of November 9 to 16. If you have any used toys that your family no longer has any need of and would be suitable for children from the ages of 1 to 5, the society would be more than happy to put them back in use at their facility. If you have an item you would like to donate, please drop it off at the Co-op or I.G.A. stores or if it is more convenient call Ev at 336-3234 or Billy Lou at 336-2136 to arrange a time and place for your contribution to be picked up.

The society are also looking to purchase good children's furniture such as cribs, playpens, high chairs, etc. and welcome your inquiries should you be interested in the sale of any of the preceding items.

Two Minis And $5,000 Cash Awarded

Six Albertans will never forget what can happen if asked, "Would you like a glass of milk?" while in a restaurant.

Two Minis and $5,000 in cash prizes were presented to the winners of the Alberta Dairymen's Association "Winamini" milk contest at an ADA luncheon in Calgary.

The Minis were presented to two Calgarians: Jane Paice, waitress, and Michael Allen, customer in the MacLeod Room, Woodwards, Chinook Centre. The Minis were donated by Jaguar Rover Triumph Canada Inc.

The manager of the MacLeod Room, Brian Keddie, won third prize of $2,000.

The $1,000 prize winners were Wendy Steinby, waitress at the Border Hotel Restaurant, now residing in Edmonton, Bob Buyers, one of her customers, and manager of the restaurant, Doreen Rauch. The "Winamini" contest was conducted from May 28 - September 14. The winners names were drawn from about 20,000 entries received.

ust 1979 sales of the four increased more than 12 per cent over July and August of 1978.

Final Grain Payment 1978 . . . $153 Million

Wheat Board Minister Don Mazankowski and Agriculture Minister John Wise, today announced that the second and final payment under the Western Grain Stabilization program for 1978 will be $153 million.

"The 1978 payout alone represents a return of $3.13 for every $1 a producer contributed in levies in the 1976, 1977 and 1978 calendar years," Mr. Mazankowski said.

When added to the $100 million distributed to farmers as a partial payment in early April this year, the full payout for 1978 under the program, now in its fourth year of operation, will total $253 million.

He noted that those permit holders who were entitled to and actually contributed the individual maximum levy of $500 in each of the last three years received a partial payment of $1,867 in the spring and will now get an additional $2,840 as their share of the final payment.

"The 1978 payment is a solid measure of the protection against severe fluctuations in returns now available to grain producers under the Western Grain Stabilization program," Mr. Wise said.

"It was necessary to split the 1978 payout into a partial spring payment and a final fall payment because some farm expense and grain inventory information used in final calculations was not available until the latter part of September," he added.

"Individual stabilization payments are directly related to the levies a farmer has contributed in the 1976, 1977 and 1978 calendar years and the ratio of his levy contributions to total levies paid by all farmers for the same three year period. Only when participants contribute the full amount of their levy entitlement each year will they be sure of receiving maximum benefit under the program," Mr. Wise said.

"This final payment for 1978 under the Western Grain Stabilization program will have significant economic benefit for farmers and the grain industry in western Canada. It also has the immediate impact on provincial economies of cash injections amounting to $90.9 million for Saskatchewan, $36 million for Alberta, $25.1 million for Manitoba and $1 million for the Peace River block of British Columbia," Mr. Mazankowski said.

Vialta Lodge News

Saturday afternoon several of our residents went to Kinsella to the tea and bazaar put on by the Kinsella O.O.R.P. ladies. Those attending were Mr. Weder, Mr. Zeigler, Mrs. Rodwell, Mrs. Ash, Mrs. Ferguson and Alice and Kay.

We are looking forward to seeing all at out Anniversary Tea and Bazaar to be held at the Lodge next Saturday, November 10 at 2:00 p.m. until 3:00 p.m.

Greetings to Mr. Beschell, Mrs. Weder and Mr. S. Hoines who at present are in our hospital.

The ladies of Rebekah Lodge of Ryley came to Vialta Lodge on Sunday to celebrate the birthdays of the month. Mr. Jensen played many old-time tunes on his accordian and Mrs. H. Ruddy played the piano for a sing-song. The ladies served a delicious supper and visited with the residents. Those having October birthdays were Mrs. Waltz, Mr. Cotter, Mr. Taylor, Mrs. Hogan, Mrs. Ziegler and Mrs. Swenson.

Thanks to the Rebekah Lodge. The entertainment and supper was enjoyed by everyone and a special thanks from the residents who had September birthdays, and were included in the celebrations.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bramhall and Mrs. Lizzie Eagles were in to visit with Mrs. Rodwell.

Mel and Myrna Mackay called on Mrs. D'Arcy and Mrs. Elnese. Sina Mackay and Gordon and Joyce Hillard also visited with Mrs. Elnese.

Shirley Cook stopped in for a visit with Mr. Cotter.

Gwen Hooper visited her mother Mrs. Phena Evans.

Kinsella News

The Kinsella Order of the Royal Purple held a successful Tea and Bazaar on Saturday, November 3.

Faye Oakes and Marjorie Oracheski were the two lucky draw winners the afternoon of the bazaar.

Mr. John Lindberg and Kelly Overbo of Edmonton spent the weekend with Cliff and Frances Overbo.

Mrs. Pearl Brown visited for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Brown of Camrose.

Isobelle McCallum of Vancouver enjoyed a holiday at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Jack and Jean McKie.

Helga and Alan Barker travelled to Didsbury on the weekend to spend some time with their son Jamie, Peggy and family.

New Officers For Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the Viking Hospital Auxiliary was held in the Council Chambers on November 1, 1979.

Government To Provide Winter Employment Opportunities

Three and one-half million dollars has been allocated to provide work opportunities during the coming winter for unemployed Albertans according to Jim Horsman, minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower.

The Government of Alberta expects to provide jobs for more than 1,200 Albertans under its 1979-80 Priority Employment Program (P.E.P.). Projects approved under the program, administer by Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower, emphasize both the gaining of work experience and building of careers.

"Individual projects are organized under provincial government departments, boards and commissions," the Minister explained. "Most are scheduled during the January-through-April period when employment levels are traditionally lower".

Projects are based throughout the provinces, with greatest priority given to areas with higher unemployment rates.

For 1979-80, P.E.P. will also operate some special projects offering work opportunities to Albertans receiving services from Alberta Social Services and Community Health, and from Special Placement Programs of the government's Personnel Administration Office. The special projects may run for as long as six months, beginning in early October.

Approval of a special warrant for $1,350,000 will provide supplemental funding for the program during the current fiscal year. Funding is specified for wages of P.E.P. project employees.

To be eligible for a P.E.P. job, a person must be unemployed and a resident of Alberta during the previous 12 months. Hiring is done directly by participating departments, primarily through referrals from Canada Employment Centres and provincial government employment and placement services. Applicants are encouraged to register with these placement agencies.

"Even with over 96 per cent of Alberta's labour force employed", Mr. Horsman said, "there remain pockets of unemployment that work hardships on individuals, families and communities.

"Seasonal reductions in some labour activities often affect those with limited skills and experiences, the hardest", added the Minister.

"The Priority Employment Program does more than provide short-term relief for these people. It provides the opportunity to gain the work skills and experience needed to move into the regular labour force and thus to share more fully in the benefits of Alberta's growing economy", the Minister concluded.

Holden and District News

The Holden Parent Nursery held its first gathering at the Holden Legion Hall on Wednesday, October 31. Darlene Stambaugh states that about sixteen young children with their parent attended.

Everyone involved with the Parent Link program was pleased with the turn out. Darlene encourages anyone who missed the first gathering to attend the next one and extends and invitation to mothers to join the group each Wednesday morning from 9:30 until 11:30. Just a reminder, a parent must come with the children.

Many Holden residents will remember Sam and Ann Padlecki who were residents here while they operated the Hotel Coffee Shop for several years as a family business. Sam Padlecki will return to Holden on November 17th when he will be on hand for the sale at the Holden Complex scheduled to begin at 11:00 a.m. Items for sale at this auction will include a large amount of household appliances, dishes and cafe equipment. Sam operated a cafe in Edmonton after leaving the Hotel Cafe here. Zowtuk, Sheets and Hutchinson will conduct the sale.

Halloween In Holden

Only the cows were missing the morning following Halloween. The doorways of many of the business places and main street were blocked by an assortment of bales....small round, square and large round bales. Some of the business men, dressed in neat office clothes looked rather funny pitching bales from the doorways in order to get inside. Village residents will have a difficult time in trying to purchase eggs for the next few days.

Mr. Scott, village employee was all alone and very busy as he undertook the task of removing all loose straw and smaller bales. How lucky - former village employee Mel Hooper's last day of employment was October 31.

Grinde's Trucking Firm was called in to remove the huge round bales. Some white fence was knocked down on a vacant Village down town lot.

Our coffee shops were full the next morning, but no one seemed to know who, or at what time, the bales were delivered to the Village.

Several business owners had watched their shops until 2 and 3 a.m. and members of the Police Force had also been around.

As usual there was a degree of mixed reaction among the village residents. Comments such as "someone has got to stop this" were followed by questions such as "Who? and Where do we begin?". Residents would have more to think about if anyone had it a match.

Perhaps this is a good idea...last year one senior cred with eggs, this year for several days he spread the word around that his house would be watched from across the street and some baseball bats would be flying. Halloween morning, the results were excellent.

Horse Pulling Competition To Be Held

Approximately 30 teams of the top draft horses in Alberta will compete for the 1979 Provincial Draft Horse Pulling Championship, November 9, 10, and 11 in the Northlands Gardens.

Offering $4,000 in prize monies and trophies, the Provincial Draft Horse Pulling Championship will be held in conjunction with Northlands Farmfair '79.

Grade horses leaning to Clydesdale, Percheron and Belgian breeds will be in competition with a minimum team weight of 2,400 lbs. The winner will be determined by the amount of weight the team can pull over and above their own weight. Last year's champions, a team of Percherons pulling 6,900 pounds.

Teams are entered in three divisions, Light, Middle and Heavyweight, with the top two teams from each division competing on the final day.

The Provincial Draft Horse Pulling Championship is sponsored by Edmonton Northlands. There is no admission charge.

Competition times are scheduled as follows: November 9th - Lightweight Division - 5:00 p.m. November 10 - Middle and Heavyweight Division - 6:00 p.m. and November 11 - The Championship beginning at 4:00 p.m.

Bruce & District News

Judy and Douglas Koppel of Lloydminster are happy to announce the arrival of their chosen son Tyler Douglas who was born on September 27. Proud grandparents are Annie and Rudy Koppel.

Bill Flynn is presently a patient in an Edmonton hospital. All his friends in Bruce wish him a speedy recovery.

Sigrud Erickson spent a few days in the Viking Hospital but is home again feeling fine.

Gerdie Hulleman and Hank Dethuizen were married in the Viking United Church on Saturday, November 3 at 4 p.m. In the evening a reception was held in their honor at the Bruce Community Centre. Approximately one hundred guests were on hand to congratulate the newlyweds and enjoy the dancing and midnight supper.

Already the promise of water and sewer facilities has attracted a potential land buyer. A stranger visitor last Friday claimed to be looking for a lot. Gail and Bruce Kawaliiak awoke to find the gentleman trying to start their tractor which was parked in the alley behind their home. Earlier, the same man had invited himself to coffee at Mrs. Benson's and eventually he ended up in the Community Centre where he put on a "one man" concert on the stage in the gym, much to the consternation of the ladies who were in the kitchen preparing the food for the wedding reception. The man was finally removed from the area by a local R.C.M.P. constable.

If you are interested in learning more about the metric system there will be a short course offered at the Bruce Community Centre on Tuesday, November 20 and Tuesday, November 27. The workshop will be held between 7 and 10 p.m. both evenings and will be conducted by Arthur Micklich. Register with Sonja Bablitz at 688-3970 or Bea Fredericks at 688-3883.

Does T.V. Advertising Influence Your Child?

Christmas season is upon us - and one of the biggest problems that comes along with the season is the constant pressure from children exposed to advertising and their resultant desire for certain toys.

Studies have shown that the average Canadian child under 12 years of age watches about 20,000 commercials each year. This works out to about three hours of commercials per week.

Many parents complain bitterly of the effects of advertising on children's preferences and desires for toys.

There are ways to lessen the impact of this advertising - and parents who are concerned should be well advised to take time out from their busy schedules to attack the problem before it gets out of control.

One of the best control measures is to limit the amount of time children spend in front of the television set. By allowing them a certain amount of time each day and letting them choose the programs they wish to watch during their time limit, you not only lessen their exposure to advertising, but teach them valuable lessons in decision making and self-control. In addition you provide more time for creative endeavours. The one problem with this alternative is that it requires a strong parent who will not bend from pressure to relax the rules.

Another alternative may be to sit down with the children during periods of child directed programming and advertising and discuss some of the ads in an analytical manner. Children are often more perceptive than we think. Pointing out the flaws in ads directed to children can be more effective than many people realize. It is a time consuming process - but well worth the effort.

A third alternative is to take children down to a toy department and have them look at some toys they have seen advertised. Often they are not as enticing when seen in real life - they are not as large, life like, nor as well constructed.

Never underestimate a child's ability to think clearly. There are some valuable lessons to be learned by children at this time of the year - and parents should take advantage of the opportunity.

Echo-Rodino Report

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Greenwood and Harold spent a day in Camrose helping Teresa move to a new apartment.

Dave and Beth Greenwood were weekend visitors at the Bruce Greenwood home.

Visiting with the Prenser family over the past weekend were Rose Courte and baby daughter. Ken Husband of Bassano, Alberta also surprised everyone by dropping in unexpected.

A very successful Harvest Ball was held at the Rodino Hall on Sturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Greenwood and Kelly travelled to Lloydminster for a day of shopping - Kelly stayed over with her sister Trudy for the weekend.

Irma & District News

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Copeland were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Copeland of Maidstone, Saskatchewan. While here Violet attended the writers conference held at Killam, Monday, October 29.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Copeland were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Herrie and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lutz of Okis, Alberta. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Olsen of Irma.

Recently, Minnie and Jim and Beverly and Albert set off in Albert's new motor home to have a visit with Tom Mooney and family at Vernon, British Columbia, spend the night in the motor home on the Kootenay Plains at a picnic spot on the Clona River and on Sunday morning they set off early for Vernon. Shortly thereafter, they ran into snow, six or seven inches deep, with snow plows busy clearing the roads.

The weather in Vernon was ideal. Some of the trees still had their leaves and flowers were still blooming. In Vernon they visited with Mike and Polly Casperak who inquired of all their old friends and neighbors and wished to be remembered to everyone. John and Mary Martens in Kelowna also wish to be remembered to all. Returning via Calgary, they visited with Bill and Mrs. Lewis and family. It was snowing in Calgary on Sunday morning. After visiting at Sundre and Bowden they arrived in Edmonton on Sunday evening after a very pleasant week.

Mr. and Mrs. Maud Mooney from Fort St. John, B.C. visited with Bob and Mary Dempsey at Lacombe and Eddie Jackson during the past week. John and Maud spent several months in the south of Ireland during the summer, returning the end of August. While in Ireland, as well as visiting their many relatives and friends, they also called on family of the Dempsey's and the Jackson's and had much news to exchange with their hosts.

Buffalo Coulee W.I. News

The first meeting of autumn for the Buffalo Coulee W.I. was held at Mrs. John Fleming's residence on Thursday, October 18. Eight members and four visitors present.

A very busy summer was reported with working at Maureen Lukes's wedding and putting a float in the Irma Dane Parade which we received first prize for.

We had Mrs. Edith Gunn, our Constituency Convenor out to visit and she gave us a very nice talk on the Associated Country Women of the World and mentioned how we as one member have a voice in United Nations through our W.I. membership. This was very enlightening.

Correspondence was received from the Irma Community Complex, containing information on a Workshop in the basement of the Irma United Church regarding handicrafts.

Along with the workshop which begins at 9:00 a.m. on November 23, a pot luck lunch will be served. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Seeing October was United Nations month, we were delighted to have Grabiella Chavarria, who is the exchange student from Mexico at Irma, come to the meeting with her two pinatas and handicraft work from her home land.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Frances Prosser on November 15. Roll call is to be an article for our bazaar which is slated for November 24.

The meeting adjourned and a delicious United Nations lunch was enjoyed along with visiting.

New Import Surtax Procedures For Horticultural Products

Agriculture Minister John Wise today announced new import surtax procedures for horticultural products.

"The existing system for applying a surtax on low-priced injurious imports which periodically enter Canada has been criticized by the horticultural industry as being too slow, particularly for perishable products with short marketing seasons. Until now, Canadian producers of these products were sometimes seriously injured before remedial action could be taken," Mr. Wise said.

In recognition of the need to act more quickly, the Tariff Board, in its review of the fruit and vegetable industry, proposed that the existing surtax system be changed to provide more immediate relief.

"We are now putting an improved, faster system into place," Mr. Wise said.

The new system will permit the government to act quickly when low-priced imports cause or threaten to cause serious injury to domestic producers.

Several products have been singled out as requiring special "fast-track" procedures. These are: fresh sweet and sour cherries, fresh strawberries, fresh peaches, fresh lettuce, fresh potatoes, frozen sour cherries, frozen strawberries, sweet cherries and strawberries in preservatives.

A "trigger price" will be determined for each of these commodities before the beginning of the Canadian marketing season. The trigger price will be either 85 per cent of the previous three-year average monthly import price, or 90 per cent of the five-year average monthly import price, depending on the situation. When import prices of the "named" products fall below the trigger prices, this will be taken as evidence of injury to Canadian producers.

If imports are coming into Canada below the trigger price or if imports threaten to enter below the trigger price, a surtax can be introduced.

"My department will be monitoring the prices of the 'named' horticultural products. When surtax action appears necessary, I will recommend this to the Minister of Finance," Mr. Wise said.

The Minister of Finance will act within a week to seek Governor-in-Council approval for a surtax, whereas under the former system several weeks or even months elapsed between the receipt of a request and Government action.

A horticultural surtax will normally be equal to the difference between the import price and the trigger price. When it is applied, it will be in effect only during the Canadian marketing season. For example, Canadian strawberries and cherries have an eight-week marketing season, and the surtax would not be in place longer than that period.

In addition to "named" commodities, other horticultural products will be eligible for surtax protection if the government receives a documented request for action. Under the new system a decision on a documented request from producers will be made within 20 working days.

"I believe these new surtax procedures will result in a more responsive and effective system and will go a long way to meeting the concerns of the horticultural industry," Mr. Wise said.

Motorist Caution Urged For Driving In Fog

Recent collisions attributed to poor visibility have highlighted the need for special precautions on the part of Alberta motorists, says Henry Kroeger, Minister, Alberta Transportation.

"Although hardly the fog centre of the world -- or even Canada -- conditions of poor visibility do occur in Alberta and are a contributing factor in a substantial number of accidents every year," Mr. Kroeger said. Fog can be expected during the early morning, particularly in late summer and through fall, and has been cited as a factor in recent chain-reaction collisions in the province.

While there is no absolutely safe way of dealing with poor visibility, there are some measures which will reduce risk. Alberta Transportation offers the following tips to motorists:

-- First, speed should be reduced before entering a fogged-in area so it is possible to stop upon encountering some obstruction.

-- Second, headlights should be turned on low beam, even at night. High beam is merely reflected back in fog, actually reducing the penetrating power of light.

-- Third, if visibility is too poor to continue, drivers should get as far off the road as they are able, leaving the roadway entirely, if it becomes necessary to stop.

Debris and stopped vehicles are serious risks to vehicles travelling in conditions of reduced visibility.

Albertans are generally not accustomed to handling problems associated with fog conditions. This itself creates uncertainty which can result in serious highway collisions when fog is encountered, Mr. Kroeger said.

Viking Tennis Recap

1979 was a good year in Viking for tennis, mainly because this was the first time in a long time that Viking has had any tennis courts. There used to be tennis courts in Viking at the south end of main street, but these were ripped up several years ago. When the tennis courts disappeared, so did the Viking Tennis Club.

This year we tried to start a tennis club by electing an executive, consisting of President Robin Bittorf, Vice-President Bill Haire and Secretary-Treasurer Linda Klontz.

This is as far as we got towards re-establishing a Tennis Club in Viking, but we did establish that there is a definite interest, in the townspeople to play tennis. The people who came out to play were in all sizes, shapes and ages. As well, we developed a hard core of 10 to 15 tennis nuts who rarely missed a chance to play tennis.

With this interest in tennis, which was more than we could have hoped for, we were able to raise about half of the funds necessary to cover costs of operating the courts inside the Carena.

We raised approximately $250 through tennis fees and lesson fees. But this still left us short of the $450 needed to cover cost of lights, etc. The extra $200 was produced by the Viking Racquet Club. At this time we would like to express our sincere thanks to them for this support.

The courts have been closed for about one month now, but tennis will return in 1980. Next year we hope to establish a bona fide tennis club and increase the interest in tennis as well as the number of players who come out to take part in this interesting sport.

Watch the paper next April and May for notices as to when tennis will start its new season, as well as for notices for meetings to establish the Viking Tennis Club.

Remember, we need your support to keep the courts operating. See you next year.

Do You Know The Bible Says

By Mrs. W. Myers

Heb. 3:11, 12 and Rom. 3:23. For all have sinned and come short of the Glory of God. So I sware in my wrath. They shall not enter into my rest. Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

Christian friend! You and I are in this group that the above scripture is speaking of. Just go back for a moment to the children of Israel in the wilderness. They were promised entrance into the Canaan land, and it was there for them if they were obedient, but through sin and doubting they were denied entrance and died there in the wilderness. They sinned and came short of the glory of God.

We too often fit the Word to others and forget our own slothfulness and our neglect of fellowship with God. We are wilderness children putting ourselves on the back because we are out of Egypt and bondage of the sin of the world but there we stay and instead of fellowship with God our minds and time are taken up with other things and we are coming short of the Glory that God has for us.

There are greater blessings in store for each of us but how many of us are willing to be Calebs and Joshuas, to enter into a deeper life and work for God where we will likely meet the giants of criticism, scoffing and ridicule but where God has promised to never leave nor forsake us?

Word has been received recently of conversions I never expected. Our God in on the throne and He needs soldiers.

Sofie Sorenson Celebrates 90 Years

Sofie Sorenson

Mrs. Sofie Sorenson celebrated her 90th birthday on Saturday, October 27th. She spent the day at her home in Viking Lodge graciously receiving greetings from the many friends and relatives who stopped by.

Numerous birthday wishes were also received by post.

Luther Sorenson, a nephew in Stavanger, Norway phoned to say, "Gratulerer med dagen, Tante Sofie". Flowers for the occasion came from North Vancouver, Cranbrook, Norway and Viking.

The celebrations continued the following day when Mrs. Sorenson gathered with all her children for dinner at the home of her daughter. An open house in the afternoon gave all the grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and many other relatives and friends an opportunity to share this great occasion with "Grandma" Sorenson.

Weekly Inspirational Corner

Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.

And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?

She said unto Him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world. St. John 11:

For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. Rom. 11:13.

"Homecoming 1980"

A special "Homecoming 1980" invitation to visit Alberta was signed by Premier Lougheed today, and will be hand-delivered on November 6 to the Lord Mayor of London, England, by J.A. "Boomer" Adair, minister of tourism and small business for Alberta.

The Premier's special message, the first of thousands of Homecoming 1980 invitations to be sent out starting in November, invites the Lord Mayor to visit Alberta with his family and friends for the celebration of Alberta's 75th Anniversary as a province.

A native son of Mannville, Alberta, the incoming Lord Mayor, Peter Gadsden, has also officially been invited to "return home" by Manville's Mayor, Myrtle Sargent.

In what is probably the first instance of "outside" participation in almost 800 years, the Province of Alberta will participate, at the invitation of the Lord Mayor in his procession on November 10. [Since 1209 the reigning monarch has required the incoming Lord Mayor to present himself, in a procession, for approval and appointment to this prestigious position.]

As well as entering an authentic covered wagon in the Lord Mayor's procession, Travel Alberta will conduct a high-profile publicity campaign emphasizing the special year of 1980 and the Lord Mayor's background.

The wagon itself will identify "Alberta's 75th Anniversary" to a television audience of 15 million as well as half a million "on-street" viewers. Pulled by a team of four horses and accompanied by four western out-riders, it will remind viewers of Alberta's Anniversary and invite them to visit this province in 1980.

Viking Ag Society Fails To Elect Executive

At the annual general meeting of the Viking and District Agricultural Society held last Thursday, only 17 area residents turned up to deal with the major item on the agenda which was the election of officers for the 1979-80 year.

President Gus Quattek chaired the meeting while Vivian Gares filled in as secretary in the absence of Frank Morwood.

Following the reading of the minutes from the last general meeting and the last regular meeting, treasurer Lorraine Morris presented the financial picture up to the end of October, as well as a financial prognosis for the immediate future. During the discussion of the financial situation, most people concurred that although the situation is bad due to some major expenditures this year, that the picture has been worse in the past.

The committees of the Agricultural Society gave reports of their operations up to this point in time. These included the Carena Committee, Hall Committee, Fair Committe and the Entertainment Committee.

The major item of business on the agenda was the election of officers. After a great deal of discussion and many refusals of nominations, those in attendance were not able to elect an executive for the up-coming year. Most of those in attendance had either served on the past executive or were filling other executive positions in the community. The inability to elect an executive lead to a discussion as to the future of the Carena and the Community Hall in Viking. As both these facilities operate under the control of the Agricultural Society and as an executive was necessary for the Ag. Society to operate the possibility of the facilities being closed until an executive could be elected was discussed. The possibility of turning the facilities over to some other organization to operate was also discussed at this time.

The meeting ended with the decision to hold a special meeting this Thursday, November 17th at 8:00 p.m. in the Community Hall for the election of a new executive for the Agricultural Society. If a new executive is not elected on Thursday night a new decision as to the operation of these facilities will be necessitated.

Calgary Power Proposes New Lighting

At the November 7 meeting of the Viking Town Council, Mr. A. F. MacKay, Customer Representative for Calgary Power's Camrose Division, was on hand to answer questions concerning his company's proposal for new lights on Main Street.

Calgary Power's proposal calls for the replacement of the present lighting (17-250 watt mercury vapour lights) and replace them with 14-400 watt high pressure sodium lights. The new lights would be the same as those located at the intersection of Highways 36 and 14.

The new lights will be placed on the west side of Main Street from 51st. Avenue to 58th Avenue. The plan calls for a complete new system with steel poles and underground wiring. Calgary Power estimates the cost of the job, less trenching, asphalt and sidewalk removal and replacement, at just over $32,000. Of this figure, the Town of Viking will be required to pay $30,022. On top of this, the Town is responsible for the costs of all trenching and asphalt and sidewalk removal and replacement.

The light standards for the new system will have fittings for Christmas decorations from 51st. Avenue to 54th Avenue. The new higher powered lights will provide complete lighting along Main Street from 51st to about 56th Avenues. The cost of running each new light will be $22.50 per month compared to $11.50 per month for each of the lights presently in place.

Mayor Hafso questioned Mr. MacKay about the high cost which the Town would be required to pay. He felt that since Calgary Power had the franchise on power to the Town that Viking's share of the costs seemed unreasonable. Councillor Taylor agreed with the Mayor, noting that Mr. MacKay had himself stated that the Viking system was obsolete.

Councillor Taylor also noted that service by Calgary Power had been very poor lately.

Councillor Evans noted that the costs of trenching would have to be determined before any dicision could be made on this proposal. Council asked Mr. MacKay to present some alternative plans such as overhead wiring and get back to Council with an option.

Hank Field Heads Bruce Ag Society

Hank Field was elected president of the Bruce Agricultural Society at a very poorly attended annual meeting held on Tuesday night, November 6th at the Recreation Centre.

Field replaces Stewart McMullen who has held the office for the past four years.

Bod Hammermaster will serve as Vice-President and Mary Hammermaster will continue as secretary-treasurer.

New members of the Board are Jean Tkaczyk, Vicky Field and Peter Miziak who were elected for three year terms. Harold Hissett was chosen to replace Bud Hammermaster for a two-year term and joins Dennis Gahr and Paul Maloway.

Serving their last year on the Board are Edna Stefanik, Anne Merkoski and Roy Erickson.

A new electric motor is in the process of being installed and the Board is optimistic that curling will begin by December 1.

A Farmer's Bonspiel is scheduled for December 10 - 16. Last winter several people suggested that family curling might be popular. If you are interested contact one of the Board members and make your wishes known.

Viking P.S.S. Budget Set

Viking Town Council approved a budget of $45,750 for the operation of the Preventive Social Services Program in Viking for the period from April 1, 1979 to March 31, 1980 at its regular November council meeting.

The budget breakdown includes $27,250 to cover the total administrative costs experienced by the Director's office and $18,500 for projects currently underway and future projects.

The budget is for the period from April 1, 1979 to March 31, 1980 in order to coincide with the provincial departments fiscal year. Expectations of the P.S.S. Board are to spend only that portion of the budget which would be designated for the period up until March 31 of 1980.

The P.S.S. Board is presently in the process of selecting a Director for the program. Seven applications for the position were received and five of these were selected for interviews which were held on Monday evening. The Board hopes to have their selection finalized in the near future.

Currently, a number of projects are underway or have been initiated. These include Meals on Wheels, Playschool, Mothers' Day Out Program, a nursery service and parent education programs.

The Board has also determined some other possible projects. The possibilities include a fitness club, yoga, cross country ski lessons, parent effectiveness training, a homemaker and handiman service for senior citizens, modelling for youth, poise, applying for jobs, and bus rides to a swimming pool. These are just some of the possibilities which the Board has determined.

The Board is interested in serving the people of Viking and encourages the residents to provide them with any concerns or projects which can be dealt with by the P.S.S. Board.

Viking Farmers Place At Farmfair '79

The judging of Junior and Market Sheep classes marked the beginning of the 1979 Northlands Farmfair. Entries from B.C., Saskatchewan and Alberta started off the action in the Sales Pavilion on Sunday afternoon.

First in the ring were the Junior Lead Class with Debra Nobel of Onoway taking the Alberta Sheep Breeders' Association trophy and Gary Hacking of Sherwood Park, taking second.

Top Market Ewe award went to Cory Trentham, Morrin, Alberta winner of the T...M. Reed Memorial Trophy, with Winston Currie of Viking, placing second. Cory Trentham was also the North West Trust Co. Trophy winner.

The top award for the pen of 3 Market Lambs was won by Tom Reed, South Edmonton, with Ervin Currie of Viking taking second.

Winston Currie of Viking received the N.J. Shopland Memorial Trophy for Junior Farmer's Sheep Shearing and Wool Preparation. Placing second was Patrick Lyster of Vilna, Alberta.

Bruce And Viking Answer Fire Call

On Tuesday, November 6, the Viking and Bruce Volunteer Fire Departments responded to a fire at the farm of Mr. Cane Brissard located approximately ten miles south of Bruce.

The alarm was received at about 10:20 p.m. The Viking Fire Department was first on the scene and arrived to find a stack of bales engulfed in flames. The Bruce Volunteers arrived shortly after the Viking firefighters.

A 1977 G.M.C. 3/4 ton truck owned by Mr. Brissard was situated along side the stack and was completely burned up and had exploded when the firefighters arrived. The firemen quickly watered down the truck to prevent any further explosions from a deisel tank located in the truck box.

After the truck had been cooled down, the firemen pulled it away from the burning stack. They then concentrated their efforts on localizing the fire and watered down the perimeter of the hay stack. Approximately 400 bales and the truck were totally destroyed.

Now Is The Time . . .

The events this past week in Mississauga Ontario may hit closer to home than we want to believe. Daily trains of the C.N. Railway travel through the communities in our area. Many of these trains haul the same type of dangerous chemicals which caused so many problems for the people in Ontario.

As well, quite often these cars are not spaced out in a train between non-lethal freight but are strung together, thus creating a more dangerous situation. The government of Canada does have regulations concerning the transportation of highly dangerous substances on the railways. Yet it seems from the accident evidenced this week in Ontario that these regulations are not strict enough. Yet it should not be necessary for government to have to legislate responsibility upon the railroads.

Hopefully it won't take the deaths of a large number of Canadian citizens, possibly in our area, before the railroads and/or the governments take steps to minimize the possibility of another similar disaster.

Viking Take Part!

Perhaps now is not the time for us to get concerned about the inability of the Viking and District Agricultural Society to elect an executive at last Thursday's meeting. The Carena is still open, the Hall is still operating, the Fair is over and New Year's Eve is a month and a half away and the Agricultural Society is several thousand dollars in debt.

Yet again, perhaps this is the time to be concerned about the fact that the Viking and District Agricultural Society was unable to elect an executive at its meeting last Thursday. Or perhaps, we should wait until the doors of the Carena are locked and the doors of the Hall are locked and there is no New Year's Dance and possibly no Fair next year.

This year there is an extremely strong possibility that one or both of the facilities which the Agricultural Society operate will be locked up if people do not come forward and fill executive positions on the Agricultural Society.

The present executive has worked long and hard to ensure that Viking enjoys the use of both the Carena and the Hall. They have put in their time. Perhaps it is about time that you put in yours. Even if you can't serve on the executive the least you can do as a user of these facilities (at any time during the year) is attend the meeting on Thursday night.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

In reply to the letter by Mr. Bruce Budd in your November 7, 1979 issue, I would like to present alternate views to recreation financing.

Mr. Budd would like to see recreation financing provided through property tax assessment. Through this method of financing considerable burden is placed on:

(a) The senior citizens, who have supported the community for many years. Many of these people are not able to partake in recreation activities due to physical health, lack of transportation, etc.

(b) People who have physical disabilities and are not able to participate in activities.

(c) People, who through their employment are absent; on shift's work; or their employment duties and demands; are not able to use or partake in recreational activities.

I believe that recreation should be financed through the USER - PAY method. Then the people making the most use of the facilities or activities pay and support their share.

The fees for most activities are ridiculously low for this day and age. The ones wasting and having the time to use and partake in these programs should be willing to support them and not look for support from the people unable to participate.

I cannot sympathize with people complaining about a $75.00 a season curling fee, when they will spend in excess of $50.00 for one evening of dining and entertainment. Is $50.00 really too much for a fee for a season's entertainment?

We must review our priorities. If we want these recreation facilities and programmes, we should support them with USER-FEES and not through property tax assessment. Fees must be raised to support the operation of these facilities. If people are reasonable they will recognize and be willing to accept an increase to realistic rates. Yours truly,

Orville W. Likness

Dear Sir:

Over recent weeks many uninformed statements have been made in letters to the Editor in various newspapers about the citizens "right-to-petition" a Municipal Council. There appears to be a general misunderstanding of the issue and the Provincial Government's position on it.

The Municipal Government Act provides the basic framework for the operation of the Municipal Governments throughout the Province. Citizens have an opportunity to participate in that process through numerous provisions in the Legislation for petition and citizen input.

Of the many areas of the legislation that provide "rights-of-petition", the only section which has caused some difficulty is 126.2. This clause permits a petition requesting that the Council introduce a by-law on the subject matter of the petition. Once a petition is received a by-law is prepared and submitted to a vote of the electors.

The original thought behind this clause was the provision of an opportunity for electors to cause the Municipal Council to take a positive action on a project which the electorate felt should be provided. A petition and plebiscite for road or a recreational facility are examples of instances where electors would require Council to under take positive action.

Problems have arisen, however, in that the legislation has been interpreted as providing the right-of-petition to over rule a by-law which had already been approved by the Local Council. Examples of problems in this area include the submission of a petition after the commencement in or the construction of a project or potentially even after completion of a project.

In addition, representation has been made suggesting that the number of persons required to sign a petition is so small that it does not accurately represent the wishes of the electorate in general.

Currently, 5 per cent of the population must sign a petition if the municipality has a population in excess of 10,000; 5 per cent if the population is between 1,000 and 10,000; and 7 per cent if the population is less than 1,000.

Various municipalities and the Alberta Urban Municipalities Association have requested that Government give consideration to amending the legislation to overcome some of the difficulties associated with it.

Such amendments could take a variety of forms. (1) To remove the section in it's entirety; (2) to amend the section by increasing the proportion of the population required for a petition; (3) to place a time limit on the petition: for example, a petition to over rule Council might only be prepared and submitted in the interval between first and third reading of the by-law; or (4) to provide only for petition to force Council to undertake an action that they have been negligent in under taking.

The entire matter is under review at the moment. In light of representation made by individuals, Municipal Governments and Municipal Associations, we intend to continue that review and to reach conslusions as to whether amendments are required.

If our decision is to proceed with amendments to section 126.2 we would do so at the next Session of the Legislature. We are not considering amendment of any other section relating to a citizen's "right-to-petition".

I offer this information in hopes it will clarify the situation for the citizens of the Province.

Yours truly,
Marvin E. Moore,
Minister - Municipal Affairs

4-H Branch And Snowmobile Association "Revving" Up To Make Tracks Together

The 4-H Branch and the Alberta Snowmobile Association are "revving" up to make tracks together this winter.

A resurgence of new 4-H Snowmobile Clubs throughout the province is anticipated following an annual A.S.A. convention held in Red Deer, on October 27 and [illegible].

A presentation to encourage A.S.A. members to take 4-H leader roles was made by 4-H Branch Head, R.T. Youck; media co-ordinator, Bob Coe, both of Edmonton and Red Deer regional 4-H specialist, Brian Matthiessen.

A motion was passed to provide A.S.A. support in leadership and resources to the 4-H Snowmobiling Club project; to contact snowmobile manufacturers for their financial and resource support; to develop and integrate a program among neighboring provinces and states within the northwestern U.S. snowbelt and to elect an A.S.A. representative to co-ordinate activities with the 4-H branch.

A.S.A. Vice-President, Denis Blakeman of Edmonton, was elected as the A.S.A. 4-H co-ordinator. responsibility will include providing resource assistance to A.S.A. members who have assumed 4-H leadership roles. Blakeman stated two snowmobile manufacturers, Bombadier and Polaris, have given their agreement in principal to support A.S.A. in their 4-H leadership project.

Snowmobiling as a 4-H project was initiated in 1972 but was met with limited success. Major stumbling blocks at that time were insurance liability and the limited number of persons available to effectively take leadership roles.

In January, 1979, a comprehensive general liability insurance program was signed for registered Alberta 4-H members and leaders, with that problem resolved and the installation of the A.S.A. members as club leaders, the 4-H Snowmobile project is assured of far greater success than in the past.

A comprehensive snowmobile manual for leaders and members is available through the Regional 4-H Specialists for newly forming clubs. Objectives of the program include tours and various snowmobile activities, basic mechanics and machine maintenance, emergency measures and safe conduct, rules and hazards on the trail and survival techniques. Clubs will take part in a variety of activities and apply their training through practical experience.

The main thrust of the campaign will be to recruit leaders and members who are not presently involved with the 4-H program and to provide an outlet for 4-H members interested in snowmobiling as a special project.

Eight or more members, between the ages of 14 and 21 are required to form a 4-H snowmobile club. Any group of potential members within that age range may contact their Regional 4-H Specialist for information about forming their own club.

The Regional 4-H specialist will be available to address A.S.A. Club meetings and provide details and assistance to potential 4-H leaders. There is available, a recently produced half-hour color film entitled "R-H On The Move" to familiarize the general public with the 4-H

Notice Of Special Meeting

Due to a lack of response from residents in and around Viking at the Annual General Meeting of the Viking & District Agricultural Society a special meeting for the election of officers will be held on Thursday, November 15th, at 8:00 p.m. in the Viking Community Hall.

If a new executive is not elected at this meeting both the Community Hall and the Carena may have to be closed as they operate only under the auspices of the Viking & District Agricultural Society.

Reasons For Closure Of County Elevators Revealed

Actual case histories of country elevator closures were revealed to farmer delegates of United Grain Growers at the Grain Co-operative's annual meeting held in Calgary during the first week of November.

United Grain Growers revealed that as much as 10 per cent of its network of 400 elevator manager units will close before 1980.

"The present rate of inflation and current interest rates lead to an acceleration in closures" the directors reported to delegates.

"Closing an elevator is an unpleasant task because in all instances it means customers and members are being deprived of a service location they have patronized for years. But unpleasant as it is, consolidation is essential to maintain the overall economic health of the company," the U.G.G. directors stated.

All five kinds of elevator closures described handlings being too low at current tariffs to either sustain a viable operation at current cost levels or to support a major renovation after a breakdown.

The first type of closure analyzed was one served by a limited market area.

"In an area where alternative market locations have good access roads and are within reasonable driving distance, a specific elevator's market growth can be restricted because of the encirclement by other markets," the U.G.G. director said.

"In such cases, it may be possible to continue to operate the station as long as no capital requirements are necessary, but as soon as major renovations are required, the financial capability of the station prevents such investment being made."

The second type of elevator closure discussed related to nonreplacement of elevators destroyed by fire. An elevator built within the last 15 or 20 years may be doing a good job of providing service with a fair volume of grain handled and farm supply sales.

"The economic rules under which the elevator was constructed allow it to provide reasonable financial results, however, new capital costs to replace the elevator are prohibitive and the elevator will not be replaced."

A third case of country elevators being closed concerned a plant with uncertain and limited rail service.

Today's operating costs require a continuous flow of rail cars to accommodate an adequate volume of business but some rail lines do not receive service during the winter months. Grain handlings could be cut as much as 50 per cent from the potential.

If the rail service cannot be improved by upgrading the track, the elevator's life is in question. A period of grace, usually three to five years is allowed for improvements to be made, then the elevator will be closed to prevent it being a drain on the rest of the elevator system.

Low volume operations are left in the system for many years where the financial results are marginal and where no capital expenditures are entailed, the directors told the delegates.

But, if a new capital investment is required, these kinds of operations will be closed. Sometimes an elevator is closed if a new nearby facility can provide good service.

Phasing out of older facilities will occur after adequate notice is provided customers so the phase-out can occur with the least disruption to the farmers.

United Grain Growers Need "Major Change"

In a special report to 300 farmer delegates attending the 73 annual United Grain Growers convention, the directors of the Prairie Grain Co-operative said they expected exports in the current year would be about 21 million tonnes "Against a market potential of 24.5 million tonnes."

They told the delegates the logistic limitations are the reasons why the potential cannot be met since more than ample supplies exist on farms to meet the 24.5 million tonne demand.

The 32.5 export forecast was dominated by wheat with exports of 17.6 million tonnes predicted in 1985 and 20 million tonnes in 1990.

The wheat trend-line projections assumed Canada would regain its traditional 20 per cent share of the world wheat trade.

"There is an even greater export opportunity for barley and other feed grains," the U.G.G. directors said.

If Canada were simply to regain its 6 per cent share of the feed grain market, farmers could look to exports of 6 million tonnes this year, 6.8 million tonnes in 1985 and 8.1 million tonnes by 1990", the report stated.

The report said predictions on a 10 year basis for oilseeds was impossible because the industry was still developing and rapidly changing but said exports of rapeseed in 1985 would likely be 2.5 million and exports of flaxseed, sunflower seed, rye and other specialty crops would be 1 million. By 1980 this is expected to increase to 8 million tonnes for rapeseed and 1.7 million tonnes for flaxseed and the other crops. Exports for rapeseed this year are expected to be 1.9 million tonnes.

The farmer delegates were told, however, both logistics and production incentives to farmers would have to be improved if the forecasts were to prove accurate.

"To increase marketing by 50 per cent, primary elevators will need to be more efficient. More railway rolling stock will be necessary and it will need to be used more efficiently. Also, better use of terminal space and capacity will be needed."

The U.G.G. directors said the other "major change" will be a sharp expansion in production.

"Farmers will meet the challenge to increase production if they are offered reasonable assurance the crops will be sold rather than left for long periods on the farm awaiting space for delivery."

They took particular note, in their report, of the increasing world demand for feed grains. "This should reflect back to Canadian producers as a signal for much greater barley production, but it hasn't because barley marketings have been artificially restrained by the preference for higher value wheat exports."

They said a similar trend exists for various qualities of wheat and predicted the "real growth potential" was in lower grade utility type wheats rather than premium milling wheats.

"Our system with limited throughput ability has tended to favour higher-valued commodities and discourages production and marketing of grains in greater demand."

The directors pointed out Canada's domestic market accounts for about 45 per cent of the total annual disappearance of Canadian crops with commercial business making up 40 per cent of the domestic use.

The coming of the first snow fall of winter usually results in motor vehicle accidents as drivers fail to adjust to slippery road conditions. These vehicles were involved in two separate accidents near Viking on the weekend. Staff Photo

Grading Level Higher For 1979 Grain Crops

The quality of the Canadian grain crop in 1979 is "generally better than last year's," H.D. Pound, chairman of the Grain Standards Committee announced recently.

He noted, however, exceptions for flaxseed and rape seed where the quantities entering the top grades are somewhat below last year due to the damage caused by widespread August frost.

The Grain Standards Committee, under the Canada Grain Act, recommends specifications for grades of grain and export samples to the Canadian Grain Commission.

Pound said "The Grain Commission estimates given to the Grain Standards Committee meeting show that 41 per cent of the 1979 crop will grade No. 1 CWRS compared to 30 percent last year. However, the percentage in the top three grades of wheat is about the same as 1978".

He said the protein content was somewhat improved at 13.5 per cent against last year's crop. The amount of amber durum wheat qualifying for the top grades is sharply up from 63 per cent last year to 88 per cent this year.

The durum protein content is also considerably better at 13.5 per cent compared to the 12.9 per cent protein produced in the 1978 crop. He noted new improved varieties have contributed to the improved pasta quality.

Mr. Pound stated that 88.5 per cent of the barley produced in 1979 will enter the Canada Western grades, and the No. 1 Feed grade, compared to 75 per cent last year. Oats quality is also up due to better harvest conditions this year.

The best improvement for all grain crops was marked by rye, where it is estimated that 71 per cent of the crop was in the No. 1 CW grade slot, compared to 43 per cent in 1978. Better growing and harvesting conditions were named as the reason.

The amount of flax entering the top grades is down mainly due to frost damage in the late seeded portion of the crop. Rapeseed, much of which was seeded late suffered from dry conditions in the growing season, and also from August frosts.

Pound said, "Only 60 per cent of this year's flax crop will go No. 1 CW compared to 88 per cent in 1978. Rapeseed is similar, with 67 per cent in the top grade compared to 81 per cent last year."

He said, however, that the oil content of the top grades of flax and rapeseed is about the same as last year, but protein levels in the meal are somewhat high er than last year.

Pound cautioned, "While it is unlikely the grading pattern will change, these results must be regarded as preliminary this early in the year."

Too Much Blame Placed On Box Car Numbers

In a special grain box-car analysis prepared for delegates attending the 73 annual meeting, the board of directors of the United Grain Growers, issued figures showing the equivalent of 35,536 grain boxcars would be available next crop year -- this is up 54 per cent since the 1971-72 crop year.

Contrary to general public impression, the number of cars available for grain service has not declined in recent years.

Actual rail movement in 1971-72, however, was shown as 25.3 million tonnes compared to only 24 million tonnes moved last crop year when 25,004 cars were available. In the current year, 31,134 cars are available and rail movement this year is expected to be about equal to last year.

"The shortage of rail cars has been a much overplayed subject," the United Grain Growers directors said. "Certainly, the impression that the physical parts of Canada's transportation system are wheezing theu last, are wrong".

"By concentrating on just one facet of the problem we lose sight of the many other things that need to be put right before the system can move the amounts of grain we want it to."

As contributors to transportation problems, the U.G.G. directors questioned the impact of protein grading, higher open market grain movement and with holding actions of the railroads.

PREPARING THE GARDEN FOR WINTER

Fall preparation is the key to a successful, healthy garden the following spring.

Linda Hink of Agriculture Canada's public information services says many plants grow in Canadian gardens that need help to survive the harsh winters.

Flowering bulbs are popular in many parts of Canada and proper care in the fall is crucial.

Tender bulbs planted in the spring, such as dahlias, gladioli, tuberous begonias and canna lilies, should not be left in the ground over winter but should be lifted as soon as the foliage dies, usually by late September.

Let the bulbs dry thoroughly, dust with a fungicide and store at 4.5 degrees to 10 degrees for the winter.

Hardy bulbs that bloom in the spring, such as crocuses, tulips and hyacinths, should be planted at least four weeks before the ground freezes.

Many perennial plants should be left in the ground over winter, but when the season ends, the tops of the plants should be cut off.

"The tops are sometimes left as mulch, but mice can make nests under the dead foliage, then they spend the winter collecting bulbs for food," says Miss Hink.

"A better idea is to discard the tops. After the ground freezes, lay a mulch of old strawy manure or brush to hold the snow. Where there is generally a good covering of snow all winter, no mulch is necessary".

For roses, snow is the best all-round insulation, Miss Hinks advises that some soil should be mounded up to the height of 20 to 25 centimeters. After the ground has frosted, cover the mound with evergreen boughs to hold the snow.

Deciduous trees and some shrubs can be planted from the time the leaves start to turn color until the soil freezes. However, softwood trees and shrubs, such as poplars, willows or birches, should be planted in the spring.

"Evergreens should be put in the ground at least six weeks before the soil freezes, so if not already done it is best to wait until the next spring", Miss Hink says.

The lawn is an area of the garden that many people ignore in the fall, trusting the snow cover to protect the grass.

Miss Hink says that a few simple precautions now can save unsightly or damaged lawns in the spring.

She warns against the excessive use of nitrogen fertilizer in the fall. "These fertilizers cause the grass to grow when it should be dormant and this often results in snow mold forming under the snow."

When snow mold is a problem in an area, apply a fungicide in the late fall before the snow covers the ground. "One other simple precaution is to clean the lawn of debris and leaves. These often harbor pests and diseases that could affect the lawn if allowed to remain all winter", Miss Hink says.

Beware Of Deadly Gases From Heating Systems

Every year Albertans die needlessly in their homes from carbon monoxide poisoning as a result of fumes escaping from a natural or propane gas heater, these fumes can cause headaches, vomiting, stupor and death.

According to Jack Mercer, Alberta Labour Gas Protection Branch's Chief Gas Inspector, some 70 persons have lost their lives that way in less than 20 years in this province. A similar number barely escaped death.

The culpit, said Mr. Mercer, is most often a neglected home gas heating or water heating system. "If it's not properly maintained carbon monoxide fumes, produced by burning natural or propane gas, can leak into the home and kill without warning.

"The fumes cannot always be detected because carbon monoxide is odorless," he explained. If these victims had only checked their appliances once a year, the chief gas inspector said, most of these tragedies could have been prevented.

The majority of these incidents are caused by faulty maintenance and cannot be attributed to defects in the original installations said Mr. Mercer. They can occur in both older and new homes he added.

Mr. Mercer urged that gas users make routine checks to ensure that there are no vent leaks or blockages in their heating systems.

The chief gas inspector identified some of the types of blockages which can occur. He said a build up of snow, frost or bird's nests wedged in chimneys can cause problems, another hazard is caused by mortar and other debris blocking a vent pipes entry or by fumes leaking from a corroded or rusted vent pipe.

A separated or poor vent pipe connection and moisture or black liquid dripping from vent pipes are other signs of danger, as in rust or soot blocking a burner port.

Mr. Mercer recommended that if repairs are necessary they should be done by a qualified gas fitter.

Irma & District News

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Mackay (nee Parslee Holt) who were united in the bonds of holy matrimony in the United Church in Viking on Saturday, November 10th at 3:00 p.m. After a short honeymoon in the south and perhaps extending their travels into the United States, the young couple will take up residence in the former Alex Smallwood home. Best wishes of the community are extended to the young couple for a long and happy married life.

The Councillors from Wainwright Municipal District #61 are attending the Municipal Convention in Edmonton during the upcoming week. Our Irma area is represented by Mr. Alex Smallwood and Myron Meyer.

Cliff Smallwood was taken to Wainwright Municipal Hospital on Saturday evening and is still hospitalized at the time of writing. Best wishes are extended to Cliff for a speedy recovery.

Edith and Donald Gunn had their daughter Muriel and her husband from Grand Prairie were home for a visit over the long weekend.

Irma senior citizens and other members of the community are enjoying Yoga lessons which are being conducted at the Drop-In Centre every Wednesday and Friday from 10 until 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Mary Maguire is the instructor.

Charlie Soucy bought the old Pasztor home and on Wednesday the 7th it was moved into town and placed on a basement. The new location is just west of Ralph Mark's on the south side of 52nd avenue.

Men and machines have been busy leveling and clearing off the site of the old curling rink - the building, kitchen etc., were taken down and much of the lumber was saved. A bulldozer has finalized the job and left the site completely cleared.

Stephen and Sandy Harding and Stephen's mother, Alma from Sedgewick, visited with Minnie and Jim Jackson on Sunday the 11th of November.

Bob and Bonnie Dunbar from Lacombe visited with Bob's mother over the weekend. They also enjoyed a visit with his brother John and family and helped John celebrate his birthday. Their nephew Jimmie also celebrated a birthday.

Irene and Frank Drewicki from Spruce Grove visited in the district during the weekend. They called on Stan Drewicki and family, and visited with Verna McBirney and Meg Dunbar.

Ruby Taylor visited with Meg Dunbar on Friday afternoon.

Sympathy is extended to Herbert Froland on the passing of her father, Bob Hansen who passed away in the Viking Hospital on Monday morning after a six weeks period of hospitalization.

Sincere best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Jerry Mark who had surgery in Edmonton recently.

The Irma Tom Thumbs have had their first hockey practice. Getting the season underway were coaches Wayne Gwinn and Phillip Larson. Under their guidance are twenty-three young enthusiasts, with five of these young players taking up hockey for the first time. We wish them and their coaches a happy and successful year on the ice.

Crafts Club Elect Executive

The annual meeting of the Irma Arts and Crafts Club was held on October 10, in the Crafts Centre with the following officers for the 1979-80 term being elected: President - Mrs. D. Creasy, Vice-President - Mrs. Fred Jack, Secretary - Mrs. Carl Gulbras and Treasurer - Mrs. Orril Darling.

The membership fee for our club was raised to $2.00 per member per year. New members are most welcome. Our Centre is in the basement of the Cub and Scout Hall.

Our projects for the winter are bead work, weaving on our new 45 in. Floor Loom; lap-loom weaving and numerous other items.

We meet Wednesday afternoons, alternating days with the Senior Citizens New Horison Club so you attend both if you wish.

The members were very busy making articles for our stall at the Wainwright Craft Club Fall Market which was held on November 10th. This was a fun day and proved very worthwhile. We also hope to have our usual table of "novelties" on Irma Days in December. Many articles will make great Christmas gifts.

Irma School News

The elementary students really did an excellent job of dressing up for Hallowe'en this year, as the picture in this issue shows. They enjoyed parading before the senior classes and the parties that followed.

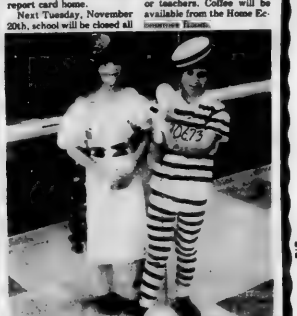
Congratulations to Mrs. Astley and her grade three class who collected $155.00 from the community the day before Hallowe'en for the U.N.I.C.E.F. Thank you to all who made donations.

The first issue of student reports will be made this Friday, November 16th. Please do check that your son or daughter brings their report card home.

Next Tuesday, November 20th, school will be closed all day, and we will be holding Parent-Teacher Interviews.

Schedules for appointments for grades one to six will be in with the reports. If you can follow the schedule it would be convenient for us, but if it creates a problem for you, please come at another time - but please come.

Research in North America shows that students interest and attainments are very closely related to parental participation in school functions, so please do come and discuss your child's progress with his or her teacher or teachers. Coffee will be available from the Home Economics Room.



David Larson and Kerri Lovig dressed up for Hallowe'en celebrations at the Irma School.

United Grain Growers Support Band Aiders Association

On behalf of the Irma Local United Grain Growers, Mr. Jack McKay presented Mr. Dan Nash with a cheque for $75.00 towards the Irma School Band Aiders Association.

Each year the United Grain Growers give money to their local board (Chairman, Keith Firkus, and secretary, Jack McKay) to donate as they see fit to their community.

The local board felt that the Band Aiders was a good way to utilize the money as everyone in the community gained by having such an excellent school band.

A big thank you to the Local Board: we very much appreciate this community support, and could not function without it.

Members Enjoy Slide Presentation

In mid August, 44 people climbed aboard a "Majestic Tours Bus" at Killam for a ten day tour into the Northwest Territories, passing through Edmonton, Valley view, Peace River, High Level, Pine Point, Hay River, Yellowknife, Fort Providence, Fort Smith, Slave Lake, Westlock, and St. Albert.

The weather was ideal except for one day which was rainy. Many pictures were taken, landscape views, waterfalls, towns, monuments, etc., as well as many pictures of the group.

Doris Likness, Alma Enger and Minnie Jackson showed the slides they had taken and the group enjoyed them immensely.

The ladies were loud in their praise of the bus driver and the hostess who made the arrangements for their comfort and entertainment during the trip. After the slides lunch was served and a social time enjoyed. A vote of thanks was tendered to the ladies for an enjoyable afternoon.

The regular business meeting of the New Horizons Club was held in the Drop In Centre on Wednesday, November 7th at 2:00 p.m.

Much business was attended to and a number of reports received and dealt with.

arrangements.

After the business meeting adjourned whist and scrabble were enjoyed, followed by lunch and socialising.

It was decided to hold a Christmas Party on December 7th, commencing at approximately 5:30 p.m. The lunch and entertainment committee to make all Dorcas Coffin won the ladies first prize in whist while Alma Enger received consolation. Gordon Wilson took mens first and Donald Gunn collected consolation.

Irma Students Prepare For Caribbean Discovery Cruise

We have 15 grade eleven students preparing for their school ship cruise to the Caribbean next Easter. Going with them will be Miss Laseur as party leader, and Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Archibald as chaperones.

The party leaves on April 3rd, flying to Montego Bay, Jamaica, then following a circle through the Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Isles, Antigua, Martinique, Barbados, Curacao, Curacao, Aruba and Cartagena before returning to Montego Bay on the S.S. Vera Cruz.

An exciting cruise, the tour passes through so many different cultures, some heavily influenced by Spanish, French, British, and U.S.A. The two weeks will provide an excellent background for our students developing their own way of life.

Update On Irma Kindergarten

The Irma Kindergarten reports that they currently have 16 students attending their classes. Included in the group are Teri-Lyn Barss, Jennifer Fenton, Alana Fischer, Jennifer Ford, Tanya Ford, Michael Ho, Aaron Irakin, Dawn Jamieson, Rene Kirkman, Danny Larson, Lee Larson, Leanne Meakins, Stacy Meakins, Cory Kumick, Rodney Orscheski and Darren Prior.

As a note of information we would like to advise that the L.A.C. includes the teacher, school principal, a chairman, secretary, treasurer, 2 - 3 parents from last year's class and 2 parents of next year's class. Meetings are held monthly in the kindergarten room. The next proposed meeting is scheduled to be held on Thursday, December 6, immediately after school.

All parents are invited to attend all or any of the meetings. To check on meeting dates or times phone Sherriee 754-2152 or Heather 754-2114.

Your L.A.C. attended a meeting in Wainwright on October 23, with the other L.A.C. groups in the school division. Mr. Mike Miles, an Early Childhood Services advisor from Edmonton, attended the meeting to outline some ideas for parental involvement.

We are pleased to report that our record for mother's attendance has been excellent.

We were informed of many different courses available, some involving only parents while some involved the whole family.

Courses available included the following: 1. Things I can expect of my child at 1, 2, 3, years etc. 2. Survival techniques for parents, 3. Adult stress, 4. Time Management, 5. Parent-taught sexuality, 6. Are you an askable parent? 7. Systematice training for effective parenting, and 8. Transactional analysis.

Interested? Any of these courses appeal to you? Your L.A.C. is now sponsoring the S.T.E.P. course which is near completion. It will be offered again in the spring if you want it.

Information and handbooks are available. Your L.A.C. will get any course going if you are interested. We will not be limiting them only to the parents of kindergarten children.

Male co-operation and interest seems to be at a low. We need it! There is a lack of rather involvement. Any suggestions? Your L.A.C. has considered having a "Father's Nite" in the Kindergarten classroom. As well we thought the fathers should conduct as many of the tours as possible. Other ideas included a family skating party, a program for both parents etc. and would like to know what you think.

Other L.A.C.'s in the division have sent the School Board a letter concerning the March 1 cut-off date for starting school. It is their opinion that if should be moved back to January 1 or even earlier. How do you feel. We have delayed sending a letter until we hear the opinion of the majority of parents. Please let Heather or Sherilee know or attend the next meeting to let your views be known.

Bruce & District News

Hunting seems to be the sport the past weeks. Ken Heber, Kelvin Erickson, Reid Fredericks and Ernie Hammermaster were moose hunting in the Fox Creek area. They camped at Eagle Tower and although they had an enjoyable trip their freezers won't be full of game for the winter.

Myrna and Buster Curtis were in Heisler on Saturday night to attend the wedding of Myrna's cousin.

The Bruce Women's Institute held a cake raffle on Saturday - a special Remembrance Day cake decorated with poppies which was baked by Lillian Teske. Donna McKinney was the lucky winner.

Beauchamp Starky marked his 84th birthday on Sunday with a family dinner at his farm home. Here from Hinton to share in the celebration was his grandson, Mark Fredericks whose 21st birthday is the same day.

The Senior Citizens will be holding card parties on Wednesday nights. Watch for signs which will give you more information.

Don't forget the Ball Club dance which will be held on Saturday, November 17, at the Community Centre.

Lighting experts Bill Hallett and Dennis Cooper are kept busy controlling the lighting and sound at the Beaver Regional Arts Centre in Holden. This picture was taken during the final performance of "Design for Murder" which played Thursday through Sunday of last week. We regret that pictures of the performance did not turn out. Staff Photo

Viking Light Horse Club Meets

On November 1, the Viking 4-H Light Horse Club held a regular meeting in the Club Room of the Viking Arena. The meeting was called to order by President Veronica Sevcik.

The members sang O'Canada and Patrick Voitner led in saying the pledge.

Secretary Marilyn Ash presented the minutes from the previous meeting. The minutes were then adopted as read. The treasurer's report followed.

The next item we dealt with was the electing of members to form our phoning committee. The new phoning committee consists of members Shelly Shippy, Sheryl McClements, Tammi Johnston and Sheila Winter.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Robert Ash, who talked to us on parliamentary procedure. Following this, our members then approved the year's agenda.

Mr. Bruce Bridgeman then passed out this year's unit books. A motion was made that we take five dollars our of the club's account to establish a Petty Cash Fund. This was carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:20.

Shady Cove W.I.

Shady Cove W. I. held their October 15th meeting at the home of Jennie Lefsrud. After the usual opening the roll call was answered by thirteen members contributing to "Pennies For Friendship". We also had one visitor present. The minutes of the August meeting were adopted as read. Our treasurer reported that the table at the Flea Market had netted $56.85.

President Rita Hafso gave a list of papers for our next few months. The November paper is on Handicraft and Home Economics - Kay Dorward. January's paper will be on United Nations - Jenny Lefsrud and the February paper will be prepared by Ida Dorward on Social Service.

Doral Haeberle gave her report of the W.I. Conference held at Olds. This was a very good report. When she was in line to register she met a former pupil which proved a very enjoyable experience.

During the opening a poem entitled "If I Were to Live my Life Over Again" gave cause for thought. The work shop was based on the "Book from the Sea". The $5.00 provincial dues included the 25 cents for the Travel Fund.

Dora also read her paper on Canadian Industry and had chosen as her subject "Oil in Canada". This was an excellent paper and impossible to make a short summary of. All of Alberta's residents would have found this paper as interesting as we did.

A recess was called and Carolynny Nordstrom presented the plan for the building of the Children's Tiye Playground. She was assisted by Mrs. Georgina Nordstrom. A lot of work and planning had gone into the project. A delicious lunch and coffee were served by Ruth Ash and Myra Francis. After lunch the meeting was called to order. Correspondence in the form of the following: Received a thank you card from Laura Swift for a gift of a fruit basket while she was in the hospital; a letter of thanks from Lottie Hichmanova for unitarian box which we had sent.

Kay Derward made a motion that we repay Dora Haeberle $10.00 which she had donated to the girls club, at the Convention. This was seconded by Gladys Holt and carried.

It was moved by Jenny Lefsrud and seconded by Mildred Bridgeman we donate $50.00 toward the tire playground. This motion was carried. Our next meeting is to be at Sofie Comisarow's on November 19th. Roll call will be clippings on conservation. Hostesses will be Sofie Comisarow and Ida Dorward.

Our W.I. quilt top was finished as we had decided to get it tied before our next meeting. Sofie asked if fellow W.I. members would tie and finish a quilt for her little granddaughter. It was decided that we could do both in the same day. The motto given by Jenny Lefsrud "Fact is the art of making a point without making an enemy". Sybil moved that our meeting adjourn.
